

RESIGN OF TERROR NOW PREVAILS IN TRIPOLI

Cruel Treatment of Natives By the Italian Soldiers

MALTA, Nov. 6—(By Wire)—Steamer passengers who have just arrived from Tripoli describe the situation there as a reign of terror. Strong military patrols are continually conducting vigorous house to house searches and on the smallest pretence summary punishment is meted out. Many victims have been shot in their own houses. Foreigners have taken refuge in their respective consulates. The order forbidding anyone to be out before six o'clock in the morning and after six o'clock in the evening has been strictly enforced. Men, women, or children, who disobey the order are shot down. LONDON, November 4—"Anarchy in his palmist days never wrote half so many falsehoods and (Continued From Page 6.)"

REVOLUTIONISTS WANT NOTHING BUT REPUBLIC

SHANGHAI, November 5—The first night after the capitulation of the city to the revolutionists passed uneventfully. Perfect order was maintained in Shanghai and the outlying districts, which constitutes a remarkable feature of the movement. Li Ping Shu is the responsible head of the new administration in the native city and suburbs and is now engaged in completing his organization. He informed a correspondent that he recognized only the Republic of China and would guarantee order. The only disorderly elements, he said, now in China are the former officials, their supporters and the Manchu troops, who would never again be permitted to control. There is reason to believe that the revolutionary sentiment throughout the south strongly favors the unconditional abdication of the emperor and the establishment of an entirely new regime. Yuan Shi Kai will be repudiated if he adheres to the Manchus. He might become head of the government and receive universal support if he separated himself from his former alliance. There is, however, a growing suspicion and distrust of Yuan Shi Kai. The present plans for a republic include complete control of the Yang Tse Kiang. Admiral Sah is now crippled and cut off from his base. The revolutionary leaders are determined to avoid bloodshed and secure the peaceful capitulation of the empire. (Continued From Page 6.)

WHAT PAPER TO READ

(Contributed.) The good morning newspaper is a COMPLETE newspaper, a satisfactory day-by-day history. It could not be so except for the fact of the time of its making. If it were printed at noon time, or in the afternoon before many of the events of the day's history had even taken place, it could not be a COMPLETE newspaper. Minard's Liniment Cures Burns, Etc

DIRIGIBLE MADE SUCCESSFUL FLIGHT

ATLANTIC, N. J., Nov. 4—The airship Akron under command of Melvin Vaniman left the hangar at the Inlet at 9.50 a. m., today for a trial flight over the city and ocean. The big dirigible which has specially been built for flight across the Atlantic to Europe rose about 300 feet as it left the hangar and sailed out over Ablescon Inlet at the upper end of Atlantic City in a north-easterly direction. Vaniman appeared to have perfect control of the Akron.

For a few minutes the great gas bag circled over the Inlet. It appeared to observers to be travelling at express train speed. After satisfying himself that his machinery was in good working order Vaniman essayed aerobline exercises. As soon as the same control that the operator of an "Aeroplane" it was seen that he had the balloon was over the water Jack Irwin the wireless operator dropped his ground wire into the breaker and sent his first message. It read: "It's cold but things are going great."

Leaving the Inlet the airship shaped her course down the Beach and after sailing along smoothly at a height of 300 feet for a mile, Vaniman turned the air craft inland and floated over the city. The airship after sailing over the city crossed the Meadows and landed at Pleasantville five miles from Atlantic City.

THE SOUTH WEST BUOY IS AGAIN ON THE RAMPAGE

HALIFAX, Nov. 6—That eccentric and now somewhat notorious South-West buoy, off Cape Sable, is again on the rampage and the steamer Aberdeen was dispatched Friday evening to Friday evening to try and ascertain its whereabouts and out it back on its old job. This buoy will not stay put. It has a distinctive roaming disposition and, especially when the weather grows cold, mysteriously shakes itself free from its moorings and strides toward the Gulf Stream. Last winter it started on a long voyage, and fishermen on Brown's Bank were somewhat surprised to see it sail slowly by. The steamer Neutnamny, with Captain Kennedy in charge, started in pursuit and overtook the runaway just as it was entering the Gulf Stream. Since that time the South-West buoy has shown considerable prominence at least in the naval circles, for it was this buoy the Sibole was locating when she struck the bottom, and it was this buoy that got the credit of putting the Cornwall ashore, it being alleged the buoy on the latter occasion, was considerable out of position.

