Eggs

Grit writers and speakers are trying to mislead the people by telling them that the imports of eggs from the United States occurs largely during winter and does not compete with Canadian eggs which are not produced at that season. Such is not the case. Millions of dozens of eggs are produced in Canada at every season of the year and our winter production is increasing annually, owing to the more scientific poultry methods of today.

A very large proportion of our eggs are bought by dealers during the summer and stored for winter sale. This is more alarmingly the case in the United States. In winter they dump their cold storage eggs into our market to displace the home article. Look at the average price of Yankee eggs imported in 1911. It was only 15.5 per dozen. Is any one fool enough to believe that the United States sold us new laid eggs in mid-winter at 18c. dozen. If 18c. is their winter price how much would they be worth there in summer. If we allow them to dump their cold storage eggs on our markets in winter to displace the sale of Canadian cold storage eggs, then our buyers must buy at a lower price for storage purposes to compete with them.

Taft's Fortunes Linked to Laurier's

The Springfield Republican, one of the best edited newspapers in the United States, says:

"With less than a month remaining before the elections in Canada—the polling is fixed for September 21—the result is more than ever shrouded in uncertainty. But while no forecast can be offered, it must be confessed that the defeat of the Laurier Government and of reciprocity is not so improbable as it seemed when the Ottawa Parliament was dissolved, the blow would be felt by President Taft scarcely less than by Premier Laurier himself.

If he can get Canada to swallow reciprocity, he can get the Republicans to swallow the rest of the record.—Ex.

Col. MacPherson Challenges Mr Fisher.

To the Editor of the Montreal Star:

Sir,—In your issue of 28th August, Mr. Sydney Fisher is reported as having made the following statement at Valleyfield, on the afternoon of the previous Saturday, in the presence of Sir Wilfrid Laurier and an audience of some 1,500 Liberals:

"The Opposition tell you that the British market is the best. If that is so, why do you sell the majority of your produce to the United States? You have been sending from ten to one hundred times as much produce to the United States as you have sent to Great Britain? Have you done it for fun, or for the benefit of the Americans? If you have been doing this when duties were imposed, will it not be of still greater profit to you to do so when the duties are removed?"

It is hard to believe that a Minister of the Crown would deliberately state what he knew to be absolutely untrue, and yet this is the only conclusion at which it is possible to arrive. The proof of its falsity, and that he knew it was false, is that he, as Minister of Agriculture, issued from his department, on the 11th of July last, a statistical report of the business of the Dominion of Canada, which gives figures to prove the very reverse of what he told the people of Valleyfield. The following is taken from pages 62 and 63 of this official report:

| Year | Gt. Britain | U. S. |
|---|---|---|
| 1910—Exports of agricul. produce. . . . . | $ 1,004,416 | $ 8,204,250 |
| 1910—Exports of animals and their produce | 41,860,777 | 10,629,614 |
| Total. . . . | $112,865,193 | $18,833,864 |

This—Mr. Fisher's own report—conclusively proves that the farmers of Canada send more than six times as much to the Mother Country as to the United States, and absolutely contradicts his statement that they send "from ten to one hundred times as much produce to the United States as to Great Britain." Has Mr. Fisher grown delirious over the impending defeat of the Government, and is flinging aside his own official reports in a vain effort to delude the farmers? It is an ignominious position for a Minister to place himself in. Every man who addresses a public audience upon national questions should speak the truth, and nothing but the truth. It is of minor consequence to the people of Canada whether the name of the Prime Minister commences with a B. or an L.—"a few more years shall roll and we, too, shall be as yesterday's ten thousand years"—but it is of the utmost importance that right principles should prevail and that the government of this country should be founded upon truth.

Mr. Fisher seems to be fond of calling his opponents "cowards." I do not place myself in that category, and will meet him at any time that may suit his convenience, upon the public platform, in Montreal, and there discuss before as fair and unbiased an audience as can be gathered together, the statements he has made at different times and places and the issues which the people will be called upon to decide at the polls upon the 21st of this month.

J. PENNINGTON MACPHERSON,
Lieut.-Colonel.

Ottawa, September 1.

(GUELPH HERALD.)

Sir Wilfrid Laurier was careful to explain that Reciprocity was the sole issue before the people. He refrained from telling them that it wouldn't be before them could he have helped it.

A HARMLESS WAY TO DARKEN THE HAIR

A Little Sage And Sulphur Makes Gray Hair Vanish — A Remedy For All Hair Troubles

Who does not know the value of sage and sulphur for keeping the hair dark, soft, glossy and in good condition? As a matter of fact, sulphur is a natural element of hair, and a deficiency of it in the hair is held by many scalp specialists to be connected with loss of color and vitality of the hair. Unquestionably, there is no better remedy for hair and scalp troubles, especially permature grayness, than sage and sulphur, if properly prepared. The Wyeth Chemical Company of New York put up an ideal remedy of this kind, called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, and authorized druggists to sell it under guarantee that the money will be refunded if it fails to do exactly as represented.

