SPECIAL TRIP.—The S. S. Harland made a special trip to Victoria Monday to convey Lea & Clark's household to Charlottetown from whence they were conveyed to Halifax to be shown at the Exhibition. She left Victoria at about 5 a. m. in order to make connections with the S. S. Northumberland. The passengers stood that one of the young heifers got clear of the herd in Charlottetown and that they had to proceed without her.—V.

A GOOD BAROMETER OF TRADE conditions in a Country is Insurance. In this connection information is given by the P. E. I. Branch of the Great West Life Assurance Co., under the management of Hyndman & Co., Ltd., that business has been exceptionally good throughout Canada and in P. E. Island this Company shows an increase of over One Hundred Per Cent up to end of August compared with last year. This Company with its low premium rates and high dividend returns has become so popular throughout Canada, that it has led all other companies in the amount of new Canadian business for the past eight years and has now over One Hundred Millions of Insurance in force. IN MEMORIAM

HEZEKIAH H. POLLARD.

After being ill but a short time following an active life Hezekiah H. Pollard, a resident of this city for 30 years, died Saturday afternoon at the home of his son, Arthur E. Pollard, 54 Emerson Street. About a week before indications of a general breaking-up, incident to old age, appeared and death was due to this.

Mr. Pollard came to Portland from Charlottetown, Prince Edward Island, about 30 years ago. There he had been connected with the police department for 14 years, two years of which he had served as its head. He was at one time sheriff of King's County in that province. Upon coming to Portland he engaged in the business of laying floors, retiring four years ago on account of his age. He was a member of the Longshore Carpenters' Protective and Benevolent Society No. 1 of this city. During his residence in Portland, Mr. Pollard was a member and regular communicant of Congress Street Methodist Episcopal Church. Mr. Pollard was twice married, the children of the first wife surviving are: Arthur E. Pollard and Mrs. Jas. E. Crockett, of this city, and by the second wife, there were six children of whom those surviving are: Mrs. Herford Jespen, West Newton, Mass.; Bert C. Harry and Percy, all of Brockton, Mass.; and Fred of this city. The funeral services will be held Tuesday at 2.30 from the home of his son, 54 Emerson Street. Interment will take place in Forest City Cemetery—Portland, Me., Exchange.

PEOPLE'S THEATRE

Last night's show at the People's Theatre featured one of the finest films that a Charlottetown audience has ever witnessed. Mr. Robert Warwick and a Star-Cast in "Alias Jimmy Valentine" held the audience enthralled through five reels.

Lifelike scenes in Stumland, in Sing Sing prison, etc., told a thrilling picture tale of the struggles of a one-time crook to throw off the shackles of an evil past. An undercurrent of love runs through the tale.

The scene where the two reformed crooks test their old comrade's honesty by leaving him alone with piles of greenbacks was portrayed splendidly. The struggle with the passion for "swag" showed the finest depth of feeling.

The last act leads up to a climax of thrilling intensity, in which Jimmy and his old pal are suddenly called upon to revive their old skill in the safe-opening line. Jimmy wrestles desperately with the combination, while his sweetheart and old Doyle the detective, with a warrant for Jimmy's arrest, watch tremulously from opposite corners until, blindfolded he bursts the door open and rescues the half-suffocated child.

A capital foil is presented in the antics of Fatty and his faithful Fido at the ball. The fun is fast and furious, and not even a Quaker parson could point a finger at it.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—Ambassador Page at London cabled the state department today that the British admiralty had informed him the Allan liner Hesperian was sailing as an ordinary passenger vessel and had never been in the government service since the war began.

YOUNG TURKS ARE PREPARING FOR CONSEQUENCES OF DEFEAT

PARIS, Sept. 6.—A despatch to the Havas Agency from Bucharest, dated September 1, says:

"Constantinople telegrams say that the Committee of Union and Progress is beginning to have doubts as to the final victory of Germany and is considering the consequences of defeat. It has given orders that Greeks and Bulgarians be treated with all consideration. Other foreigners, including belligerents, are closely watched, but are not being molested.

"No more German artillery engineer officers are arriving and attempts are being made to train Turkish officers to replace them. These attempts are meeting with but little success.

