

SCRATCHED DAY AND NIGHT

Lady Suffered Tortures with Itching Scalp Humour—One Box Cuticura Ointment and One Cake of Cuticura Soap Cured Her.

WILL NEVER BE WITHOUT CUTICURA

"My scalp was covered with little pimples and I suffered tortures from the itching. I was scratching all day and night, and I could get no rest. I washed my head with hot water and Cuticura Soap and then applied the Cuticura Ointment as a dressing. One box of Cuticura Ointment and one cake of Cuticura Soap cured me. Now my head is entirely clear and my hair is growing splendidly. I have used Cuticura Soap ever since, and shall never be without it. (signed) Ada C. Smith, 309 Grand Street, Jersey City, N. J."

CUTICURA GROWS HAIR

Crusted Scapls Cleansed and Purified by Cuticura Soap.

Assisted by light dressings of Cuticura, the great skin cure. This treatment at once stops falling hair, removes crusts, scales, and dandruff, destroys hair parasites, soothes irritated, itching surfaces, stimulates the hair follicles, loosens the scalp skin, supplies the roots with energy and nourishment, and makes the hair grow upon a sweet, wholesome, healthy scalp when all else fails.

Complete external and internal treatment for every humour, from pimples to scrofula, from infancy to age, consisting of Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Pills, may now be had of all chemists. A single set is often sufficient to cure the most distressing cases of torturing, disfiguring, itching, burning, bleeding, scaly, crusted, and pimply skin and scalp humours, eczemas, rashes, irritations, and chafings, with loss of hair, when all else has failed.

Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Pills are sold throughout the world. Depots: London, 27 Chancery Lane; Paris, 2 Rue de la Paix; Australia, 27 Victoria St., Sydney; Futur Drug & Chem. Corp., Boston, Sole Proprietors.

THE SABBATH LAWS.

The Imperial Privy Council some time ago held that the Ontario Lord's Day Act was as a whole ultra vires, but left the inference that parts of it might be within the power of the provincial Legislature to enact. The Supreme Court of Canada more recently decided that the Ontario Act is ultra vires, and the Privy Council has refused to grant an appeal from this decision.

The Ontario Act referred to was passed since the Dominion was formed. As we understand it all Sabbath legislation enacted by the Provinces before the union stands good and in full force and effect until the Dominion shall legislate to the contrary. There can be no more doubt that the Provinces formerly had full power to legislate on this question than there is that the Dominion has it now. This leaves the Sabbath Legislation passed by the Island Legislature before 1873 in full force and effect for the present.

Of course, under existing circumstances the Dominion Parliament will be practically forced to take up the question, and it will be one of great difficulty owing to the different views which prevail in the different Provinces. Most Canadians would prefer that the power to legislate on this question should rest with the Provincial Legislatures, but our preferences must give way to the decision of the higher judicial authorities on the matter of constitutionality.

When the Dominion Parliament comes to deal with the Sabbath question it will be found that what would suit the Maritime Provinces and Ontario will not be agreeable to Quebec. The difficulty will be not unlike that resulting from the plebiscite on prohibition. Quebec was not in line with the other Provinces and Quebec had its way. It will be almost impossible to obtain from the federal Parliament a Sabbath observance law other than such as Quebec will consent to and that will not be likely to be found agreeable to Ontario or the Eastern Provinces.

If the esteemed Patriot will please to read over the report of Sir Douglas Fox it will not be necessary for this Journal to further argue the point which it raises about those collisions.

The remarkable statement is credited to Dr. Inch, Superintendent of Education in New Brunswick that there are many schools in that Province with but five or six pupils each. There must be something not quite right with a system which works out in that fashion.

The Chinese boycott of American goods is becoming serious. "If you will not have our people," say the Chinese, "we will not have your goods." Uncle Sam will have to think this over. It was not expected the "heathen Chinese" would strike back in this fashion, but the blow has been struck and it is seriously felt. And probably the boycott is only a beginning. Who knows what may follow?

The round robin finds no favor with The Pioneer. It declares the bird has not one redeeming quality. The Pioneer proceeds:—"If allowed to gain a foot-hold in this country it will multiply and fill the land and prove itself as prolific as it is rapacious. Ottawa, its present habitat will be insufficient for its needs. It will soon be found nesting in every Provincial Assembly, in every Town and City Council as well as in every municipal organization through the broad Dominion. It deserves instant extermination."

The Presbyterian Witness makes a plea for retired Governors of Provinces and asks that they be appointed to the Senate, and so pensioned for the remainder of their days. But The Witness falls into error in saying there are no retired Governors in New Brunswick or P. E. Island. Our worthy ex-Governor Hon. A. A. Macdonald was appointed to the Senate in 1891 shortly after the expiration of his five years term in Government House. Ex-Governor McClellan of New Brunswick is living in private life.

