In Memoriam

In loving memory of Roy Nelson MacMillan, Wood Islands, Killed in Action, June 7, 1944.

Just two years ago dear brother
Just two years ago dear son,
Since you crossed the English Channel
To do your share to beat the Hun.
Let us hope your life, like others,
Was not sacrificed in vain,
Grant oh God! Since war is ended
Peace on earth will always reign.

Lovingly Remembered by Parents, Sisters and Brothers.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of Cpl. William L. MacKinnon who was Killed in Action in France, on June 7, 1944.

Inserted by Mother, Dad and Family.

Today our hearts are lonely
For a boy who went away
Whose life was full of gladness
And whose smile was bright and gay.

Now his young life is ended
His voice forever still
And all that's left are memories
Of the boy we once called Bill.

He too loved life and its pleasures
His home and loved ones dear
Bue he gave his life for freedom
And for his country died.

Veterans' Training
—News and Views

Canadian Vocational Training lost a good friend in the passing of Mr. S.D. Irvine who gave liberally of his time and talent to the course in Agriculture at No. 1 C.V.T. School, Charlottetown. C.V.T., a joint project of the Dominion and Provincial Governments, counts Agriculture as its most appropriate course to the economy of this Province, and draws on farmers and Government experts alike in its effort to give the ex-service farmers a flying start. Mr. Robert Snazelle, the Supervisor, and all the boys who have been enrolled since the commencement of the Agricultural Training last fall, will long remember Mr. Irvine with appreciation and affection.

After many trials and tribulations the former Y.M.C.A Building at the R C.A.F. Station near Charlottetown has finally been landed at the Experimental Farm, there to be used as headquarters of the Agriculture Class. Mr. Wesley Cole, the mover, found it necessary to cut the building into four sections for convenience in moving; then with well-greased skids and the big Department of Public Works tractors, the actual travelling didn't take very long. The next stop is the preparation of the foundation and setting up the sections as one building again, together with provision for sewage and heating. Mr. Cole plans to begin this phase of the work next week. C.V.T is very appreciative of the courtesy extended to them by Mr. Claude Smith and Mr. Frank Roper in granting permission to cross their lands during the moving operations. Mr. William Gillispie of the Department of Transport also gave valuable assistance and advise before and during this move.

Although the ex-service men who have completed our three-month course in Agriculture commend it very highly, we regret to report that the enrollment is still small. Just now there are six trainees, whereas three times that number could be trained just as easily. No doubt the shortage of farm labour has a tendency to keep enrollment low at this season, but we consider that every young man who plans to farm should first prepare himself by studying and by observation of the best that can be seen in standards of quality and in modern farm practices. This is particularly true of the ex-service men who purchase farms under the Veterans' Land Act, because proper study and preparation is a sort of insurance against the failure. That is not saying that success is guaranteed if you take the C.V.T. coure in Agriculture, but doing this will surely increase your farming skill and judgment, no matter how poor or good your farm background may have been.

During the past two weeks Mr. Bob Snazelle and some of the Agricultural trainees visited the farms of Mr. Dick Curley at Roseneath and Mr. Donald McKay of Bradalbane and found both men busy getting in their crops. They also visited the small holding of Mr. Lorne Ramsay of Bedford, who has over two hundred pullets and expects to have two hundred turkey poults this week. Mr. George Brander, Sea View, is also starting off with two hundred or more chicks. All these boys took the course in Agriculture with C.V.T. and we wish him the best of luck.

Mr. Thomas H. Smith, veteran from New Brunswick, who took Agriculture in our P.E.I course, has completed his training and returned home. Another man who left us lately is Mr. George Arsenault; but in his case he is merely deferring the completion of his course until later. He has returned to his father's farm and from reports of instructors will make a great poultry man when he starts out on his own.

We regret to note that Mr. Vernon Crockett is now on the sick list, suffering from a bad cold. Mr. Crockett is the Chief Instructor in the Tutorial Class of the C.V.T. School, Charlottetown, and his assistant, James "Fiddler" McDonald is now compelled to spread his Tutoring over the whole class. This gives only a small portion of his daily time to each student, under a system wherein members of the group are at different stages in the several subjects. The Tutorial Class will therefore greet Mr. Crocketts recovery with a double portion of joy and relief.

The lone lady member of the Tutorial Course will complete her course and leave for her home in Cape Breton on Saturday next, June 8th. This column wishes Miss Bonner a happy vacation and a successful College course next term. Her classmates are not very happy over the prospects of losing Bonnie and some of the C.V.T. staff are also suspected of similar sentiments.

The number undergoing training on-the-job took a heavy jolt on May 31 when thirteen ex-service men completed a three-month training contract as Power Linesmen with the Maritime Electric Company of Charlottetown. This short course was only a very small part of the training required, but it gave them a good start, and the whole group has now been taken into employment with the Company. The Maritime Electric Company, through the persons of Mr. Ainsworth and Mr. Lee, deserve special mention for setting up this training scheme, which offers an opportunity for the permanent rehabilitation of such a large group of veterans.