"The great fear in Turkish official circles is that Bulgaria will refuse the agreement proposed and that Germany will fail in her negotiations with Roumania for the transit of munitions. The opinion in Constantinople generally inclines to pessimism."

TEN KILLED IN GERMAN AIR RAID

LONDON, Sept. 8.—It was announced to-day that ten persons were killed in last night's Zeppelin raid over the east coast of England. Three others are missing and are believed to be buried under the debris of wrecked buildings. Forty-three were injured. Three aircraft participated in the raid.

LETTERS FROM THE FRONT.—The Guardian has received from the Head Office of the Canadian Bank of Commerce a neatly put up brochure containing letters from members of the Bank staff now at the front. A partial record of the part played by officers of the Bank in the Great European War. The letters, some of them written in the trenches, some in hospitals, some from "Somewhere in France" or Flanders are all interesting, each telling in its own way of some phase of the war, and giving thrilling personal experiences. The booklet also gives a complete list to date, August 1, 1915, of members who have undertaken military duty and information regarding casualties. In the Honour Roll are the names of seventeen killed in action or died of wounds or illness, 28 wounded, four missing, three prisoners of war and four sick. The booklet will be found a valuable fund of information on some of the most thrilling episodes in the war.

FAREWELL RECEPTION.—On Monday evening Sept. 6th a large number of the residents of Lot 16 gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James McLaren to do honor to Mr. H. L. Curry, student pastor of Belmont Baptist church, on the eve of his departure from the community. The guests were members of the Belmont congregation including a goodly number of friends from neighboring churches. A very enjoyable evening was spent with music, songs, and games. Miss May Campbell presided at the organ gracefully and efficiently and did much to make the reception a success. Social cheer and good fellowship abounded. Late in the evening about eighty or more guests sat down to a repast calculated to tempt the most delicate appetite. When all had partaken the meeting was called to order and Mr. Alfred Simpson appointed chairman, with a brief opening word the chairman called upon Rev. G. E. Ackland of Summerside to speak. With becoming feeling and seriousness the latter told of the exceedingly pleasant relationship existing between the young pastor and his people, a relationship about to be severed by the stern call of duty—the Empire's need of men. He spoke truthfully of Mr. Curry's unusual fitness and natural endowment for his chosen profession, and voiced the deepest wishes of all that he might be safely kept amid the dangers of war and spared to resume his high vocation. Then on behalf of those present the speaker presented Mr. Curry with the visible token of his congregation's affection, a large sum of money voluntarily contributed on the occasion. Mr. Curry came to Belmont only three months ago as summer supply, but in so short a time won the esteem of the whole community by his sterling worth of character and his unusual talent as a preacher for one so young—still in his teens. He left Tuesday morning for home in Port Maitland, N. S., where, with his brothers who also has volunteered for active service, he will join the defenders of the Empire. This is the second time the Belmont church has given up its pastor to the Empire's need. Last year Mr. Robert Horne left to join an ambulance corps, and is now an officer serving in France.

DERNBURG AGAIN AIRING HIS VIEWS

LONDON, Sept. 4.—Telegraphing from Amsterdam, Reuter's correspondent says that on his election Thursday, as President of the German Economical Association for South and Central America, formed in Berlin on Wednesday, with a view to expanding German industrial interests on the American Continent, Dr. Bernburg, in a speech of thanks said:

"At the present time Germany has but a few friends in the world. Sentiment in South America is divided and neutral, neutrality of North America is doubtful. It is not uninteresting to remember that Viscount Haldane (then British Lord High Chancellor) at Manchester explained to the merchants that now was their chance to snatch from Germany, forever, commercial supremacy.

"Continuance of the war will compel us to find new openings for the commercial recapture of markets, now lost, will become more difficult. Without coal and iron, South America will always be dependent on industrial states. Therefore, the investing of more capital in South America would be worth while with a view to gaining lost ground. Besides strengthening our economical influence, it would be important also to obtain the moral influence which hitherto has been greatly underestimated.

