Comparison Of Rival Batteries

Athletics Have Edge Over St. Louis Cardinals—Grove And Cochrane A Great Team.

By Gayle Talbot, Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, N. Y., Sept. 29.—For two very good reasons, a sensible comparison of pitching and catching strength of the Philadelphia Athletics and St. Louis Cardinals is one of the toughest tasks ever wished on anybody. The first reason is Robert Moses Grove; the second is Mickey Cochrane.

As long as those two are hale and hearty and playing for the Athletics, there is little to be gained in trying to compare the Mack team's battery strength with any club they might encounter in the World's Series. The Cardinals undoubtedly have the finest pitching corps in the National League and perhaps, the second best in either league, but they do not have a hurler in the same class with "Lefty" Grove. They have a capable catcher in Jimmie Wilson, but he is not a Mickey Cochrane.

In other words, it is a top-heavy arrangement. Grove, who won 31 games this season and lost only four, is the greatest southpaw of modern times. Perhaps he is the greatest of all time. Cochrane is the greatest catcher in the game today. Take those two away from the Athletics and they still would be a tolerably good ball club. With them, they are favorites to win their third straight world championship, something never before accomplished.

Thanks to the schedule, Grove will be able to start three games in the forthcoming world series, providing it goes the limit. He might, in addition, be able to get in a little relief work. It takes only four victories to win the title. So, you get an idea.

THE COAL

In a statement today, General Manager H. J. Kelley of the coal company defended the overman's action, although saying the man had committed an "error in judgment" in not at once informing the men concerned. The miners, he declared had violated their agreement in not returning to work pending negotiations. The strike was begun without consent of the U. M. W. executive, who have since been endeavoring to effect a settlement.

It now remains to be seen whether the rank and file of the district will observe the advice of the union officers, or heed the call for support of Florence. Several locals have already gone on record as favoring the Florence appeal. Whether they would hold to this resolve in the face of a definite statement by the executive was still a matter of conjecture tonight.

DOGS TAKE HUGE DEER TOLL

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Sept. 29.—(U.P.)—A four point, white-tailed buck deer, fleeing from dogs, broke its neck as it attempted to jump a ravine and escape, near the toll-gate entrance to the Cheyenne Mountain road, Frank Foley, game warden, reported. Foley estimates from 15 to 20 deer are killed annually by dogs in this district.

Governor Ross, of Idaho, has just made a six months old baby a colonial. Presumably in the infantry.

Cardinals even more complete, the records show that the national league champions have been particularly weak against left handed pitchers this year. Manager Gabby Street has been drilling them for several days against smart left handed pitching, borrowing Bill Walker of the Giants for the purpose.

It is not to be inferred Grove will not have plenty of help. There is big George Earnshaw, the right-hander, who beat the Cards twice last year and was the individual pitching hero of the series, allowing only 13 hits in 25 innings. There also is George Walberg, another southpaw, winner of 20 games this year; Leroy Mahaffey, crack young right-hander, who delivered 15 victories toward the Athletics victorious march; and Waite Hoyt, the veteran of six world series while with the Yankees, who has pitched superlative ball since Mack obtained him from Detroit in midseason.

Against this great array of mound talent, Gabby Street will pit practically the same staff that failed to make the grade a year ago. The only important addition to the Cardinals staff is Paul Derringer, the big rookie from Rochester, who comes very near being the ace of the outfit. Winner of 18 out of 26 games, Derringer looks like the logical nominee to face the Athletics in the opening tilt, despite his lack of world's series experience.

Burleigh Grimes, Bill Hallahan and Jesse Haines, all of whom saw plenty of action in the last series, round out the Cardinals "big four." Jim Lindsey likely will do any jobs of relief pitching. Haines beat the Athletics his only start in the 1930 classic, while Hallahan, the club's southpaw, broke even in two tries.

Used Shears Or Serious Operation?

(Canadian Press) COPENHAGEN, Denmark, Sept. 29.—A story of how a member of the expedition of the late Dr. Alfred Wegener had his ten toes amputated in midwinter on the Greenland ice cap came to light today. Dr. Johannes Georgi, German scientist, said he and Dr. Ernest Sorge, neither of them surgeons—operated on Dr. Fritz Loewe, whose toes had been frost bitten on a trek from the coast to the central camp. They used a pair of tin-cutting shears and a small pocket knife in weather that was many degrees below zero. The operation took ninety minutes and Dr. Loewe was said to have borne up with fortitude.

