SUNBURN
RELIEVED INSTANTLY
—or no cost!

"AFTER giving many different sunburn remedies a fair trial here at Asbury Park, we have found that Noxzema Cream beats them all," says Chief Newberry.

"Every sunburn patient that we treat says practically the same thing—'It takes the fire and pain out the moment you put it on and heals the burned skin quickly.'"

No need to suffer from painful sunburn this summer. Spread Noxzema on promptly—it soothes—cools—ends pain instantly. And if applied before exposure, it prevents sunburn and allows the skin to take on an even, healthy tan. It's greaseless and cannot stain clothes. itan northwest side—aware that drama was about to be enacted. They had become suspicious when the non-uniformed federal men with their guns crowded the entrance of the theatre. They had turned in an alarm to police who came on the rush, prepared to halt a robbery but stayed to watch the government end its chase of so many months.

Dillinger strode out with two women, furtively as he neared the street,—then straightened jauntily. Then he was slain. A woman was slightly wounded—it could not be learned who. It was said his companions escaped.

Government men surrounded his body and would let no one near. They placed it in an ambulance, and word went to Washington that Dillinger had been shot and would be dead in four or five minutes. Then the ambulance went to a hospital but it was not taken inside. The ambulance stood in a driveway, without lights, closely guarded, apparently awaiting word from Washington authorities. He was shot at 10.40 p.m., C.D.T.

Only yesterday the bank robber and ex-convict had been reported near Culver, Ind. The day before he had been "seen" near Whiting, Ind. Each day, almost without a skip, he had been reported from some point between the two coasts.

He had not been in custody, however, since March 3 when he bluffed his way out of the county jail at Crown Point, Ind., with a wooden pistol. He had been awaiting trial for the slaying of Officer William O'Malley in the robbery of a bank at East Chicago, Ind.

He fled west after that, aiming perhaps to leave the country, but a group of "hick cops,"—he called them—took him in Tucson, Ariz., several weeks later and he was returned to Crown Point by plane. The two women passersby wounded by bullets during the shooting, later were identified at the hospital as Mrs. Atta Natelsky and Miss Theresa Paulus, 29, both of Chicago.

As far as could be learned immediately, the detail of Chicago policemen known as the "Dillinger detail" was not aware of the trap laid for the outlaw and were not present. Only a skeleton force of this group was on duty at the Marquette police station on Chicago's south side as Sunday was the "day off" for the men.

Protect Dairy Exports

For the better protection of exports of butter and cheese from Canada, an alteration has been made in the Dairy Industry Act whereby each package must be re nforced by a metal band applied round the centre of each box at right angles to the grain of the wood in the cover and bottem: also by two other metal bands, one at right angles to the other. The first band must have a minimum tensile strength of 450 pounds and be of unannealed flat metal strapping, or of galvanized open-hearth, hand-drawn wire. Town Of Summerside Wins At Tax Collecting

P.E.I. Centre Also Mecca Of World's Fox Fanciers

Under the above heading the Financial Post has this to say about the enterprise and financial standing of Summerside:

The little town of Summerside, Prince Edward Island, leads Canada with the lowest per capita tax arrears of any municipality in the Dominion, according to available information.

The per capita arrears of 1933 taxes at the end of that year were 35.9 cents. Per capita total arrears were 92.7 cents. These figures are based on the 1931 census, and would probably be less, if allowance were made for a slight increase in the population of 3,914.

Measuring the tax collections another way, Summerside collected 96.4 per cent of its current levy in 1933.

The town's exceptional record was brought suddenly to light after a news dispatch had gone from coast to coast giving another municipality credit for the lowest per capita tax arrears. Summerside's record apparently hasn't been challenged.

Famous For Foxes

What kind of a town is it that has next to no tax arrears?

Summerside has another important claim to fame. In Leipzig, Paris, New York, Montreal, Winnipeg, and other great cities the town is known as the Mecca of silver fox fanciers. It is the headquarters of the Canadian National Silver Fox Breeders' Association, and the Dominion Experimental Fox Farm, and from Summerside commercial breeding of the foxes has spread around the world.

Prince Edward Island is called "The Garden of the Gulf," and Summerside bears out the metaphor. A visit to the residential sections, situated on ground gradually rising from the harbor, gives ample evidence of this in the well kept homes, with splendid lawns, shrubbery and flowers. The streets are lined with shade trees.

Incorporated in 1875

Summerside is situated on Bedeque Bay off Northumberland Strait on the south side of the island. It was incorporated in 1875 as a tiny village, and has been closely identified with agriculture ever since. But silver foxes gave it much of its fame and fortune.

