

"The Silver Black Fox Industry"

If you intend making an investment in the Silver Black Fox Industry OUR SERVICES ARE AT YOUR COMMAND. Accurate and Authentic Information may be obtained without charge or obligation.

THE ROYAL INVESTMENT EXCHANGE

Offices: Royal Bank Building, Charlottetown, P. E. I.

Directors:

- | | |
|-----------------------|----------------------|
| Hon. Jan Agnew | George D. DeBlois |
| John OHyndman | William E. Agnew |
| Montreal Office: | London Office: |
| 510 New Birk Building | St. Mary's Chambers, |
| 3433-79Mtstf | 161 A Strand |

THE WESTERN GUARDIAN

—IT PAYS to buy in this Province—
—THE MORNING DAILY Guardian can be obtained at Lafferty's Tonsorial Parlors, Summerside.
—ARMY FIELD SERVICE.—Birch Hill School has contributed $1.65 to the Army Field Service Fund.
—MR. E. P. FOLEY, Guardian representative in Alberton will gladly receive subscriptions and advertising matter.
—MR. W. K. MCGOUGAN, Secretary of the Globe Exchange, P. O., Summerside.
—SUMMERSIDE MARKETS.—Oats, white, 46c per bush; oats, black, 48c per bush; potatoes, 22c per bush; turnips, 15c per bush; hay, pressed, $12 to $13 per ton; hay, loose, $11 to $12 per ton; pork, 7c to 9c per lb.—X.

—FOX NOTE.—On Friday last the foxes of the Barker Fox Co., were moved from the ranch of the Park Farm Co., where they have been ranching for the past two years to the new ranch of the Barker Company which is just completed on the farm of Thomas Hall about 1 1/2 miles east of Summerside, H.
—SUBSCRIBERS should renew a week or two before the time they have paid for has expired and thus not miss an issue, as all papers are discontinued promptly on expiry date.
—FOX NOTE.—On Friday last the foxes of the Barker Fox Co., were moved from the ranch of the Park Farm Co., where they have been ranching for the past two years to the new ranch of the Barker Company which is just completed on the farm of Thomas Hall about 1 1/2 miles east of Summerside, H.

—MR. W. K. MCGOUGAN, Secretary of the Globe Exchange, P. O., Summerside.
—SUMMERSIDE MARKETS.—Oats, white, 46c per bush; oats, black, 48c per bush; potatoes, 22c per bush; turnips, 15c per bush; hay, pressed, $12 to $13 per ton; hay, loose, $11 to $12 per ton; pork, 7c to 9c per lb.—X.

—WEDDING BELLS.—In the chapel of Notre Dame Academy at 8.30 o'clock yesterday morning the marriage was solemnized of Miss Blandina Cameron, of Miscouche, sister of Prof. W. E. Cameron of St. Dunstan's College, to Mr. James Gillis, of Grand River, Lot 14. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. A. Macdonald of Grand River. The groomsmen were Mr. Will Cameron, the bride's brother, and the bride's sister acted as bridesmaid. The bride was attired in a travelling suit of blue with hat to match and carried a bouquet of carnations and lilies of the valley. Mr. W. J. Brown sang "Patronus" in his well known able manner during the service. At the close of the ceremony the wedding party drove to the Victoria Hotel where a splendid breakfast was served. The happy couple leave this morning on a wedding trip to the Mainland.

—ADDRESS AND PRESENTATION.—On the evening of Monday, the 2nd inst., a large gathering of neighbors and friends of Mr. Felix Murphy, Hope River, took place at his home. Young and old came in large numbers to participate in a real night's enjoyment. The occasion was the presentation of address and suitable presents to Mr. Murphy and his daughter, Miss Melinda, who intend removing shortly to another locality. Mr. Murphy received a beautiful gold headed cane and his daughter a china tea set and pie knife. The evening was spent in speech making, music and singing, when all departed to their homes, highly pleased with the reception given them by the host and his daughter. The following address was read to Mr. Murphy by his old friend Mr. W. H. Hogan: "Dear Friend: It is with feelings of the deepest regret that we, your friends and neighbors, learn of your intended departure from this country after a residence of more than half a century and more in this, your present home. During that time your house has always been open to your friends both young and old, and ready to extend the helping hand to any in need, you have by your kindness and good will won a place in our regard which shall not soon be forgotten. Nearly everyone of us gathered here tonight have at good advice—advice made valuable by the experience of age. You, also, have been comforted in time of sickness, your kind heartedness, which often took a far more precious form than the mere verbal sympathy. So, Mr. Murphy, in presenting you with this slight token of our esteem, we ask you to accept it laden with our best wishes for your future health and happiness. May it be your supporting staff for many years to come; and we assure you dear friend that we shall always cherish in our memories the fondest recollections of a kind old gentleman. Signed in behalf of your friends: W. H. Hogan, P. P. McGaugan, John McGaugan, Thomas Reid, W. Pendergast, Thomas Bolger, John L. Cullen.—E.

