

CHANCELLOR CUNO AND ENTIRE CABINET RESIGN

(Canadian Press)
BERLIN, Aug. 12.—The resignations of Chancellor Cuno and his entire cabinet were accepted today by President Ebert.

Dr. Gustav Stessman, leader of the German People's party, has been commissioned by President Ebert to form a new government.

The panic feeling which has marked Germany's internal situation during the past few days and which is being converted into political capital by the Communists, late tonight, seized the Reichstag, whose symptoms of a Cuno crisis developed because of the decision of the Socialists to retire from their position of "benevolent neutrality" toward the present non-partisan or business men's cabinet.

GOOD MANNERS IN PLAY

Should a person who does not play game be invited to play? That is the question that is always courteous to give a valid reason for a declination.

Q. What is the usual form of an invitation to a card-party?

A. If a large number are being asked, it is quite usual to use your visiting-card and write in the corner "bridge, four to six." However, it seems to me that the more courteous.

Q. How should an invitation on a visiting-card be answered?

A. Answers to invitations on visiting-cards are formal in style and worded in the third person. An invitation to a card-party where it is necessary to know the exact number should have a prompt acceptance or regret. For a ten or an acceptance note is unnecessary, but it is considered proper to send a visiting-card if one does not attend.

Q. Are there any other games besides card-games appropriate to entertain a large number of guests?

Among the visitors at the ranges during the meeting was Lieut. Col. Walker from the Small arms School, Ottawa. With him came the splendid new rifle known as a new mark for the Lee-Enfield rifle is shortly to be issued. The improvement over the mark now in use being the adoption of the "peep" sight. Employees Share Profits, Have Vote in Paper's Control EMPORIA, Kans., Aug. 12.—William Allen White, head of the Emporia Gazette, has established American communism here in Kansas and has made it profitable.

A simple plan of taking every-thing on the newspaper into partnership has reduced expenses to a minimum and made every man in the plant work vigorously, for the weekly pay check, but for the concern.

All of the employees, from the greenest cub and freshest "devil" to the boss himself, are members of the soviet. They not only share in the profits, but have an actual and powerful voice in anything that goes on, from the political tone of the editorials to the buying of paper.

The plant is the practical application of theories long preached by White in his novels, editorials and magazines. He wasn't satisfied with just profit sharing.

"Unless employees have a part in the management of the business," he said, "profit sharing is only a farce. It is little better than a hike in wages, unless the workers help determine the policies and practices which make the profits and losses."

So a third of the thirty-one employees have a vote. As a whole, they run the plant. For many years White stood out against the comic strip. They offended his newspaper ideals. Then in a meeting of the "soviet," the comic strip was recommended as a circulation builder. White vetoed it. It was passed a second and third time only to be vetoed again. The fourth time it was passed the editor gave in, and the increased street sales and home circulation proved the employees' contention.

Employees Share Profits, Have Vote in Paper's Control

Many problems are thus solved by the automatic employees. There was the trouble of tardiness. A time clock was installed without the suggestion of the editor.

On a night between Christmas and January 1 of each year the Gazette forces gathers at a dinner and at each plate is a check representing the employee's share in the fiscal profits. His share depends on the number of years' service on the force and upon the amount of profits.

Besides the profit sharing, to each employee who has been with the Gazette a year, White issues a certificate for $20. For those who have been employed more than a year, the certificate is $50, multiplied by the number of years' service on the force and upon the amount of profits.

It is not an organization for the betterment of living conditions of the newspapermen, according to William Allen White.

"There is nothing altruistic about it," he said. "It is slimy with self interest. If contented cows give more and better milk, why shouldn't contented newspaper workers produce a larger per cent of cream?"

NEW THEORY TO EXPLAIN CREATION OF THIS EARTH

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—A theory that the earth and the other planets were formed from fragments rent from the sun by the powerful tidal attraction of passing stars, came ago, is advanced by J. H. Jeans, F. R. S., in the annual report of the Smithsonian Institution.

Casting about for a theory which harmonizes difficulties of the nebular hypothesis, Jeans and his school of thought have evolved the tidal hypothesis.

According to this theory of the origin of the solar system, what probably happened at the moment of the cataclysm, Jeans says, is that the attraction caused the sun's mass to eject two arms or jets of matter, one towards the attracting star and the other in exactly the opposite direction.

Due to the instability of the distribution of density in one of the masses, condensations formed in it and ultimately it broke up into separate detached masses. The fragments of the burst jet are now our planets.

"From the mathematical investigation on which this hypothesis is based, it appears, according to Jeans' article, that the jets thrown out would have been gaseous, but would have rapidly cooled in the process of ejection to liquid or even solid states.

"It can be shown that the planets which would be formed out of the middle portion of such a jet ought to be much more massive than those formed near the ends, and this may possibly provide an explanation of the comparatively great masses of Jupiter and Saturn," Jeans states.

"We imagine that the planets at first described orbits under the combined gravitational action of "RACE CALLED OFF—Owing to the severe rain which fell on Saturday morning the Montague track was not in condition for racing in the afternoon and the races were therefore called off. A great deal of rivalry was expected in the free for all, in which Bud Hall, Jean Bingen and others were to take part.

"EVOLUTION GIVES US HOPE OF IMMORTALITY"

CHICAGO, Aug. 12.—"Evolution is the hope of the race, for it gives us strong proofs of immortality," declared Dr. Franklin Davis Barker, professor of zoology at the University of Nebraska, who is a member of the North-western university summer school faculty.

"Evolution is a fact as surely as gravitation. The comparative study of the nervous system of animals shows an evolution headward! It has freed him from the slavery of environment and is the basis of his personality and his soul."

"The observable trend 'brainward,' if projected foretells the nature of the future super-man. That which has required millions of years to bring into being, will not be scrapped at death."

the sun and the passing star, but as the star receded they were left revolving as at present, around the sun. During their earlier motion they may themselves have been broken up by the tidal action of one or both of the big masses present, and such a process may explain the origin of the satellites of the planets."
