

SUMMERSIDE, ALBERTON AND PRINCE COUNTY

—It pays to buy in this Province. —Crown Prince a fine draft stallion owned by Austin O'Meara, Alberton, is advertised in this issue.

—Some good catches of lobsters have been taken this week at the North Shore. They are fair sized and the fishermen say the prospects are very encouraging.—A.

—The following new subscribers have been added to the ever increasing Telephone system of Summerside:—2-1—F. W. Strong & Co., store, 82-2—Pumping Station, 77-1—High School, R-3-22—C. Harris, St. Eleanor's Road.

—Mrs. Thomas Wilkinson, Alberton, left yesterday for Wardenville, Sask., where she will spend a month or two visiting her son who has been residing at that town for the last five years. Mrs. Wilkinson was accompanied by her daughter, Miss Helen White, who has been engaged as teacher for the school at Wardenville. Mr. Wilkinson went part of the way with them and returned last evening.—A.

—The Morning Daily Guardian can be obtained at Lafferty's Tonsorial Parlors, Summerside, 12-16rtf.

—Councillor J. A. Brace, Summerside, returned on Tuesday evening from a visit to Western Canada.—S.

—All news, advertising and subscriptions in Alberton and Vicinity should be handed to H. Clark, Agent, 1-25drft.

—Frederick G. Tanton, a law student in the office of Bell & Tanton, Summerside, left yesterday morning for Calgary.—S.

—Bicycle tires, inner tubes and all accessories at right prices from the "Perfect" Bicycle agents—Brace, McKay & Co., Summerside, 5-4dthrs2w.

—Carbonal, the wonderful disinfectant should be in every home. Ask the agents, Brace, McKay & Co., Summerside, for pamphlet or call for sample bottle. 5-4dthrs2w.

—The first schooner to arrive in Summerside harbor this season was the J. B. Martin, which arrived yesterday morning in ballast from Charlottetown to load produce for Halifax.—S.

—Joseph Noonan, Albany, will address a meeting in Middleton Hall on Friday, May 5th, 7.30 p. m., giving a description of the work done at the Truro Agriculture College. All are cordially invited.

—$6.50 at Brace McKay & Co's, Summerside, the furniture leaders, buys a Sanitary Steel Coach with soft top mattress or $9.00 with white felt mattress upholstered in green denim with wide pleated valance. 5-4dthrs1w.

—All advertising in Summerside and vicinity for The Morning Daily and Rural Daily as well as all new and renewal subscriptions, should be handed to Miss Amy G. Burrows, agent, Summer Street. All news should be given to J. F. Lafferty, Guardian Correspondent, Water Street. 1-25drft.

—A new barber shop has been opened in Alberton by Charles Arsenault in a building opposite the store of J. H. Myrick and Co. Mr. Arsenault formerly worked in Summerside, serving his apprenticeship there and is well qualified to cater to the wants of the public. Give him a call. 5-4d4&6r5&8.

—The Colonial Stock Company closed their short engagement in the Market Hall, Summerside, last night when they presented "A Fool's Paradise" to a good sized audience notwithstanding the disagreeable weather. The play was splendidly staged and as usual the different members of the company took their parts exceptionally well. The company leaves this morning for Malpeque where they perform tonight, returning to Kensington for the balance of the week.—S.

—The auction sale of thoroughbred horses and cattle from the stock farm of Hon. John Richards and also from the herds of other parties, held by auctioneer Wright at Summerside yesterday, was largely attended by stock raisers from all sections of the country and good prices were realized. The following are some of the sales made: An imported Clydesdale mare 7 years old, bid in by W. B. Hayes, Ellerslie, for $450; a thoroughbred imported Clydesdale mare, 5 years old, sold to Austin Ramsay, Conway, for $330; a thoroughbred Polled Angus bull, 2 years old, to Roy Silliphant, for $76; a thoroughbred Polled Angus cow, 6 years old, to Harry Silliphant for $76, (shortly after the sale Mr. Silliphant sold this cow to a Newfound-land party for $90); one thoroughbred Polled Angus cow, 4 years old, sold to Roy Silliphant for $82; one thoroughbred Polled Angus calf, 6 months old, sold to Hubert McDonald for $42. All the above mentioned stock was from the stock farm of Mr. Richards. One thoroughbred short horn cow, 3 years old, owned by J. W. Calbeck, was sold to T. L. Ramsay, Hamilton, for a good figure and one thoroughbred shorthorn calf, 6 months old, owned by J. W. Calbeck, was sold to Thomas Oulton, Brae, for $27.—S.