If you have dandruff, or if your hair is thin or turning gray, get a bottle of this remedy from your druggist today, and see what it will do for you.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists.

Special agents MacKinnon Drug Co. Kent and Great George Streets, and E. A. Foster, Sunnyside.

Mrs. Josiah Lane, Hermitage, who has been visiting friends and relatives in this city, leaves on return this afternoon.

Miss Ina Gillan, city, leaves this afterooon for Summerside en route to Worcester, Mass., where she will visit before taking a course in nursing in Newport Hospital, Newport, R. I.

The Sons of England of this city held their annual decoration of graves of their deceased brothers yesterday. There was a creditable turnout and the fraternity was headed by the Citizen's Band.

H. M. Blight, who is from Toronto visiting this city, has kindly consented to sing at the recital this evening and will sing "Glory to Thee, O God, this Night" by Gounod.

W. J. Bryan, who lectures here Wednesday evening, is a big man, physically, mentally, politically, and otherwise, and has a strong, clear, ringing voice. There is never any trouble to hear him in any auditorium.

Several surprises are in store for those who attend the Organ Recital in the First Methodist Church tonight. Dr Baldwin has made up a new programe which includes some unexpected and delightful combinations. Doors open at 7.30. Tickets ten cents and reserved seats at twenty-five cents.

Rev. J. Heaney, city, pastor of the First Methodist Church, preached a strong sermon last evening on Man, taking his text from the 4th and 5th verses of the 8th Psalm. His discourse was spiritually enlightening and was listened to by a large congregation. He was assisted in the service by Rev. Dr. Heartz, who offered prayer. H. M. Blight of Toronto, who is visiting here, rendered a sacred solo most acceptably. Mr. Blight is endowed with a rich, powerful voice.

On Saturday afternoon a large number of the students of the C. B. C. took advantage of the opportunity afforded by Principal Miller to enjoy a day's outing at Rocky Point, on the occasion of the annual picnic of that institution. The day was all that could be desired and it is needless to say that the time passed pleasantly and all too quickly. The picturesque scenery, the winding roads, the magnificent banks bordering the glistening waters of the harbor, were indeed a source of lasting pleasure and enjoyment to all. Sunny smiles, amateur photography, and even the rod and basket, were predominant factors in contributing to the pleasure of the occasion. On returning to the boat, refreshments were partaken of at a restaurant by the way, laughter and eatables appearing and disappearing simultaneously. The party returned to the city much refreshed, and the thanks of all were extended to Principal Miller for his kindness in providing such a pleasant outing, so heartily enjoyed by all.

St. Dunstan's Cathedral in this city will be the scene of an interesting event this morning at six o'clock when the marriage will be solemnized of Miss Millie Steele, daughter of Daniel and Mrs. Steele, to Joseph H. Woods, Moncton. The ceremony will be performed by Rev. Dr. McLellan and the bride will be given away by her father. She will be attended by her sister, Miss Gertrude Steele, while the groom will be supported by James W. Murphy. The bride will be attractively attired in a blue tailored travelling suit with a black picture hat. At the conclusion of the ceremony a wedding breakfast will be served at the home of the bride, after which the happy couple will depart on the express for Moncton where they will reside. Many beautiful gifts were received by the young couple who are both well known and popular here. Miss Steele some time ago was an employee of Sanderson & Co. and Mr. Woods, who is a native of this city, is the senior partner in a progressive tailoring establishment in Moncton. To the happy couple The Guardian tenders its best wishes—wishes which will be heartily concurred in by their large number of friends here.

PRAISE OF THE LONG ROD.

Anglers as well as others who play outdoor games sometimes carry things to extremes; an instance of this may be seen in the very short casting rods advocated by some bass fishermen. Better, that is, longer, casting may undoubtedly be done with the very short rods, but casting is not the whole of fishing for bass by a very long cast indeed, and the bait-caster when selecting a fishing rod—as distinguished from a mere casting machine—should bear this in mind. Within reason, always holding to the idea that light tackle is the only desirable sort for many and the very best of reasons, the longer your rod the more control you have over a hooked fish, wherefore, obviously, reducing rod length increases the chance of disaster.

But the bait-caster who follows the modern form of this sport, using largely the overhead cast and artificial lures, is limited in his option as to rod length by the fact that overhead casting cannot be done—is very awkward and not consistently practicable at any rate—with a long rod. It may be safely said that a rod six feet is the longest with which the overhead bait-caster can work with comfort and efficiency. On the other hand a rod less than five feet six inches, although a casting rod, Any casting rod from five and a half to six feet will be right. With the five and a half foot rod you can cast a little better and easier; with the six foot rod you will have more control over your fish—Samuel G. Camp in the August Outing.

HIS DESCENT

He was a gentle specimen of his class then one usually meets' and when he made his appeal for something to eat at the kitchen door he was asked by the good-natured cook to come in by the fire. As he sat there, she said: "You don't look as tho you had always been a tramp."