—TIGNISH.—The Hon. Charles Dalton has returned from a short business trip to Summerside.—T.
—SHOW.—The Welser & Welser Co. duplicated their previous performance by putting on another good show Saturday evening, and they are to be commended on doing so as a bunch of hobos, started a racket in the rear of the hall and had it all their own way. It was thought that the policeman might put a stop to all such occurrences, but after last night's performance our minds have been changed. It is an outrage that such people are allowed to take the law in their own hands as they did with such a gigantic police force as Tignish now has.—T.

—TIGNISH HONORS ITS YOUNG VOLUNTEERS.—The Hon. Charles Dalton did a very appreciative thing as usual, when he assembled a family party at the Bellevue Hotel for dinner on Sunday evening at 7 o'clock in honor of the two young men, sons of Tignish, who have volunteered for the front and are leaving Monday morning for Charlottetown to join their companies. The young men in question are Mr. P. C. Murphy, Jr., second son of Hon. Senator Murphy, and Mr. J. Guy Kinch, son of Mr. James Kinch. The party consisted of the young volunteers with their fathers, Mr. A. J. McFadyen and Mr. James Riley, whose sons have already gone with the first contingent, as well as the Venerable Monsignor Dugald McDonald and Rev. A. J. McDougall. The banquet room was tastefully decorated with Union Jacks, and the cuisine was in Mrs. Hackett's best style. Appropriate remarks were made by Hon. Mr. Dalton, who presided, and the other gentlemen present. Attention was drawn to the striking evidence of the unanimity with which the people of all ranks were rushing to the colors, as evidence from Tignish's quota in the persons of the sons of Senator Murphy, Mr. McFadyen, Mr. Kinch and Mr. Riley. After the dinner a number of the friends of the young recruits waited on them and presented them with suitable tokens of remembrance. "It's a long way to Tipperary" and God Save the King brought the proceedings to a close.—T.

—RECORD GOOSE.—Mr. Fred Clark of Alberton has a goose that hatched and brought out young in the Spring and now she has laid about fifteen eggs this fall. This is very unusual and if anyone has a goose that can beat that Mr. Clark would like to hear from him. A.

—A GOOD SOCIAL.—A very enjoyable social was held in the hall room of the Presbyterian Church, Alberton, in honor of Miss Lucy Campbell who is leaving with her parents and sister to reside in Charlottetown. Miss Campbell was a valued member of the Bible Class and Mission Band and also the talented organist of the church for the past few years and her presence will be very much missed. Rev. Mr. Millar on behalf of the session and choir presented Miss Campbell with a five dollar gold piece and Miss Bella McArthur on behalf of the Mission Band and Bible Class presented her with a ring set with pearls accompanied by an address which is given below.

—TIGNISH.—The Hon. Charles Dalton did a very appreciative thing as usual, when he assembled a family party at the Bellevue Hotel for dinner on Sunday evening at 7 o'clock in honor of the two young men, sons of Tignish, who have volunteered for the front and are leaving Monday morning for Charlottetown to join their companies. The young men in question are Mr. P. C. Murphy, Jr., second son of Hon. Senator Murphy, and Mr. J. Guy Kinch, son of Mr. James Kinch. The party consisted of the young volunteers with their fathers, Mr. A. J. McFadyen and Mr. James Riley, whose sons have already gone with the first contingent, as well as the Venerable Monsignor Dugald McDonald and Rev. A. J. McDougall. The banquet room was tastefully decorated with Union Jacks, and the cuisine was in Mrs. Hackett's best style. Appropriate remarks were made by Hon. Mr. Dalton, who presided, and the other gentlemen present. Attention was drawn to the striking evidence of the unanimity with which the people of all ranks were rushing to the colors, as evidence from Tignish's quota in the persons of the sons of Senator Murphy, Mr. McFadyen, Mr. Kinch and Mr. Riley. After the dinner a number of the friends of the young recruits waited on them and presented them with suitable tokens of remembrance. "It's a long way to Tipperary" and God Save the King brought the proceedings to a close.—T.