—Although the lobster season has been open in Grand River for over a week, yet practically the first good catch was made yesterday. G. Des Roches, Miscouche, who has his factory there, reports having secured 400 lbs. of fish landed at his factory yesterday which he considered an exceptionally good catch for the first over-hauling.—S.

ARBITRATION TREATY IS UNDER DRAFT

WASHINGTON, May 2.—Several tentative drafts of the proposed arbitration treaty between the United States and Great Britain were discussed by President Taft and his cabinet today. Following the cabinet session, Secretary Knox and officials of the state department continued the discussion of details and phraseology, but tonight the president told callers that no draft had been accepted as final and that it might be weeks before the treaty could be submitted to the senate or to Great Britain for ratification. Some difficulties in framing the treaty have disappeared, according to the white house view tonight. The criticism of English newspapers that United States senate must be consulted before disputes could be arbitrated was hardly a valid objection, the president thought. The treaty probably will be general in character. It will provide according to the present idea, that when disputes arise between the United States and Great Britain, they be submitted to an arbitral court for settlement.

In the opinion of the president and his advisors it is perfectly natural that the senate or parliament or the British foreign office should be concerned in arranging the details for the settlement of each dispute. So far no agreement has been reached among the framers of the treaty here as to how the proposed arbitral court shall be constituted. One proposal is that the questions at issue be submitted as they arise to the Hague tribunal. Another is that as each question comes up, a court be constituted by the agreement of both governments to settle that question alone.

The president is of the opinion that Great Britain will not frame a separate proposition, but that it will await the submission of the one being drawn up here. The president told his visitors that he did not know how long the treaty would run.

Asparagus is the oldest known plant used for food. In every locomotive there are about 5,400 different pieces. Magic lanterns were invented in the seventeenth century. School children sit with their backs to the teacher in China. Chickens can now be plucked by means of a special electric fan. The rock on which Gibraltar stands rises, 1,439 feet from the sea. English professional cricketers receive $190 for playing in test matches. Five hundred and thirty-five thousand men work in British coal mines. First English House of Commons convened in 1295. Illuminating gas was first produced and burned in 1688. Threshing machines were invented in England in 1735. Great famine in China in 1342, and it has been estimated that thirteen million people perished therefrom. In England first literary journal was published in 1680, the sporting paper in 1683 and the first medical paper in 1686. The period of the blending of the Saxon and Norman elements that form the English race and language extended from 1066 to 1400. ODD SUPERSTITIONS. It is unlucky to measure a baby, as it will not grow. Bretons throw pins or small pieces of money into well for luck. To sneeze on Monday hastens anger; to sneeze on Friday gives a gift. To sweep dust over the feet of a girl will prevent her getting a husband. Sitting cross-legged or with fingers closed is accounted a sign of bad luck. Bohemian peasants hold it to be unlucky to walk under a rainbow, because the rain that descends through the bow blights all it falls upon. "How about a camera? We have a fine stock of the celebrated Ensign cameras, as well as everything you could possibly need in supplies. Your pleasure is doubled on a fine day, if you have a good "snap-shooter" and we can fully equip you at small cost. Come in and let's show you. The Two Maes.

VIENNA, April 27.—A quarrel about the price of a kiss led to the loss of two lives near Essig, in Slavonia. Two young people, George Michelitsch and Marie Hippitch, who had just become engaged, were walking in the evening on the bank of the Drau river, when Michelitsch was heard to ask the girl for kisses on account of their impending marriage. She gave them but in return said it was only fair if she also got an advance of the housekeeping money for furnishing. He agreed, but when she said she wanted half a crown for each kiss he became furious. Hot words and boxes on the ear followed, but the passerby only laughed at the lovers' quarrel until they saw the man push the girl into the river. As she fell she caught hold of his coat and dragged him in after her. The swift current carried them away and both were drowned before their bodies could be recovered.

