

Ask For
"SALADA"
 TEA

The name guarantees satisfaction.

Canadian Historical Drawings
 For Framing Purposes

The Guardian has pleasure in announcing that it has procured a few complete sets of the Canadian Historical Drawings (recently published in its columns) printed on high-toned art paper suitable for framing. These pictures by Mr. C. W. Jefferys, the Distinguished Toronto Artist, are worthy of being framed not only for their historic interest but because of their artistic merit. The nominal price is $1.00 for the set of 12 pictures.

Apply early to avoid disappointment.
 CHARLOTTETOWN GUARDIAN

BARTLETT'S HAND-TIED FLIES

Another new lot of these celebrated Flies came to hand a day or two ago. They include all the leading patterns suitable to our streams and in sizes from 4 to 8 hook.

- Let us mention some of the most popular ones:
- Farmachene Belle (Slivery body)
- Farmachene Belle (Pig's Wool body)
- Silver Doctor
- Dark Montreal
- Soldier Palmer
- White Moth
- Orange Shrimp
- Jenny Lind
- Sheriff
- Wickham's Fancy
- Jeremy-Ma-Diddler
- Loneragan
- Blockhouse
- Dewey Cream, etc.

This is without doubt the finest assortment of hand tied flies we have ever shown and we feel there are none better in this province. The prices are 10c and 15c just what you would pay for the ordinary machine made flies. We import these Flies direct and know we can save you money.

E. A. FOSTER
 CENTRAL DRUGSTORE
 The Home of Good Soda Water and Ice Cream.

FOX WIRE

THE QUALITY YOU WANT TO GET AT THE PRICE YOU WANT TO PAY.

FENNELL & CHANDLER

For Your Vacation—a Bungalow Camp
 in the Canadian Pacific Rockies

From Field, motor-cars take you to Yoho Valley Camp. There you find your log-cabin bungalow, cosy, comfortable. Faintly to your ears comes the sound of Takakkaw Falls, zigzagging down from high cliffs. An appetizing dinner is served you at the camp community house. Then follows the sleep of childhood. Next day, you are keen for trail riding, mountain climbing, hiking. There's a real vacation for you—and Yoho Camp is but one of Canadian Pacific's nine Bungalow Camps. Rates $5.50 a day, American plan.

Full information and literature from G. B. Burpee, District Pass Agent, 40 King Street, Saint John, N.B.

Canadian Pacific
 World's Greatest Travel System

8-115-22-29

E. R. BROW

146 Richmond St. Charlottetown
 Fire, Life, Accident, Sickness and Plate Glass Insurance at Lowest Rate.

Good Strong Stock Companies

Agent at Summerside, Lloyd Lewis.

THE CENTRAL GUARDIAN

NEW PREMIUM—Ladies Shopping Bags given free with every new or renewal subscription to the Guardian.

AUTO STROP RAZOR in case post paid to any address in Canada on receipt of a new or renewal yearly subscription to The Guardian.

COATS SUITABLE for present wear—smart styles for early fall wear, all clearing at half price.—Moore & McLeod, Limited. 21

RENEW YOUR SUBSCRIPTION today and be in line for the Comfortable Waterproof Shopping Bag now being given free with each yearly subscription.

YOUR SUBSCRIPTION may have expired, renew now and get your choice of a Valet Auto Strop Razor, blade and strap free, or Valet Utility Knife free. Eleigh one makes a remarkable premium.

WOMEN'S SUITS half price—and interesting gathering of nice suits in tweeds and other fabrics, clearing at Half Price.—Moore & McLeod, Limited. 21

CHURCH OF SCOTLAND—Rev. Even MacDougall will preach Tuesday, August 2nd at Argyle Shore at 7.30 and Wednesday, 3rd at Birch Hill at 7.30. Also Friday 5th at Summerside at 7.30.

HAD ENJOYABLE VISIT—Mr. James McFee has just returned from a visit to his old home in Kelly's Cross, P.E.I. While on the Island "Jih" visited all his old friends in Kelly's Cross, Lot 65, and Maplewood. He says he enjoyed every moment of his visit—why shouldn't he.—New Glasgow News.

PERSONALS

Mr. Hazen C. Baker, manager of Fraser, Baker & Co., Cannery of Pork and Beans, Charlottetown, P.E.I., is in town on business, guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Baker, Rectory St.—Sackville Tribune.

Mrs. William Ballantyne of Montreal, P. Q., and daughter, who has for the past three weeks been the guests of Rev. R. W. Lindsay, Baptist parsonage, Hazelbrook, left Friday morning for Montreal, P. Q. Mrs. Ballantyne was greatly impressed by the beauties of the Garden of the Gulf and spoke in splendid terms of its people.

IN MEMORIAM

MRS. MARY E. PENNY

On July 5th, after a lingering illness in the 82nd year of her age, Mary E. Penny, widow of the late Vere Penny, was called to that home which awaits the people of God.