—TIGNISH.—The Hon. Charles Dalton did a very appreciative thing as usual, when he assembled a family party at the Bellevue Hotel for dinner on Sunday evening at 7 o'clock in honor of the two young men, sons of Tignish, who have volunteered for the front and are leaving Monday morning for Charlottetown to join their companies. The young men in question are Mr. P. C. Murphy, Jr., second son of Hon. Senator Murphy, and Mr. J. Guy Kinch, son of Mr. James Kinch. The party consisted of the young volunteers with their fathers, Mr. A. J. McFadyen and Mr. James Riley, whose sons have already gone with the first contingent, as well as the Venerable Monsignor Dugald McDonald and Rev. A. J. McDougall. The banquet room was tastefully decorated with Union Jacks, and the cuisine was in Mrs. Hackett's best style. Appropriate remarks were made by Hon. Mr. Dalton, who presided, and the other gentlemen present. Attention was drawn to the striking evidence of the unanimity with which the people of all ranks were rushing to the colors, as evidence from Tignish's quota in the persons of the sons of Senator Murphy, Mr. McFadyen, Mr. Kinch and Mr. Riley. After the dinner a number of the friends of the young recruits waited on them and presented them with suitable tokens of remembrance. "It's a long way to Tipperary" and God Save the King brought the proceedings to a close.—T.

—TIGNISH.—The Hon. Charles Dalton did a very appreciative thing as usual, when he assembled a family party at the Bellevue Hotel for dinner on Sunday evening at 7 o'clock in honor of the two young men, sons of Tignish, who have volunteered for the front and are leaving Monday morning for Charlottetown to join their companies. The young men in question are Mr. P. C. Murphy, Jr., second son of Hon. Senator Murphy, and Mr. J. Guy Kinch, son of Mr. James Kinch. The party consisted of the young volunteers with their fathers, Mr. A. J. McFadyen and Mr. James Riley, whose sons have already gone with the first contingent, as well as the Venerable Monsignor Dugald McDonald and Rev. A. J. McDougall. The banquet room was tastefully decorated with Union Jacks, and the cuisine was in Mrs. Hackett's best style. Appropriate remarks were made by Hon. Mr. Dalton, who presided, and the other gentlemen present. Attention was drawn to the striking evidence of the unanimity with which the people of all ranks were rushing to the colors, as evidence from Tignish's quota in the persons of the sons of Senator Murphy, Mr. McFadyen, Mr. Kinch and Mr. Riley. After the dinner a number of the friends of the young recruits waited on them and presented them with suitable tokens of remembrance. "It's a long way to Tipperary" and God Save the King brought the proceedings to a close.—T.

—TIGNISH.—The Hon. Charles Dalton did a very appreciative thing as usual, when he assembled a family party at the Bellevue Hotel for dinner on Sunday evening at 7 o'clock in honor of the two young men, sons of Tignish, who have volunteered for the front and are leaving Monday morning for Charlottetown to join their companies. The young men in question are Mr. P. C. Murphy, Jr., second son of Hon. Senator Murphy, and Mr. J. Guy Kinch, son of Mr. James Kinch. The party consisted of the young volunteers with their fathers, Mr. A. J. McFadyen and Mr. James Riley, whose sons have already gone with the first contingent, as well as the Venerable Monsignor Dugald McDonald and Rev. A. J. McDougall. The banquet room was tastefully decorated with Union Jacks, and the cuisine was in Mrs. Hackett's best style. Appropriate remarks were made by Hon. Mr. Dalton, who presided, and the other gentlemen present. Attention was drawn to the striking evidence of the unanimity with which the people of all ranks were rushing to the colors, as evidence from Tignish's quota in the persons of the sons of Senator Murphy, Mr. McFadyen, Mr. Kinch and Mr. Riley. After the dinner a number of the friends of the young recruits waited on them and presented them with suitable tokens of remembrance. "It's a long way to Tipperary" and God Save the King brought the proceedings to a close.—T.

—TIGNISH.—The Hon. Charles Dalton did a very appreciative thing as usual, when he assembled a family party at the Bellevue Hotel for dinner on Sunday evening at 7 o'clock in honor of the two young men, sons of Tignish, who have volunteered for the front and are leaving Monday morning for Charlottetown to join their companies. The young men in question are Mr. P. C. Murphy, Jr., second son of Hon. Senator Murphy, and Mr. J. Guy Kinch, son of Mr. James Kinch. The party consisted of the young volunteers with their fathers, Mr. A. J. McFadyen and Mr. James Riley, whose sons have already gone with the first contingent, as well as the Venerable Monsignor Dugald McDonald and Rev. A. J. McDougall. The banquet room was tastefully decorated with Union Jacks, and the cuisine was in Mrs. Hackett's best style. Appropriate remarks were made by Hon. Mr. Dalton, who presided, and the other gentlemen present. Attention was drawn to the striking evidence of the unanimity with which the people of all ranks were rushing to the colors, as evidence from Tignish's quota in the persons of the sons of Senator Murphy, Mr. McFadyen, Mr. Kinch and Mr. Riley. After the dinner a number of the friends of the young recruits waited on them and presented them with suitable tokens of remembrance. "It's a long way to Tipperary" and God Save the King brought the proceedings to a close.—T.

