MCGILL HEAD SAYS EDUCATION SYSTEM OUTMODED

F.-O. L. S.P. Bing Gets D. F. C. At Ceremony

Teachers Convene In Ch'town Today

HALIFAX, April 11 (CP)—The D.F.C. and Bar and operational wings were presented today to F.O.L.S.P. Bing of Regina and Charlottetown, who helped shoot down 11 enemy planes in the Mediterranean theatre before he became a bomber pilot at nearby Eastern Passage.

Air Vice-Marshal G. O. Johnson head of the Eastern Air Command, made the presentation at the Eastern Passage station.

Bing went overseas as an air-gunner in 1941, later became a navigator. He flew on night fighter and intruder operations in Egypt and later went to Malta, where he flew as observer for P.O. Funnerton, D.F.C. and Bar, of Port Colborne, Que. The pair downed 11 enemy aircraft at night.

On his return to Canada, Bing qualified as a pilot.

His parents live at 226 Angus Crescent, Regina. He is now in the R.C.A.F. His wife lives at 167 Euston St. Charlottetown.

Names Three Goals To Be Aimed For

TORONTO, April 11 (CP)—Dr. F. Cyril James, principal and vice-chancellor of McGill University, told the Ontario educational association tonight that "education for tomorrow cannot be the same as the education which satisfied us yesterday."

In an address prepared for delivery before the annual meeting of the association, Dr. James said "yesterday's education must bear a large share of the responsibility for failure to live up to the ideals that our leaders envisaged."

"The business men, trade union leaders and politicians" responsible for the future will be those who were educated in schools and colleges. The voters, shareholders and delegates who repeatedly endorsed those policies "had not a similar education—and I am forced to add that the educators themselves, on many occasions, showed no greater wisdom than their students."

War Situation Last Night

By Kirke L. Simpson, Associated Press War Analyst

Slashing through northern and eastern gage ways to the Crimea, the 4th Ukrainian army is swiftly closing in on a long-trapped Nazi garrison once estimated at 100,000 men. It remains to be seen, however, whether much of that force has not leaked away by air or sea since it was walled off by the Red Army.

The speed with which a Russian column forced its way down the Melitopol-Simperpol railway to the Dzhankoi junction indicates either a German "evacuation" or that what is left of the Nazi garrison in the Crimea is being pulled back into the southwestern corner of the peninsula for a last-ditch stand about Sevastopol.

The Crimea has been ripe for Russian mopping-up operations for weeks. Short of a suicidal stand at Sevastopol which could serve no important purpose except as evidence of Nazi determination to fight to the end, the Crimean campaign—like that in the Ukraine—is over.

The Russian clean up in the Crimea, however, can have little effect upon the critical developing battle of the Balkans in southeastern Romania, either tactically or in a strategic sense.

Far more deadly for the Nazis is the 3rd Ukrainian advance west of the Siret River into the upper end of the great Romanian oil fields. A Red army spearhead is within 20 miles or less of Campulung on the eastern slope of the Carpathians and another almost as close to Bozau farther south. Both are Romanian oil wells although the main field lies on the north flank of the Transylvanian Alps north of Flocist and behind the Galati gateway to the Danube plains.

States Views On Supervised Playgrounds

A statement of his attitude towards supervised playgrounds and juvenile delinquency was made by A. T. MacKinnon at last night's meeting of the City Council, precipitated a lively discussion which terminated in the decision to postpone the subject for further consideration.

Councilor MacKinnon's statement follows:

"I would like to speak tonight and state a few observations which I feel may at this time be opportune. I attended the banquet of the Service Club the other night, a most enthusiastic meeting. Plans were submitted as to certain lines which would be followed in an endeavour to combat juvenile delinquency. I believe, Sir, that the time is ripe, but I cannot agree that the erecting of slides and swings and the placing of sand piles on our squares will do very much to cure delinquency."

"I understand that the movement of the Clubs is one to tie in with the Dominion Government's Physical Fitness Programme. What has happened that the Dominion Government is fostering such a move, it originated out of an alarming situation found when young men of this country were examined for the Navy, Army and Air Force. The results showed that those examined were found physically unfit."