The late Mrs. Penny was one of the oldest and most highly respected residents of Murray Harbor. A woman of sterling qualities, always interested in every worthy undertaking, kind hearted, hospitable in her home, and sympathetic. A Christian in the truest sense, in whom the utmost confidence was placed.

She was one of the charter members of the Murray Harbor church of Christ in which she took a profound interest until she was called to join the great "Church above."

She leaves to cherish her blessed memory in the hour of parting and sorrow two sons and one daughter—Reuben and Earnest of Murray Harbor, Mrs. Lee Bert McMahon of White Sands.

Funeral services were conducted by her former pastor, Rev. C. E. Armstrong, in the church of Christ where a very large congregation assembled to pay a tribute of love and respect to her memory. Interment in Murray Harbor Cemetery. (Patriot please copy)

MONTREAL TO GREET PRINCE OF WALES
 MONTREAL, Que., July 30.—In honor of the Prince of Wales, Prince George and Premier Waldon, a half holiday on Monday morning was announced today in a proclamation issued by Mayor Meric Martin. Another proclamation calls upon the citizens of Montreal to decorate their premises on the occasion of the royal visit.

PHONE "I WANT TO ORDER SOME COAL"
 US

You can be assured that we shall fill all telephone orders to the letter. Your wishes concerning grade, price and prompt delivery will be our law. We strive to please.
 W. D. GILLIS & CO.
 COAL
 PHONE 176

FLIES FLIES
 Just received direct from Milward a wonderful assortment of English Flies that would even please Isaac Walton.
 If the fish are there you can't fail to get them with these flies.
 We also carry a complete line of fishing tackle of every description. Come in and see them and we will help you select.
 Harold L. Worthy
 Sole Agent for Dr. Allan's Fox Remedies

Medical Museum Wonders

(British United Press.)
 LONDON, July 29.—One hundred and twenty-eight years ago a man named John Bell opened a drug store in Russell street, Covent Garden. He had a son named Jacob, whom he apprenticed to the trade, and one day the young man stood in his shop talking about the work of chemists in general.

The Pharmaceutical Society of Great Britain was born that morning in old John Bell's shop, and as much as could be saved of that quaint old place is preserved in the Wellcome Historical Medical Museum in Wigmore street.

The museum is not for the idly curious; it is primarily intended for the education and enlightenment of students.

It is a kind of surgical "Black Museum" containing cases of weird-looking implements with which savages in remote regions mutilate their bodies in devil-worship. There are scores of skulls of African natives with quaint cuts deep into the bone, "tattooed" with a chisel instead of a needle. There are decorated heads of Maoris, with the eyelids sewn together to prevent witchcraft; for the Maoris until 1865 preserved the heads of relatives and friends by drying them over smokes.

There are charms to ward off the evil eye, and charms to ward off the eyes of their enemies. There are showcases crammed with ivory miniatures of the human body—anatomical specimens of the sixteenth century, by which the surgeons of old studied their calling—the carving of which is superb.

There are charms to ward off the evil eye, and charms to ward off the eyes of their enemies. There are showcases crammed with ivory miniatures of the human body—anatomical specimens of the sixteenth century, by which the surgeons of old studied their calling—the carving of which is superb.

There are charms to ward off the evil eye, and charms to ward off the eyes of their enemies. There are showcases crammed with ivory miniatures of the human body—anatomical specimens of the sixteenth century, by which the surgeons of old studied their calling—the carving of which is superb.

There are charms to ward off the evil eye, and charms to ward off the eyes of their enemies. There are showcases crammed with ivory miniatures of the human body—anatomical specimens of the sixteenth century, by which the surgeons of old studied their calling—the carving of which is superb.

There are charms to ward off the evil eye, and charms to ward off the eyes of their enemies. There are showcases crammed with ivory miniatures of the human body—anatomical specimens of the sixteenth century, by which the surgeons of old studied their calling—the carving of which is superb.

There are charms to ward off the evil eye, and charms to ward off the eyes of their enemies. There are showcases crammed with ivory miniatures of the human body—anatomical specimens of the sixteenth century, by which the surgeons of old studied their calling—the carving of which is superb.

There are charms to ward off the evil eye, and charms to ward off the eyes of their enemies. There are showcases crammed with ivory miniatures of the human body—anatomical specimens of the sixteenth century, by which the surgeons of old studied their calling—the carving of which is superb.

There are charms to ward off the evil eye, and charms to ward off the eyes of their enemies. There are showcases crammed with ivory miniatures of the human body—anatomical specimens of the sixteenth century, by which the surgeons of old studied their calling—the carving of which is superb.

There are charms to ward off the evil eye, and charms to ward off the eyes of their enemies. There are showcases crammed with ivory miniatures of the human body—anatomical specimens of the sixteenth century, by which the surgeons of old studied their calling—the carving of which is superb.

