Her mother had good health. She can still operate a spinning wheel and every year spins the flax grown on the place for spinning and with her thread obtained makes beautiful articles, including table cloths and other things. Many who have seen her know she is far superior to any manufactured article. That Mrs. Arsenault may enjoy more years of health, peace and usefulness is the wish of her many friends.—

MR. JOSEPH SMALLMAN
Friends throughout the Province, especially in Summerside, were deeply grieved to learn of the sudden passing of Mr. Joseph Smallman on Monday, May 12. Mr. Smallman had not been in good health since December last, he had improved greatly in the last few weeks, previous to his death and was able to be outside of late. In spite of this recent progress, the end came suddenly and was a great shock to all who knew him.
The funeral was held on Wednesday last at Trinity United Church. Rev. L. E. G. Davies, assisted by Rev. G. A. Christie of Central, led the service. A large number of friends were present. Burial took place in the cemetery on Friday.

Drive for troops Sweeping along "Satisfactorily"
OTTAWA, May 21.—(CP)—Given a month to reach its peak, Canada's new drive for 32,000 active army recruits swept along "satisfactorily" today, campaign leaders reported.
National Defence Headquarters declined to issue figures of the drive to date but officers pointed to Air Minister Power's statement at a press conference last week that all is well with the drive.
"A very definite improvement has been reported from all military districts as to recruiting for the army," Maj. Power said at that time in his capacity as associate minister of national defence. "If more men volunteer than the 32,000 we are asking for, we'll take them."
Army display is a major factor in the campaign.
Throughout this week on Parliament Hill detachments from units stationed in the capital are going through a nightly guard-mounting and changing ceremony. Maj. Power said citizens' committees had been formed in the various military districts to help in the drive and that the campaign was expected to reach its peak around mid-June.
The Canadian Broadcasting Corporation and 90 radio stations have offered free time to co-operate in the campaign, he said. "We will make great use of billboards, streetcar advertisements, booklets, large-scale newspaper advertising and films."
The billboard appeal is being launched in about 265 cities and towns and, in addition, posters also are being distributed to be placed on the walls of buildings. Each billboard bears the picture of a soldier in full battle dress, pointing forward and saying: "You are needed now."
One advertisement prepared for insertion in the press shows a tank and motorcycles proceeding over rough terrain. The caption, directed at Canadian youth, is: "Here is the excitement you've been wanting."

S'ide Young Lady In Song Recital
Miss Edna Baker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Baker of Summerside was presented by Miss Mary Leighton at the Heliconian Club, Toronto, recently in her first song recital, and her performance was very favourably commented upon by music lovers in Toronto.
Miss Baker was formerly a member of the Summerside Presbyterian Church Choir and friends in Summerside will be delighted to hear that she is making such good progress with her singing. Mrs. Baker went up to Toronto for her daughter's recital. Following is the account of the recital as given in a Toronto paper.
"Another in the spring crop of first recitals was the very attractive program of songs given last night by a young lyric soprano, Edna Baker, who has intelligence and personality to enhance her pleasing qualities of voice.
Miss Baker followed the more or less conventional song recital pattern beginning with a group which included Handel numbers, one aria from Semelle, 'O Sleep Why Dost Thou Leave Me,' and compositions by Bach and Pergolesi. Salvatore Rosa's Star Vecino was also in this group. Miss Baker went on to a Gounod aria, 'Air des Biaux,' from Faust. A third group included such charming songs as 'The Lass with the Red Hair,' 'The Lass with the Blue Eyes,' 'The Lass with the White Lily Gown,' and Arne's 'Lass with the Delicate Air,' and the concluding group comprised songs by Martin Shaw, Dunhill, Gibbs, Easthope, Debussy, Silver, and Hampt. Miss Baker's accompaniments and also contributed to the program Chopin and Tchaikowsky piano solos. It was announced that net proceeds of the recital would be given to the British War Victims' Fund."
Following is the program:
I—Star Vecino—Salvatore Rosa. If Thou Be Near—Bach. Se Tu M'Ami—Pergolesi. O Sleep Why Dost Thou Leave Me (Semelle)—Handel. Pack Clouds Away—Handel.
II—Air Des B'Joux (Faust)—Gounod.
III—Etude in F Minor, Etude in A Flat (Trois Nouvelles Etudes)—Chopin. Dounica (Scene Rustique Russe)—Tchaikowsky—Cyril Hampshire.
IV—Je Sais Attacher des Rubans (Les Oies de Prere Philippe)—V. Dourlens. Have You Seen But a White Lily Grown Old (English)—A. Sallor. Loved Lull (Onglet)—arr. by Lane Wilson—Storee. Plaisir d'Amour—Martini. The Lass with the Delicate Air—Arne.
V—The Song of the Palanquin Bearer—Martin Shaw. To the Queen of Heaven—Dunhill. Marie Doline—Debussy. Silver—Gibbs. Daffodils—Easthope. Martin. God Save the King.