THINGS TO REMEMBER. Asparagus is the oldest known plant used for food. In every locomotive there are about 5,400 different pieces. Magic lanterns were invented in the seventeenth century. School children sit with their backs to the teacher in China. Chickens can now be plucked by means of a special electric fan. The rock on which Gibraltar stands rises, 1,439 feet from the sea. English professional cricketers receive $190 for playing in test matches. Five hundred and thirty-five thousand men work in British coal mines. First English House of Commons convened in 1295. Illuminating gas was first produced and burned in 1688. Threshing machines were invented in England in 1735. Great famine in China in 1342, and it has been estimated that thirteen million people perished therefrom. In England first literary journal was published in 1680, the sporting paper in 1683 and the first medical paper in 1686. The period of the blending of the Saxon and Norman elements that form the English race and language extended from 1066 to 1400. ODD SUPERSTITIONS. It is unlucky to measure a baby, as it will not grow. Bretons throw pins or small pieces of money into well for luck. To sneeze on Monday hastens anger; to sneeze on Friday gives a gift. To sweep dust over the feet of a girl will prevent her getting a husband. Sitting cross-legged or with fingers closed is accounted a sign of bad luck. Bohemian peasants hold it to be unlucky to walk under a rainbow, because the rain that descends through the bow blights all it falls upon. "How about a camera? We have a fine stock of the celebrated Ensign cameras, as well as everything you could possibly need in supplies. Your pleasure is doubled on a fine day, if you have a good "snap-shooter" and we can fully equip you at small cost. Come in and let's show you. The Two Maes.

Entered, May 3rd.—S. S. Cascaedia—Lachance—Montreal. Cleared, May 2nd. S. S. Cascaedia—Lachance—Pictou. St. John Millard—Arseneau—Pictou. St. Edwin A. Grozier—McDonald—Pictou.

Shipping News. Entered, May 3rd.—S. S. Cascaedia—Lachance—Montreal. Cleared, May 2nd. S. S. Cascaedia—Lachance—Pictou. St. John Millard—Arseneau—Pictou. St. Edwin A. Grozier—McDonald—Pictou.

Shipping News. Entered, May 3rd.—S. S. Cascaedia—Lachance—Montreal. Cleared, May 2nd. S. S. Cascaedia—Lachance—Pictou. St. John Millard—Arseneau—Pictou. St. Edwin A. Grozier—McDonald—Pictou.

Shipping News. Entered, May 3rd.—S. S. Cascaedia—Lachance—Montreal. Cleared, May 2nd. S. S. Cascaedia—Lachance—Pictou. St. John Millard—Arseneau—Pictou. St. Edwin A. Grozier—McDonald—Pictou.

Shipping News. Entered, May 3rd.—S. S. Cascaedia—Lachance—Montreal. Cleared, May 2nd. S. S. Cascaedia—Lachance—Pictou. St. John Millard—Arseneau—Pictou. St. Edwin A. Grozier—McDonald—Pictou.

Shipping News. Entered, May 3rd.—S. S. Cascaedia—Lachance—Montreal. Cleared, May 2nd. S. S. Cascaedia—Lachance—Pictou. St. John Millard—Arseneau—Pictou. St. Edwin A. Grozier—McDonald—Pictou.

Shipping News. Entered, May 3rd.—S. S. Cascaedia—Lachance—Montreal. Cleared, May 2nd. S. S. Cascaedia—Lachance—Pictou. St. John Millard—Arseneau—Pictou. St. Edwin A. Grozier—McDonald—Pictou.

Shipping News. Entered, May 3rd.—S. S. Cascaedia—Lachance—Montreal. Cleared, May 2nd. S. S. Cascaedia—Lachance—Pictou. St. John Millard—Arseneau—Pictou. St. Edwin A. Grozier—McDonald—Pictou.

Shipping News. Entered, May 3rd.—S. S. Cascaedia—Lachance—Montreal. Cleared, May 2nd. S. S. Cascaedia—Lachance—Pictou. St. John Millard—Arseneau—Pictou. St. Edwin A. Grozier—McDonald—Pictou.

Shipping News. Entered, May 3rd.—S. S. Cascaedia—Lachance—Montreal. Cleared, May 2nd. S. S. Cascaedia—Lachance—Pictou. St. John Millard—Arseneau—Pictou. St. Edwin A. Grozier—McDonald—Pictou.

Shipping News. Entered, May 3rd.—S. S. Cascaedia—Lachance—Montreal. Cleared, May 2nd. S. S. Cascaedia—Lachance—Pictou. St. John Millard—Arseneau—Pictou. St. Edwin A. Grozier—McDonald—Pictou.

Shipping News. Entered, May 3rd.—S. S. Cascaedia—Lachance—Montreal. Cleared, May 2nd. S. S. Cascaedia—Lachance—Pictou. St. John Millard—Arseneau—Pictou. St. Edwin A. Grozier—McDonald—Pictou.