FERRY STEAMER IN DRYDOCK—The S. S. Fairview, now in drydock is expected to be back shortly on its usual run between Charlottetown and Rocky Point. A craft which was to be used for Sea Cadet training is being used in the Fairview's absence.

ON JUNE 9th, Rev. R. T. McKim, Secretary of the Bible Society for Nova Scotia and Newfoundland will speak in Annandale United Church, at 11 A. M. and will give an illustrated lecture relative to the work of the Bible Society in Dundas United Church at 8 P. M. Standard time in both places. 6-7-1i.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH IN CANADA. — Services for Sunday, June 9th, Marshfield 11 A. M. (Daylight Time). Harrington 3 P. M. (Daylight Time). Mt. Stewart 7.30 P. M. (Standard Time). Sunday Schools—Harrington and Marshfield at 10.30 A. M. Dr. Genge will conduct the services at Marshfield and Mt. Stewart and Rev. H. Young at Harrington. 6-7-1i.

FUNERAL SERVICES—The funeral of the late Mrs. Louise Crawford took place yesterday morning at nine o'clock from her late residence, 53 Richmond St., to St. Dunstan's Basilica where Requiem High Mass was sung by Rev. P. F. MacDonald, who also conducted the service at the grave. The pall bearers were Messrs. Albert MacNeill, Albert Ryan, Edward Cullen, Elmer Larter, Arthur Gormley, David Head.

BRIDE HONORED —On the evening of April 29th, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose Seller was the scene of a very happy gathering when the people of Argyle Shore and vicinity met to honor their daughter, Minnie, who recently became the bride of Mr. John Wright, Halifax. After the bride was escorted to a nicely decorated chair, Mr. Jamie MacDougall in a few well chosen words expressed the object of the gathering and called on Mrs. J. Albert MacDougall to read an address and Miss Grace MacPhail presented the bride with a purse of money. Minnie in her gracious manner fittingly replied. Lunch was served by the ladies and the remainder of the evening was pleasantly spent in music and dancing. Mr. and Mrs. Wright have taken up residence in Halifax, where Mr. Wright is employed by Piercey Supplies. Their many friends join in wishing them a long and happy wedded life.

ATTEND WEDDING — Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Currie, Chisholm Street, were in Dartmouth Saturday attending the marriage of their son Donald Keith Currie and Miss Elsie Cole, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dallas Cole of Dartmouth, which took place that afternoon at Christ Church, with the reception following the ceremony, held at the Belmont Hotel. Miss Joyce Rourke, New Glasgow, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. Miss Virginia Currie, sister of the groom, was one of the bridesmaids. The other was Miss Flossie Fraser of Halifax. Mr. Ivan Currie was his brother's best man. Mr. Neil Currie, another brother and Mr. James Roper, New Glasgow, were the ushers. Others from New Glasgow were Mrs. Neil Currie, and Mrs. Dave Simpson, Mrs. John Rourke, the bride's aunt, the Misses Margaret and Ann Wilson, aunts of the groom; Mrs. Carolyn Cashman, and Miss Jean Clarke. From Charlottetown, P.E.I. were the groom's brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. James Currie; Mr. and Mrs. Reg Field, Stellarton; Miss Chrissie Cumming of New Glasgow and Halifax and Mrs. James R. Porter of Durham. —New Glasgow News.

CUPS WON BY BRADALBANE LODGES—Much credit is due the L.O.B.A. and the L.O.A. of Bradalbane for having won the Muttart Trophies. A silver cup was presented at Grand Lodge held in Summerside to each lodge for having obtained the most new members during the year.

Ellen's Diary

By an Island Farmer's Wife

to me this morning. James said it was small wonder I was rather disappointed in this. "I guess, Ellen" he remarked with his usual logic "some of those of your class would be getting quite tottery on their feet by this—you know some would not be able to take so good a care of themselves as you did!" It was a privilege to see the large number of clever boys and girls, now an appreciable step nearer to realizing some worth-while place along "the Alpine heights" of learning. And I could easily understand the hopes—and relief bound up in each small ribbon-tied white roll. I remembered also those who were not among the fortunate, the boys and girls who must not allow the word "fail" to daunt them. For them too, there is ever a bright tomorrow.

* * *

And so, pleasant memories of the day I have by me tonight, while James sleeps comfortably in his old armchair. Of the delightful ride through a beautiful countryside this last day of May; of the long lines of graduates—the fine, clever lads and lassies; of the happy faces of two of my blood line—Bill and Donald and there's Charles as well a successful business student; of the fresh new building (and a tear for the old); of the poised lovely ladies, co-eds of former class years; of so many kindly words I may not record here. At home, I missed the annual delight of the sheep-shearing and the dipping, which took place in a pen back in the stump field. They were about done of the latter — James assisting, when a great truck load of potato-fertilizer came for us to the bridge by lane's end. Jeanie and I were in the garden then, and clouds were grey and lowering, when we set out our earliest tomatoes. But, deary me! James is stirring —It's rest time again.

Until tomorrow . . . Diary . . . Good-night.
