Life, Love And Zest In "The Powers Girl"

Calculated to pull anyone out of the doldrums—offering beauty, fashion, romance, music and song par excellence—The Powers Girl, Charles R. Rogers' film with music has its local premiere on Monday at the Capitol Theatre thru United Artists release.

Ellen Evans, a small-town gal played by Anne Shirley, is discharged from the local high school because she appears in a compromising magazine photograph. Ellen and her friends for the big city of New York to join her sister Kay, played by Carole Landis. Things begin to happen when Ellen's romantic leanings toward Jerry Hendricks, who is none other than the dancer George Murphy, are discovered. He is furthering her desire to become a Powers model and is trying to make her way with Murphy's assistance. Give Anne some love headaches, but it all comes out all right—with the girl's wedding to the loved Murphy who has been accepted as a lieutenant in the Air Force.

Alan Mowbray does a realistic job of impersonating the beauty connoisseur, John R. Powers; the Powers girls, in person, are gorgeous; and the music, which is superbly dubbed the "long-stemmed American beauties."

Paper Committee of the combined (Canada - United States - British) Production and Distribution Committee for the opinion of the Canadian Government that "the severe shortage of pulp wood which is in prospect" should dictate immediate economy of use.

In order to meet the delivery schedule, Canadian mills will have to reduce further their inventories of pulp and wood until pulpwood inventories "will have been reduced by next spring to the absolute minimum at which operations can continue."

Nelson said only 23 per cent of the newspaper consumed in the United States comes from American mills, more than 72 per cent is manufactured in Canada, from Canadian wood, and a little less than five per cent is imported from Newfoundland.

The Canadian Selective Service Administration now is being consulted with the view toward placing a higher essentiality rating on wood cutting, Nelson said, and the use of war prisoners is being studied. Since Dominion troops may not be sent abroad unless they volunteer for overseas duty, Nelson said some persons have suggested that Canadian soldiers might be assigned to or volunteered for service in the woods.

HOSPITAL SERVICE Nationalization of all hospitals and institution and the provision of adequate hospital accommodation and treatment for all were urged at a conference of the British Hospital and Welfare Services in Portsmouth England.

Discussed Farm Problems With Ottawa Officials Matters were discussed relative to food supplies, animal production, price level of potatoes, and other business of interest to Island farmers, states Mr. W. R. Shaw, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, on his return from a conference of federal and provincial officials at Ottawa.

Mr. Shaw was pleased with the improvement in providing direct shipments of Western feed grain to points in the East. "By-passing" the head of the Great Lakes will accelerate deliveries. In order to do this the dockage has been increased from one to three percent. It is not to be assumed that the dockage is all composed of weeds. There may be other varieties of grain included. In all cases of Western feed grain it is advised that farmers exercise the greatest care and see that it is ground to the finest possible extent so that weeds may be destroyed. Mr. Shaw says. Demands cannot be filled from Ontario, Quebec because of scarcity there.

Another provision made was the direct shipment of feed grains from Western farmers. Eastern producers having relatives in the West may now purchase direct and have benefits of reduced freight rates. Demands will be inspected at Winnipeg.

No change in the present ceiling of oats at 51 1-2 cents and barley at 94 1-2 cents based on Port William prices) has been made. Mr. Shaw commented favorably on the new Federal bonus of 20 cents per cwt. of milk for cheese factories. This amounts to 3 cents per pound and is in line with the recommendations made by the Advisory Committee earlier. Unfortunately it is at a time when factors are starting the end of their production year.

I felt so humiliated I thought my little girl's dress was white ... until I saw it next to Bob's RINSO-WASHED blouse

It's wonderful to see the whiteness of Rinsowashed clothes. Not a cloudy white. Not a streaky white. But a radiant white. So easy with Rinsowashed. Rinsowashed is all you need for heaps of richer, longer-lasting suds even in hardest water. With Rinsowashed suds in your wash tub, dirt soaks out without the hard rubbing and boiling that wears clothes threadbare. And if you own a washer, just remember that the makers of 26 leading Canadian washers recommend Rinsowashed for best results.

Considerable time was spent in conference with Department officials in discussing price ceiling on table stock and seed potatoes. Mr. Shaw would not comment on this other than to intimate that there is a probability of improvement in seed marketing levels.

Conferences were also held on the question of ground limestone supplies and production of the province. Mr. Shaw was much impressed with the splendid harvest produced by the Island Government compared with conditions in Eastern Ontario and parts of Quebec. The situation there on many farms is set up a puppet government. He stated, would cause a great difference in the maintaining of a high level of production there.

ITALIANS IN WAR (Continued from page 1) many following on the aggressive attitude of the Germans. It was announced that the Premier, now officially disclosed to be in Allied-held Italian territory, made his call to arms from a new Italian Government at 'non radio' Italians, on the mainland Sept. 16, two days before the voice attributed to Mussolini was broadcast over the German radio in an appeal to Italians to disregard the armistice with the Allies and fight at Germany's side.

The text of the Marshall's speech was carried by plane to North Africa and released here through Allied military channels. Committed to Fight The new stand apparently committed Badoglio and his followers, and the bulk of the Italian fleet which already is in Allied ports, to active combat alongside Allied troops and ships. Already two Italian divisions—assisted by Italian naval units—were stated to have departed from their previous passive attitude and joined the Germans out of the Island of Sardinia on Badoglio's orders and with Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's approval.

The Marshall's declaration told his countrymen it was their "absolute duty to fight on the side of the British and Americans against the Germans and against the few senseless Italians—no longer of such name—who put themselves at their command."

"We are co-operating side by side with the Anglo-Americans who now are accepting our assistance in the task of driving the Germans from the country," he continued. "Badoglio was advised to use 'the terrible weapon of guerrilla warfare' when outnumbered, and to escape the country, cut communications, and to use bridges and dumps, attack isolated men and equipment and, above all, do not give up, do not lose heart—persevere." The Marshall said that when the armistice of Sept. 3 was concluded it was our intention to lay down our arms and abstain entirely from peninsula in spontaneous outburst, this was the first official instruction for them to take up arms, either against the Germans or fellow Italians who remain loyal to Hitler.