Shipping News. Entered, May 3rd.—S. S. Cascaedia—Lachance—Montreal. Cleared, May 2nd. S. S. Cascaedia—Lachance—Pictou. St. John Millard—Arseneau—Pictou. St. Edwin A. Grozier—McDonald—Pictou.

Shipping News. Entered, May 3rd.—S. S. Cascaedia—Lachance—Montreal. Cleared, May 2nd. S. S. Cascaedia—Lachance—Pictou. St. John Millard—Arseneau—Pictou. St. Edwin A. Grozier—McDonald—Pictou.

Shipping News. Entered, May 3rd.—S. S. Cascaedia—Lachance—Montreal. Cleared, May 2nd. S. S. Cascaedia—Lachance—Pictou. St. John Millard—Arseneau—Pictou. St. Edwin A. Grozier—McDonald—Pictou.

Shipping News. Entered, May 3rd.—S. S. Cascaedia—Lachance—Montreal. Cleared, May 2nd. S. S. Cascaedia—Lachance—Pictou. St. John Millard—Arseneau—Pictou. St. Edwin A. Grozier—McDonald—Pictou.

Shipping News. Entered, May 3rd.—S. S. Cascaedia—Lachance—Montreal. Cleared, May 2nd. S. S. Cascaedia—Lachance—Pictou. St. John Millard—Arseneau—Pictou. St. Edwin A. Grozier—McDonald—Pictou.

Shipping News. Entered, May 3rd.—S. S. Cascaedia—Lachance—Montreal. Cleared, May 2nd. S. S. Cascaedia—Lachance—Pictou. St. John Millard—Arseneau—Pictou. St. Edwin A. Grozier—McDonald—Pictou.

Shipping News. Entered, May 3rd.—S. S. Cascaedia—Lachance—Montreal. Cleared, May 2nd. S. S. Cascaedia—Lachance—Pictou. St. John Millard—Arseneau—Pictou. St. Edwin A. Grozier—McDonald—Pictou.

Shipping News. Entered, May 3rd.—S. S. Cascaedia—Lachance—Montreal. Cleared, May 2nd. S. S. Cascaedia—Lachance—Pictou. St. John Millard—Arseneau—Pictou. St. Edwin A. Grozier—McDonald—Pictou.

Shipping News. Entered, May 3rd.—S. S. Cascaedia—Lachance—Montreal. Cleared, May 2nd. S. S. Cascaedia—Lachance—Pictou. St. John Millard—Arseneau—Pictou. St. Edwin A. Grozier—McDonald—Pictou.

TWO LIVES PRICE OF LOVERS' KISSES

VIENNA, April 27.—A quarrel about the price of a kiss led to the loss of two lives near Essig, in Slavonia. Two young people, George Michelitsch and Marie Hippitch, who had just become engaged, were walking in the evening on the bank of the Drau river, when Michelitsch was heard to ask the girl for kisses on account of their impending marriage. She gave them but in return said it was only fair if she also got an advance of the housekeeping money for furnishing. He agreed, but when she said she wanted half a crown for each kiss he became furious. Hot words and boxes on the ear followed, but the passerby only laughed at the lovers' quarrel until they saw the man push the girl into the river. As she fell she caught hold of his coat and dragged him in after her. The swift current carried them away and both were drowned before their bodies could be recovered.

VIENNA, April 27.—A quarrel about the price of a kiss led to the loss of two lives near Essig, in Slavonia. Two young people, George Michelitsch and Marie Hippitch, who had just become engaged, were walking in the evening on the bank of the Drau river, when Michelitsch was heard to ask the girl for kisses on account of their impending marriage. She gave them but in return said it was only fair if she also got an advance of the housekeeping money for furnishing. He agreed, but when she said she wanted half a crown for each kiss he became furious. Hot words and boxes on the ear followed, but the passerby only laughed at the lovers' quarrel until they saw the man push the girl into the river. As she fell she caught hold of his coat and dragged him in after her. The swift current carried them away and both were drowned before their bodies could be recovered.

