There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together and for years it was supposed to be incurable. Doctors prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure, we became convinced it was incurable. —ANNIVERSARY SERVICE.—On Sunday last in the afternoon the parishoners of Egmont Bay turned out in large numbers to celebrate the anniversary of the feast of the Assumption. The celebration consisted principally of discourses delivered, some of them very eloquently. Rev. Father Boudreaux who presided after calling the meeting to order, briefly explained to them the nature of such a reunion then called on the speakers in order of the programme which had been prepared under the auspices of the members of the Assumption Society. Premier Arsenault who was the first speaker was in fine form and at the outset, for the benefit of those who could not understand French, briefly explained in English the purpose of the meeting, and then delivered his speech in French. He briefly outlined the great amount of good wrought by the Assumption Society, the great need there was in encouraging such a noble institution, and exhorted his hearers to become members. Apart from the advantage of insurance the society was doing much good for the educational advancement of the young people. Every member who paid the small fee that was exacted, could say that he was helping along the great cause. The Premier then referred to the war, its horrors and effects even to our own homes and paid a grand tribute to our fallen heroes. He interestingly reviewed the chief cause of the war, the disastrous result to us if Germany were victorious and, strongly urged his hearers to do their utmost to relieve their boys at the front. The French Academics had played no small part in the gallant feats of the Canadians and on this festive day, great gratitude should be expressed at the work done and strong resolutions should be adopted to continue the good work. Mr. Benoit Petre of Bloomfield also made some very good remarks touching principally on the education secured by means of the Assumption Society. Mr. John O. Arsenault also spoke and his sound knowledge of the history of the French Academics was once more put in evidence. Mr. Moise Gallant teacher of St. Chrysostome made a strong appeal for new recruits for the Assumption Society. He went into details showing the large amount of benefit bestowed on the members by paying a small fee yearly. Mr. Gallant's appeal was eagerly listened to and it may be presumed that as a result some new members will enroll. Following this the throng repaired to the church where Holy Benediction was given, after which all dispersed to their respective homes.—M.

ABRAM'S VILLAGE WELCOMES PREMIER ARSENAULT

On Monday night, Aug. 20th. Premier Arsenault was the guest of honor at Abram's Village where a large crowd had gathered to bid him welcome. The meeting was presided over by Rev. Father Boudreaux, and an address of welcome was read to the Premier by Mr. Peter Gallant. The Premier replied in fitting terms and delivered a masterly speech, in which he plainly set forth the conditions and environments of members of Parliament. The Government, he said, of any country had the good of the public in view. Every individual of any community should be prepared to sacrifice his own interests to the interests of all. This, he said, was a matter that should appeal to all. When certain matters were under consideration, both sides of the question had to be carefully weighed, and what was perhaps a slight to an individual or to a group of individuals was a benefit to the public in general. The Premier also referred to the roads. The condition of the roads would not reach to its best till the people took pride in maintaining their roads in good condition. Not only the roads but the surroundings of premises were things in which people should take pride. He was glad to be able to say that Egmont Bay and Mt. Carmel were not backward in this respect. The Premier then dwelt at some length on the great confidence placed in him by his district. He was glad to say that his district had got its full share at the hands of the Government, if not a little more. He heartily thanked his hearers for the splendid address and confirmed his resolutions of continuing to work for the good of the province and for his district.

Mr. John F. Arsenault was the next speaker. Mr. Arsenault after expressing his congratulations to the Premier and complimenting the address, said he regretted that this was during the war. The war which made itself felt everywhere, certainly made the task of the Premier much more onerous than on other occasions. He also seconded the remarks of the Premier in regard to our roads. Mr. Arsenault spoke well. His discourse was chiefly on the grand career of the late Senator Arsenault and said that the great success that marked the career of our Premier was owing to his having followed in the footsteps of his late father. He said also that on an occasion like this every community seeks to claim honor; in this instance Abram's Village came in for a large share. Mr. Charles M. Arsenault only made a few brief remarks. He was proud of the honor conferred on the district, and what was to be noted was that many of other nationalities recognized the great ability of our Premier since they had helped to place him where he was. It was often that he had occasion to go to Premier Arsenault for counsel and his appeals were never in vain. Mr. S. E. Gallant felt it his duty to say a few words on this occasion. He made a comparison between the present condition of things and what they were 40 or 50 years ago, showing how the French Academics had gained in power in matters of public interest. A few words were also said in regard to what the Premier had mentioned in the course of his speech; viz., the placing of the public interests above personal interests. Mr.

Elle Arsenault said a few words in which he referred to the high quality of the Premier and spoke also on the roads. Mr. Dominique Arsenault said that there should be more young people present, for it was to them that it would be beneficial to preach the crowning result of hard work and perseverance.

Mr. X. O. Gallant enumerated at some length the good works the Premier had done for his district. He was glad to be present, and heartily concurred with all that had been said.

Cigars were then passed to all present and the Premier again said a few words, thanking the audience for their many complimentary remarks, and assuring them that he felt at home among them. He also mentioned the fact that the life of a man engaged in public affairs was not one of the easiest. He would not advise young men who seek work and fame to cast in their lots with the profession of public life. He mentioned the names of several aged men who in the past had been his every day companions. Rev. Father Boudreaux in closing the meeting paid a high eulogy to the Premier, and expressed the hope that the ship under his guidance would never meet with disaster. Three cheers and a tiger were then given to the Premier, after which he was bounced time and again amid uproars. The song "O Canada" and The National Anthem closed the