Today the town is a port of call for steamers from Montreal. It is an important shipping point for P. E. I. potatoes (of which central Canada residents ate plentifully last year) having a natural harbor and cheap and expeditious loading facilities. It is surrounded with fertile farm lands.

Big ox Money

As the Mecca of fox buyers, it is estimated that $2,000,000 enters the province through Summerside each year. The town is the headquarters of three large organizations handling fox pelts. These marketing organizations handled, last season, about 58,000 pelts, which came not only from the ranchers of Prince Edward Island, but from all parts of Canada. It may be truly said that in no part of the world is there such a scene as to be found in Summerside during the fur season. People coming and going, bartering their pelts for cash; buyers from London, Paris, Leipzig, New York, Montreal and Winnipeg buying pelts and thousands of dollars changing hands every day. Much has been written of the industry itself, of its history and its possibilities, but little has been revealed of the remarkable little town of Summerside, which, each year, sees fortunes in silver fox pelts passing along its streets and each week is the point of entry into Canada of "heavy lead."

Summerside has faith in the permanence of the feminine passion for fox furs. In many, many years this confidence has never been betrayed.

Has Many Improvements

The town is nearly as proud of its fine stores as it is of its famous foxes.

Despite its exceedingly small debt, Summerside lacks few of the improvements that most towns either boast of or dream about. It has four miles of paved streets, and 15 miles of paved sidewalks. It has a beautiful little park only a minute from the shops. It owns its airport. It has a radio broadcasting station, a golf club, curling and skating rinks, a race track, an abattoir and even a jail, which, however, is never crowded. And it has a court house, an armory, a post office and custom house, a modern hospital and other public buildings.

With all these things, however, the town's gross debenture debt is only $436,000. Sinking funds amounted to $160,050 at the end of 1933, leaving net debt at $275,950. Even this is larger than the burdensome debt because it includes $97,219 for water and electric systems that pay the town a good profit on the investment.

Budget Balanced

Moreover, Summerside's budget is in balance when all the accounts are included. Current revenue in 1933 was $67,463, and current expenditure $63,749, leaving a surplus of $3,714. Summerside's tax rate of 12 mills is believed to be the lowest in the Dominion for any comparable municipality.

While the town's 1933 tax record was remarkable, it is expected that this experience will continue. Already, all but $661 of last year's levy is in the civic coffers, and collections are reported excellent this year.

Yes, Summerside is quite a town.

Another Writer Visits Province

Mr. George Pattullo, New York, well-known writer of short stories, arrived in the Province Saturday night on a brief vacation trip. He plans on devoting much of his time, while here, to golf and fishing.

Mr. Pattullo is a native of Ontario, although he now resides in United States. He is a brother of Premier Pattullo, of British Columbia.

At the Canadian National, where they are registered, Mr. and Mrs. Pattullo met Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Davis. Mr. Pattullo and Mr. Davis plan a round of golf before the latter leaves today for New Brunswick.

upon with his cabinet, to deal with a knotty problem at the beginning of next week. On Monday, July 30, he will meet the Provincial Premiers in an effort to effect drastic downward revisions in the scale of direct relief which has, up to the present, cost this government $120,000,000. Advance statements from many of the provinces indicate that the move will be strenuously opposed.

On August 1 the cabinet will meet the Maritime Province premiers to deal with claims of those provinces that they have not been fairly dealt with under the terms of the Confederation pact.

Later in Auugst the Prime Minister will probably deliver an address in Saint John in connection with the Loyalist anniversary celebrations, and he will go to Gaspe, possibly to Prince Edward Island also, to take part in the 400th anniversary celebrations of the arrival of Jacques Cartier.

Already scheduled to speak in Brandon, Man., on Oct. 2, it is believed Mr. Bennett will make a tour of the Western Provinces during that month, his visit of this month having been of a private nature.

Work is progressing satisfactorily toward launching of the Central Bank, the farm debt adjustment plans and the Dominion Marketing Board, according to the advices from officials. Financial officials are also busily engaged in loan preparations and announcements are expected shortly of new government financing enterprises.

Within a week or so the Prime Minister will name the Canadian delegation to attend the recently called world wheat conference which will open in London the middle of August.

Endeavor Ready For Crossing

(A. P. by Guardian's Special Wire)

GOSPORT, England, July 22—Her deck littered with hatches and gear, looking like anything but a swift international challenger T. O. M. Sopwith's Endeavor will sail for United States at 11 a. m. tomorrow morning for the America's Cup races off Newport, R. I. in September.

Her stores for the trans-Atlantic voyage, part of the competition a British challenger never has been able to win, were put aboard today and the new crew, signed on after a recent strike of her professional sailors, made ready for the three week's voyage.