FIRE CAPTAIN LOST HIS LIFE

NEW YORK, Nov. 4—Devotion to the ideal of duty which has cost the lives of so many members of New York's fire fighting force claimed the life of Captain James A. Hagen, of Engine No. 107, at a fire which destroyed the building at No. 72 Water street, Brooklyn, at ten o'clock last night. The building has been occupied for several years as a factory by the Vester Barrel Company, a concern which has recently been embarrassed by litigation. A watchman employed by a city marshal was in charge of the building when the fire broke out last night. By the time the first engines had arrived the two lower stories of the building were in flames, and Captain Hagen led his men immediately to the roof with lines of hose. They had been on the roof, only a few minutes when the third and second floor fell in through the weight of heavy machinery which had been installed in them. As the roof began to tremble with the shock of the collapse, Captain Hagen ordered his men to hurry to the ground. They sprang for the ladders by which they had come up, Captain Hagen waiting until the last, according to the ancient custom of his service. The last man ahead of him had just reached the ladder and Captain Hagen was about to follow him when the roof gave way. The firemen who had been with him scrambled down their ladders, and on reaching the ground shouted for lines of hose to be directed into the basement of the building, into which they were sure Captain Hagen had fallen. A score of firemen sprang into the burning place filled as it was with steam and smoke, and quickly found Captain Hagen's body. He had fallen from the roof to the basement among a mass of red hot machinery which had fallen from the third floor. He was dragged out with his clothes afire, but it was seen at once that he was dead. He had been killed instantly by his fall. Captain Hagen was thirty-four years old and had been a fireman ten years. On account of his ability he had been promoted rapidly. He was married three years ago and leaves a widow, and one child.

FEW MURDERS ARE BEING SHOWN

CHICAGO, November 4—The first thread in a poisoning mystery, which the police say is likely to reveal a series of murders more willful and cold blooded than any in local police history, was unravelled yesterday with the announcement that Policeman Arthur Bissonette died suddenly a week ago, after becoming ill at the home of a widow, Mrs. Louis Vermilya, with whom he boarded. An examination of his viscera today showed arsenic in more than sufficient quantity to cause death.

THE BLESSING OF THE STORMS.

The most sturdy and virile portions of the human race live within the temperate zones where there are the greatest varieties of climate, of weather, and of temperature. The extremes of heat and cold, of wet and dry, of peace and storm are found here and in their midst great men have been produced and great movements generated. Can we never learn that the severe, the unpleasant, the disagreeable, are as valuable and bring as great blessings to humanity as that which is calm, pleasing and smiling? "No good thing will thou withhold from him that walketh uprightly," says the psalmist, and he hastily concluded that our lives, if we are loyal, are to be all sunshine. The good things are in the tempest,

Much Damage Done, Steamship Lost With Twenty-two Men

LONDON, Nov. 6—(By Wire)—A cyclonic gale swept over the British Isles yesterday doing widespread damage. Shipping particularly suffered. Buildings were unroofed and vessels driven from their moorings. The coasts are strewn with wreckage. The Channel packet from France had an alarming experience. She left Dieppe Sunday morning and was unable to enter the harbor until nearly three o'clock in the afternoon. The vessel was badly damaged. Life belts had been distributed to the passengers.

The Greek steamer Lord Bryon foundered in the English Channel during the gale of last night. Twenty-two of the crew of twenty-five were lost. Three saved were picked up by the Dutch steamer Grotius.
