DOMINION FURNITURE FOR BRITISH HOUSE

LONDON, Sept. 11 — (CP) — Furniture from the Dominion, including a table in white oak from Canada and a speaker's chair in black beam wood from Australia, will be a symbolic contribution to the reconstruction of the House of Commons, which was destroyed during the 1941 enemy air attacks.

The woods have been chosen to harmonize with the natural English oak from which the rest of the furniture in the Chamber is to be constructed. Architect

Canadian Farms Impress Hindu

WINNIPEG, Sept. 11 — (CP)— A new deal in living conditions for millions of Hindus through application of North American agricultural methods is visualized by two Hindus who are travelling across the country studying agricultural experiments and advances.

In Winnipeg to view work at the University of Manitoba, Dr. and Mrs. Satya Ranjan Barooah said that they have studied at various United States universities since coming to North America in March, 1946, and are travelling to study conditions in all parts of the country as they are related to those in their native land. Their tour has taken in California and other western states, Alberta and Saskatchewan. From Manitoba they will go to Minneapolis and then return to the west coast. Further trips through various sections of the United States and Canada will occupy about one year at the end of which they will return to a college at Assam to teach the latest North American agricultural methods.

Main objective of Dr. Barooah when he returns to India will be to increase the production of rice—principal staple of India's diet.

Cross-Ruffs

Many players have a great liking for hands that involve cross-ruffing, perhaps because they feel that this sort of play is easy. The fact of the matter, however, is quite to the contrary. Consider the following deal:

East dealer. Both sides vulnerable.

♠ A 10 6 5 3
♥ Q J
♦ 10 9 8 7 6 5
♣ K Q J 9

♠ K J 8 4
♥ 8 6 5
♦ Q J 5 3
♣ 2

♠ A 10 7 6 5 2
♥ A K 10 9 4 3

The bidding:

East	South	West	North
1♠	2♥	Pass	Pass
2♦	4♦	Pass	5♦
Pass	Pass	Double	Pass

South deliberately underbid on the first round because he felt sure that he would get another chance, and then he could show his freakish distribution.

West opened his singleton spade. The ace won and South ruffed a club to enter his own hand. He then ruffed a low heart with the diamond jack, ruffed another club, and after cashing the heart ace, ruffed a second heart, with the trump queen. Now, however, although the heart suit was within one trick of establishment, South had to shorten himself in trumps once he returned to his own hand, and when he then drew West's three trumps, South himself was out of that vital suit. The rest of the tricks inevitably belonged to the defenders.

It declared had taken the pains to count the trumps that would be required for his cross-ruff plan, he would have seen unmistakably that no matter how well the hearts and diamonds broke, he would not be able to establish hearts and retain enough trumps in his own hand to cash those hearts. The only plan offering hope was as follows:

After the spade ace wins, South ruffs a club and then ruffs one low heart. He overtakes the diamond queen with the king in order to draw two more rounds of trumps, thus exhausting West's trumps. Now he cashes the heart ace and concedes a heart. South has two trumps left; he conveys the defenders' return and concedes another heart. Now his last trump takes the spade or club return, and the established hearts are cashed without hindrance.

In an old trades or begin learning new ones—while the strength flows back into their muscles and they prepare again for vigorous civilian life.

The centre was completed at a cost of $1,250,000 and is one of seven built across Canada by the Department of Veterans Affairs.

Helpful Study

"I have been studying methods of increasing yield per acre and of developing better varieties of rice suitable to the country. I have examined the latest cultivation and crop rotation methods. It has been most helpful." The masses in India have little idea of modern methods of farming and cultivation. Most of the plowing is still done by oxen, he said. "Actually" farms are so scattered and small that machinery would be of little use by North American standards even if it were available."

Mrs. Barooah is particularly interested in household economics and the part played by women in American farm life. She obtained an Arts degree in household economics at Oregon University. They explained that work was already undertaken in Hindustan National laboratories and irrigation projects designed to bring moisture to 2,000,000 acres are being established.

The Indian government is sending 1,500 students a year to study in Britain and North America to bring back new ideas which may aid in raising India's standard of living appreciably.
