Mutual Leaders Honoured

The Mutual Life of Canada has released its Honours List, recognizing three members of its Charlottetown Branch for outstanding service to their communities in the Club Year recently closed. Messrs. C. O. Ellis of O'Leary and J. H. Cul Len of Charlottetown have qualified as members of the Leaders' Century Club, and Mr. H. W. Pletch, Branch Manager, is an Honorary Member. Qualification for Club membership requires not only the underwriting of a large volume of protection, but, more important, the writing from year to year of "quality" business, that is, life insurance that is continued in force. These two factors, combined with a high personal standard of confidential service to policyholders, earn this recognition for Mutual Life representatives.

Memorial Service At Geddie Memorial Church

In spite of earlier predictions to the contrary, beautiful summer weather greeted the great congregation gathered about the soldier's monuments at the annual Memorial Service at the Geddie Memorial Church, New London, on Sunday, July 11th, 1948. Many beautiful flowers were placed in memory of loved ones and over all floated the Union Jack. The impressive service was conducted by Rev. S. J. Davies. The opening hymn "All People that on Earth do Dwell" was followed by prayer by Mr. Davies and Scripture reading by Rev. D. A. Campbell.

A local choir composed of members from the Presbyterian, United and Anglican churches led in the singing of the hymns with Mrs. Harry Underhill and Mrs. Murdoch MacLeod as organists. Following the hymn, "The Son of God goes forth to War, a kingly crown to gain", the address was given by Rev. D. A. Campbell. He prefaced his remarks with the words, "We are assembled here to pay our tribute of love and respect to those who, in the words of Abraham Lincoln, 'gave the last full measure of devotion to their country'." The monuments speak of remembrance. James Barry tells us that "Memory was given unto us, that we might have roses in December". Then we are reminded of Him who died on the Cross. "He saved others, Himself he cannot save." This is true of these young men who gave their lives for us. We, who were saved must live worthily of those who are especially remembered today. "Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friend." To overcome the fundamental selfishness of mankind, there must be an outpouring of the Holy Spirit. One basis and a common purpose was the war. Now nations and peoples are full of hate and suspicion rather than love and goodwill. Our nation and all the nations of the world have much that is wrong with them, churches empty! Conventions cast aside! We must witness in our day a belief in God! It is only fitting that we pause awhile, and reflect that we "are not our own, that we have been bought with a price." Mr. Campbell concluded with the words, "They shall not grow old. Age shall not weary them. In the morning, and at the going down of the sun, we shall remember them."

Here the men's chorus sang, "O Valiant Heart!" The names of the fallen were read by Rev. S. J. Davies, Rev. D. A. Campbell and Rev. G. S. Stevens. Those on the old monument who fell in the first great war are, Sp. Archibald Cousins, Pte. J. Wilfred Cann, Pte. Cecil E. MacGregor, Cpl. George C. MacKenzie, M.M., Pte. James Dawson Brown, Lt. Norwood MacLeod, R.F.C., Sgt. F. Vernon Lynds, Pte. Archibald Campbell, Gnr. Arthur P. Johnstone, Pte. Leslie William MacLeod, Gnr. Harold A. MacLeod Frank L. MacKenzie, Pte. Robert Adams. On the new monument to those who gave their lives in World War II are the following names - Pte. W. Wallace Bernard, Pte. Russell N. Cann, Lt. Cpl. Stanford W. Carr, W.O. Clare Champion, Pte. George A. Condey, Pte. Otto A. Dunning, Pte. James W. Folland, Pte. Raymond MacEwen, Sgt. Elmer S. MacLeod, W.O. Allison, S.W. MacLeod, Pte. Leigh M. Kay, Pte. Lloyd G. MacKenzie, Co. Sgt. Maj. Fred L. Paynter.