COMMUNIST

district were hurriedly summoned. WINNIPEG, Man., Sept. 29.—(By the Canadian Press)—A fighting mayor today told the Canadian Press over long distance telephone of the battle that took place in his town this afternoon. Mayor Bannatyne was an eye-witness of the fight that took place between striking miners and police when the former defied the mayor's order that there was to be no demonstration at the town hall.

The crowd, he said, numbering about 600 swooped down on the business section, intent upon holding a meeting in front of the city hall. Officers of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police formed a human barrier across the streets but with loud cheers the strikers, bearing in front of them the Soviet emblem, charged the policemen. Tear bombs were thrown and the officers tore into a now maddened mob, wielding their batons before them. The fire engine was brought into action in an endeavor to drench the rioters but before it could be connected it was disabled by the miners who flung themselves upon the machine as soon as it hove in sight.

Officers were stoned and beaten as they were overwhelmed by the battling miners but still they fought on and then orders were given to fire over their heads as a warning. The warning, however, was unheeded and finally in a last endeavor to halt the stampeding mob, police fired among the struggling crowd. Four fell wounded but it was fully 45 minutes before the invaders began to retreat before the smashing blows of the police batons.

CROWD DISPERSED

Once the movement began the crowd turned and readily made to their waiting cars and trucks in which had travelled from the mines nine miles away. They beat a hasty retreat but not before threatening to return to finish the fight tonight.

Mayor Bannatyne said an appeal had been made for reinforcements and all available policemen were being rushed to the scene in anticipation of tonight's battle. Three of the four wounded, were dead, Mayor Bannatyne said, while the other, a bystander, received a slug in the leg.

Estevan residents did not participate in the fray, according to the mayor. Communists, he said, had been brought in from Winnipeg, Regina and other centres to take part. There were a great many among the rioters who were not miners, he thought.

WILL MAINTAIN ORDER

REGINA, Sask., Sept. 29.—(By the Canadian Press)—Vigorous steps to maintain law and order in Saskatchewan's coal fields were being planned tonight by the provincial government and officers of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

"If necessary we will call out the militia to maintain law and order," declared Hon. M. A. McPherson, Attorney-General.

Late this afternoon 40 additional constables and officers of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police were hurrying by train to the strike area to re-inforce the already strong detachment there. Under instructions from the attorney-general, H. E. Sampson, K. C., agent for the attorney-general, is accompanying the police.

Proclamation of martial law in the disturbed area was talked of but after a cabinet meeting Mr. McPherson said he had been in communication with the mayor of Estevan and he later considered this step "unnecessary."

IS NEAR BOUNDARY LINE

The town of Estevan, scene of today's battle between police and strikers is in the southeast corner of Saskatchewan a short distance north of the boundary of North Dakota.

The coal mines are about nine miles from the town and have been the centre of attention since miners went on strike early in September. One or two small mines are still in operation. The miners are dissatisfied with conditions and demand more pay.

Allegations that the strike was inspired by communist leaders have been common. From Calgary came an offer from the Canadian Defenders League to recruit 600 men to man the mines and break the strike but nothing came of it beyond an announcement from strike leaders that they would bring in re-inforcements from Winnipeg to prevent imported laborers from going to work.

Anticipating disturbance, Estevan town officials have secured additional protection from the Royal Canadian Mounted and Provincial Police. The first threat of disorder occurred last week when a crowd of strikers came to one of the working mines and sought to induce miners to leave their jobs. They dispersed on the arrival of the police.

Andree Relics Found On Spot Of Expedition

(Associated Press) OSLO, Norway, Sept. 29.—Additional discoveries at the last camp of the Arctic balloon expedition of Professor Salomon Andree on White Island were reported today.

Gustav Doebler, a restaurant manager, said that a ship on which he was acting as chef this summer stopped at the island for two hours and that he and other passengers visited Andree's camp. They found a small camera, a knitted cap, a windproof cap and a small human bone.

Doebler said that they saw the skin of a polar bear which they believed the explorers had killed and partly eaten and expressed the opinion that other articles could be found on the spot.

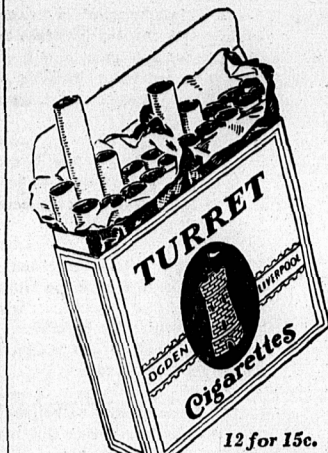

Toll-Gate... On July 14th, 1931, this great pacing horse established a record for the fastest four-heat race ever contested in the history of harness racing. The average time for the four heats being a trifle under 2 min; 1 1/2 sec.

