EXERCISE OF LAYING HENS

To have your hens do their very best laying they must have plenty of exercise. The lazy, inactive hen puts on too much fat, and is usually a very poor layer. A mash wet down with skim milk may be fed early in the morning. A limited amount must be given, since, if the hen is allowed to become gorged early in the day, she will have no incentive to get out and forage.

MY EARNEST PRAYER

The following excellent poem is repeated owing to a slight mixing of lines in the original.

In vain, I sought one ray of light To pierce my soul;
In vain, I gazed far in the night To find my goal.

I did not dream, oh Lord that Thou, Would'st call to me;
I did not hear Thy prayer, but now, I give it Thee.

I do not wish that Thou should'st keep Me from my own;
I do not even wish in sleep, To be alone.

See that her nightly dreams are Free From wo and care.
See that her heart is true to Thee— My earnest prayer.

And then when gales blow hard and seas Dash mountains high,
My Faith will float right o'er the breeze, Under Thine eye.

Her Love will be a Holy thing Sacred to me;
My Faith will be unpiercing, Pleasing to Thee.

And then when Life's hard fight is on, The battle won,
We'll hand in hand go through the door— Unto the Son.

How to Stop Your Hair From Falling BY A SCALP SPECIALIST

It isn't the bald headed man or woman who needs or wants a hair remedy most. The majority of people with bald, thinning scalp have long since resigned themselves to fate and either wear a wig or go about as living examples of warning to the countless thousands of others whose hair is merely "growing thin" and coming out at an alarming rate.

These people are in the initial stages of a dangerous scalp condition which must inevitably lead to certain and complete baldness unless prompt and effective measures are taken. Most of my patients, both men and women, are of this very class and almost invariably I find a hair trouble due to one and the same cause. I then prescribe a simple remedy which I have used for years and which I know has preserved the hair of thousands of people, saving them from complete baldness. A combination of dandruff germ and mal-nutrition of the hair root has done the damage in nearly every case. The root has become devitalized by this attack upon it, both from without and within and the muscular tissues which are designed to hold and protect the hair sac have become relaxed and flabby. To effect a cure and save the hair the scalp must not only be cleansed of dandruff scales, but the germ life itself must be permanently and completely destroyed and the scalp tissues must be forced to assimilate through the pores a form of nourishment that will promptly check the falling of old hair and start a growth of new hair. For such a purpose I believe nothing is so effective as a lotion which anyone can prepare at home or have any druggist mix for them. Bischoff's one-half dram of Menthol Crystals (about 10c. worth) in 6 oz. of Bay Rum. Pour in an 8 oz. bottle and add 2 oz. of Lavona (de compose). Shake well and allow to stand one hour before using. Used as indicated above and applied night and morning, rubbing into the scalp with the finger tips, this hair remedy is unequalled. A few days' use and you cannot find a single loose or straggling hair, dandruff will disappear and itching cease and in about ten days you will find your scalp covered with fine, downy new hairs and these hairs will grow with amazing rapidity. 11.05

MR. GEORGE PICKARD

On Wednesday the 11th inst., at her home at West Royalty, there passed to her eternal reward, Charlotte, beloved wife of George Pickard in the 62nd year of her age, and the church, the community and the home are mourning the loss of a faithful member, a kind friend and a loving wife and mother. Always strong, capable, and clever, she gave of her best in no stinted measure, and became as a pillar of strength unto many. Alas! the cry is "we cannot do without her," but He who gave is also He who has taken away, and through Him strength will be given, even in this to say, "Blessed be the name of the Lord." Her life had known its sorrows. She had buried three beautiful daughters, but just as each reached her budding womanhood, but her faith was never known to falter, rather did all feel that through this she was bound more closely to her Saviour. She leaves to mourn a sorrowing husband, six and one daughter, also one brother, Mr. Nelson Kent of North Sydney, and three sisters, Mrs. John Wayne of Hunter River, Mrs. Allan McDonald, New Glasgow and Mrs. Charles Carter of Winsloe, besides numerous other relatives and friends. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. F. H. Littlejohns, assisted at the grave by Rev. E. Westmorland where he remains very laid to rest in Winsloe Cemetery.

JOHN CALLAGHAN

It is with deep regret that the death is chronicled of Mr. John Callaghan aged 65. The sad event, as already stated, took place at his residence, Sydney St., on Monday morning, Feb. 16th. Mr. Callaghan was born at Lake Verde, Lot 49, and came to the city to live about 14 years ago. He was ailing but a short time and was carefully attended to by Dr. W. J. McMillan but despite all that medical skill and kind attendance of those around him, he passed away to that happy land where sorrow and death cannot enter. His spiritual welfare was attended to by the Rev. Father Duffy who administered to him the last rites of the Catholic Church. His funeral took place on Thursday, 19th by train to Vernon River. The attendance was large both in the city and at Millville Station where about 30 sleighs met the remains and conveyed them to Vernon River Cemetery where they were consigned to their last resting place by the Rev. Father McGuigan, there to await the sound of the angel trumpet which shall call us all together on the last day. He leaves to