"Now when we are physically unfit, for the same reason that we have juvenile delinquency on the uptown just think back to the years 1925 to 1937—that was the era of unemployment; and as a result you have undernourished individuals. The extent of this was only brought to our attention by..."

126 German Planes Shot Out Of Sky

American Losses Were 64 Bombers And 16 Fighters.

LONDON, APRIL 11 (AP)—United States air forces opened another jagged hole in Germany's aircraft industry and destroyed 126 Nazi planes in the air today at a cost of 64 bombers and 16 escorting fighters in the most savage battle American airmen have fought since the blow at Berlin March 6.

The great daylight attack, directed at the plane factories in Oeschelben and Rechlin and industrial targets in Rostock and Arminzelle, just east of Stettin, was made by a fleet of nearly 2,000 bombers and fighters.

It came after a reward R. A. F. C. A. F. 4,000 ton night attack and Gen Dwight D. Eisenhower told American airmen they soon would be flying from dawn to dusk in a great invasion of Western Europe.

The American smash 300 miles into the continent touched off bitter aerial battles which flamed clear across the Baltic sea to southern Sweden where at least nine heavy United States bombers were forced down and first reports from returning crew members indicated German fighters again had suffered heavily.

As the nearly 1,000 heavy bombers with their coverage of almost 1,000 fighters raced into Germany to carry the pre-invasion offensive through its fourth day, Nazi radio broadcasts carried the fact that alert German's dwindling fighter pool.

The German radio, prone to exaggeration, claimed more than 100 American planes had been shot down during the fierce aerial fighting.

An indication the big daylight operation was being followed up by...

Enemy Defences In Crimea Collapsing

LONDON, April 11 (AP)—The Red Army descended with spectacular speed upon 100,000 beleaguered German and Romanian troops in the Crimea today and in swift development of its four-day offensive captured the strategic rail junction of Dzhankoi and the heavily-fortified town of Kerch, two of its most important points on the entire peninsula. Premier Stalin announced tonight.

Gen. F. I. Tolbukhin's 4th Ukrainian army, rolling tank and infantry forces forward at a rate of 27 miles per day, captured Dzhankoi at the heart of a big "Y" of railways feeding all the Crimea. The town is 15 miles from the peninsula proper and only 85 miles northwest of the big naval base of Sevastopol.

While these forces were advancing southward from the shore of Kerch, the German troops in Dzhankoi, at the heart of a big "Y" of railways feeding all the Crimea, the town is 15 miles from the peninsula proper and only 85 miles northwest of the big naval base of Sevastopol.

Andrei I. Yeremanko, who signed the final ultimatum prompting the eventual surrender of Field Marshal Friedrich Von Paulus to the German army at Stalingrad, was disclosed as the commander of the Kerch armistice last night at the village in its advance from Kerch.

Long Session Last Night Of City Council

A series of questions from the air service committee of the Charlottetown Board of Trade relating to the present ownership of the Charlottetown airport site and the attitude of the City Council towards surrendering such ownership to the Dominion authorities, formed the substance of a long discussion at the monthly meeting of the City Council last night.

It resulted in the withdrawal of a resolution by Coun. A. T. MacKinnon to the effect that notwithstanding previous information that the Department of Transport would not take over the civil airport until the military use has been discontinued this Council go on record as willing to transfer ownership to the Department at any time, provided that proper maintenance and operation be assured and that Maritime Central Airways ownership of their hanger is protected.

In place of this the City Clerk was instructed to write the Board of Trade committee, answering their questions factually and inviting them to a joint discussion with the Council on the subject.

The meeting, which lasted three and one half hours, was presided over by Deputy Mayor McKee in the absence of Mayor Blanchard.

Another item discussed at length was a proposal to grant 100 feet of parallel parking space, on Queen Street to the E.