VIENNA, April 27.—A quarrel about the price of a kiss led to the loss of two lives near Essig, in Slavonia. Two young people, George Michelitsch and Marie Hippitch, who had just become engaged, were walking in the evening on the bank of the Drau river, when Michelitsch was heard to ask the girl for kisses on account of their impending marriage. She gave them but in return said it was only fair if she also got an advance of the housekeeping money for furnishing. He agreed, but when she said she wanted half a crown for each kiss he became furious. Hot words and boxes on the ear followed, but the passerby only laughed at the lovers' quarrel until they saw the man push the girl into the river. As she fell she caught hold of his coat and dragged him in after her. The swift current carried them away and both were drowned before their bodies could be recovered.

VIENNA, April 27.—A quarrel about the price of a kiss led to the loss of two lives near Essig, in Slavonia. Two young people, George Michelitsch and Marie Hippitch, who had just become engaged, were walking in the evening on the bank of the Drau river, when Michelitsch was heard to ask the girl for kisses on account of their impending marriage. She gave them but in return said it was only fair if she also got an advance of the housekeeping money for furnishing. He agreed, but when she said she wanted half a crown for each kiss he became furious. Hot words and boxes on the ear followed, but the passerby only laughed at the lovers' quarrel until they saw the man push the girl into the river. As she fell she caught hold of his coat and dragged him in after her. The swift current carried them away and both were drowned before their bodies could be recovered.

VIENNA, April 27.—A quarrel about the price of a kiss led to the loss of two lives near Essig, in Slavonia. Two young people, George Michelitsch and Marie Hippitch, who had just become engaged, were walking in the evening on the bank of the Drau river, when Michelitsch was heard to ask the girl for kisses on account of their impending marriage. She gave them but in return said it was only fair if she also got an advance of the housekeeping money for furnishing. He agreed, but when she said she wanted half a crown for each kiss he became furious. Hot words and boxes on the ear followed, but the passerby only laughed at the lovers' quarrel until they saw the man push the girl into the river. As she fell she caught hold of his coat and dragged him in after her. The swift current carried them away and both were drowned before their bodies could be recovered.

VIENNA, April 27.—A quarrel about the price of a kiss led to the loss of two lives near Essig, in Slavonia. Two young people, George Michelitsch and Marie Hippitch, who had just become engaged, were walking in the evening on the bank of the Drau river, when Michelitsch was heard to ask the girl for kisses on account of their impending marriage. She gave them but in return said it was only fair if she also got an advance of the housekeeping money for furnishing. He agreed, but when she said she wanted half a crown for each kiss he became furious. Hot words and boxes on the ear followed, but the passerby only laughed at the lovers' quarrel until they saw the man push the girl into the river. As she fell she caught hold of his coat and dragged him in after her. The swift current carried them away and both were drowned before their bodies could be recovered.

VIENNA, April 27.—A quarrel about the price of a kiss led to the loss of two lives near Essig, in Slavonia. Two young people, George Michelitsch and Marie Hippitch, who had just become engaged, were walking in the evening on the bank of the Drau river, when Michelitsch was heard to ask the girl for kisses on account of their impending marriage. She gave them but in return said it was only fair if she also got an advance of the housekeeping money for furnishing. He agreed, but when she said she wanted half a crown for each kiss he became furious. Hot words and boxes on the ear followed, but the passerby only laughed at the lovers' quarrel until they saw the man push the girl into the river. As she fell she caught hold of his coat and dragged him in after her. The swift current carried them away and both were drowned before their bodies could be recovered.

VIENNA, April 27.—A quarrel about the price of a kiss led to the loss of two lives near Essig, in Slavonia. Two young people, George Michelitsch and Marie Hippitch, who had just become engaged, were walking in the evening on the bank of the Drau river, when Michelitsch was heard to ask the girl for kisses on account of their impending marriage. She gave them but in return said it was only fair if she also got an advance of the housekeeping money for furnishing. He agreed, but when she said she wanted half a crown for each kiss he became furious. Hot words and boxes on the ear followed, but the passerby only laughed at the lovers' quarrel until they saw the man push the girl into the river. As she fell she caught hold of his coat and dragged him in after her. The swift current carried them away and both were drowned before their bodies could be recovered.

VIENNA, April 27.—A quarrel about the price of a kiss led to the loss of two lives near Essig, in Slavonia. Two young people, George Michelitsch and Marie Hippitch, who had just become engaged, were walking in the evening on the bank of the Drau river, when Michelitsch was heard to ask the girl for kisses on account of their impending marriage. She gave them but in return said it was only fair if she also got an advance of the housekeeping money for furnishing. He agreed, but when she said she wanted half a crown for each kiss he became furious. Hot words and boxes on the ear followed, but the passerby only laughed at the lovers' quarrel until they saw the man push the girl into the river. As she fell she caught hold of his coat and dragged him in after her. The swift current carried them away and both were drowned before their bodies could be recovered.

