

PRINCE EDWARD TODAY and WEDNESDAY

EVERY WORD IS TRUE! THERE'S A BEAT IN THE PULSE OF THIS PICTURE THAT BECOMES YOUR VERY OWN!

THIS IS THE MAN... JAMES STEWART Call NORTHSIDE 777

ALSO— DISNEY CARTOON Shows 2:30 - 7 - 9

TODAY CAPITOL and WED.

MARK TWAIN'S funniest story comes to heart-warming life on the screen! BEST MAN WINS

ATTENTION KING'S COUNTY RESIDENTS

The Eastern King's Exhibition is to be held on Wednesday, September 8, 1948, at Souris, P. E. Island...

- The sports events, open to King's County, are: 1-100 Yard Dash—12 years and under—$3.00...

It has every indication of being the biggest yet and it is up to you to make it the best yet, so, COME ONE, COME ALL.

FRANK E. PETERS, Secretary-Treasurer.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

WHY, YES--FER SMALL BATCHES WE OFTEN MAKE BISCUITS ON TOP O' TH' FLOUR! THE MAGICIAN'S BAG

THE EASTERN GUARDIAN

AGENTS: MONTAGUE: Harold F. Landry, Albert Aitken, Mrs. Byron Stewart, Miss Harriet Clark. AGENT GEORGETOWN: Walden Lavera. AGENTS SOURIS: Miss Enid Richards and Gordon Farrell.

The Guardian may be bought at any of the following places in Montague: Miss S. A. Llewellyn; Mrs. Clay. In Georgetown: The Post Office; in Souris: Condon's and Florence Raper, in St. Peter's: The Post Office.

LEAGUE AUXILIARY DANCE Curling Rink, Montague, Tuesday, August 17th. Don Messer's Orchestra.

THE NEW STORE with the new look. C. R. Boehner, Jeweller, Montague.

Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Kennedy, Quinoy, Mont., who are vacationing in Millview, were visitors to Montague on Monday.

Miss Anna Power has returned to her home in Montague after spending an enjoyable vacation in Queensport, N. S.

Mrs. John E. Finnigan, Boston Mass., accompanied by her son Jack and grandson Stephen, are spending a three weeks vacation in Montague at the home of Mrs. Finnigan's mother, Mrs. Abram Landry.

His many friends will be pleased to learn that Mr. Austin Fraser, Montague, is making a satisfactory recovery in the King's County Hospital. Mr. Fraser suffered a severe fall from a load of hay last week sustaining concussion and other injuries.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Vuozzo, who have been living for the past number of years in Halifax, N. S., have returned to Montague accompanied by their children. Mr. Vuozzo intends to open a barber shop in the near future, which will be welcomed by many of his former patrons during the time he operated his shop prior to the war.

Messrs Albert Aitken, Doug Irvin, and Grafton Pearson, who accompanied the 28th A. A. Battery to camp at Picton, Ont., for ten days, have remained in Ontario where they have obtained employment. Mr. Aitken formerly was employed at Poole and Thompson, Mr. Irvin was employed with the Bank of Commerce, while Mr. Pearson was employed at C. J. Bourdieu's Egg Grading Station, Montague.

On Thursday, Montague was honored by a visit to Canada's Governor General, Lord Alexander, who arrived here by motor accompanied by Mr. Percy Turner, Mr. W. R. Burnett, and Lt.-Col. W. Reid. The party stopped for luncheon and dinner at Poole's Hotel, and spent the afternoon at Mr. Turner's summer home in Lower Montague. In the evening they motored to Morrell for fishing in the Morrell River.

