Celebration in Kensington

While old London, the centre of the Coronation ceremonies, was having full share of leader skies and drizzling rain on Wednesday the 12th, Kensington enjoyed such sunshine and balmy air as can only be experienced in this favorite spot, the Garden of the Gulf.

For the greater part of the day the citizens remained quietly in their homes, enjoying the marvellous breakfast which served to eliminate time and space and made very real the age old ceremony, the crowning of their most gracious Majesties.

At six o'clock the citizens emerged to find people coming into the town from all directions to join in celebrating the coronation day.

The Mayor and Council with the help of the loyal citizens had united to make the occasion a memorable one and the result fully justified their efforts and reflected great credit on the town.

The Town Hall, Post Office, School and other buildings were were fully decorated and in some cases fairly submerged under flags and bunting, while about the streets the patriotic colors of red white and blue flapped and fluttered in all directions.

The special feature of the celebration, particularly for the younger generation, was the big parade in which about 500 school children took part. Children accompanied by their teachers, from 14 school districts were represented. This included Kensington, Clermont, Clinton, Darnley, Graham's Road, Hamilton, Indian River, Kelvin, Long River, Margate, New London, Norboro, Spring Valley and Stanley. All the children carried flags, those in the forefront carrying banners giving the names of their district. It was an inspiring sight.

Leading the whole procession was detachment composed chiefly of Kensington boys of the Prince Edward Island Light Horse in fine array.

Then came the coach of State, (a vehicle so highly decorated as to lose all semblance to its original nature) which conveyed the Mayor, and ex-mayor, a visiting member of Parliament, the town council. In their wake marched members of the Canadian Legion followed by the boy scouts. After this parade came three large finely decorated and draped motor trucks, bearing the younger school children, those under 10 years old, while following these marched the other school children. All paraded to the school grounds, the music and the beat of drums furnished by the Misouche band. The parade started from pleasant street, north of the school grounds and followed the prescribed route to Broadway then Horbie Street, east to Lightown Road as far as Russel Street, then south to Margate Road, west to Commercial as far as Sims Street, then on Broadway to Frances, thence to Victorian Avenue to Broadway and back to Pleasant Street. Return of the school grounds the procession, with the band, assembled around the grand stand where a fine program, consisting of speeches, the singing of patriotic songs by the school children and band music was heard. On the grand stand with the Mayor, Mr. C. J. Cooke, who presided and made appropriate opening remarks, were the members of the council, the visiting speakers, members of the clergy and others. The opening chorus Rule Britannia was followed by a fervid address by Rev. B. Preen, Recalling to mind celebration twenty-six years ago similar to this, but not enjoyed like the one today, for the reason of the radio and what it has made possible, the Reverend speaker said, "listening to that wonderful broadcast, one can visualize the whole scene, first in the great Abbey, then where the procession passed by. Hearing the name of the cheers of the people, there came the most thrilling time of all, when the people waited outside Buckingham Palace and shouted 'We want the King. We want the King!' That to my mind, was the most dramatic moment of all. Seeing this crowd, and the hundreds of children before me, all taking part in this celebration to day, one realizes it is not empty form, but the outward and visible sign of loyalty and love within our hearts. Loyalty and love for our community our country and our Empire. Remember you are young Canadians, be proud in your hearts, for your country is looking to you. Its to the young the future belongs, guard well the trust. The King is speaking to you as sons of a great Empire, let it be your earnest endeavor to give your country, your best services of heart and mind.

After the stirring strains of "O Canada" by the band the singing of "The Maple Leaf" Rev. Reginald MacDonald was called upon. First congratulating the Mayor and council on the successful carrying out of their plans for this celebration, which was a credit to the community. Father MacDonald further expressed gratification for the great crowd assembled, showing the spirit of loyalty of this locality to the King and Empire. We read in the old Testament how the children of Israel said "Give us a King to judge us" and Saul was appointed to keep peace and provisions by David in the land. We further read that Saul took a vital oil and poured it upon his head and so anointed Saul to be King over his inheritance. A similar scene took place in the ancient Abbey of Westminster today, it was a sacred sacrament as well as a crowning, when the King took the oaths and was anointed and crowned before all the people. The king was invested with authority which comes from God himself and is the defender of our freedom and ideals. We, as Canadians, have love for the mother country, as a from the well-bred prospects Mr. Webster has handed over to him.

