YOUTHFUL THIEF.—The following from the Sydney Record will be of interest here as Messrs. McCoubry and Bullman are both Islanders and well known.—Messrs. McCoubry and Bullman had an exciting experience with a young thief Tuesday afternoon. The members of the firm and their assistants were in the rear shop when they heard the cash register ring. Everyone made for the office, but all that could be seen was a young boy running up Prince street. One of the men gave chase. "Papers, 'No, I want you," and he escorted the boy back to the office, where he was kept until the cash was counted up. It was found to be $50.15 short and the lad was induced to disgorge the round sum, but he still retains the 15 cents as a memento of his escapade. The lad was taken to his home and his mother told of the matter. Passers-by say the argument between the two was loud and strenuous. Whether the 15 was up for the spanking is not determined.

EAST AFRICA FASHIONABLE.

LONDON, Nov. 20—British East Africa is beginning to compete in the winter resort business, and it is getting to be quite the fashion to spend a few months at Nairobi. Outgoing steamers are all well filled with persons socially prominent.

Managing Director Tritton of the Newland-Carlton Company, who fitted out Col. Roosevelt's African expedition, says that the company is receiving many inquiries from those planning the pilgrimage, including numerous sportsmen lured by the infinite possibilities of big game shooting. He added that East Africa was also getting to be quite popular as a honeymoon resort.