With torrential rain and a 30-mile wind the annual August Storm roared over the community early Saturday morning flooding the streets and drains, and blowing large branches from the trees which landed on the electrical lines almost causing a shortage in electricity. Unable to carry off the extremely large flow of water, the manholes became blocked and the streets soon became a flood of water. As the stream flowed to the bridge, the torrential rain fell so heavily that before long the whole river had reddened owing to the disturbing of the shore clay. The wind, however, caused the most damage by knocking large branches along the main traffic route. Some trees were uprooted, and one pole was split necessitating its replacement with a new pole. It was also reported that one fusc had been knocked down, but no other damage was caused to the house, although some small buildings were blown down by the force of the wind.—Lan.

With torrential rain and a 30-mile wind the annual August Storm roared over the community early Saturday morning flooding the streets and drains, and blowing large branches from the trees which landed on the electrical lines almost causing a shortage in electricity. Unable to carry off the extremely large flow of water, the manholes became blocked and the streets soon became a flood of water. As the stream flowed to the bridge, the torrential rain fell so heavily that before long the whole river had reddened owing to the disturbing of the shore clay. The wind, however, caused the most damage by knocking large branches along the main traffic route. Some trees were uprooted, and one pole was split necessitating its replacement with a new pole. It was also reported that one fusc had been knocked down, but no other damage was caused to the house, although some small buildings were blown down by the force of the wind.—Lan.

With torrential rain and a 30-mile wind the annual August Storm roared over the community early Saturday morning flooding the streets and drains, and blowing large branches from the trees which landed on the electrical lines almost causing a shortage in electricity. Unable to carry off the extremely large flow of water, the manholes became blocked and the streets soon became a flood of water. As the stream flowed to the bridge, the torrential rain fell so heavily that before long the whole river had reddened owing to the disturbing of the shore clay. The wind, however, caused the most damage by knocking large branches along the main traffic route. Some trees were uprooted, and one pole was split necessitating its replacement with a new pole. It was also reported that one fusc had been knocked down, but no other damage was caused to the house, although some small buildings were blown down by the force of the wind.—Lan.

With torrential rain and a 30-mile wind the annual August Storm roared over the community early Saturday morning flooding the streets and drains, and blowing large branches from the trees which landed on the electrical lines almost causing a shortage in electricity. Unable to carry off the extremely large flow of water, the manholes became blocked and the streets soon became a flood of water. As the stream flowed to the bridge, the torrential rain fell so heavily that before long the whole river had reddened owing to the disturbing of the shore clay. The wind, however, caused the most damage by knocking large branches along the main traffic route. Some trees were uprooted, and one pole was split necessitating its replacement with a new pole. It was also reported that one fusc had been knocked down, but no other damage was caused to the house, although some small buildings were blown down by the force of the wind.—Lan.

With torrential rain and a 30-mile wind the annual August Storm roared over the community early Saturday morning flooding the streets and drains, and blowing large branches from the trees which landed on the electrical lines almost causing a shortage in electricity. Unable to carry off the extremely large flow of water, the manholes became blocked and the streets soon became a flood of water. As the stream flowed to the bridge, the torrential rain fell so heavily that before long the whole river had reddened owing to the disturbing of the shore clay. The wind, however, caused the most damage by knocking large branches along the main traffic route. Some trees were uprooted, and one pole was split necessitating its replacement with a new pole. It was also reported that one fusc had been knocked down, but no other damage was caused to the house, although some small buildings were blown down by the force of the wind.—Lan.

With torrential rain and a 30-mile wind the annual August Storm roared over the community early Saturday morning flooding the streets and drains, and blowing large branches from the trees which landed on the electrical lines almost causing a shortage in electricity. Unable to carry off the extremely large flow of water, the manholes became blocked and the streets soon became a flood of water. As the stream flowed to the bridge, the torrential rain fell so heavily that before long the whole river had reddened owing to the disturbing of the shore clay. The wind, however, caused the most damage by knocking large branches along the main traffic route. Some trees were uprooted, and one pole was split necessitating its replacement with a new pole. It was also reported that one fusc had been knocked down, but no other damage was caused to the house, although some small buildings were blown down by the force of the wind.—Lan.

