NEW GLASGOW W. I.

The June Meeting of the New Glasgow W. I. met at the home of Mrs. P. L. Campbell on Monday evening, June 2nd, the President presiding.

Meeting opened by singing one verse of O Canada. There were fifteen members and four visitors present. One new member was welcomed.

Minutes of the last meeting was read and approved. Mrs. R. L. Dickieson reported she had tried twice to see Mr. Ainsworth about installing street lights in the Village, not succeeding, she wrote to him but as yet received no answer.

$31.60 was reported collected for the Cancer Society. Four more members signed the Million Member plan. The President then reported on the meeting which was called May 8th to discuss getting a Doctor for the district. There was not enough to have a meeting that night so after some discussion it was decided to hold a meeting after the show on Thursday night, June 5th.

It was decided to sell lunches at the Milton play. Miss Campbell to be in charge of the tea

Mrs. W. J. MacLeod reported on the executive meeting held in connection with the District Convention.

Delegates appointed to attend the Annual Convention to be held in P. W. C. Hall are: Mrs. Herbert Stevenson and Mrs. Edwin Stevenson, or Mrs. Chalmers Laird and Mrs. Morton Larkin.

The School and Sick Committees gave their report. New School and Sick Committee is Mrs. Harland Hill and Miss M. E. Campbell. School Committee to look after getting school prizes.

Refreshments, Mrs. J. B. Dickieson, Miss Elsie Laird.

Next meeting to be held at Mrs. Roy Dickieson when Roll Call is to be answered with "What do I put into our meetings", and "How well do you know your Bible" Contest was put on.

A delicious lunch was served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Lorne Stevenson.

Meeting closed with "The King."

In Memoriam

DOLLINA DARLING MacLEAN

There passed into the "Great Unseen" in the early hours of Friday morning, May 23rd., 1947, Dollina Darling MacLean, daughter of Mr. and Mrs Si Corney. Appin Road at the tender age of almost six months. Dollina had developed a flu the previous Monday followed by pneumonia, passing away on the above mentioned date.

The funeral was held on Sunday and was largely attended. Services at home and grave were conducted by Rv. Earnest J. Bayers, pastor of Summerside Baptist Church, who spoke fittingly and feelingly to the bereaved. He referred Dollina to a rosebud plucked from this earthly garden to bloom in that "heavenly garden" above. What a wonderful thought. The hymns sung were: Safe In the Arms of Jesus, and When He Cometh. While the remains were being carrid out the victrola music of "Whispering Hope" was softly played. The flowers bore a silent tribute.

To the parents who are left to mourn, may it comfort them to know that God still keeps eternal watch above the one who sleeps, and when the night has passed, and day again shines fair, within the shelter of His love, they'll find their darling there.

Fairlie, who is four years old, the only other member of the family was so attached to her little sister, saying to her as each day passed by, "Dollina, you're getting grander every day, I love you and can hardly wait until you'll come out to play with me". Dollina's only response was that loving smile which endeared her to all. We wonder why she was taken but some day we'll understand.

A great grandfather in the home is also left to mourn her passing. She was just a sweet little white rosebud, a sweet little flower from birth. God called her home to Heaven before she was soiled on earth.

Interment was in Appin Road Cemetery.

P.E.I. Drama Festival

The finals in the first Provincial Drama Festival organized by the Women's Institutes of Prince Edward Island were staged in Cornwall Hall on the evening of June 4th with the following Institute groups competing: York, North Milton and Cornwall.

The spacious hall was filled to capacity, many having to stand during the performance, which testifies to the keen interest taken in drama in this section of the Province and the above groups, including Meadow Bank W. I. and Cornwall Y. P. U., are to be congratulated on being the only competitors participating in the Provincial Drama Festival this year, many other groups having entered but withdrew later.

While the audience was being seated several pleasing musical selections were played by the Y. P. U. orchestra comprising: piano, Mabel MacMillan; violin, Roland Hyde; guitar, Melvin Hyde, and harmonica, Billy MacEachern. These talented musicians added much to the evening's entertainment. Mrs. Harold Laird, Kelvin, chairman of the Provincial Drama Festival, very capably acted as chairman, and promptly on time the first one-act play, "Mushrooms Coming Up," by Byron B. Boyd, was presented by Alpha Women's Institute, York. After the curtain fell the chairman called on Hon. W. F. A. Stewart, Minister of Agriculture for P. E. I., who expressed his keen interest in Drama Festivals, and willingness to help in any way possible in promoting dramatic art in rural communities. 'Do we realize," he said, that we are dramatizing every day in the walk of life with the world as our stage, and it is up to us to play our part honourably and to the best of our ability."

THE GREAT MAN

The curtain rose again and North Milton W. I. presented the one-act play, "The Great Man", by Irene Jean Crandall. The chairman now called on Mrs. W. F. A. Stewart, vice-president of the P. E. Island Women's Institutes, who congratulated the players on their fine performance, and expressed her deep interest in the Drama Festival. In part, she said: "I am so well pleased that the Drama Festival has gotten away to such a fine start, although there were comparatively few entries this year. Yet the seed has been sown, and we hope many more will be competing next year. Drama not only develops a cultural art but social relationship and good fellowship as well, which is a fine contribution to rural life."

The chairman, Mrs. Laird, in her remarks, paid a fine tribute to the P. E. I. Musical Festival held recently in Charlottetown, and stating although these two arts, music and drama, are not comparable, for one person may have a talent for music and not drama, or vice versa. Yet these two Festivals working hand in hand, will knit our rural communities more closely together and develop a fine spirit of citizenship. The final one-act play, "Saving Dad," by Mabel C. Allyn, was presented by Cornwall Women's Institute.

