FAREWELL AT PLEASANT VALLEY

On the evening of Nov. 12, 1931 the ratepayers of Pleasant Valley School district gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joan A. McDonald to bid them farewell prior to their departure to Ebenezzer. The evening was spent very pleasantly. An address of appreciation was read and Mr. Jordan Andrew in behalf of friends and rate payers presented Mr. and Mrs. McDonald with a 300 candle power, Quick-lite Coleman Gas Lamp. The balance of the contribution being given to the children in cash.

Mr. McDonald in behalf of self and family very feelingly replied, thanking the friends present for this token of regard, as well as for the goodwill and fellowship, characteristic of this community.

Mr. Thomas Wigmore, M.P.P. as chairman of the evening spoke in highest terms of the esteem in which our departing friends and neighbors were held by a very large circle of acquaintances. Other speakers were: Mr. James McSwain, John H. Weeks, N. Murphy, M. D. McLeman, R. Smith, H. Weeks, J.B. McDowell, R. Stevenson, J. Hickox, M. McInnis, J. McLeod, Alex. McDonald, Hon. Walter McKenzie, M.P.P., John Mayne and Mrs. Hugh McKay.

Following is the address: To Mr. and Mrs. John A. McDonald and family: Dear Friends,—We, your neighbors of Pleasant Valley School district having learned with regret that you are about to leave us and return to your old home, meet with you tonight to spend a social hour together and take this opportunity to express our appreciation of your sterling worth as members of our community and as neighbors in particular.

To you Mr. McDonald, coming here fifteen years ago a stranger to most of us, we soon realized you would make a good citizen. But while you were diligent in business and gathering about you these things which make for a comfortable and prosperous homestead. You were experiencing the other side of life as expressed in the Good Book. It is not good for man to live alone, and being a practical man after two years of single wretchedness you brought home a bonnie bride who was to be your helpmate and a splendid addition to the ever widening influence of women in our midst.

We assure you Mrs. McDonald, your absence will be keenly felt from the Women's Institute of which you have been a valued member and steadfast supporter as well as your hospitality in your home and kindness to all people who had the pleasure of your acquaintance.

Nor would we forget the children that bless your home, growing up in wisdom and stature and favor with old and young. We will miss Kathleen and Douglas at home, at school, at play, as well as in the Sunday School which they attended so regularly and little Chester who has won the hearts of all with his bright and childish manner as only a boy of two years can do.

Please accept this lamp as a remembrance from your friends and when the shades of evening gather round just turn on the gas and experience in a little measure our wish for you. "At eventide there shall be light"—We trust you can visit us occasionally and so strengthen the bond of friendship which none of us would wish to sever.