With torrential rain and a 30-mile wind the annual August Storm roared over the community early Saturday morning flooding the streets and drains, and blowing large branches from the trees which landed on the electrical lines almost causing a shortage in electricity. Unable to carry off the extremely large flow of water, the manholes became blocked and the streets soon became a flood of water. As the stream flowed to the bridge, the torrential rain fell so heavily that before long the whole river had reddened owing to the disturbing of the shore clay. The wind, however, caused the most damage by knocking large branches along the main traffic route. Some trees were uprooted, and one pole was split necessitating its replacement with a new pole. It was also reported that one fusc had been knocked down, but no other damage was caused to the house, although some small buildings were blown down by the force of the wind.—Lan.

With torrential rain and a 30-mile wind the annual August Storm roared over the community early Saturday morning flooding the streets and drains, and blowing large branches from the trees which landed on the electrical lines almost causing a shortage in electricity. Unable to carry off the extremely large flow of water, the manholes became blocked and the streets soon became a flood of water. As the stream flowed to the bridge, the torrential rain fell so heavily that before long the whole river had reddened owing to the disturbing of the shore clay. The wind, however, caused the most damage by knocking large branches along the main traffic route. Some trees were uprooted, and one pole was split necessitating its replacement with a new pole. It was also reported that one fusc had been knocked down, but no other damage was caused to the house, although some small buildings were blown down by the force of the wind.—Lan.

With torrential rain and a 30-mile wind the annual August Storm roared over the community early Saturday morning flooding the streets and drains, and blowing large branches from the trees which landed on the electrical lines almost causing a shortage in electricity. Unable to carry off the extremely large flow of water, the manholes became blocked and the streets soon became a flood of water. As the stream flowed to the bridge, the torrential rain fell so heavily that before long the whole river had reddened owing to the disturbing of the shore clay. The wind, however, caused the most damage by knocking large branches along the main traffic route. Some trees were uprooted, and one pole was split necessitating its replacement with a new pole. It was also reported that one fusc had been knocked down, but no other damage was caused to the house, although some small buildings were blown down by the force of the wind.—Lan.

With torrential rain and a 30-mile wind the annual August Storm roared over the community early Saturday morning flooding the streets and drains, and blowing large branches from the trees which landed on the electrical lines almost causing a shortage in electricity. Unable to carry off the extremely large flow of water, the manholes became blocked and the streets soon became a flood of water. As the stream flowed to the bridge, the torrential rain fell so heavily that before long the whole river had reddened owing to the disturbing of the shore clay. The wind, however, caused the most damage by knocking large branches along the main traffic route. Some trees were uprooted, and one pole was split necessitating its replacement with a new pole. It was also reported that one fusc had been knocked down, but no other damage was caused to the house, although some small buildings were blown down by the force of the wind.—Lan.

With torrential rain and a 30-mile wind the annual August Storm roared over the community early Saturday morning flooding the streets and drains, and blowing large branches from the trees which landed on the electrical lines almost causing a shortage in electricity. Unable to carry off the extremely large flow of water, the manholes became blocked and the streets soon became a flood of water. As the stream flowed to the bridge, the torrential rain fell so heavily that before long the whole river had reddened owing to the disturbing of the shore clay. The wind, however, caused the most damage by knocking large branches along the main traffic route. Some trees were uprooted, and one pole was split necessitating its replacement with a new pole. It was also reported that one fusc had been knocked down, but no other damage was caused to the house, although some small buildings were blown down by the force of the wind.—Lan.

With torrential rain and a 30-mile wind the annual August Storm roared over the community early Saturday morning flooding the streets and drains, and blowing large branches from the trees which landed on the electrical lines almost causing a shortage in electricity. Unable to carry off the extremely large flow of water, the manholes became blocked and the streets soon became a flood of water. As the stream flowed to the bridge, the torrential rain fell so heavily that before long the whole river had reddened owing to the disturbing of the shore clay. The wind, however, caused the most damage by knocking large branches along the main traffic route. Some trees were uprooted, and one pole was split necessitating its replacement with a new pole. It was also reported that one fusc had been knocked down, but no other damage was caused to the house, although some small buildings were blown down by the force of the wind.—Lan.