The adjudicators, Mrs. Frances-Holl Trainor and Mr. Barry Bugden, of Charlottetown, who were busy scoring during the performances, now came to the stage to present the scores. Mr. Bugden, in his tactful and genial manner, complimented and gave constructive criticism to the cast in the first and second plays, while Mrs. Trainor did likewise for the cast in the third play.

Much credit is due these adjudicators for giving so willingly of their time and talent in adjudicating these plays.

Following is the score: York 88, North Milton 86, Cornwall 84.

Mrs. Roy MacLeod, Graham's Road, in a few well chosen words, complimented these groups, and presented the prizes: First prize, $15.00, to York group. Second prize, $10.00, North Milton group, and third prize, $5.00, to Cornwall group.

Singing of the King brought a very fine entertainment to a close.

Following is the cast in each play:

York—"Mushrooms Coming Up" —Mrs. Lillian Canfield (hostess) Ann McPherson; Sylvia (maid) Frances Vessey; Susan (guest of honor) Winnifred Hayter; Mrs. Jane Rudd (guest) Helen Thompson; Mrs. Reta Carter (guest) Margaret Proud; Miss Loftis (nurse) Grace Swan. Scene: Living room of Lieut. Canfield's home, Philippines.

North Milton—"The Great Man" —Amy Nichols, Edna Rodd; John Nichols, S. J. Davies; Edward Nichols, Alten Rodd. Scene: Living room.

Cornwall—"Saving Dad" — Tom Walker (Dad) Elmer Frizzell; John Walker (son) Herbert Scott; Aunt Jerusha (sister-in-law) Dorothy MacDonald; Mary Rogers (stenographer), Margaret Lowther; Mrs. Mary Rogers (Mary's mother), Phyllis Frizzell. Scene: Mr. Walker's office.

"IN CONSEQUENCE of a Duel"

EARLY POLICIES of the Canada Life a hundred years ago contained clauses such as this: "The Policy will become void . . . if the Person having assured his or her Life, shall die . . . in consequence of a duel."

During the past century, Canada Life policies have been progressively improved to anticipate the changing needs of Canadians.

From the Founders onward the chief purpose of the Company has been—"to extend to our fellow-citizens the comforting protection of life insurance." Reaffirming this principle at the 100th Annual Meeting the president added . . . "All our assets are but the savings of the people, left with us for a while, to be repaid later on at a time when they will be needed more."

St. Stephen Citizens Also Puzzled Over The Kelties Trio

ST. STEPHEN, N. B., June 15—(CP)—While Ontario authorities are puzzling over the strange tale of 59-year-old Robert Keltie and his sisters, Grace and Ethel, it was learned here tonight they had left this border town May 16 as quietly and as unknown as they arrived a year ago.

Believed to have come here from Saint John, N. B., after a five-year stay in that city, they lived in almost complete seclusion in two rooms let to them by Mrs. G. E. Clendinin at her Water Street home.

Always smartly dressed, they were thought by the few people who were in contact with them to be "at least well to do."

The Kelties were found Thursday, foot-sore and apparently destitute in a Niagara Falls park after they had walked 85 miles from Toronto. Their meagre belongings were in a child's cart pulled behind them, and they claimed to be heading for an ancestral home in Malden, Mass.

Salvation Army officials were told they had been victims of an unscrupulous "land agent" who was entrusted to handle their estate years ago.

From the few comments Robert Keltie had made to townsfolk, it was believed the family had lived at King Square in Saint John for the past few years before coming to St. Stephen.

Neighbors understood the trio had been born at Halifax, and had gone to the States with their parents. On one occasion Robert Keltie said he had learned that the family's true name was "Keltie-Stuart," and signified his intention of using that form "after things are straightened out."

One report said they still had furniture stored at a Saint John exchange.

The family was said to have taken several large packing cases to the station with them when they left.

Their departure from here followed a visit to them in May by a couple from the United States. Regular cheques which Robert collected at the post office during the few times he left their rooms, stopped after the visit.

Using a hotplate for cooking, they stayed for "weeks at a time" in their rooms. However, they were dressed in the finest of clothing when they made a public appearance.

Mr. Keltie was described as of "rather striking" appearance, mild-mannered and obviously cultured.

DAY-OLD SQUASH RARE MIDSUMMER DISH

Italian Marrow Can Be Used At Any Stage of Growth

Among the delicious vegetables which only home gardeners can enjoy at their best are baby squash—immature fruits of summer squash and marrows. Harvested a few days after they have formed, these tender fruits should never be picked until just before they are to be served A few hours' delay will cause them to toughen and lose .....

Any variety of summer squash may be e aten in the baby stage, but the vegetable marrows are most popular for this treatment; and Italian marrows, otherwise known as cocozelle and zucchini are most in demand. They are among the fastest growing vegetables; in sixty days they will produce huge bushes and begin to bear their fruits. Because of their bush habit, they can be grown in the corner of small gardens, but need space at least four feet square for each bush.

If baby squash are desired, they must be picked as soon as they reach the desired size, which may be anywhere from two to six inches long, less than an inch in diameter. By picking all fruits young, others will keep coming; but if one is overlooked it will quickly attain huge size, and production of others will slow down.

Italian marrows are delicious at all stages of growth, from two inches to two feet long, and from an inch to six inches in diameter. The smallest are boiled with the skin on and served with melted butter, or sliced cold and served with mayonnaise. When the fruits mature and the skin hardens, the seeds are removed, and the fruits baked. Medium size fruits may be sliced and fried like egg plant.
