INSINCERITY AND BASE DECEPTION

Mr. Kentford L. Waite of Wilmot drove into the city yesterday morning by team in less than four hours. Mr. Waite is in the city on business and reports the roads in great shape and the harvest mostly all cut, but not much saved as yet.

With the peculiar sort of shallow cunning that characterizes men of their class, Hon. James Calder, of Regina, and Hon. A. G. MacKay, of Edmonton have been in Ottawa trying to persuade Sir Wilfrid Laurier to modify—practically to abandon his position on conscription. Both of these eminent emissaries from the west are looking at the matter from a win-the-election standpoint. Their eyes are fixed upon the project of securing a grit victory by a combination of Quebec with the foreign element on the prairies.

The proposition they laid before Sir Wilfrid was that he should pledge himself to support conscription if voluntary recruiting fails to secure the required reinforcements. It does not seem to have occurred to them that if Sir Wilfrid were to make such a promise he would stand convicted of the grossest insincerity and deception. All they could see was that it would be a smart political trick that might help to dish the Borden administration. It is the same sort of manoeuvring as got the western Liberal convention into the fantastic mess that has amazed the whole country.

If Sir Wilfrid were willing to support conscription after the failure of a further effort to secure volunteers, there need be no election at all. These are substantially the terms he was offered and which he refused. On this basis a coalition could have been formed with Sir Robert Borden at its head but with half his colleagues named by the Liberal leader. That these western manipulators believe Sir Wilfrid would adopt as an election dodge, something in which he disbelieves on principle, shows what opinion they really hold of him. They think he is no better than themselves.

Sir Wilfrid, it is reported, would not consider the proposition. His opposition to conscription, is unalterable. Those who fight by his side, must do so with the knowledge that, if he wins, there will be no compulsory military service for Canadians. The issue persists in remaining clear, despite all the efforts of those who are looking for a plausible means of indulging in self-deception.— Winnipeg Telegram.

ADDRESS AND PRESENTATION

Rev. R. J. Macdonald, P.P. of Brae, Lot 9 was waited upon by the parishioners of Brae on Sunday last and presented with the following address and well filled purse to which he replied most feelingly. Many expressions of regret were heard on all sides for Father Macdonald's removal from the community not only by those of his own congregation but by those of the non Catholic congregations as well. To our esteemed Pastor,

Rev. R. J. Macdonald.

It is with sincere regret that we, your parishioners at Brae, learn of your intention of removing to a wider field of effort, and while we deplore this parting after so many years of affiliation yet we sincerely congratulate you on the confidence reposed in you by our Bishop for the responsible duties which will devolve on you in your new field of labor. We wish you to know that your efforts on our behalf during your work among us during the past eight years are not unappreciated and as a slight token of our regard we tender you this purse with out very best wishes and our prayers that your efforts in your new parish will be abundantly blessed.