With torrential rain and a 30-mile wind the annual August Storm roared over the community early Saturday morning flooding the streets and drains, and blowing large branches from the trees which landed on the electrical lines almost causing a shortage in electricity. Unable to carry off the extremely large flow of water, the manholes became blocked and the streets soon became a flood of water. As the stream flowed to the bridge, the torrential rain fell so heavily that before long the whole river had reddened owing to the disturbing of the shore clay. The wind, however, caused the most damage by knocking large branches along the main traffic route. Some trees were uprooted, and one pole was split necessitating its replacement with a new pole. It was also reported that one fusc had been knocked down, but no other damage was caused to the house, although some small buildings were blown down by the force of the wind.—Lan.

With torrential rain and a 30-mile wind the annual August Storm roared over the community early Saturday morning flooding the streets and drains, and blowing large branches from the trees which landed on the electrical lines almost causing a shortage in electricity. Unable to carry off the extremely large flow of water, the manholes became blocked and the streets soon became a flood of water. As the stream flowed to the bridge, the torrential rain fell so heavily that before long the whole river had reddened owing to the disturbing of the shore clay. The wind, however, caused the most damage by knocking large branches along the main traffic route. Some trees were uprooted, and one pole was split necessitating its replacement with a new pole. It was also reported that one fusc had been knocked down, but no other damage was caused to the house, although some small buildings were blown down by the force of the wind.—Lan.

With torrential rain and a 30-mile wind the annual August Storm roared over the community early Saturday morning flooding the streets and drains, and blowing large branches from the trees which landed on the electrical lines almost causing a shortage in electricity. Unable to carry off the extremely large flow of water, the manholes became blocked and the streets soon became a flood of water. As the stream flowed to the bridge, the torrential rain fell so heavily that before long the whole river had reddened owing to the disturbing of the shore clay. The wind, however, caused the most damage by knocking large branches along the main traffic route. Some trees were uprooted, and one pole was split necessitating its replacement with a new pole. It was also reported that one fusc had been knocked down, but no other damage was caused to the house, although some small buildings were blown down by the force of the wind.—Lan.

With torrential rain and a 30-mile wind the annual August Storm roared over the community early Saturday morning flooding the streets and drains, and blowing large branches from the trees which landed on the electrical lines almost causing a shortage in electricity. Unable to carry off the extremely large flow of water, the manholes became blocked and the streets soon became a flood of water. As the stream flowed to the bridge, the torrential rain fell so heavily that before long the whole river had reddened owing to the disturbing of the shore clay. The wind, however, caused the most damage by knocking large branches along the main traffic route. Some trees were uprooted, and one pole was split necessitating its replacement with a new pole. It was also reported that one fusc had been knocked down, but no other damage was caused to the house, although some small buildings were blown down by the force of the wind.—Lan.

With torrential rain and a 30-mile wind the annual August Storm roared over the community early Saturday morning flooding the streets and drains, and blowing large branches from the trees which landed on the electrical lines almost causing a shortage in electricity. Unable to carry off the extremely large flow of water, the manholes became blocked and the streets soon became a flood of water. As the stream flowed to the bridge, the torrential rain fell so heavily that before long the whole river had reddened owing to the disturbing of the shore clay. The wind, however, caused the most damage by knocking large branches along the main traffic route. Some trees were uprooted, and one pole was split necessitating its replacement with a new pole. It was also reported that one fusc had been knocked down, but no other damage was caused to the house, although some small buildings were blown down by the force of the wind.—Lan.

