MUSICAL VISITORS.—Mr. Raymond Gallant of Rustico accompanied by Mr. Hilaire Gallant of Oyster Bed Bridge were visiting in North Rustico last week the guest of Mr. Simon Pineau. Both young men are fiddlers of no mean ability and displayed their talents in this particular kind of music in a very satisfactory way. Mr. Hilaire Gallant gave some of his best music, the latest and finest of waltzes, rills and marches, which he performed in the most appropriate way. KINDLY REMEMBERED.—A few evenings ago the Post Mistress, at Long River, Mrs. Barbra Gillispie, was kindly remembered by the district, she having served so well for more than twenty-five years. A sum of twenty-five dollars and fifty cents were handed to her with the hearty good will of the donors, expressed in a few words complimentary here on the way she had conducted the office and given satisfaction to all in her long service. Such expressions of good will would tend to encourage and cheer all who have the care of a Post Office resting upon them.

The supervisor described the difference processes in cake making, various methods of mixing with reasons for each, how to overcome certain faults in cakes and the general theory of cake making. All of this was explained in detail, and members found the discussion very helpful. Icing also occupied the attention of the meeting and different methods were exchanged among the members and the meeting was socially enjoyed. THE ROOT CELLAR. The root cellar needs ventilation in order to prevent mold and decay. In cold climates it is not feasible to admit outside air direct to the cellar, because it would be cold in winter; the result would be a lot of frozen roots. The air must enter the root cellar either through the barn or through the conduit built below frost line so that the temperature of the air will be modined in passing through. There should be a shaft in the ceiling, opening above the barn or building in which the cellar is located, just the same as the ventilating shaft in a King system of barn ventilation. The underground conduit spoken of may be made of 8 inch glazed tile laid below frost line and should extend from fifty to a hundred feet in this position so that the air may get warmed up by the warmer soil before it reaches the entrance of the cellar. The opening into the outside air may be a vertical shaft to the desired depth below frost and then continue in a horizontal direction under the cellar opening into the floor. If the cellar is large the tile should run the full length of the cellar with two or three openings. All openings both inside and outside should be covered with a wire screen strong enough and fine enough to keep out all small rodents and the like. The tile should be drained at its lowest point to take care of any water that may condense in its interior. Such an arrangement will help to keep the cellar cool. Try This Home-made Cough Remedy Costs Little, But Does the Work Quickly, or Money Refunded. Mix two cups of granulated sugar with 1 cup of warm water, and stir for 2 minutes. Put 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex (fifty cents' worth) in a 16-ounce bottle; then add the Sugar Syrup. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours. You will find that this simple remedy takes hold of a cough more quickly than anything else ever used. Usually ends a deep-seated cough inside of 24 hours. Splendid, too, for whooping cough, croup, chest pains, bronchitis, and other throat troubles. It stimulates the appetite and is slightly laxative, which helps end a cough. This recipe makes more and better cough syrup than you could buy ready made for $2.50. It keeps perfectly and tastes pleasantly. Pinex is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, and is rich in gualacol and all the natural pine elements, which are so healing to the membranes. Other preparations will not work in this formula. This plan of making cough syrup with Pinex and sugar syrup (or strained honey) has proven so popular throughout the United States and Canada that it is often imitated. But the old, successful formula has never been equaled. A guaranty of absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded, goes with this recipe. Your druggist has Pinex or will get it for you. If not send to The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont. "Saturday morning we started a short special Christmas introduction sale of fine Irish Linens.
