WHATEVER YOUR SKIN TROUBLE

Heal It With Zam-Buk!

If you have any local disturbance a dressing of Zam-Buk will quickly put your skin right. If more serious disease has already taken root there is no surer way of dislodging it from the tissues than by regular use of Zam-Buk.

When applied to broken or diseased skin, Zam-Buk stops pain and prevents germ infection. It ends the burning irritation of eczema, draws poison and irritation out of ulcerated places and quickly purifies the ringworm-ridden scalp of a child. Also for cold sores, chilblains, frostbite, etc., Zam-Buk is a splendid remedy.

Zam-Buk's wide range of utility and its certainty of benefit are due to the rare properties of the herbal extracts from which it is prepared. Furthermore, Zam-Buk has the advantage of being absolutely free from the coarse mineral drugs and rancid animal fats found in ordinary ointments and salves.

IRRITATING ECZEMA. Mr. John Connors, of 19, Belvidere St., Boston, Mass., writes: "I suffered from eczema for years. It broke out at intervals, and was very irritating and annoying. After a deal of experimenting I found a real remedy in Zam-Buk. This splendid balm subdued all irritation, and when its use was continued the sores and blotches rapidly healed and disappeared."

KEEP IT ALWAYS HANDY

Tunney's Right To Draw Color Line

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—As Gene Tunney isn't the heavyweight champion of the world he reserves the right to draw the color line against Godfrey, the Philadelphia negro, though making an exception of Wills. Tunney realizes that the only way he can obtain a match with Dempsey is by first defeating Wills, recognized as the leading contender.

If Wills would agree to meet Godfrey and the latter should win, Tunney probably would consent to tackle the Philadelphia for the same reason that makes him eager to clash with Wills. In my opinion the next heavyweight championship battle will bring Tunney and Wills together after Dempsey has quit the boxing game voluntarily.

Wills seems determined to sidestep Godfrey, also Tunney, until the Dempsey dream has been dispelled.

Tunney also desires a match with Paul Berlenbach, but the latter's mentor, Dan Hickey, refuses to consider the matter at this time. Berlenbach needs more practical experience and increased weight before he will be considered ready to shape up with the former marine. A Tunney-Berlenbach mill early next summer is a strong possibility, however. Dempsey, by the way, has promised to box Tunney in 1927. Why not 1928 or 1930?

Bob Garcia Sees Silver Lining

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—The breaks in boxing, as in other human activities, are popularly supposed to even up in the long run. Bobby Garcia, Army featherweight, who is around and about as good as ever after an operation for appendicitis, hopes that it proves to be so in his case.

Garcia has figured it out that the broken right hand suffered by Louis (Kid) Kaplan, featherweight champion a few days ago, may result in a champion ship battle between the two of them. Garcia feels that he has a title bout coming to him.

Last spring Garcia and Babe Herman met in a Waterbury ring to determine which one of them should set a crack at Kaplan later in the summer. Garcia won that bout, but it was Herman and not the soldier boxer who met Kaplan in Meriden in a championship scrap. Garcia was forced out of the picture for several months because of his illness.

The Waterbury rumpus between Kaplan and Herman stirred up such a fuss, because the referee called it a draw when all the newspaper critics were of the opinion Herman won, that Tex Richard planned to bring the two together again in the New Garden in December. But with Kaplan's hand in bad shape it may not be possible to stage the fight until later.

Garcia's idea is that he should take Kaplan's place against Herman, with the winner to get a poke at Kaplan later. Bobby feels that he has had much coming to him because in his misfortune in missing out on the date with the champion last summer, Bobby proved that his operation did him no harm when he beat Danny Kramer, that tough Philadelphia in his first bout after leaving the hospital. Kaplan, Herman and Garcia have been going round and around for a couple of years, winning this fight and losing out one to the other. It is a tossup any time two of them meet.

Jack Delaney who is to meet Paul Reirlebach at the Gardens on December 11, should take comfort in the way Garcia came through after his operation. Delaney underwent a serious operation himself a couple of months ago. There has been doubt in some quarters whether Jack will be as good as ever after the experience under the surgeon's knife. Delaney however, may point out that if an operation did Garcia no harm there is no reason why he should be adversely affected.

More Interest Taken In Soccer

PARIS, Nov. 12.—The extent to which soccer football has become an institution in France is shown in the participation of 356 clubs for the French Cup. In the opening matches, 3058 athletes played football before total crowds variously estimated between 500,000 and 1,000,000 people. There were 114 teams entered in 1919.

Interesting Tableau At Long Creek

This service was put on before a large and appreciative audience, the performers doing their parts well and all being beautifully rendered. Characters represented were Faith, Miss Rose MacPherson; Hope, Miss Annie MacPhee; Charity, Miss Jean MacArthur; Religion, Mrs. A. K. MacPhee; Outcast, Miss Mary Stretch.

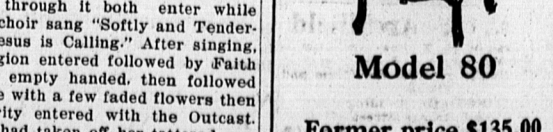

The service opened with the beautiful old hymn, I Gave My Life for Thee, followed by scripture reading, Parable of the Lost Sheep, and prayer. Then followed the first item of the program, The Perishing Outcast, which was the old song sung by a hidden choir. During the singing the Outcast walked slowly on to the platform, silently imploring help. Then entered Faith, Hope and Charity who open up a discussion on how to win the perishing. Religion entered and gave a charge to go out and seek the wanderers in the name of Jesus and all left the platform while Miss Dorothy Doull very beautifully sang the song "There Were Ninety and Nine that Safely Lay" During the singing the Outcast again entered and silently implored some one to help her. After the singing she expressed her desire in words and knelt and knocked at a door over which were the words: "Knock and the door shall be opened." Faith and Hope entered and gave advice but left the poor outcast alone. Then Charity entered and wiped away her tears and folded her in her arms of love, then leading the Outcast to the door at which both knelt and knocked the door opened and through it both entered while the choir sang "Softly and Tenderly Jesus is Calling." After singing, Religion entered followed by Faith both empty handed, then followed Hope with a few faded flowers then Charity entered with the Outcast. She had taken off her tattered garments and is now clothed in a garment of white. Religion welcomed the Outcast and facing the audience repeated the beautiful words, "Now Abide with Faith, Hope and Charity, but the greatest of these is Charity." Then all leave the platform while the hidden choir very effectively sang "Ring the Bells of Heaven. There is Joy Today."

While the offering was taken the choir with the performers came to the platform and sang "Nor Silver, Nor Gold could Have Paid my Redemption." The performers in this were all dressed in white and wore a sash with the character they represented in bold letters. The congregation then joined in singing "Tis the Promise of God, Full Salvation to Give," bringing to a close a very enjoyable evening.