With torrential rain and a 30-mile wind the annual August Storm roared over the community early Saturday morning flooding the streets and drains, and blowing large branches from the trees which landed on the electrical lines almost causing a shortage in electricity. Unable to carry off the extremely large flow of water, the manholes became blocked and the streets soon became a flood of water. As the stream flowed to the bridge, the torrential rain fell so heavily that before long the whole river had reddened owing to the disturbing of the shore clay. The wind, however, caused the most damage by knocking large branches along the main traffic route. Some trees were uprooted, and one pole was split necessitating its replacement with a new pole. It was also reported that one fusc had been knocked down, but no other damage was caused to the house, although some small buildings were blown down by the force of the wind.—Lan.

With torrential rain and a 30-mile wind the annual August Storm roared over the community early Saturday morning flooding the streets and drains, and blowing large branches from the trees which landed on the electrical lines almost causing a shortage in electricity. Unable to carry off the extremely large flow of water, the manholes became blocked and the streets soon became a flood of water. As the stream flowed to the bridge, the torrential rain fell so heavily that before long the whole river had reddened owing to the disturbing of the shore clay. The wind, however, caused the most damage by knocking large branches along the main traffic route. Some trees were uprooted, and one pole was split necessitating its replacement with a new pole. It was also reported that one fusc had been knocked down, but no other damage was caused to the house, although some small buildings were blown down by the force of the wind.—Lan.

With torrential rain and a 30-mile wind the annual August Storm roared over the community early Saturday morning flooding the streets and drains, and blowing large branches from the trees which landed on the electrical lines almost causing a shortage in electricity. Unable to carry off the extremely large flow of water, the manholes became blocked and the streets soon became a flood of water. As the stream flowed to the bridge, the torrential rain fell so heavily that before long the whole river had reddened owing to the disturbing of the shore clay. The wind, however, caused the most damage by knocking large branches along the main traffic route. Some trees were uprooted, and one pole was split necessitating its replacement with a new pole. It was also reported that one fusc had been knocked down, but no other damage was caused to the house, although some small buildings were blown down by the force of the wind.—Lan.

With torrential rain and a 30-mile wind the annual August Storm roared over the community early Saturday morning flooding the streets and drains, and blowing large branches from the trees which landed on the electrical lines almost causing a shortage in electricity. Unable to carry off the extremely large flow of water, the manholes became blocked and the streets soon became a flood of water. As the stream flowed to the bridge, the torrential rain fell so heavily that before long the whole river had reddened owing to the disturbing of the shore clay. The wind, however, caused the most damage by knocking large branches along the main traffic route. Some trees were uprooted, and one pole was split necessitating its replacement with a new pole. It was also reported that one fusc had been knocked down, but no other damage was caused to the house, although some small buildings were blown down by the force of the wind.—Lan.

With torrential rain and a 30-mile wind the annual August Storm roared over the community early Saturday morning flooding the streets and drains, and blowing large branches from the trees which landed on the electrical lines almost causing a shortage in electricity. Unable to carry off the extremely large flow of water, the manholes became blocked and the streets soon became a flood of water. As the stream flowed to the bridge, the torrential rain fell so heavily that before long the whole river had reddened owing to the disturbing of the shore clay. The wind, however, caused the most damage by knocking large branches along the main traffic route. Some trees were uprooted, and one pole was split necessitating its replacement with a new pole. It was also reported that one fusc had been knocked down, but no other damage was caused to the house, although some small buildings were blown down by the force of the wind.—Lan.

With torrential rain and a 30-mile wind the annual August Storm roared over the community early Saturday morning flooding the streets and drains, and blowing large branches from the trees which landed on the electrical lines almost causing a shortage in electricity. Unable to carry off the extremely large flow of water, the manholes became blocked and the streets soon became a flood of water. As the stream flowed to the bridge, the torrential rain fell so heavily that before long the whole river had reddened owing to the disturbing of the shore clay. The wind, however, caused the most damage by knocking large branches along the main traffic route. Some trees were uprooted, and one pole was split necessitating its replacement with a new pole. It was also reported that one fusc had been knocked down, but no other damage was caused to the house, although some small buildings were blown down by the force of the wind.—Lan.

