

TORTURE OF INDIGESTION

Sands Made Miserable By This Trouble

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" Relieves It

It is indigestion and what it does to you, solid food is changed into a liquid by the stomach before it can be taken up...

When food enters the stomach, the stomach coat squeezes and presses food from end to end, or churns with the gastric juice to dissolve it...

FRUIT-A-TIVES is the most wonderful medicine in the world for strengthening stomach muscles and providing or restoring pure, full-strength digestive power to completely digest every morsel of food...

FRUIT-A-TIVES does this because it keeps the kidneys active, the bowels regular and the blood pure, which cures pure Gastric Juice.

FRUIT-A-TIVES will correct all indigestion or dyspepsia, and enable you to enjoy your food to the full.

FRUIT-A-TIVES will correct all indigestion or dyspepsia, and enable you to enjoy your food to the full.

NEW WAYS Chapter 36

Humphrey said he could sell anything if the price were cheap enough. So he asked a sum for the next door house that tempted even the most cautious investors in Wisnakegan real estate.

The house was taken from him, and the money given him in a few days. At that, several friends were not above availing themselves of the chance at a great bargain.

The one real estate firm bought the place and put up a sign. Mr. Parke had the use of her vegetable garden all summer. Her maid took a train to Los Angeles, where she was certain she could get a job in the movies for the asking.

The moving in, the loss of money, which happened to more than one family in Wisnakegan, caused such a sensation that it quite overshadowed the re-election of Mrs. Werner to the Thanatopsis Club.

"She just sneaked in," said the indignant Maude, who wanted Millie to have the position. "And they didn't even re-select Millie vice-president." Cora added, "I call that mean. I voted for her."

"I looked over her shoulder to see," Mrs. Parke went on to explain. "What do you expect, when our wife slaves like a servant and she has to buy new clothes?"

"I know she only got in by the back door," Mrs. Werner called a member of the club on the subject. "But she's on the list."

"I don't know what she's doing there," Mrs. Werner said. "I don't know what she's doing there."

"I don't know what she's doing there," Mrs. Werner said. "I don't know what she's doing there."

supper, so Millie could rest or visit. "Millie and her mother ran the house. At first, with the money she had, she had used to go to the movies for the asking."

"With so much housework, and I even do the laundry," she would begin. "But she found that in spite of everything, the work was over by noon, and there were hours, and hours, as before to be wasted just as idly as she had ever."

The Joy of Living.

When you waken with no appetite, a dread of the day's work and your head heavy, your digestive organs are probably calling for just the help which Mother Seigel's Syrup can give them.

The medicinal extract of senna leaves restores the natural healthy action of liver and stomach. Meals are enjoyed, that tired feeling disappears, and you know the joy of living. Sold in 50c. and $1.00 bottles at drug stores.

He likes parties when he goes to them, except dances, but half the time he doesn't want to stir from his chair and his slippers to go. "Would you like it better," if he were interested in some other woman?" Patty asked, her mind had been revolving this suggestion while Millie went on talking.

strange, carry her complaint to Humphrey. It was almost the only time she had sided with her son in law against her daughter. Humphrey tried to pacify her, and in the end was drawn into an argument with Millie.

"He things do clutter up the place, I have to sweep and dust them. I ought to know that amount of work they make," Millie said finally.

"Mrs. Parke, being feminine, and middle-aged at that, made use of her privilege of changing her mind instantly. She turned upon the astonished Humphrey: 'If you hadn't lost my money I wouldn't have to be here. You made me sell my house, what business was it of you?' It was my house, I bought and paid for it."

"Oh or lumber, I don't know which is worse, I lost my house either way. I guess that young salesman wasn't any worse than some other," and Mrs. Parke, after her sarcastic remark, went out of the room with her head up and her shawl tightly stretched around her narrow shoulders.

Sometimes stout men are not women. Humphrey had become so recently. Once he had had a study of the man who had sold him the house, he had a conspicuous large key on the inside of the door. But when Mrs. Parke and her possessions moved in all the furniture that would not find a place in the middle of the room or along the wall was put in the

To the Electors of the City of Charlotte: Ladies and Gentlemen:— Agreeable to the request of electors representing every Ward in the City, I shall please myself in nomination for the office of Mayor at the City Election to be held on February 8th, and take this opportunity of soliciting your influence and support on that occasion.

Having been closely identified with the financial affairs of the city—as auditor—for many years, and, after a service of EIGHT consecutive years at the Council Board as Councilor for Ward Five,—during which time I served two years as Chairman of the Police Committee, and six years as chairman of the Tender and Property Committee, was also a member of the Market Committee for two years, Light Committee for four years and for four years was assistant on the Finance Committee. I respectfully submit that my civic training should greatly assist me in the administration of the office which I now seek at your hands.

Owing to the hearty co-operation of the various Councils, the City has undergone a wonderful change during the last eight years. While it is true the financial burdens have somewhat increased, yet the work completed has been of a thoroughly permanent nature, and employment was given at a time when—our finances will not permit of programs entailing large expenditures; yet there is much work to be done in linking up our principal streets and re-building with gravel our extension and side streets which have necessarily been somewhat neglected during the last few years—owing to lack of proper material.

There is also a great necessity for more concrete sidewalks, and the firemen are entitled to greater consideration. If we cannot afford to pay them, the city should at least provide them with a reliable Fire Alarm System, which, I am told need not be expensive—yet efficient. Gravel for our extension and side streets: The time has arrived when a co-operative effort should be made to re-open the City Gravel Pit at Surrey, where hundreds of thousands of tons of the choicest grades of gravel are to be had. The Railway is searching for gravel for ballast; the Provincial Government is importing such material from Nova Scotia, and the City had our own material and give employment to our own people? Our laboring men deserve this at our hands, for were it not for the honest work performed for the wage paid we would not be in a position to boast of having constructed our Permanent works so cheaply.

Our Electric Lighting will be readjusted this year according to a contract already entered into by the Council, and a much better service may be expected. A different system of Civic Assessment must be put in force in order to get more equitable valuations. NO PLACE IN CANADA affords greater attractions for the Tourist and Health seeker than Prince Edward Island, and his headquarters should be in Charlottetown. We must unite in getting that trade. Let our policy be progression within our means, and it is because I feel that I can be of greater service in forwarding the interests of Charlottetown that I respectfully ask you to elect me as Mayor. The Ballot Act presumes that no Candidate shall make a personal canvass. To do so destroys the secrecy of the ballot which should be with the voter and his conscience. I have always respected the intention of the Law, and intend doing so in the coming election. Consequently, I elect I shall feel that you have for your own free will, so honored service within my power. Thanking you in anticipation of your support, I am faithfully yours, L. B. MILLER