The previously smart and trim challenger presented an odd sight as she prepared to cross the ocean under her own sail as the Cup regulations require. She was a combination of racing hull and shanty board equipment, with deckhouses, hatches and unsightly gear battened down all over her deck.

The waterfront was decorated with flags and there were crowds of visitors over the week-end to wish the challenger well in the effort to pick up successfully the quest Sir Thomas Lipton left off in failure with the Shamrock V in 1930. Bands and civic delegations will participate in the send off tomorrow.

Tonight Sopwith entertained his amateur crew aboard his yacht Vita, which will accompany the challenger across the sea.

ISRAEL RISES WITH RENEWED STRENGTH

EDMONTON, July 22—Concluding an eulogy of the Jewish race and criticism of the Nazi programme in Germany, Rabbi Jessie Schwartz, executive director, Zionist organization of Canada, told delegates to the Western Canada Zionist conference "Israel has risen with renewed strength after each tragedy in the past."

Long after Hitler has crumpled in the dust the Jews will be here, a living testimony of the character and the strength of the people of Israel, he declared.

Charlottetown Club Burglarized

The Charlottetown Club was burglarized some time Friday night or Saturday morning by as yet unknown parties. Bars were pried from the basement window on King Street, the netting was removed, and the glass broken. A quantity of cigars and cigarettes stored in the basement was the only loot secured. The intruders made use of a car which they stole from the garage of Dr. I. E. Croken, and which was later found on King Square with the left rear wheel damaged. The damage was the result of contact with the side of the garage.

The thunderstorm which was at its height shortly after midnight doubtless made it possible for the burglars to carry out their noisy work undetected.

ANNIVERSARY PROGRAM FOR N.B. OUTLINED

Province Plans Gala Event For Celebration of 150th Birthday.

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)

SAINT JOHN, N.B., July 19. — Plans for the observation of New Brunswick's 150th anniversary took definite form today with the announcement that a two-day provincial celebration is to be carried out in Saint John on August 16 and 17. The celebration will be under the patronage of His Honor, Lieutenant-Governor McLean, with Hon. Dr. Murray McLaren, Minister of Pensions, Premier L. P. D. Tilley and Mayor J. W. Brittain, lending full and active support.

Confirmation was received from Ottawa last night that Prime Minister R. B. Bennett will be in Saint John on the 16th to participate in the formal opening of the New Brunswick museum, which will be the main event of that day. This is to take place in the afternoon. During the morning, the chief event is to be the presentation of new colors to the Saint John Fusiliers. A gift of the city, the colors will be presented by Mayor and Mrs. Jas. W. Brittain. The ceremony of the "trooping of the color" will follow with picturesque military pageantry.

During the afternoon, in addition to the opening of the museum, a program of sports and outdoor amusements is planned, in the evening a dinner is being arranged at which visiting officialdom will be guests and concurrently it is proposed to conduct band concerts with outdoor community singing and dancing.

On Friday, the 17th, the chief historical event will be the unveiling of a monument now being erected in King Square by the Historical Sites and Monuments Board to commemorate the establishment of the province and the sacrifice of the founders 150 years ago. The province came into being on August 16, 1784, on which date Governor Carleton's commission was signed and by enactment of the British Parliament what was formerly the County of Sunbury, Nova Scotia, became the province of New Brunswick with Thomas Carleton as Governor.

The monument is to be unveiled and dedicated in the morning. For Friday afternoon a huge street parade is planned with all civic organized bodies in the city taking part. In the evening there is to be a lecture in the high school auditorium by Prof. C. T. Currelly, F.S.A., director of the Royal Ontario Museum of Archaeology. Concurrently, another program of outdoor community singing and dancing is planned, and at the armoury a big ball is being arranged by military units.

Also on Friday, it is expected that an appropriate ceremony will be carried out on the site of the old Mallard House, near the corner of King and Germain Streets, where the first two sessions of the New Brunswick Legislature were held when Saint John was the capital of the province.

Particular interest in connection with the two-day sesqui-centennial celebration will centre on the opening of the museum, which is a provincial institution created by Act of Incorporation passed in the Legislature in March, 1929. The Act sets forth that the museum was to constitute a permanent provincial memorial to be ready on the approaching 150th anniversary of the founding of New Brunswick and to provide for the preservation of the history of the people "by whose endeavours the opportunities which the province possesses today have been made possible."

The Act empowered the Lieutenant-Governor to select an executive board from among the incorporators of the museum, permitted a provincial grant and authorized the transfer of the property of the Natural History Society to the new museum.

Arrangements for the opening of the museum and the sesqui-centennial celebration of the province are being made by a committee selected by the executive board of the museum. This committee is headed by Sir Douglas Hazen as Honorary Chairman, Howard P. Robinson, Executive Chairman and Horace G. Black, Secretary. They have a small executive working with them, and are selecting a larger committee representative of all parts of the province.