"We not only have failed to understand the sentiment in South America but even that of other peoples and therefore find few friends among the neutrals. This is greatly the fault of the Germans who must learn to understand peoples and to introduce German achievements in science and technique, among them with more discretion than heretofore. Only too often the German merchant shows lack of friendly disposition towards merchants abroad, which is of special weight with the southern peoples."

School Children Can't Afford Handicaps

In a remarkable test, recently made under the supervision of a western Board of Health, over 9000 school children were questioned as to what they ate for breakfast.

A large percentage of the breakfasts consisted of coffee, bread and butter, coffee and oatmeal or some other cereal; coffee and hotcakes; coffee and biscuits; coffee and coffee cake, or boffee alone. Probably the same conditions prevail generally.

"IS IT ANY WONDER," SAYS THE EXAMINING PHYSICIAN, "THAT 23 PER CENT OF THESE CHILDREN HAVE FREQUENT HEADACHES?"

He was thinking of the chief cause—coffee. It IS no wonder when we consider that coffee contains the powerful drug, caffeine, a nerve poison and notorious cause of headaches, heart trouble, sleeplessness, irritation, and other ills! The results of tea drinking are similar to those of coffee, because they both contain the same drug.

Parents often wonder why their children are sickly, dull and backward in school, when frequently the cause lies in the homely, accepted habit of giving them a beverage containing an insidious poison.

When scientists and Boards of Health everywhere are speaking out against the dietetic dangers to which children have been so long subjected, it is high time that parents take heed and correct these conditions. No child should be permitted to use tea or coffee. It is easy to furnish them instead the pleasant, pure food-drink

Instant Postum

Made from wheat, roasted with a bit of wholesome molasses, Postum contains the goodness of the grain and is a most delicious beverage, economical, convenient and free from drugs or any harmful substance.

Postum comes in two forms: The original Postum Cereal, which has to be boiled; Instant Postum—soluble—made in the cup with hot water—instantly. They are equally delicious, and the cost per cup is about the same for both kinds.

TEN AMERICAN-BUILT SUBMARINES NOW IN EUROPE!

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—Operating under their own power without refueling or re-victualing and without the slightest mishap, ten submarines, designed by the American naval architects and built by American artisans have within the last few months crossed the Atlantic Ocean and are now doing yeoman service for the allied cause in German Turkish waters.

The rest of the world has been dreaming of the day when the trans-Atlantic submarine would be an accomplished fact, the thing has been done by American genius and American craftsmanship.

In just five months from the time that Charles M. Schwab, of the Bethlehem Steel Company, signed a contract for the submarines for the British Government the "little vipers," as they have come to be known, were turned over to British crews at the Victoria-Maxim yards in Montreal, where they were built jointly by the Bethlehem Steel Company and the Electric Boat Company, and started for the war zone.

Five are operating near Heligoland, behind which Island the main German fleet has been hiding since the outbreak of war. The other five are with the allied fleets in the Dardanelles. All records in submarine construction have been surpassed by this feat, and all records for speed and sustained effort have been exceeded. Within three weeks after leaving Montreal five of the submarines were safe in the English Channel. Inside of twenty days the other five were in Turkish waters, and their commanders have reported for instant active service to the British commander of the allied fleets, Vice Admiral de Roebuck.

The construction of these craft and their despatch to the European war zones were attended with the greatest secrecy.

In the face of the wonderful German system of espionage the American workmen did their tasks unsuspected. So thorough were the precautions taken that until now not a person outside of those intended to know, had an inkling of what had been done.

CATARRH LEADS TO CONSUMPTION

Catarrh is as much a blood disease as serofula or rheumatism. It may be relieved, but it cannot be removed by simply local treatment. It breaks down the general health, weakens the lung tissues, and leads to consumption.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is so successful in the treatment of catarrh that it is known as the best remedy for this disease. It purifies the blood. Ask your druggist for it.

DARDANELLES TO FALL WITHIN TWO WEEKS

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—An American cable from Surich says: The Gazette de Voss publishes a despatch from Bucharest saying President Thereskies of the Roumanian Chamber of Deputies said to an employee of an Austrian company: "I am persuaded that the Dardanelles will fall in two or three weeks. Then we shall intervene. I advise you to leave the country."