—TIGNISH.—The Hon. Charles Dalton did a very appreciative thing as usual, when he assembled a family party at the Bellevue Hotel for dinner on Sunday evening at 7 o'clock in honor of the two young men, sons of Tignish, who have volunteered for the front and are leaving Monday morning for Charlottetown to join their companies. The young men in question are Mr. P. C. Murphy, Jr., second son of Hon. Senator Murphy, and Mr. J. Guy Kinch, son of Mr. James Kinch. The party consisted of the young volunteers with their fathers, Mr. A. J. McFadyen and Mr. James Riley, whose sons have already gone with the first contingent, as well as the Venerable Monsignor Dugald McDonald and Rev. A. J. McDougall. The banquet room was tastefully decorated with Union Jacks, and the cuisine was in Mrs. Hackett's best style. Appropriate remarks were made by Hon. Mr. Dalton, who presided, and the other gentlemen present. Attention was drawn to the striking evidence of the unanimity with which the people of all ranks were rushing to the colors, as evidence from Tignish's quota in the persons of the sons of Senator Murphy, Mr. McFadyen, Mr. Kinch and Mr. Riley. After the dinner a number of the friends of the young recruits waited on them and presented them with suitable tokens of remembrance. "It's a long way to Tipperary" and God Save the King brought the proceedings to a close.—T.

—TIGNISH.—The Hon. Charles Dalton did a very appreciative thing as usual, when he assembled a family party at the Bellevue Hotel for dinner on Sunday evening at 7 o'clock in honor of the two young men, sons of Tignish, who have volunteered for the front and are leaving Monday morning for Charlottetown to join their companies. The young men in question are Mr. P. C. Murphy, Jr., second son of Hon. Senator Murphy, and Mr. J. Guy Kinch, son of Mr. James Kinch. The party consisted of the young volunteers with their fathers, Mr. A. J. McFadyen and Mr. James Riley, whose sons have already gone with the first contingent, as well as the Venerable Monsignor Dugald McDonald and Rev. A. J. McDougall. The banquet room was tastefully decorated with Union Jacks, and the cuisine was in Mrs. Hackett's best style. Appropriate remarks were made by Hon. Mr. Dalton, who presided, and the other gentlemen present. Attention was drawn to the striking evidence of the unanimity with which the people of all ranks were rushing to the colors, as evidence from Tignish's quota in the persons of the sons of Senator Murphy, Mr. McFadyen, Mr. Kinch and Mr. Riley. After the dinner a number of the friends of the young recruits waited on them and presented them with suitable tokens of remembrance. "It's a long way to Tipperary" and God Save the King brought the proceedings to a close.—T.

—TIGNISH.—The Hon. Charles Dalton did a very appreciative thing as usual, when he assembled a family party at the Bellevue Hotel for dinner on Sunday evening at 7 o'clock in honor of the two young men, sons of Tignish, who have volunteered for the front and are leaving Monday morning for Charlottetown to join their companies. The young men in question are Mr. P. C. Murphy, Jr., second son of Hon. Senator Murphy, and Mr. J. Guy Kinch, son of Mr. James Kinch. The party consisted of the young volunteers with their fathers, Mr. A. J. McFadyen and Mr. James Riley, whose sons have already gone with the first contingent, as well as the Venerable Monsignor Dugald McDonald and Rev. A. J. McDougall. The banquet room was tastefully decorated with Union Jacks, and the cuisine was in Mrs. Hackett's best style. Appropriate remarks were made by Hon. Mr. Dalton, who presided, and the other gentlemen present. Attention was drawn to the striking evidence of the unanimity with which the people of all ranks were rushing to the colors, as evidence from Tignish's quota in the persons of the sons of Senator Murphy, Mr. McFadyen, Mr. Kinch and Mr. Riley. After the dinner a number of the friends of the young recruits waited on them and presented them with suitable tokens of remembrance. "It's a long way to Tipperary" and God Save the King brought the proceedings to a close.—T.

—TIGNISH.—The Hon. Charles Dalton did a very appreciative thing as usual, when he assembled a family party at the Bellevue Hotel for dinner on Sunday evening at 7 o'clock in honor of the two young men, sons of Tignish, who have volunteered for the front and are leaving Monday morning for Charlottetown to join their companies. The young men in question are Mr. P. C. Murphy, Jr., second son of Hon. Senator Murphy, and Mr. J. Guy Kinch, son of Mr. James Kinch. The party consisted of the young volunteers with their fathers, Mr. A. J. McFadyen and Mr. James Riley, whose sons have already gone with the first contingent, as well as the Venerable Monsignor Dugald McDonald and Rev. A. J. McDougall. The banquet room was tastefully decorated with Union Jacks, and the cuisine was in Mrs. Hackett's best style. Appropriate remarks were made by Hon. Mr. Dalton, who presided, and the other gentlemen present. Attention was drawn to the striking evidence of the unanimity with which the people of all ranks were rushing to the colors, as evidence from Tignish's quota in the persons of the sons of Senator Murphy, Mr. McFadyen, Mr. Kinch and Mr. Riley. After the dinner a number of the friends of the young recruits waited on them and presented them with suitable tokens of remembrance. "It's a long way to Tipperary" and God Save the King brought the proceedings to a close.—T.

