Deadlock In Dublin Strike

(By Joseph Dennigan)
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)
(C.P. Cable By Guardian's Special Wire)

DUBLIN, Sept. 16—Dublin's five newspapers—three morning and two evening—started their eighth week of silence today while deadlock reigned in the negotiations for settlement of the printers strike.

This is an outgrowth of the original dispute between the publishers and the transport workers' union which struck in July for higher pay. When the transport men — packers, clerks, truck drivers and other semi-skilled workers—struck, the printers were given notice publication would cease.

Among the elected commissioners are the following (left to right): Rev. W. B. McIntosh, of Vanderhoof, B.C., frontier home missionary; Mrs. J. C. MacDonald, of Trinidad, B. W. PARLIAMENT TO MEET IN MID JANUARY

Idea of a Fall Session Abandoned — Small Volume of Legislation Forecast.

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)

OTTAWA, Sept. 16—Lack of anything in the way of pre-sessional activity among government departments, coupled with unofficial information circulating about Ottawa, has led to the general belief that the idea of a fall session has been abandoned. There is every evidence, however, that regardless of the outcome of the five federal by-elections to be decided in Ontario a week from tomorrow, the government will again meet Parliament, probably early in the new year.

An apparently reasonable forecast is that Parliament will be called about the middle of January with government legislation, small in volume, ready for early presentation, and an early budget showing a substantial surplus, some reduction in taxation, and restoration of pay cuts in the civil service.

Unemployment Insurance

Unemployment insurance, advanced legislation designed to place a large measure of control upon industry to remedy evils disclosed before the Stevens Committee on price spreads and wages, and possibly amendments to the British North America Act will be laid before the members.

When this has been done, it is forecast, and the inevitable strenuous agitation for dissolution and an appeal to the people is set up by the opposition, the government will oblige. In view of reports that the Liberal opposition will block passage of supply with every weapon at its disposal, it is believed dissolution will come in April and late in the summer the people will express their opinion at the polls.

Some weeks ago there was a strong disposition on the part of the government to summon Parliament early in November and seek to conclude the business of the House in an orderly way before May. But opposed to that was a school of thought which held that early opening would not mean an early prorogation and the move would result only in heavy extra expenses.

Employ Extra

A session of Parliament brings about 350 extra employees to the centre block and in addition a special allowance is usually made to members to compensate them for the long journey from their homes if they return for Christmas or the extra expenses of living in Ottawa during the long Christmas recess.

Cabinet councils have been held with little more than a quorum in the past week, with several ministers abroad and those from Ontario busy with the by-elections in their province. Much work has been accomplished, however, and Sir George Perley, who celebrated his 77th birthday a few days ago, has been busy early and late in his capacity as acting Prime Minister.

E. N. Rhodes will offer to the public tomorrow the $5,000,000 capital stock of the new Bank of Canada, and in a few weeks will offer a loan issue of about $250,000,000 or more. He expects to have the bank in operation by Jan. 2.

Illness of the Prime Minister who became indisposed soon after his arrival at Geneva for the League of Nations assembly, brought some uneasiness to his associates here but they were reassured by the fact that it had apparently not proved serious enough to be the subject of official reports.

Minister of Trade and Commerce, H. H. Stevens returned from his speaking tour of the west and plunged into the by-election campaign in Ontario. He had announced that the price spreads commission, of which he is chairman, will resume its hearings some time in October.

To Share Costs

The plan arranged between Minister of Agriculture Robert Weir and Agriculture Ministers of the Prairie Provinces, whereby the federal and provincial governments will share on a 50-50 basis the cost of moving surplus cattle from the dried out areas to abbatoirs, with the owners getting whatever may be realised from the carcases, less the cost of processing and handling, has been approved by the government. Mr. Weir is still in the West where Saskatchewan's drought problem continues one of the main worries.

Provincial governments now have before them an invitation from Prime Minister R. B. Bennett to attend a Dominion-Provincial conference in Ottawa on the constitution. They have also a tentative agenda upon which their suggestions are requested and have been asked to name a suitable date for the conference.