VIENNA, April 27.—A quarrel about the price of a kiss led to the loss of two lives near Essig, in Slavonia. Two young people, George Michelitsch and Marie Hippitch, who had just become engaged, were walking in the evening on the bank of the Drau river, when Michelitsch was heard to ask the girl for kisses on account of their impending marriage. She gave them but in return said it was only fair if she also got an advance of the housekeeping money for furnishing. He agreed, but when she said she wanted half a crown for each kiss he became furious. Hot words and boxes on the ear followed, but the passerby only laughed at the lovers' quarrel until they saw the man push the girl into the river. As she fell she caught hold of his coat and dragged him in after her. The swift current carried them away and both were drowned before their bodies could be recovered.

VIENNA, April 27.—A quarrel about the price of a kiss led to the loss of two lives near Essig, in Slavonia. Two young people, George Michelitsch and Marie Hippitch, who had just become engaged, were walking in the evening on the bank of the Drau river, when Michelitsch was heard to ask the girl for kisses on account of their impending marriage. She gave them but in return said it was only fair if she also got an advance of the housekeeping money for furnishing. He agreed, but when she said she wanted half a crown for each kiss he became furious. Hot words and boxes on the ear followed, but the passerby only laughed at the lovers' quarrel until they saw the man push the girl into the river. As she fell she caught hold of his coat and dragged him in after her. The swift current carried them away and both were drowned before their bodies could be recovered.

VIENNA, April 27.—A quarrel about the price of a kiss led to the loss of two lives near Essig, in Slavonia. Two young people, George Michelitsch and Marie Hippitch, who had just become engaged, were walking in the evening on the bank of the Drau river, when Michelitsch was heard to ask the girl for kisses on account of their impending marriage. She gave them but in return said it was only fair if she also got an advance of the housekeeping money for furnishing. He agreed, but when she said she wanted half a crown for each kiss he became furious. Hot words and boxes on the ear followed, but the passerby only laughed at the lovers' quarrel until they saw the man push the girl into the river. As she fell she caught hold of his coat and dragged him in after her. The swift current carried them away and both were drowned before their bodies could be recovered.

VIENNA, April 27.—A quarrel about the price of a kiss led to the loss of two lives near Essig, in Slavonia. Two young people, George Michelitsch and Marie Hippitch, who had just become engaged, were walking in the evening on the bank of the Drau river, when Michelitsch was heard to ask the girl for kisses on account of their impending marriage. She gave them but in return said it was only fair if she also got an advance of the housekeeping money for furnishing. He agreed, but when she said she wanted half a crown for each kiss he became furious. Hot words and boxes on the ear followed, but the passerby only laughed at the lovers' quarrel until they saw the man push the girl into the river. As she fell she caught hold of his coat and dragged him in after her. The swift current carried them away and both were drowned before their bodies could be recovered.

VIENNA, April 27.—A quarrel about the price of a kiss led to the loss of two lives near Essig, in Slavonia. Two young people, George Michelitsch and Marie Hippitch, who had just become engaged, were walking in the evening on the bank of the Drau river, when Michelitsch was heard to ask the girl for kisses on account of their impending marriage. She gave them but in return said it was only fair if she also got an advance of the housekeeping money for furnishing. He agreed, but when she said she wanted half a crown for each kiss he became furious. Hot words and boxes on the ear followed, but the passerby only laughed at the lovers' quarrel until they saw the man push the girl into the river. As she fell she caught hold of his coat and dragged him in after her. The swift current carried them away and both were drowned before their bodies could be recovered.

VIENNA, April 27.—A quarrel about the price of a kiss led to the loss of two lives near Essig, in Slavonia. Two young people, George Michelitsch and Marie Hippitch, who had just become engaged, were walking in the evening on the bank of the Drau river, when Michelitsch was heard to ask the girl for kisses on account of their impending marriage. She gave them but in return said it was only fair if she also got an advance of the housekeeping money for furnishing. He agreed, but when she said she wanted half a crown for each kiss he became furious. Hot words and boxes on the ear followed, but the passerby only laughed at the lovers' quarrel until they saw the man push the girl into the river. As she fell she caught hold of his coat and dragged him in after her. The swift current carried them away and both were drowned before their bodies could be recovered.

