TABLE SYRUP FROM APPLES

With molasses a scarce commodity, a housewife down in Nova Scotia has hit upon a tasty substitute in a syrup made from waste sweet apples. The housewife, Mrs. L. Anderson of Kempt, Queen's County, stated she made quite a lot of the syrup last year from all kinds of waste sweet apples and found it kept well in ordinary bottles with cords and put up hot, according to the Agricultural Department of the Canadian National Railways. Her procedure is to prepare the apples as for jelly, drain and boil down the juice to about the consistency of molasses or honey. It can be cooked to a somewhat heavy density for a spread similar to jam. It may be used in mincemeat or applesauce as well as served as a syrup. Nothing is added to the apples, Mrs. Anderson states, "I just boil down the juice.'

Stock Markets At A Glance

TORONTO, Nov. 28—(CP)—In the lightest turnover this month stocks boarded more losses than gains in Saturday's Toronto Exchange Market. Volume was 162,000 shares. Industrial and Base Metal issues lost ground and the golds and western oils were unchanged to slightly higher.

MONTREAL, Nov. 28—(CP)—After the slowest trading of the year securities rounded out last week on a mainly steady note.

On Saturday most groups marked time on averages but papers drifted down a bit in the indices.

WINNIPEG, Nov. 28—(CP)—Fair buying by commission houses and outside interests after mid-season turned early rye losses into gains yesterday on the Winnipeg grain exchange and futures closed 1 1-8 to 1 5-8 cent a bushel nigher.

The December rye future finished at $1.16 3-4, May $1.16 1-8 and July $1.14 5-8. Trade was fair in the pit.

CHICAGO, Nov. 28—(AP)—Previous short sellers ran for cover in the grain pits yesterday on a report that the flour subsidy program to millers will go into effect Dec. 1. Wheat and rye lumped more than 2 cents at times, more than erasing all of Friday's sharp downturn, and oats and barley advanced major fractions.

NEW YORK, Nov. 28 — (AP) — The stock market Saturday finished a week of general declines with prices still pointing downward as peace thinking continued to dominate operations of securities owners.

The Associated Press 60-stock average was down .1 of a point Saturday at 47.6, another low mark for this composite since last April 3. On the week it showed a net drop of a full point. Transfers of 351,070 shares compared with 481,976 in the preceding Saturday.

The Experts Say

BY THE CANADIAN PRESS

OTTAWA, Nov. 28 —(CP)— What do you order for lunch on meatless Tuesday?

Nutrition Services suggest that a bowl of the ever popular Canadian pea soup and a glass of milk a good meatless choice. These two foods together provide food value that is similar to that in meat.

EASY ON CAN OPENER— If housewives will intersperse their use of canned vegetables with storables, they will avoid nontony in winter diet and do much to maintain a supply of tinned goods which will see the country through until fresh vegetables come on the market again next May. Now that tinned vegetables have been unfrozen for the first time since last July, the Consumer Branch of the Prices Board advises using the tinned product only when it is impossible to procure storables in order to maintain the country's larder.

TIN MINES IN CANADA— -worked by Canadian housewives..sounds preposterous, doesn't it? But this is virtually what is happening through the collection of collapsible tin tubes During the past two months tin amounting to 12,802 pounds has been reclaimed from 70,000 pounds of used collapsible tin tubes turned in across the country It's not only a legal obligation to look in cupboards for many possible tubes, says the Prices Board, it's a patriotic duty.

ANOTHER COAL TIP — -The Coal Conservation Committee tells us that placing shiny sheets of reflective material behind all the radiators can save us a heap of coal between now and next May. Reason is that they toss the heat rays back into the room instead of letting them be soaked up by the walls. Insulation board or even carboard painted white of light cream is better than nothing.

A SPOONFUL OF WHEAT GERM — -added to the morning dish of hot cereal helps to meet the need for thiamin or vitamin B-1, so necessary with starchy winter diets. Be sure to add it just before serving to get its full vitamin value, for thiamin, like vitamin C, is partly destroyed by heat.

CURRANT JAM— -has been made successfully in the testing kitchens of the Marketing Service of the Department of Agriculture, Consumer Section, and kept well. What makes this jam unusual is the fact that it is made from only the pulp of the fruit after the juice had been separated and bottled during tests on various fruits for much-needed Vitamin C.

TIME NOW TO TAKE STOCK OF WARDROBE

Now is the season for taking stock of your winter wardrobe. You have a couple of dresses that are in the dubious class. Maybe they would make over successfully and then again, the material may not be worth it. Here's one way to tell Cottons, silks and rayons should be held up to the light to see the weak spots around the places where tears or breaks have already occurred. It may still be possible to use other parts. Woollen material, which may seem hopeless at first glance, has brighter prospects when turned wrong side cut. Providing the holes aren't too large or the nap too far gone, the reverse material will often provide the makings for a skirt or blouse.

DO YOU KNOW

Saccharine is made from tar and is 300 times as sweet as sugar.

Nearly 12 pounds of air are needed to burn a pound of coal.

A new kind of steel, as transparent as glass, is now being made.

Meteorology has nothing to do with meteors, but is a study of the earth's atmosphere.

At any one spot on the earth, astronomical twilight lasts until the sun is 18 degrees below the horizon, even though pitch darkness may prevail.

Pimento and pimiento are two entirely different products: the first is made of berreis from the pimento tree, while the latter is a Spanish pepper.

The Mississippi river would begin flowing north if the earth ceased to turn on its axis. The mouth of the river is farther from the centre of the earth than is its source and only the spinning motion keeps the water flowing 'uphill."

TOWEL SAVING

With announcement by J. H. F Turner, administrator of cottons and cotton products for the Prices Board, that towel and sheet sizes now are being curtailed, every Canadian housewife can profit by these hints on towel conservation from England, where you carry your own towel to office and hairdresser:

Darn the smallest hole as soon as it appears; reinforce thin places with machine stitching; cut very large bath towels in half to make two smaller ones; make one usable towel out of two badly worn ones by quilting them together with diagonal lines of machine stitching; make new wash cloths out of the best parts of worn bath towels.

An onion has one quality in common with quite a few people. It's a bully on the surface and seems a fiendish delight in making the tears run down your cheeks, but underneath it has some nice, redeeming qualities, the best of which is the flavor. To enjoy the flavor and dispense with the "crying" problem, is really quite simple. Just put the onions in a pan of basin of water and peel them under water. Onions peeled this way never cause tears and let her does the onion odor cling so desperately to your hands. What little does cling can easily be removed if as soon as you finish, you immediately wash your hands with soap.