With torrential rain and a 30-mile wind the annual August Storm roared over the community early Saturday morning flooding the streets and drains, and blowing large branches from the trees which landed on the electrical lines almost causing a shortage in electricity. Unable to carry off the extremely large flow of water, the manholes became blocked and the streets soon became a flood of water. As the stream flowed to the bridge, the torrential rain fell so heavily that before long the whole river had reddened owing to the disturbing of the shore clay. The wind, however, caused the most damage by knocking large branches along the main traffic route. Some trees were uprooted, and one pole was split necessitating its replacement with a new pole. It was also reported that one fusc had been knocked down, but no other damage was caused to the house, although some small buildings were blown down by the force of the wind.—Lan.

SERVING CANADIANS THROUGH CHEMISTRY

With CHEMISTRY to brighten his way!

THIS LITTLE FELLOW is a lucky boy... with Chemistry and its products to serve him at every turn. The water he drinks and bathes in is purified chemically. Chemistry improves his food and makes the containers in which it is served; his nursery gleams with specially created paints and enamels. Nylon, "Cellophane", cellulose film and plastics add to his comfort, safety and enjoyment. And Chemistry, symbolized by the oval trademark of C-I-L will continue to protect and serve him throughout his life, its uses and value broadening with every passing year.

CANADIAN INDUSTRIES LIMITED

For instance PLASTICS! Those bright, clean, colourful toys that cheer each youngster's waking hour from babyhood to youth, are made from plastics... product of modern chemistry with countless other household, personal and industrial applications. Plastics are a leading product of Canadian Industries Limited, 1135 Beaver Hall Hill, Montreal.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

WHY, YES--FER SMALL BATCHES WE OFTEN MAKE BISCUITS ON TOP O' TH' FLOUR! THE MAGICIAN'S BAG

Georgetown And Vicinity

James Mair who is employed for the summer months as a city playground supervisor in Charlottetown was a recent visitor to our town...

Souris Hospital

Annual meeting Thursday, August 19th, United Church Hall at 8:30. All interested are invited to attend.

AUCTION SALE

AT CARDIGAN, THURSDAY, AUGUST 19th AT 1:30 O'CLOCK

I am instructed by the executors of the Morson Estate to sell the following: 1 large office desk and swivel chair, 1 walnut sofa (old), 2 walnut tables (old), 2 tables (antique), 2 ottomans (old), 1 silver cruet stand (old), 1 brass knocker for door, 1 oak buffet, 1 oak book-case, 3 small book cases, flower stands and vases, bedsteads, dressers, chairs, crockery, bedroom sets, brass jardiniere and stand, wicker chair and hamper, kitchen tables, kitchen range (Fawcett), 1 open front stove, 1 coal hod, tongs and shovel, 1 floor polisher, glass dishes, chafing dish, brass kettles, oil lamps, oil stove, electric toaster, tennis racket, boots and skates, pair skis, post-hole digger, hay fork, scales, 1 cream separator, 1 set platform scales (Fairbanks), and all articles too numerous to mention. If wet, next fine day.

LESTER KEIZER, Auctioneer.

BOOTNOSE ANNIE'S GREETINGS, SHERIFF! WELCOME TO SPOOK CITY! YIP-EE! REACH FER YOUR ROD AN' BILLY THE KID WILL DRILL HIS FULL NAME ON YER HIDE!

ISLAND FURRIERS CHARLOTTETOWN - P.E.I. - ARTHUR HOGAN, Proprietor

BRUNSWICK FURRIERS MONCTON, N.B. GEOFFREY HOGAN, Proprietor

HEATING EQUIPMENT OF ALL TYPES COAL GAS OIL ELECTRIC GENERAL STOVE AND FURNACE CO. Phone 1880 - Gt. Geo. St.

By J. R. Williams