VIENNA, April 27.—A quarrel about the price of a kiss led to the loss of two lives near Essig, in Slavonia. Two young people, George Michelitsch and Marie Hippitch, who had just become engaged, were walking in the evening on the bank of the Drau river, when Michelitsch was heard to ask the girl for kisses on account of their impending marriage. She gave them but in return said it was only fair if she also got an advance of the housekeeping money for furnishing. He agreed, but when she said she wanted half a crown for each kiss he became furious. Hot words and boxes on the ear followed, but the passerby only laughed at the lovers' quarrel until they saw the man push the girl into the river. As she fell she caught hold of his coat and dragged him in after her. The swift current carried them away and both were drowned before their bodies could be recovered.

VIENNA, April 27.—A quarrel about the price of a kiss led to the loss of two lives near Essig, in Slavonia. Two young people, George Michelitsch and Marie Hippitch, who had just become engaged, were walking in the evening on the bank of the Drau river, when Michelitsch was heard to ask the girl for kisses on account of their impending marriage. She gave them but in return said it was only fair if she also got an advance of the housekeeping money for furnishing. He agreed, but when she said she wanted half a crown for each kiss he became furious. Hot words and boxes on the ear followed, but the passerby only laughed at the lovers' quarrel until they saw the man push the girl into the river. As she fell she caught hold of his coat and dragged him in after her. The swift current carried them away and both were drowned before their bodies could be recovered.

VIENNA, April 27.—A quarrel about the price of a kiss led to the loss of two lives near Essig, in Slavonia. Two young people, George Michelitsch and Marie Hippitch, who had just become engaged, were walking in the evening on the bank of the Drau river, when Michelitsch was heard to ask the girl for kisses on account of their impending marriage. She gave them but in return said it was only fair if she also got an advance of the housekeeping money for furnishing. He agreed, but when she said she wanted half a crown for each kiss he became furious. Hot words and boxes on the ear followed, but the passerby only laughed at the lovers' quarrel until they saw the man push the girl into the river. As she fell she caught hold of his coat and dragged him in after her. The swift current carried them away and both were drowned before their bodies could be recovered.

VIENNA, April 27.—A quarrel about the price of a kiss led to the loss of two lives near Essig, in Slavonia. Two young people, George Michelitsch and Marie Hippitch, who had just become engaged, were walking in the evening on the bank of the Drau river, when Michelitsch was heard to ask the girl for kisses on account of their impending marriage. She gave them but in return said it was only fair if she also got an advance of the housekeeping money for furnishing. He agreed, but when she said she wanted half a crown for each kiss he became furious. Hot words and boxes on the ear followed, but the passerby only laughed at the lovers' quarrel until they saw the man push the girl into the river. As she fell she caught hold of his coat and dragged him in after her. The swift current carried them away and both were drowned before their bodies could be recovered.

VIENNA, April 27.—A quarrel about the price of a kiss led to the loss of two lives near Essig, in Slavonia. Two young people, George Michelitsch and Marie Hippitch, who had just become engaged, were walking in the evening on the bank of the Drau river, when Michelitsch was heard to ask the girl for kisses on account of their impending marriage. She gave them but in return said it was only fair if she also got an advance of the housekeeping money for furnishing. He agreed, but when she said she wanted half a crown for each kiss he became furious. Hot words and boxes on the ear followed, but the passerby only laughed at the lovers' quarrel until they saw the man push the girl into the river. As she fell she caught hold of his coat and dragged him in after her. The swift current carried them away and both were drowned before their bodies could be recovered.

VIENNA, April 27.—A quarrel about the price of a kiss led to the loss of two lives near Essig, in Slavonia. Two young people, George Michelitsch and Marie Hippitch, who had just become engaged, were walking in the evening on the bank of the Drau river, when Michelitsch was heard to ask the girl for kisses on account of their impending marriage. She gave them but in return said it was only fair if she also got an advance of the housekeeping money for furnishing. He agreed, but when she said she wanted half a crown for each kiss he became furious. Hot words and boxes on the ear followed, but the passerby only laughed at the lovers' quarrel until they saw the man push the girl into the river. As she fell she caught hold of his coat and dragged him in after her. The swift current carried them away and both were drowned before their bodies could be recovered.