Death yesterday Of Mrs. George A. Burch
There passed away at the Prince County hospital yesterday Mrs. George A. Burch. Mrs. Burch had not been well for some time and had been to Montreal for treatment. On Monday of this week she was brought to the Prince County hospital in a very serious condition and in spite of the best of medical skill and nursing she passed away at the comparatively early age of 43 years.
Mrs. Burch was the wife of George A. Burch, 1st mate on the S.S. Charlottetown. Her maiden name was Joyce Ambree and she was the daughter of Mrs. Ambree of Port Hawkesbury, C. B., and the late Captain John Ambree. Her mother was formerly Mary Nelson of Orwell, P. E. I.
Besides her husband, one son, Blair and her mother are left to cherish her memory. Mrs. John Read, whose husband is the son of Captain Read of the car ferry, is a sister. Many friends both here and in Cape Breton will regret to learn of her passing.
The funeral will take place on Friday from her late residence at Borden to the Baptist Church.

Girls to claw Nazi bombers From skies
By William Humphreys
Associated Press Staff Writer
LONDON, May 21.—(CP)—Delicate, nimble fingers that once manicured bankers' "pinkies," typed the empire's business letters and waved curls in the hair-dos of London stage beauties may soon be with the convivance of secret devices—clawing Nazi bombers out of the night skies over Britain.
It's part of the new job for the girls of the auxiliary territorial service who are nearing the end of their training for service with anti-aircraft batteries.
They were former manicurists, stenographers and beauty shop operators among other things, and have showed themselves prepared to "man" the mechanical range finders and release solenoids for more active service.
Their average age is 20 and they all are volunteers. They gave a sample of their handling of the "hush-ush" predators and height finders at a gunsite "somewhere in the London area."
When the battery commander indicated a shrill whistle that sirens had sounded, they stamped out of one of many camouflaged huts as if catapulsed.
If it weren't for lipstick, a touch of rouge, the occasional plucked eyebrow, and wisps of blond, brun, and red hair clogging iron under tin hat brims, they would look just like Tommies tearing to their stations.
The A. T. S. volunteer wears battle dress like the men's—pants, jackets and regimental insignia. One girl filed into a sand-bagged post, their team of 14 divided quickly.
Six started spinning intricate dials and complicated predictors mechanism.
Three specialists bent over a long, tubular height finder.
Two mounted a tripod identifier with powerful long-range glasses for distinguishing friend or foe thousands of feet up.
One occupied the role of field glass spotter for a Lewis gun crew which goes into action should the enemy come low enough.
Two went on duty as telephoneists for contact with other batteries in the London area.
Though there was no distant hum of enemy aircraft hiding above low grey clouds, the girls carried out their practice as if it were a real air raid.
In soft spoken, unburied exchange figures, they calibrated instruments the fingers of which were constantly coordinated and conveyed to gunners who elevated, lowered or swung muzzles as directed.

Previously he was director of the Western Associated Press a pioneer in the co-operative news service field. He was chairman of The Canadian Press delegation which visited Britain and France and the western front in the first Great War as guests of the Allied governments.

Would wipe out Chimney fires
HALIFAX, May 21.—(CP)—That firemen's plague, the chimney fire may become a nearly obsolete as the horse and buggy if all goes well for a 36-year-old Liverpool, N.S., paper company employee.
J.H.E. Rogers got partial reward for three years' toil recently when Nova Scotia's fire marshal, Col. S. Wright, lowered him off from the roof of a Halifax fire station and acknowledged that what he had just seen of Rogers' two part invention had "excellent possibilities."
The Canadian Broadcasting Corporation and 90 radio stations have offered free time to co-operate in the campaign, he said. "We will make great use of billboards, streetcar advertisements, booklets, large-scale newspaper advertising and films."