—TIGNISH.—The Hon. Charles Dalton did a very appreciative thing as usual, when he assembled a family party at the Bellevue Hotel for dinner on Sunday evening at 7 o'clock in honor of the two young men, sons of Tignish, who have volunteered for the front and are leaving Monday morning for Charlottetown to join their companies. The young men in question are Mr. P. C. Murphy, Jr., second son of Hon. Senator Murphy, and Mr. J. Guy Kinch, son of Mr. James Kinch. The party consisted of the young volunteers with their fathers, Mr. A. J. McFadyen and Mr. James Riley, whose sons have already gone with the first contingent, as well as the Venerable Monsignor Dugald McDonald and Rev. A. J. McDougall. The banquet room was tastefully decorated with Union Jacks, and the cuisine was in Mrs. Hackett's best style. Appropriate remarks were made by Hon. Mr. Dalton, who presided, and the other gentlemen present. Attention was drawn to the striking evidence of the unanimity with which the people of all ranks were rushing to the colors, as evidence from Tignish's quota in the persons of the sons of Senator Murphy, Mr. McFadyen, Mr. Kinch and Mr. Riley. After the dinner a number of the friends of the young recruits waited on them and presented them with suitable tokens of remembrance. "It's a long way to Tipperary" and God Save the King brought the proceedings to a close.—T.

—TIGNISH.—The Hon. Charles Dalton did a very appreciative thing as usual, when he assembled a family party at the Bellevue Hotel for dinner on Sunday evening at 7 o'clock in honor of the two young men, sons of Tignish, who have volunteered for the front and are leaving Monday morning for Charlottetown to join their companies. The young men in question are Mr. P. C. Murphy, Jr., second son of Hon. Senator Murphy, and Mr. J. Guy Kinch, son of Mr. James Kinch. The party consisted of the young volunteers with their fathers, Mr. A. J. McFadyen and Mr. James Riley, whose sons have already gone with the first contingent, as well as the Venerable Monsignor Dugald McDonald and Rev. A. J. McDougall. The banquet room was tastefully decorated with Union Jacks, and the cuisine was in Mrs. Hackett's best style. Appropriate remarks were made by Hon. Mr. Dalton, who presided, and the other gentlemen present. Attention was drawn to the striking evidence of the unanimity with which the people of all ranks were rushing to the colors, as evidence from Tignish's quota in the persons of the sons of Senator Murphy, Mr. McFadyen, Mr. Kinch and Mr. Riley. After the dinner a number of the friends of the young recruits waited on them and presented them with suitable tokens of remembrance. "It's a long way to Tipperary" and God Save the King brought the proceedings to a close.—T.

—TIGNISH.—The Hon. Charles Dalton did a very appreciative thing as usual, when he assembled a family party at the Bellevue Hotel for dinner on Sunday evening at 7 o'clock in honor of the two young men, sons of Tignish, who have volunteered for the front and are leaving Monday morning for Charlottetown to join their companies. The young men in question are Mr. P. C. Murphy, Jr., second son of Hon. Senator Murphy, and Mr. J. Guy Kinch, son of Mr. James Kinch. The party consisted of the young volunteers with their fathers, Mr. A. J. McFadyen and Mr. James Riley, whose sons have already gone with the first contingent, as well as the Venerable Monsignor Dugald McDonald and Rev. A. J. McDougall. The banquet room was tastefully decorated with Union Jacks, and the cuisine was in Mrs. Hackett's best style. Appropriate remarks were made by Hon. Mr. Dalton, who presided, and the other gentlemen present. Attention was drawn to the striking evidence of the unanimity with which the people of all ranks were rushing to the colors, as evidence from Tignish's quota in the persons of the sons of Senator Murphy, Mr. McFadyen, Mr. Kinch and Mr. Riley. After the dinner a number of the friends of the young recruits waited on them and presented them with suitable tokens of remembrance. "It's a long way to Tipperary" and God Save the King brought the proceedings to a close.—T.