Butter Ration Cut May Not Be Needed

OTTAWA, April 11 (CP)—The Dominion Bureau of Statistics said today that creamery butter holdings in April are estimated to be compared with 20,174,000 pounds on March 1 and 9,948,913 pounds a year ago.

Prices Board had no comment on the situation, but it was understood they were giving continuous study to it.

If the supply situation became serious, a reduction in the ration might be necessary, but there was the hope that quantities in store would be sufficient to carry Canada through until enlarged summer production becomes available.

Farm Machinery Output Maintained

OTTAWA, April 11 (CP)—Prices Board officials said today that farm machinery production is being well maintained and is "only a shade" behind the overall output anticipated for the present year.

They were commenting on a statement by the United States war production board in Washington which said that farm machinery manufacture in the United States is trailing 22 per cent behind schedule. The United States Board is boosting the quotas of plants which can stand more pressure in the hope of making up at least part of the production deficit before harvest starts.

Old Balance Of Power Dangerous

MONTREAL, April 11 (CP)—Rt. Hon. Malcolm Macdonald, United Kingdom high commissioner for Canada, said in an address prepared for delivery tonight that the old policy of the balance of power could mean the way "Russia" is revived.

Before Le Cercle Universitaire de Montreal, Mr. Macdonald said phrases had been used in some recent public speeches which seemed to envisage the relationship between the great powers might in some degree be one of rivalry between the great nations.

"The speakers have sought to measure the respective strengths of different powers, and to devise means of striking a balance between them so that no one of them is strong enough to force its will on another," he continued.

"It is the old policy of the balance of power, and that way lies ruin. We should not speak, let alone act in such terms, but let words of that nature introduce a sense of rivalry between the great nations."

"When their relationship became one of competition rather than co-operation the situation was unstable, the balance was upset and nations resorted to war. The balance of power is a policy to keep peace in the past.

If international affairs were to be governed by a different principle and competition between great nations must be replaced by co-operation, Nations must be prepared to make allowances for each other's different points of view, and abandon narrow national ambitions where they conflicted with larger international interests.

"I can speak for Britain," said Mr. Macdonald, "I know my fellow countrymen and country-women. I know their present need. They are passionately anxious to work in that spirit."

May Blockade Eire Before Invasion Day

LONDON, April 11 (AP)—Stringent new steps to isolate Eire from the rest of the world as a potential peaking-post for Axis agents are expected in the light of Allied determination to pursue a policy of safety first in dealing with the neutral nations, it was learned tonight.

Although official quarters are silent on the next move, it is likely that the present restrictions on travel and communications between Britain and Ireland will be made even tighter and perhaps even be accompanied by a virtual blockade as invasion day approaches.

Each step is being weighed gravely to prevent bruising the feelings of neutral nations wherever possible but the basic policy in the field is to be dictated by the desire to prevent a waste of lives.

Nazi Nervous Allies Plan Push At Beachhead

NAPLES, April 11 (AP)—In line-up of fighting on the Anzio Beachhead, British and American troops have thrown back and inflicted casualties on several strong German paratroop attacks. Fighting through Allied lines between Carroceto and Littoria, it was announced.

The Nazi controlled Vichy Radio said Tuesday that American reinforcements had landed on the beachhead near Rome and that it seems another Allied offensive in this sector is imminent.

The enemy's unusual patrol activity—sometimes in platoon strength—indicated nervousness over the situation. Three miles west of Littoria American troops ambushed a Nazi patrol, killing three and capturing two others, and four German engineers captured at Carroceto saw the Germans slung back with losses.

Some Nazi prisoners captured in recent days in Italy have been mutilated which were amputated as a result of frostbite on the Russian front, a headquarters commentator said.

Axis Radio Says Churchill, F. D. R. To Meet Shortly

LONDON, April 11 (CP)—Radio National, an Axis transmitting station purporting to operate from Britain, said in a broadcast tonight that "President Roosevelt" and "Prime Minister Churchill" are to meet shortly.

Earlier it had been announced in the White House at Washington that Roosevelt had gone south for a vacation and rest which would last about two weeks. Neither the time of his departure nor the place where he had gone were disclosed.
