McEwen, Millinocket, Me., and formerly in the employ of the late firm of Dorsey & Goff in this city. The deceased young lady who was a niece of Mr. and Mrs. Carter was in her nineteenth year and was a bright young girl, and an earnest student who gave much promise for future success. The grief of the bereaved relatives is increased by the death of her sister which sad event occurred only last June. The sympathy of many friends will go out to the sorrowing relatives.

On the 27th Dec., the angel of death visited Stanchel, Lot 67, and removed one of the oldest landmarks, Alexander McDowell. He was born in Tyrone, Ireland 78 years ago and three years later came to this Island with his parents. He settled at first in Pleasant Valley but a few years ago moved to Stanchel. Besides an aged father in life he leaves to mourn a family of one son and six daughters viz., Mrs. C. Gunn, Bradalbane; Mrs. J. McNevin, Bonshaw; Mrs. Anthony Tarbox, Providence, R. I.; Mrs. Rod McLeod, Mt. Pleasant; Mrs. W. G. Hazard, Providence, R. I.; Mrs. Crozier, Darnley P. E. I.; John McDowell of Prince Albert. Mr. McDowell was a man of quiet disposition. He was an Orangeman for 45 years and always attended the 12th of July celebration. He joined the Presbyterian church about 40 years ago and died as he lived trusting in the merits of the Redeemer. The funeral which was largely attended took place on the 29th at 11 a. m. The service was conducted by the Rev. J. W. McLean of Strathalbyn at the house, and the members of Calvin L. O. L. of which he was an honored member, took charge of the remains and went through the burial service of the Orange ritual at the grave in Springfield cemetery.

ORANGE Blossoms in Winter.-The home of John Matheson, Ebenezer, was well illuminated on the night of Dec. 28th, and the traveller would readily arrive at the conclusion that something more than ordinary was taking place within the walls of that hospitable home. On enquiry we would find that his daughter, Miss Annie Jane and Alexander Cairns of Springtown were being united "till death us do part" by the Rev. Daniel MacLean. Beside the groom stood his brother John Scott Cairns of Danstaffage, while the bride was assisted by her sister Miss Catherine E. Matheson. After the nuptial knot had been securely tied, about forty guests sat down to a rich repast prepared by Mrs. Matheson. The guests enjoyed themselves during the remaining part of the evening with vocal and instrumental music and harmless amusements of various kinds and all seemed to be very much "at home" indeed. The bride was the recipient of many useful, beautiful and valuable presents and spoke tender than mere words could do of the popularity of the bride who leaves the community with the very best wishes of all classes. May they be long spared to enjoy the rich gifts bestowed upon them by their many friends. The Guardian extends to Mr and Mrs Cairns its hearty congratulations.