—TIGNISH.—The Hon. Charles Dalton did a very appreciative thing as usual, when he assembled a family party at the Bellevue Hotel for dinner on Sunday evening at 7 o'clock in honor of the two young men, sons of Tignish, who have volunteered for the front and are leaving Monday morning for Charlottetown to join their companies. The young men in question are Mr. P. C. Murphy, Jr., second son of Hon. Senator Murphy, and Mr. J. Guy Kinch, son of Mr. James Kinch. The party consisted of the young volunteers with their fathers, Mr. A. J. McFadyen and Mr. James Riley, whose sons have already gone with the first contingent, as well as the Venerable Monsignor Dugald McDonald and Rev. A. J. McDougall. The banquet room was tastefully decorated with Union Jacks, and the cuisine was in Mrs. Hackett's best style. Appropriate remarks were made by Hon. Mr. Dalton, who presided, and the other gentlemen present. Attention was drawn to the striking evidence of the unanimity with which the people of all ranks were rushing to the colors, as evidence from Tignish's quota in the persons of the sons of Senator Murphy, Mr. McFadyen, Mr. Kinch and Mr. Riley. After the dinner a number of the friends of the young recruits waited on them and presented them with suitable tokens of remembrance. "It's a long way to Tipperary" and God Save the King brought the proceedings to a close.—T.

—TIGNISH.—The Hon. Charles Dalton did a very appreciative thing as usual, when he assembled a family party at the Bellevue Hotel for dinner on Sunday evening at 7 o'clock in honor of the two young men, sons of Tignish, who have volunteered for the front and are leaving Monday morning for Charlottetown to join their companies. The young men in question are Mr. P. C. Murphy, Jr., second son of Hon. Senator Murphy, and Mr. J. Guy Kinch, son of Mr. James Kinch. The party consisted of the young volunteers with their fathers, Mr. A. J. McFadyen and Mr. James Riley, whose sons have already gone with the first contingent, as well as the Venerable Monsignor Dugald McDonald and Rev. A. J. McDougall. The banquet room was tastefully decorated with Union Jacks, and the cuisine was in Mrs. Hackett's best style. Appropriate remarks were made by Hon. Mr. Dalton, who presided, and the other gentlemen present. Attention was drawn to the striking evidence of the unanimity with which the people of all ranks were rushing to the colors, as evidence from Tignish's quota in the persons of the sons of Senator Murphy, Mr. McFadyen, Mr. Kinch and Mr. Riley. After the dinner a number of the friends of the young recruits waited on them and presented them with suitable tokens of remembrance. "It's a long way to Tipperary" and God Save the King brought the proceedings to a close.—T.

—TIGNISH.—The Hon. Charles Dalton did a very appreciative thing as usual, when he assembled a family party at the Bellevue Hotel for dinner on Sunday evening at 7 o'clock in honor of the two young men, sons of Tignish, who have volunteered for the front and are leaving Monday morning for Charlottetown to join their companies. The young men in question are Mr. P. C. Murphy, Jr., second son of Hon. Senator Murphy, and Mr. J. Guy Kinch, son of Mr. James Kinch. The party consisted of the young volunteers with their fathers, Mr. A. J. McFadyen and Mr. James Riley, whose sons have already gone with the first contingent, as well as the Venerable Monsignor Dugald McDonald and Rev. A. J. McDougall. The banquet room was tastefully decorated with Union Jacks, and the cuisine was in Mrs. Hackett's best style. Appropriate remarks were made by Hon. Mr. Dalton, who presided, and the other gentlemen present. Attention was drawn to the striking evidence of the unanimity with which the people of all ranks were rushing to the colors, as evidence from Tignish's quota in the persons of the sons of Senator Murphy, Mr. McFadyen, Mr. Kinch and Mr. Riley. After the dinner a number of the friends of the young recruits waited on them and presented them with suitable tokens of remembrance. "It's a long way to Tipperary" and God Save the King brought the proceedings to a close.—T.

—TIGNISH.—The Hon. Charles Dalton did a very appreciative thing as usual, when he assembled a family party at the Bellevue Hotel for dinner on Sunday evening at 7 o'clock in honor of the two young men, sons of Tignish, who have volunteered for the front and are leaving Monday morning for Charlottetown to join their companies. The young men in question are Mr. P. C. Murphy, Jr., second son of Hon. Senator Murphy, and Mr. J. Guy Kinch, son of Mr. James Kinch. The party consisted of the young volunteers with their fathers, Mr. A. J. McFadyen and Mr. James Riley, whose sons have already gone with the first contingent, as well as the Venerable Monsignor Dugald McDonald and Rev. A. J. McDougall. The banquet room was tastefully decorated with Union Jacks, and the cuisine was in Mrs. Hackett's best style. Appropriate remarks were made by Hon. Mr. Dalton, who presided, and the other gentlemen present. Attention was drawn to the striking evidence of the unanimity with which the people of all ranks were rushing to the colors, as evidence from Tignish's quota in the persons of the sons of Senator Murphy, Mr. McFadyen, Mr. Kinch and Mr. Riley. After the dinner a number of the friends of the young recruits waited on them and presented them with suitable tokens of remembrance. "It's a long way to Tipperary" and God Save the King brought the proceedings to a close.—T.