RELIGIOUS SERVICES

TRINITY UNITED CHURCH

Rev. W. M. Ryan, D.D., preached at both services yesterday and will occupy the pulpit for the next several weeks, or until the arrival of our two newly designated ministers, which will be on or about September 1st. Rev. Mr. Miller is now spending his holidays at Campbellton, N.B. and Rev. Mr. Barbour, the assistant, is taking some special study in New York for a number of weeks.

Before commencing his sermon yesterday morning, Dr. Ryan spoke of his former pastorate here, that he had never lost his love for this church and congregation and he esteemed it an honor to be again invited to minister to them for a limited period. His text was 1 Thess. 1-5 "Our gospel came not unto you in word only but also in power and in the Holy Ghost and in much assurance." Every church that does not measure up to this standard cannot be a true church. The one essential of the church of Jesus is the power and spirit of the Holy Spirit. What had the primitive church more than we have. Nothing but the power of the holy spirit which was received at Pentecost. The sacraments and ordinances of the church are but symbols of spiritual realities. Dr. Ryan struck a responsive note when he recalled the blessings and challenge that came on the formation of the United Church of Canada and made a plea to throw open our hearts and minds to the incoming of the Christ so as to be qualified for the work he has given us to do.

There was a good congregation. Miss Alice Coffin sang with fine effect Mendelssohn's "O for the Wings of a Dove."

The evening service was broadcast by C. H. C. K. and preceding its opening Professor Kendall gave a short organ recital of selections from Mendelssohn's Second Organ Symphony. Dr. Ryan gave another of his most helpful and inspiring addresses on the words of Jesus as recalled in John 7-17, "If any man is willing to do God's will he will know of the teaching whether it be of God or whether I speak of myself." Jesus is here submitting a test by which a man may prove his acceptance by God. There is also the promise of immortality for "He that doth the will of God abideth forever."

Miss Doris Tait was the soloist and sang in her usual acceptable way "Beside Still Waters" by Hamblen.

MR. JAMES ARTHUR

On the morning of Saturday June 23, 1934, Mr. James Arthur, a well known and highly respected farmer of North Rustico entered into rest. Although in failing health for the past three years, he made a brave attempt to keep active until a short time previous to his passing. Mr. Arthur was the youngest son of the late William and Catherine Nisbet Arthur and was born October 12th 1859 at the old home where he lived his entire life.

He is survived by his wife, Maggie Smith, daughter the late George and Agnes Moffat Smith of New Glasgow and brother Humphrey of Charlottetown and one sister Mrs. Margaret Robertson of Montague, two brothers, William and George and one sister Martha, predeceased him. The late Mr. Arthur was a man of honor and integrity who held the esteem and confidence of his fellowmen. In its fullest sense he was a good neighbor and a true friend, and many there are, who will cherish his memory for his kindness and whole-hearted generosity to the sick and needy of the neighborhood. He was an extensive reader and took a keen interest in the changing events of a changing world. In a beauty spot overlooking the "Gulf" somewhat removed from the "maddening scenes of a maddening world," he lived a tranquil life, surrounded by the garden of Nature's creation, and content with the richness of her bounty.

The service was held at the United Church, North Rustico, after a brief prayer at the house, the cortege wended its way to the church, where the service was conducted by the Rev. W. G. Quigley of the Christian Church, New Glasgow. He was assisted by the Rev. W. A. Paterson, pastor of the United Church and Rev. W. J. MacLeod, a nephew of the deceased.

The pallbearers were, Messrs Oliver Bernard, Philip MacLure, Aguila Rollings, John Pursey, William Robinson, Chester Woolner.

Interment was in the New Glasgow Cemetery.

ST. PAUL'S CHURCH

In the absence of the Rector, Rev. E. O. Lancaster of Milton conducted the morning service.

Following an interesting talk to the children the speaker took as his text Heb. 12: 1, "Let us run with patience the race that is set before us."

Here life is likened to a race, elsewhere in the Epistle to a journey. Both illustrations represent life as changeable, progressive and moving towards an end.

In every race there should be an aim. The Christian aim is the aim we must include in our every day program if we are to run the race which Christ has set before us. The race must be run with patience —that active perseverance which presses towards the goal. A race implies effort. In order to be a winner effort is necessary. It suggests also contest, conflict and difficulty. Ostables are in the race. The greatest obstacle we have to overcome is ourselves.

Christ overcame and was victorious. Faith and trust in Him will help us to be victors.

The Greeks ran to obtain a crown that was corruptible, let us win a crown incorruptible.

The soloist of the morning was Mr. P. D. Williams.