"I haven't," he replied, without offense. "I came from a very good family."

She let him eat on without interruption, but after he had finished, she said:

"You say you come from a good family. May I ask the name?"

"It was Blanklight," he responded.

"Why," she said, in surprize, "that's the name of the occupier next door to us."

"Yes," he replied, "I noticed it on the doorplate, That's who I came from He threw me down his steps just before I called here."

TREE AS AIR PURIFIER

It has been calculated that a single tree is able through its leaves to purify the air from the carbonic acid arising from the perspiration of a considerable number of men, perhaps a dozen or even more, says the Scientific American. The volume of carbonic acid exhaled by a human being in the course of 24 hours is put at about 100 gallons; but by Boussingault's estimate, a single square yard of leaf-surface, counting both the upper and the under sides of the leaves, can, under favorable circumstances, decompose at least a gallon of carbonic acid in a day. One hundred square yards of leaf-surface then would suffice to keep the air pure for one man, but the leaves of a tree of moderate size present a surface of many hundred square yards.

PROF. McDONALD SAYS THE HUMAN EYE INDICATES A GOD

LONDON, Sept. 8—A new statement of the relation of the soul to the senses of man has been enunciated by Prof. MacDonald at the meeting of the Btitish Association at Portsmouth.

Prof. MacDonald's view is regarded by physiologists as offering a great etimulus to research, and it provides for the general public a new exposition of the theory of belief in a divinity, following the general lines of Paley's famous argument from the watch.

NICKNAMES OF LONDON PAPERS

Nicknames for newspapers have gone out of favor. While the Times was formerly "Granny" and afterward the "Thunderer," the Morning Post used to be known as "Jeames," that generic name for flunkeys being attached to it in allusion to its specialization on society news. When the Morning Herald and Standard had the same proprietors and to a large extent the same staff, and used to appeal to each other as independant known as Mrs. Harriss" and "Mrs. Gamp." The Morning advertizer, as the organ of the trade, has at various times been dubbed the "Barrel Organ," the "Tap Tub" and the "Gin and Gospel Gazette." The "Pink 'Un" scarcely counts as a nickname, being officially adopted as an alternative title for the Sporting Times.—Daily Chronicle.

PRAISE OF HIGH HEEL

The high heel is justified at last. It makes a woman's conversation witty, or, to get back to the psychology of it, some attributes of the witty mind may cause a woman unconsciously to select high heels. The Paris correspondent of the London Standard says the walker in low heels is trite and flat—bromidic, so to speak—but she who trips in high ones will soar to unexpected attitudes of epigram and paradox."

TO BE GUARDED AGAINST IN EVERY POSSIBLE WAY

What I wanted here to insist on is that tuberculosis, whether bovine, or human, is to be guarded against with all the means at our disposal, and that we should in this matter take every precaution against errors, lest, thirty years hence, we should find that we have been acting on a wrong theory as our forefathers had done in regard to their idea of the origin of the disease.

The point here to emphasize is not as to the degree of dilution in which the virulence of the tubercle bacillus will infect human beings with the disease, nor yet as to its mode of attack, whether by inhalation or by ingestion, but the fact that we are just as liable to be infected by the bovine bacilli as by the human. Indeed, some authorities go so far as to say that the milk fed to infants is the chief cause of infection; and that even all tuberculosis is of bovine origin.

Is tuberculosis common among cattle? In looking over the statistics of countries where the subject is receiving proper attention, we notice that the percentage of tuberculosis among cattle slaughtered in public abattoirs in different cities for different years ranged between 6.34 and 45.8 per cent.

BISHOP SAYS WOMAN'S RIGHTS ARE WRONGS

HARTFORD, Sept. 3.—At the masses at St. Joseph's Cathedral today, Bishop John J. Nilan, who two years ago came from Amesbury, Mass., to succeed the late Bishop Tierney, delivered a remarkable invective against the "new woman," whom he satirically compared with the sweet and retiring girl of years ago.

In the course of his startling sermon, in which he touched upon Catholic schooling, he said: "We hear a great deal in these days of woman's rights, which are really wrongs. I know not whether woman will ever get what she terms her right. Before God, man and woman are equal, but here on earth their stations are different.

"Woman was created to be the helpmate of man, to be kind and gentle, and patient under long suffering. The master of fashions seems to be preparing woman for what she appears to want, and is moulding her garb so similar to man's attire as to disfigure her beauty and deforme her nature.

"As a result we have the swagger and the stare, and gone is the oldtime sweet expression of womanly modesty and kindness. There is no way in which I wish the women would imitate the men. When a man is at work, he frequently rolls back his sleeves and bares his breast.

"But when that man goes into the presence of his God or of women, he puts on his coat, fastens his collar, and is fully dressed. In just the opposite way, a woman seems to think herself mostly dressed when her neck and shoulders and uncovered, and her arms are bared."