It should be a momentous gathering since the objective is to decide whether or not the British North America Act should be radically altered with respect to jurisdiction over matters closely affecting the people, such as minimum wages, hours of labor, social and unemployment insurance and details of government

Plans Utopian Community

(A. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)

MONTICELLO, N. Y., Sept. 16.—With the avowed purpose of establishing a Utopian community based on the principles of Plato's republic, a 25-year-old school teacher today resigned his $30 a week position and prepared to leave for the South Sea Islands.

The teacher, Hyman Moskowitz said he expected to separate a group of infants on an Island and subject them to "a new intellectual, social and moral discipline."

"Charter members of the colony by birth," Moskowitz said, "will go nude until the age of 12. Children will be awakened in the morning to the strains of classical music and they will reside during the day in the company of higher thoughts and noble ideals. There will be harmony, physical equality among men and women, no religion, no specialization of work and no money in the community."

committee records quotes munitions salesmen as reporting that Germany has been busy on land and sea preparing war equipment.

Summon Air Officials

Now, the committee in summoning leading United States aviation company officials, hopes to lay bare the truth of reports that Germany has secretly assembled a large air fleet in violation of the treaty.

The evidence, it was reported, will show large mysterious shipments of motors, parts and equipment to North Sea ports, from which they are reported to have been bootlegged into Germany for assembly.

"I think I need not say to you that our committee is resolved to make its investigation most sweeping and complete," said Chairman Gerald Nye, (R., N. D.). Several other senators were equally determined that nothing be withheld.

"We either have got to go ahead and lay bare the facts, or suddenly awake some day to find a war on our hands," one official close to the committee said today relative to the Germany expose.

"I am convinced more and more that Germany is secretly arming. Every responsible government in Europe must know the facts. The world should know the truth, and the trail we are on leads toward the truth."

Hungary Rearming

The nervous nature of the European political situation is hinted at in somewhat cryptic salesmen's reports now before the committee, showing Hungary rearming over strenuous protests of the Little Entente and the matter taken before the League of Nations. The League incident involved the reported shipment of 30,000 rifles to Hungary through Austria from Italy.

An indication of why the French Government purchased a quantity of half-finished and reportedly worthless guns in Holland in 1932 through a "war scare" against Germany in the French press was told in another report laid before the committee.

This report was made by Colonel W. N. Taylor, European agent for Du Pont, to K. M. V. Casey, Du Pont's retail sales manager, in connection with a survey of the situation in Holland.

"About a year ago," he wrote, "there was a great newspaper excitement in France over the 1,500 half-finished guns in Holland in the possession of H. I. H. (Dutch armament firm), which the French newspaper claimed, was a secret stock of heavy guns held in Holland by the Germans.

"The result of this caused the French to buy the most important pieces. It turned out that this whole French newspaper row was originated by Viessing and Haegen (armament firm) in order to sell this stock, and that it was a vast publicity farce which the French newspapers fell for due to their desire for anti-German news.

"Vlessing said that they managed this whole publicity affair without having to pay a cent to the newspaper. Vlessing and Haegen are extremely proud of this, and discussed with me in great detail how they got the French press excited on this matter by constantly denying that they knew anything about it and making it all very mysterious, and leaving the journalistic spirit to do the rest."

LONDON, Sept. 16—(A.P.)—Unmindful of sensational revelations at Washington concerning the European armaments situation, nations in this quarter of the globe continue to intensify their national defence programmes.

Testimony before the United States Senate's investigators concerning German's alleged rearmament in defiance of the Versailles Treaty was considered here little likely to occasion surprise in diplomatic quarters in London and Berlin.

A section of the British Press these last few days has been presenting in a sensational fashion developments in German aviation, particularly as concerns an alleged new type of transport plane which can be converted quickly into bomber.

This ship, London newspapers report, can carry 1,000 pounds of bombs, will fly 250 miles an hour and has a cruising range of 1000 miles. It can be manufactured by mass production methods, they assert, at low cost.

Authoritative quarters in London said today that little comment regarding the revelations as to Germany's air plans can be expected from Berlin.