The Patriot views the car ferry with favor but wants a new port on the other side of the Straits. It says quite reasonably, that Pictou is bound to be blocked several weeks each season and no steamer, car ferry or otherwise could then get into or out of that port. Hence it argues the necessity of "discovering another winter port on the mainland between Pictou and Cape George". The trouble is that there is no port to discover between the points named and having railway connection except Merigonish, and that is admittedly more inaccessible than Pictou. A car ferry could not be utilized as much without railway connection on both sides.

Prof. Robertson is now in our midst and we need not inform him of what he is so well aware in regard to the high place he holds in the estimation of the people of Prince Edward Island. He has done a great deal to promote the material interests of this Province as well as of the Dominion at large. We know of no man holding office in the Dominion who has rendered more signal service to the entire country. He has done his work in such modest fashion as not only not to invite but scarcely to permit the bestowal of the praise he deserves. This modesty on his part has however strengthened rather than diminished the popular regard and esteem for him.

According to Sir Edward Morris, Attorney General of Newfoundland, who lately visited Ottawa, the Ancient Colony has no desire to enter the Dominion of Canada. The situation of the one Island Province now in the union is not alluring. Moreover Newfoundland is flourishing as an independent Province. Trade never was better, the revenue is buoyant, in five years there has not been a single case of insolvency of any importance, the branch banks are flourishing, the mining and lumber industries are being developed apace, and great bodies of iron ore are being shipped from Bell Island to the Dominion Steel Company at Sydney. Ten years ago, Mr. Morris says, this ore property was offered for sale by the owners for $30,000 and the whole could now easily be sold for $10,000,000.

I bought a horse with a supposedly incurable ringbone for $30. Cured him with $1.00 worth of MINARD'S LINIMENT and sold him in four months for $85.00. Profit on Liniment, $54.00.

THE TRANSPORTATION COMMISSION.

We think it regrettable that the Transportation Commission made so brief a stay in our midst. A single sitting of some three and a half hours was all too brief a time to devote to the problems which are presented in connection with the complicated transportation affairs of this Province.

It is doubly to be regretted that a second sitting was not held at which other views than those which were heard might have been listened to. The car ferry was advocated at some length by its zealous advocate and some objections made to what were alleged to be the plans for the Tunnel. It will hardly be claimed that this gave an adequate representation of the views of our people at large. Very few were aware that the sitting was to be confined to the forenoon, of one day, and those who had expected an afternoon sitting to follow were surprised to learn that all was over.

It is furthermore to be regretted that the Commissioners could not have visited our Province in the winter season. They would in a visit at such a time have a vivid view of the real difficulties which beset our trade and navigation. They would then also have been able to form some impression as to whether those difficulties could probably be overcome by a new and stronger winter steamer. As it is they have come and gone at the season when our transportation is running smoothly, and so far as their personal observation goes we may have little to complain of except in the matter of freight rates. We would be glad to have the Commissioners return in midwinter, observe the actual difficulties as they are then to be seen, and give the opportunity for a full and free discussion of the entire question—an opportunity which the brief meeting of the other day did not give.

About a month hence on August 30 the jealous moon is expected to place itself between the sun and earth. The ungracious act will prevent the sun from shining with its usual splendor here, and in some parts of the earth will entirely shut out the face of the sun. But the moon will not shine. That is usually the fate of all earthly objects animate and inanimate which obscure the light of others. Meanwhile the scientific world is considerably exercised over the coming event and expeditions are being sent to favorable points of observation where the eclipse will be total, to take photographs and make notes. They may learn something new in regard to the sun, the great centre of our system, and they may not.

It was our chance to hear a spirited discussion recently on the cause of colds in the head, neuralgia and similar ills. One of the company asserted that such ailments are much more common in these days than in the days of our grandfathers and grandmothers and attributed the unfavorable change to the abandonment of the night-cap which was formerly worn by most persons when sleeping. It is to be observed that the temperature of the sleeping room in cold weather is usually much colder at night than that of the living rooms by day, and while all take care to cover their bodies with plenty of bed clothes, the head is left entirely exposed. The fashion authorities have given warning that erinoline is to be restored. Possibly with that abomination we may have also a return to night-caps, and the day caps formerly worn by all matrons to distinguish them from the unmarried.

COLD SETTLES IN THE BACK.
It hits people in a tender spot and makes it mighty hard to brace up. Nervine takes that kink out of your spinal column in short order; it soothes, that's why relief comes so soon. Nervine penetrates, that's why it cures. Five times stronger than ordinary remedies, Nervine can't fall to cure lame back, lumbago, sciatica and neuralgia. Nervine is instant death to all muscular pain. For nearly fifty years it has been the largest selling liniment in Canada. Better try it.