VIENNA, April 27.—A quarrel about the price of a kiss led to the loss of two lives near Essig, in Slavonia. Two young people, George Michelitsch and Marie Hippitch, who had just become engaged, were walking in the evening on the bank of the Drau river, when Michelitsch was heard to ask the girl for kisses on account of their impending marriage. She gave them but in return said it was only fair if she also got an advance of the housekeeping money for furnishing. He agreed, but when she said she wanted half a crown for each kiss he became furious. Hot words and boxes on the ear followed, but the passerby only laughed at the lovers' quarrel until they saw the man push the girl into the river. As she fell she caught hold of his coat and dragged him in after her. The swift current carried them away and both were drowned before their bodies could be recovered.

VIENNA, April 27.—A quarrel about the price of a kiss led to the loss of two lives near Essig, in Slavonia. Two young people, George Michelitsch and Marie Hippitch, who had just become engaged, were walking in the evening on the bank of the Drau river, when Michelitsch was heard to ask the girl for kisses on account of their impending marriage. She gave them but in return said it was only fair if she also got an advance of the housekeeping money for furnishing. He agreed, but when she said she wanted half a crown for each kiss he became furious. Hot words and boxes on the ear followed, but the passerby only laughed at the lovers' quarrel until they saw the man push the girl into the river. As she fell she caught hold of his coat and dragged him in after her. The swift current carried them away and both were drowned before their bodies could be recovered.

VIENNA, April 27.—A quarrel about the price of a kiss led to the loss of two lives near Essig, in Slavonia. Two young people, George Michelitsch and Marie Hippitch, who had just become engaged, were walking in the evening on the bank of the Drau river, when Michelitsch was heard to ask the girl for kisses on account of their impending marriage. She gave them but in return said it was only fair if she also got an advance of the housekeeping money for furnishing. He agreed, but when she said she wanted half a crown for each kiss he became furious. Hot words and boxes on the ear followed, but the passerby only laughed at the lovers' quarrel until they saw the man push the girl into the river. As she fell she caught hold of his coat and dragged him in after her. The swift current carried them away and both were drowned before their bodies could be recovered.

VIENNA, April 27.—A quarrel about the price of a kiss led to the loss of two lives near Essig, in Slavonia. Two young people, George Michelitsch and Marie Hippitch, who had just become engaged, were walking in the evening on the bank of the Drau river, when Michelitsch was heard to ask the girl for kisses on account of their impending marriage. She gave them but in return said it was only fair if she also got an advance of the housekeeping money for furnishing. He agreed, but when she said she wanted half a crown for each kiss he became furious. Hot words and boxes on the ear followed, but the passerby only laughed at the lovers' quarrel until they saw the man push the girl into the river. As she fell she caught hold of his coat and dragged him in after her. The swift current carried them away and both were drowned before their bodies could be recovered.

VIENNA, April 27.—A quarrel about the price of a kiss led to the loss of two lives near Essig, in Slavonia. Two young people, George Michelitsch and Marie Hippitch, who had just become engaged, were walking in the evening on the bank of the Drau river, when Michelitsch was heard to ask the girl for kisses on account of their impending marriage. She gave them but in return said it was only fair if she also got an advance of the housekeeping money for furnishing. He agreed, but when she said she wanted half a crown for each kiss he became furious. Hot words and boxes on the ear followed, but the passerby only laughed at the lovers' quarrel until they saw the man push the girl into the river. As she fell she caught hold of his coat and dragged him in after her. The swift current carried them away and both were drowned before their bodies could be recovered.

VIENNA, April 27.—A quarrel about the price of a kiss led to the loss of two lives near Essig, in Slavonia. Two young people, George Michelitsch and Marie Hippitch, who had just become engaged, were walking in the evening on the bank of the Drau river, when Michelitsch was heard to ask the girl for kisses on account of their impending marriage. She gave them but in return said it was only fair if she also got an advance of the housekeeping money for furnishing. He agreed, but when she said she wanted half a crown for each kiss he became furious. Hot words and boxes on the ear followed, but the passerby only laughed at the lovers' quarrel until they saw the man push the girl into the river. As she fell she caught hold of his coat and dragged him in after her. The swift current carried them away and both were drowned before their bodies could be recovered.

VIENNA, April 27.—A quarrel about the price of a kiss led to the loss of two lives near Essig, in Slavonia. Two young people, George Michelitsch and Marie Hippitch, who had just become engaged, were walking in the evening on the bank of the Drau river, when Michelitsch was heard to