WEDDING BELLS—A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. Reagh Meek, French River, on Wednesday evening, Sept. 5th, at 7 p. m., when their daughter, Mary Elizabeth, became the bride of Mr. Roy Bryanton, Kensington. To the strains of the Wedding March, sweetly rendered by the bride's cousin, Mr. Ernest Dunning, the bride entered the room on the arm of her father, where the marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. B. Fream, in the presence of about fifty guests. The bride looked very beautiful in a gown of white satin with hat and accessories to match, and carried a bouquet of pink gladiolus. She was attended by her cousin, Miss Etta, who wore pale yellow crepe, with white accessories, and carried a bouquet of yellow gladiolus. The groom was ably supported by Mr. Harry Tuplin. After the ceremony a sumptuous supper was served. The serenaders called and extended their best wishes to the bride and groom. Mr. and Mrs. Tryanton will reside in Kensington, where the groom is a prosperous young farmer.

NON AGGRESSION

In refusing to join Russia, Czechoslovakia and the Baltic States in the proposed "Eastern Locarno", Berlin rejected the basic feature of the pact as drafted at Paris—the proposal that all signatories unite to lend military assistance to any signatory attacked.

Germany "does not wish altogether to reject the idea of multilateral pacts," her reply to the powers said. An earnest suggestion was added to the effect that if other governments wish to pursue this idea, "stress be laid not on an agreement for immediate military assistance in case of war but rather upon other methods of securing peace."

German Suggestion

German circles here said the Reich prefers an agreement for consultation with submission of conflicts to peace tribunals without commitments to extend immediate military assistance.

Statesmen here predicted Russia's election to the League would be followed immediately by resumption of active negotiations for an "Eastern Locarno." They regarded the German reply, while shattering France's dream of a powerful military pact, as not excluding the possibility of some security agreement.

The Berlin communication, it is understood, is in the hands of the governments at Washington and Tokyo, as well as those of the great powers of Europe, Spain and all proposed signatories of the pact.

After rejecting the treaty as drawn, the Nazi government said: "Germany does not wish to evade joint examination of the question whether—and what—new guarantees of security can be created for Europe."

Asserting the best results might be achieved through bilateral accords and voicing willingness, nevertheless, to consider some multilateral pact, the reply suggested non-aggression obligations and inter-governmental consultation as means of preserving peace.

"These ideas," the reply continued, "might be developed along various lines so that real guarantees for peace would be created. Other possibilities need not be excluded. They would have to be considered only from the viewpoint that the best guarantee of peace will ever be not to prepare for war against war but to extend and strengthen the means apt to prevent any possibility of outbreak of war."

The reply revealed that under the draft of the Eastern Locarno Pact transmitted by the British Government, Germany, Poland, Russia, Czechoslovakia, Finland, Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania would be signatories.

RELIGIOUS SERVICES

ST. JAMES CHURCH

The regular fall services of St James Church began yesterday, the morning and evening services being conducted by the Minister Rev. Dr. Moorhead Legate.

The soloists were, in the morning, Miss Jacqueline MacDonald and in the evening Miss Marion Cudmore.

The Sunday School resumed with a good attendance of scholars and teachers in the afternoon, under the superintendence of Mr. D. A MacKinnon.

THE BAPTIST CHURCH

The Rev. A. C. Vincent, D.D., in his morning sermon spoke on "The Prayer that Jesus would not make." Taking as his text the words of St. John, 17 "I pray not that thou shouldst take them out of the world but that thou shouldst keep them from the evil", it was pointed out that the occasion was the final gathering of Jesus and the small, devoted and understanding group that had in an intimate way entered in to the spirit of his life and message. And now parting, sorrow, Calvary faced them all. He prayed for them, not that they might be removed from the trials, dangers, persecutions of a world inimical to Him and them, but they should be preserved, empowered, sanctified in the face of their great adventure. It is necessary that his disciples shall remain "in the world." Through them His gospel shall be spread, through them the world may hear and be reanimated by His spirit. It is necessary for them that they shall have the discipline of opposition, the challenge of the word's needs, the victory that follows toil and sacrifice.

Mrs. W. A. Jenkins, mezzo soprano, sang very effectively Stephen Adams' "The Holy City."

The evening service was largely attended. Dr. Vincent gave a very vivid address, taking as his subject "Scarecrows." Mrs. Jack MacRae, soprano, sang "Consider the Lilies" with sympathetic understanding. The usual activities of the week were intimated, with especial attention to the mid-week prayer service, Wednesday at 7.30.