Jack Kennedy, Southport, has a two year old trotter, a full brother to Guy Kalmuck (2) 222 3-4, champion Maritime bred two year old trotter, that Fred Cameron is very sweet on. Although the youngster has only been on the track a couple of dozen times yet he is learning fast and improving with every workout. High hopes are held for him in this year's Futurities.

Reymonette, owned by the popular sportsman Raoul Reymond, largest fox rancher in the province has been converted to the pace and is showing good at the new gait. While no fast miles have been attempted yet, at the end of three minute trips he brushes fast and is of the improving kind. Pat McKenna is training him, together with Jacke Volo—now a four year old—also a two year old colt owned by William Hennessey.

Fred Ross is training Holly Britton on the trot at the Charlottetown Driving Park track, and the daughter of Great Britain 2:02 1-4 seems to take very kindly to that gait. She, too, shows a lot of speed at the finish of slow miles.

Lusty Fredco 2:07 1-4, star boarder in Fred Cameron's stable, is really a picture horse these days. A friend of mine saw him in action at Upton Farm track last week and enthused over him, as well he should. I will remember the many expressions of admiration heard at Fredericton when he raced last September and did it so ably, at a mile in better than 2:09.

The Prince Edward Island Harness Racing Club held a very enthusiastic annual meeting at Summerside last Tuesday evening, and the President's report shows that it is in a healthy condition, fully living up to the aims which brought it into being. I believe through its formation a new interest is being aroused in breeding harness horses here, and more good sires have been brought to us today than in years of well-bred mare has the chance of a few high-class stallions, some of them demonstrated sires.

It will be a few years before we will really appreciate what this means to our province. No less than 10 to 12 year olds, 13 year olds and 5 year olds have been eligible to this year's Futurities.

A suggestion was made at the annual meeting that the Futurity races be held this year in connection with the Provincial Exhibition. If so it would be in line with the method adopted in Ontario, where the Canadian Futurities for three year old trotters and pacers are raced at the Canadian National Exhibition, Toronto.

The writer notes that President George A. Calbeck has been re-elected for office another year, with Fred Wright as Secretary. They have had a very great deal to do with making the Racing Club a success and it is good judgment on the part of its members to re-elect them. From last year's Futurities some really chancy racing material showed up including Leta Kalmuck 2:14 3-4, Guy Ann 2:16 3-4, Millie Kalmuck 2:14 3-4, Bud Volo 2:25 3-4, Nita Volo 2:23 1-2, Miss Victoria, Hi-Socks, P-Hast, etc., etc.

Harry O'Brien's track at Alberton, which he is surfacing and remodeling with a non-pocket home stretch and also a wider one, will be the scene of his annual race meet either the first or second week in July. Date and class will be advertised in the next two weeks. The mid-July date is Northern's, but if they do not hold races there then Alberton will likely take that date.

BALDWIN MAY

roducing the budget. He left it to Lloyd George to see the budget through the remaining stages.

It is also recalled that Baldwin in 1923 was both premier and chancellor of the exchequer. If unwilling to disturb his senior colleagues, it has been hinted Chamberlain might adopt the same device.

Amateur cabinet builders have been occupied with their "appointments" ever since Baldwin made known his wish to retire. Foremost among the candidates mentioned as likely successors to Chamberlain are Sir Samuel Hoare, First Lord of the Admiralty, and Sir John Simon, Home Secretary.

Sir John, a national Liberal, has considerably enhanced his claims to consideration of late. Even his sharpest critics have conceded his efficiency as Home Secretary; the Public Order Bill boosted his reputation and he was invaluable to Baldwin during the abdication crisis.

But Chamberlain in his handling of the budget gave ample indication of what can be done to avoid "leaks" and the so-called "experts" will no doubt be left to their guessing until he is ready to make known his selections.

The press generally has been high in its praise of Baldwin—the man, servant and leader. He has been hailed as a great interpreter of British character in times of crisis and peril. He has refused to be led astray by ideas and doctrines, which, though superficially attractive, are fundamentally dangerous, his admirers declare. He is consistent as he is restrained and, closely observing the pulse of the nation, has carried Britain through a series of storms hardly paralleled in political history.

Baldwin's contemporaries are reluctant to speculate on his ultimate place in history, but they are agreed that when the time comes for him to step down from his high office he will take with him into private life not only the respect but the deep affection of his countrymen.