The RECORD SPEAKS for ITSELF

The World's Record Pacing Horse commands the homage of all horsemen for his speed, his stamina and his courage—while quality, mildness and fragrance are the outstanding qualities which have established the record for popularity held by Turret cigarettes in the race for public favour.

After all, nothing can replace good, honest tobacco; grown and ripened right out in the field under nature's own sunlight—nothing artificial about that—and the high quality is "inbred".

noon Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald had an hour's audience with the King, to whom he communicated the developments of the political situation.

No Decision

So far as could be learned tonight, the Cabinet meeting, after Prime Minister MacDonald had seen His Majesty, reached no definite decision and meets again tomorrow. In the House of Commons Prime Minister MacDonald is to reply to a question from Rt. Hon. Arthur Henderson, leader of the Labor Opposition, as to when the present session will end.

This pronouncement by the Prime Minister tomorrow is awaited with tense expectancy by the whole nation. With the Conservatives wanting an immediate election with tariffs as a leading issue; with Liberal members declared no less vigorous in their opposition to both an election and tariffs, the situation contains elements which might give rise to almost any surprising developments.

Members of both sides of the House, puzzled over the turn in events, vainly sought information tonight. Those who a few days ago were absolutely certain an election was at hand, were less certain tonight. But over today's cabinet meeting, held in the Prime Minister's room in the House of Commons, the veil of secrecy was tightly drawn.

Fate of Government in Balance

The fate of the Co-operative Government was in the balance tonight, and the fate of the man at the head of it was in the same situation. Prime Minister MacDonald personally has three alternatives before him. He is known to favor going ahead without an election, his greatest anxiety being to pull Great Britain through her financial crisis. One step therefore would merely be to prorogue parliament until the spring, which would give him an opportunity to strengthen his cabinet. Another would be to dissolve parliament and hold the general elections. The third alternative for Mr. MacDonald is resignation and temporary retirement from politics, leaving the parties to fight the election on the tariff issue.

Tomorrow will likely see the issue decided.

All of the crew comprising nineteen men were rescued. All but one was from Philadelphia.

To Tax Or Not To Tax

(Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, D.C., Sept. 29.—The taxpayer in the United States probably will know in a month or six weeks whether Congress will be asked to dig deeper into his pocket-book. Treasury experts are trying to solve the problem presented by declining tax receipts and mounting expenditures. A decision may be expected several weeks before Congress convenes in December. Whether it is for tax revision or continuation of the present borrowing policy, with consequent increases in the public debt, President Hoover must pass on it before it goes to Congress. The President has been represented as opposed to higher taxes during the depression, if it is at all possible to avoid them. He has urged drastic economy all along the line, but whether this will be enough without more taxes remains for the Treasury to find out. Senators and Representatives in Washington, in both parties, are widely divided on the question of a tax boost. Some are opposed to higher taxes; others favor increases in income taxes; still others seek sales taxes on all commodities, higher surtaxes and a luxury tax. For the fiscal year to the close of business, Sept. 22, income tax receipts amounted to $305,594,578, as compared with $338,353,914 in the same period of the previous year. Total receipts to date from all sources have amounted to $549,962,739, while expenditures totalled $914,221,026, leaving the Government with a deficit of $364,258,237. The Government has to meet obligations incurred in other years, and pay interest on the public debt left over from the war. It must pay more than $100,000,000 on the public debt on Dec. 15, and pay approximately $990,000,000 for maturing securities.

and France.

Withdrawn yesterday from the New York federal reserve bank by the guaranty trust company of New York, it was locked in the great vaults of two of the fastest liners plying the Atlantic, the Europa, and the Aquitania. Speed is essential because of the loss of interest on the gold, while in transit. Both sailed today.

The largest portion of the day's shipment goes to France, which has a gold supply second only to the United States. The Guaranty Trust Co. announced that the Aquitania was carrying $12,000,000 in gold, of which $7,000,000 is for France, and the rest for Switzerland. The Europa, which holds the trans-Atlantic speed record, carries a consignment of $9,420,000 of which all but $200,000 is destined for France. The balance goes to Switzerland.