HOLY REDEEMER CHURCH

Yesterday morning at the Church of The Most Holy Redeemer, Masses were at the usual hours. At 10.30 High Mass was celebrated by Rev. H. Fleming, C.SS.R. Rev. W. E. Enright, C.SS.R., preached an inspiring sermon, pointing out to the parishioners the manner in which the devotions of the Forty Hours, which opened after High Mass yesterday morning, should be made. The mixed choir, under the direction of Mr. Alfred Doucette, with Mr. Alex McLean as organist, rendered the Mass very creditably.

After High Mass, solemn opening of the Forty Hours Devotions took place, consisting of the usual ceremonies, which included a procession, in which the Blessed Sacrament was carried around the Church. Taking part in the procession were the altar boys, little flower girls, who scattered flowers in front of the Blessed Sacrament, as the procession proceeded around the church; also the men of the Holy Name Society, who each carried a lighted candle.

In the evening at 7 o'clock, the service consisted of the Rosary, an eloquent sermon on the Blessed Sacrament, by Rev. Father Enright, special prayers and hymns to the Blessed Sacrament, and Benediction of The Most Blessed Sacrament, given by Father Fleming. The mixed choir rendered the singing.

The altar, which presented a magnificent spectacle, was beautifully illuminated with lights and adorned with flowers. A large number of people fervently knelt in prayer and adoration throughout the entire afternoon and evening.

The Forty Hours will close on Tuesday evening.

TRINITY UNITED CHURCH

At the morning worship which was largely attended the first Baptismal service by our new Minister Rev. Hugh Miller was celebrated when Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lewis presented their beautiful little daughter for Baptism. Before the ceremony Mr. Miller explained that Baptism was one of the two Sacraments instituted by Jesus and recognized by our Church, the other being the sacrament of the Holy Supper, that by Baptism the child is initiated into the visible church of Christ, her name is entered on the Baptismal Roll and she thereby becomes a member. Baptism is an outward sign of a spiritual act.

The General Council of the United Church is now meeting at Kingston, Ontario with about 300 representatives present. It is pleasing to learn that the church is making steady progress and that no urgent problems are awaiting settlement. Our new Moderator Rev. Dr. Richard Roberts is the son of a Welsh clergyman, has had a wide experience in church work, is highly qualified for his important post and he will bring to his new duties the enthusiasm and the zeal that mean so much in the leadership of any religious body.

Rev. Mr. Miller's text in the morning was from James 2-23 "Abraham believed God" No greater compliment could be paid any man. "I believe in God". So begins our Creed—a confession of faith—"Believing God" is different and much more difficult than believing in God. In view of the present plight of the world is our faith sufficient to believe that it is all the benevolent doings of a just and loving God. Do we believe God is at the helm and that all is well. Our creed says, "I believe in God, the Father"—Do we believe that he is the Father of each and every individual and are we putting into practice what we believe and further that he has a plan and purpose for each life and it is possible to learn the purpose and plan if one really desires. Do we believe in the supremacy of spiritual forces. If we do why not declare it. We believe in God the Father because Christ believed. His faith is the anchor of our faith. Abraham believe God. Christ believed God the Father. We must also believe.

In the evening Mr. Miller took as his text John 5-17, "My father worketh hitherto and I work", and delivered an eloquent sermon on The Master Workman, pointing out the urgency with which Jesus went about his work, His faith in his work and the calmness which He showed.

The service of praise was as usual very helpful and comprised an Anthem both morning and evening also a very pleasing solo "Beside Still Waters" by Miss Doris Tait. Next Sunday morning Communion will be observed.

ST. PETER'S CATHEDRAL

At the 8 o'clock celebration of the Holy Communion yesterday in St. Peter's Cathedral the Rev. A. G. Bradshaw, Rector of Maitland, Nova Scotia, was celebrant, while the 11 o'clock choral Eucharist was celebrated by the Rev. Canon Malone. Rev. Mr. Bradshaw was the preacher, Rev. Canon Malone was the preacher at Evensong. During the services special prayers were said and hymns sung for the Ember Days, which are Wednesday, Friday and Saturday of this week, days set apart for prayers for the Church and those about to be ordained to Holy Orders.

Wednesday is the commemoration of Theodore, Archbishop of Canterbury in 690, and Friday is the Festival of Saint Matthew, Apostle, Evangelist and Martyr. The Sunday School will open Sunday next after the summer holidays.