Three Team Ball Loop For S'ide

Summerside held its first successful baseball meeting of the year last night and from all appearances a revival of the old game seems a certainty. Some twenty interested fans turned up and a league is proposed to consist of three teams with the opening game scheduled for Friday, May 28.

President Wilfred Kelly occupied the chair and was unanimously elected to hold the position for the present year. Other officers were elected as follows: Honorary President, Dr. Archie MacMurdo, Vice President, Andrew Perry, Secy-Treas. James Dodds.

Representatives of three teams were then heard from which were the Soviets team and a third team as yet unnamed. A list of umpires was comprised and those worthy officials are to be chosen from the following: G. G. Houghton, Dr. MacMurdo, Jack Wright, Ben Schurman, Henry Bernard, Crilly Lea and Archie Perry were named as base umpires.

There are to be two sections in which each team meets each other teams three times with games every Tuesday and Friday evenings at 6:15 sharp. Earl Campbell was named collector, Bruce Johnston, secretary and Jos Landry groundskeeper.

A resume of the prospective strength of each club was taken and the following rosters determined:

Soviets: R. Phillips, H. Durant, D. Arsenault, R. Daly, F. Daly, H. Crossman, E. Gallant, E. Richards, E. Arsenault, W. Durant, H. Perry, R. MacAe'er, J. Gaudet.

Pioneers: J. Wilson, J. Schurman, J. Dodds, J. Millman, D. Larkin, A. Landry, R. Clow, R. Steele, H. Clow, J. MacArthur, Lidstone, T. Gay, Spec Phillips.

Home team: C. Hogan, D. Hogan, E. Sheen, Arsenault, Ray Arsenault, I. Clow, M. Gaudet, V. LeBlanc, A. Clow, J. McInnis, H. Landry, J. Wedge, J. Hogan, E. Boates, J. Casey, L. Morrison, Shields.

A committee composed of W. Kelly, A. Perry and J. Dodds was selected to draw up the schedule. Just before the meeting adjourned the excellent prospects of a good season were again emphasized and each man cautioned that in order to insure the league's success that it would be necessary for each and every player as well as the officials to play their part.

Another meeting will be called about the middle of June to decide whether or not junior or intermediate teams or both are to be registered.—D

OTTAWA, May 21.—Surveys are being made in the Maritime Provinces by the Canadian Radio Broadcasting Corporation with a view to establishing the most suitable place for erection of a new high-power station. No decision on this point has yet been reached. Major W. E. Gladstone Murray, general manager, said here today.

The first high-power station will be built in two central provinces, Quebec and Ontario, according to the announcement made last night by Leonard W. Brockington, chairman of the radio directorate, in Regina last night.

Star Cast In "Dodsworth"

Huston and Chatterton Head Lineup in Film Version of Lewis Story

Socialist Lewis "Dodsworth," which thrilled millions as a novel and as a stage play, now comes to the screen in Samuel Goldwyn's film production which begins a five day run at the Capitol Theatre, Summerside with Walter Huston, Ruth Chatterton, Paul Lukas, Mary Astor and David Niven in the leading roles.

Huston again plays the title role of Sam Dodsworth, the easy-going American husband, who retires to travel and find himself but instead finds out his furious, selfish and extravagant wife.

Sidney Howard, who adapted the stage play, also prepared the screen play.

Sam Dodsworth retires, after years of hard driving work, building up his motor car business, really indulging the whims of his pretty wife Fran, who yearns for one last fling before settling down to middle age.

Dramatic Story

They sail on the Queen Mary and after a series of flirtations on shipboard and in Paris, Fran meets Kurt Von Obersdorf, an impoverished young Austrian aristocrat, who asks her to marry him. She divorces Dodsworth who is left to wander miserably through Europe alone. In Italy he meets Mrs. Courtney, a fine, sympathetic woman and they fall in love. When Fran's plans fall through, she sends for him and he gives up his own happiness to join her. But the contrast with Mrs. Courtney is too great. He sees Fran at last for what she really is and returns to the woman he loves.

William Wyler directed "Dodsworth." Others prominent in the cast are Mme. Maria Ouspenskaya and Gregory Gave, who repeat their star roles of the "Baroness von Obersdorf" and her son Kurt, respectively; Odette Myrtil, Kathryn Marlowe, John Payne, Spring Byington and Harlan Briggs. The film was directed by William Wyler and is released through United Artists.