—TIGNISH.—The Hon. Charles Dalton did a very appreciative thing as usual, when he assembled a family party at the Bellevue Hotel for dinner on Sunday evening at 7 o'clock in honor of the two young men, sons of Tignish, who have volunteered for the front and are leaving Monday morning for Charlottetown to join their companies. The young men in question are Mr. P. C. Murphy, Jr., second son of Hon. Senator Murphy, and Mr. J. Guy Kinch, son of Mr. James Kinch. The party consisted of the young volunteers with their fathers, Mr. A. J. McFadyen and Mr. James Riley, whose sons have already gone with the first contingent, as well as the Venerable Monsignor Dugald McDonald and Rev. A. J. McDougall. The banquet room was tastefully decorated with Union Jacks, and the cuisine was in Mrs. Hackett's best style. Appropriate remarks were made by Hon. Mr. Dalton, who presided, and the other gentlemen present. Attention was drawn to the striking evidence of the unanimity with which the people of all ranks were rushing to the colors, as evidence from Tignish's quota in the persons of the sons of Senator Murphy, Mr. McFadyen, Mr. Kinch and Mr. Riley. After the dinner a number of the friends of the young recruits waited on them and presented them with suitable tokens of remembrance. "It's a long way to Tipperary" and God Save the King brought the proceedings to a close.—T.

—TIGNISH.—The Hon. Charles Dalton did a very appreciative thing as usual, when he assembled a family party at the Bellevue Hotel for dinner on Sunday evening at 7 o'clock in honor of the two young men, sons of Tignish, who have volunteered for the front and are leaving Monday morning for Charlottetown to join their companies. The young men in question are Mr. P. C. Murphy, Jr., second son of Hon. Senator Murphy, and Mr. J. Guy Kinch, son of Mr. James Kinch. The party consisted of the young volunteers with their fathers, Mr. A. J. McFadyen and Mr. James Riley, whose sons have already gone with the first contingent, as well as the Venerable Monsignor Dugald McDonald and Rev. A. J. McDougall. The banquet room was tastefully decorated with Union Jacks, and the cuisine was in Mrs. Hackett's best style. Appropriate remarks were made by Hon. Mr. Dalton, who presided, and the other gentlemen present. Attention was drawn to the striking evidence of the unanimity with which the people of all ranks were rushing to the colors, as evidence from Tignish's quota in the persons of the sons of Senator Murphy, Mr. McFadyen, Mr. Kinch and Mr. Riley. After the dinner a number of the friends of the young recruits waited on them and presented them with suitable tokens of remembrance. "It's a long way to Tipperary" and God Save the King brought the proceedings to a close.—T.

—TIGNISH.—The Hon. Charles Dalton did a very appreciative thing as usual, when he assembled a family party at the Bellevue Hotel for dinner on Sunday evening at 7 o'clock in honor of the two young men, sons of Tignish, who have volunteered for the front and are leaving Monday morning for Charlottetown to join their companies. The young men in question are Mr. P. C. Murphy, Jr., second son of Hon. Senator Murphy, and Mr. J. Guy Kinch, son of Mr. James Kinch. The party consisted of the young volunteers with their fathers, Mr. A. J. McFadyen and Mr. James Riley, whose sons have already gone with the first contingent, as well as the Venerable Monsignor Dugald McDonald and Rev. A. J. McDougall. The banquet room was tastefully decorated with Union Jacks, and the cuisine was in Mrs. Hackett's best style. Appropriate remarks were made by Hon. Mr. Dalton, who presided, and the other gentlemen present. Attention was drawn to the striking evidence of the unanimity with which the people of all ranks were rushing to the colors, as evidence from Tignish's quota in the persons of the sons of Senator Murphy, Mr. McFadyen, Mr. Kinch and Mr. Riley. After the dinner a number of the friends of the young recruits waited on them and presented them with suitable tokens of remembrance. "It's a long way to Tipperary" and God Save the King brought the proceedings to a close.—T.

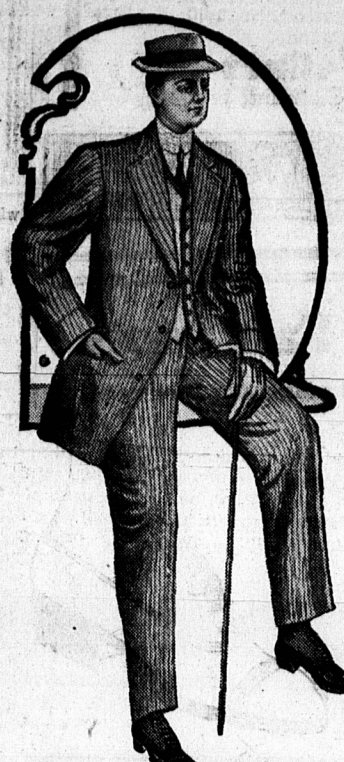

Clothing Endorsed By Fashion

Quality, Workmanship and Low Prices Endorsed By Us

We are always earnest in our endeavour to please you and serve you in every way, you will find it time especially well spent if you will come here and see what an excellent display of new suits we have for fall wear.

Unsurspassed Values
—In—
Men's Clothing

Young Men's strong English Tweed working Suits $4.00. Made from a serviceable English Tweed of good weight in a single breasted or double with good Italian Cloth lining $4.00

Wonderful Values
—In—
Men's Tweed Suits

A splendid Tweed suit at a popular price is made from a very dark brown shade of an all wool imported Tweed, showing a small stripe in a smart single or double breasted model $9.50
A very warm and durable suit from an all wool Scotch Tweed the color is dark Grey Oxford showing different stripes double or single breasted all sizes $13.00

Strong Durable
Untearable Tweed Suit
$5.75

Another fine value worth having, a great suit for a man having hard work, made from a strong hard finished fabric $5.75

Prowse's Serge Suits

Justly Famous and always Dependable in Style and Wear
Single or Double Breasted Style In Navy or Black

The most convincing proof we can give of the all round excellence of these suits is the favorable expression of general satisfaction we receive from our many customers who wear these famous serges, the material is an all wool Clay-twisted Serge made from excellent yarn and fast Indigo Dyes Coats are well tailored, cut in correct style, perfect fitting and well lined.

$12.00 to $19.00

Special Notice

Another Endorsement of Clothing Values
In preparation for Confederation week the Ch'town Fire Brigade ordered a new uniform for every man in Service, after looking around they came here and found they could buy cheaper, get better suits than anywhere else, so we supplied every man and more than that every suit fitted perfectly and every fireman was perfectly satisfied.

Prowse Bros Ltd.

Flash Lights Are A Necessity

Flash lights are admitted to be the only satisfactory medium for obtaining a quick strong concentrated light, a light that is always ready. The "Franco Flash-light" is equipped with the new "Radio Lens" drawn wire tungsten bulbs, which increases the light considerably and consumes less current than the ordinary Tungsten Bulk. Prices complete with batteries; 65 cts. 80, 85, $1.00, $1.25, $1.40, $1.50 and $2.00.

If ordered through mail, add 10c extra for postage. Extra Batteries for flash lights 35c and 45c. Extra Bulbs 20c Ea.

THE "BEERS" HAND ELECTRIC LANTERN

This Lantern is made to use a common Dry Cell which can be purchased anywhere for 27 cts. It is always ready for use, and can be carried anywhere with perfect safety. It is indispensable for Automobolists, Farmers, Watchmen, Delivery Men and all others who require a practical hand lamp of long life which can be maintained at low cost. Will burn an hour a day for 50 days. Price complete with battery $2.00. If you order it by mail, include 18 cts. extra for postage.

The Rogers Hardware Co LIMITED.

Warm, Winter Wear

Every department in our store is completely stocked with the newest and most up-to-date winter apparel for men, women and children.

Now is the time to purchase your winter wear—you can select with ease the size, style, and quality article you desire, and the price will be sure to please you.

Even though you do not want to purchase, you are cordially invited to look over our stock—examine the goods as critically as you please, for them, we are sure they will delight you.

Reuben Tuplin & Co

Kensington

Our Exhibit Of

Horse blankets will interest every person owning a horse because they are the best quality, bought right and prices low, you better buy today and benefit by our special Exhibition prices.

Heavy Wool Wagon Wraps selected for their beauty and warmth in all the nicest shades at special Exhibition Prices.

CARRIAGES—We have fifteen nice carriages at special Exhibition Prices.

HARNESS and WHIPS—A swell line at special Exhibition Prices.

You are in the City for pleasure we know, but by giving us a little of your time we can show you how to save money. "Money saved is money made."

W. Grant & Co.

85 Queen St., Charlottetown

DRINK AND UNEMPLOYMENT HAND IN HAND

When the test comes and the factory and office forces have to be cut down, the workers are the ones to be let go. This falls hardest on their wives and families, for the man who has the wherewithal usually craves so much on it that there is usually nothing left aside.
Alcira stops the craving for drink and helps the man help himself in his desire to get away from the drink disease and keep his work. It is guaranteed to give satisfaction since Alcira No. 1 is a mother, and will render the most beautiful, even nauseous. Alcira No. 2 is the voluntary treat.
Can be had at our store, $1.00 per box.