There are charms to ward off the evil eye, and charms to ward off the eyes of their enemies. There are showcases crammed with ivory miniatures of the human body—anatomical specimens of the sixteenth century, by which the surgeons of old studied their calling—the carving of which is superb.

There are charms to ward off the evil eye, and charms to ward off the eyes of their enemies. There are showcases crammed with ivory miniatures of the human body—anatomical specimens of the sixteenth century, by which the surgeons of old studied their calling—the carving of which is superb.

There are charms to ward off the evil eye, and charms to ward off the eyes of their enemies. There are showcases crammed with ivory miniatures of the human body—anatomical specimens of the sixteenth century, by which the surgeons of old studied their calling—the carving of which is superb.

There are charms to ward off the evil eye, and charms to ward off the eyes of their enemies. There are showcases crammed with ivory miniatures of the human body—anatomical specimens of the sixteenth century, by which the surgeons of old studied their calling—the carving of which is superb.

There are charms to ward off the evil eye, and charms to ward off the eyes of their enemies. There are showcases crammed with ivory miniatures of the human body—anatomical specimens of the sixteenth century, by which the surgeons of old studied their calling—the carving of which is superb.

Chas. G. D. Roberts Literary Informant For Chautauqua

(Canadian Press)
 TORONTO, Ont., July 26.—Acting as question answerer at three literary conferences in swift succession sounds like a task calculated to bring on an attack of brain fever. But Dr. Charles G. D. Roberts, who was recently elected national president of the Canadian Authors' Association, accepted the Canadian Chautauqua at Muskoka without any apparent dread of the consequences.

"I make a game of it," Dr. Roberts explained before leaving Toronto. "It is understood in advance that I am not omniscient and there is no complaint if I am stumped by a tricky question. Approached in this manner it provides absorbingly interesting mental exercise."

According to the president of the authors, the questions propounded last year at the first session of this unique summer school evidenced strikingly intelligent understanding of the subjects under discussion. At this year's Chautauqua he is being subjected to a species of third degree in the technique of poetry writing, Canadian literature and contemporary English literature.

Possibly with the idea of keeping Dr. Roberts in a properly subdued state of mind, the Canadian Chautauqua also captured a prominent critic for the Muskoka assembly. John W. Garvey, who is delivering a series of lectures, is presiding over the Radisson Society of Canada and, in addition to anthologies of Canadian verse.

The title of one of his half dozen lectures is "Poetic Diction, Players on Pipes, and Personality."

When a summer school of Canadian Literature was inaugurated in the beautiful Muskoka district last year it proved very popular with Canadian writers and even a larger number of knights of the pen—or typewriter—rallied there this year. A highly attractive feature of the course is that the lectures are held out of doors.

A Queen's Love Token for Sale
 (British United Press.)
 LONDON, July 29.—The story of a queen's tragic love is set in a gold ring which is shortly to be auctioned at Christie's.

This is the ring which Queen Elizabeth gave to her favorite, the Earl of Essex, as a token of her love, and is described thus: "A ring of gold, the back engraved with arabesque foliage enamelled blue, the bezel set with a sardonyx cameo of three strata carved with a portrait of Queen Elizabeth in profile, wearing headdress and lace ruff."

Elizabeth gave this her portrait, to Essex with the promise that "if whatever crimes his enemies might have accused him, or whatever offence he might have committed against her, on returning that pledge she would pardon him."

Because of the timidity of a friend, Essex went to the scaffold, and the Queen's heart was broken. The Queen's heart had been told by the enemies of Essex that he had declared that her mind was as crooked as her body. The Earl was impeached and sentenced to death.

Elizabeth believed that Essex would prove his loyalty by returning the ring. Up till the hour of his execution she hoped against hope to get it back. But the ring did not come; Essex was sent to the scaffold and she wished "to sit in the dark, and sometimes with the shedding of tears, to bewail Essex."

This is what happened: Essex had given the ring to his relative, the Countess of Nottingham, imploring her to bear it to the Queen. Her husband, discovering his wife's intention, forbade her to do so. He hated Essex and wished his death, and it was only years after, when on her deathbed, that the Countess sent the ring to the Queen and confessed.

Elizabeth told the dying woman that God might forgive her, but that she could not, and she returned to her palace and there she surrendered herself without resistance to the despair which seized her heart, refused medicine and food, passed days and nights seated on the floor with fixed eyes and finger pressed upon her mouth. And in the space of 20 days she died.

The ring had descended from the daughter of the Earl of Essex, Lady Frances Devereaux, from mother to daughter in unbroken succession. It came eventually into the possession of Louisa, daughter of John Earl of Granville, who married Thomas Thynne, second Viscount Weymouth, of Haynes, Bedford.

When the Thynne heirlooms were sold at Christie's in 1911, Lord Metcham acquired the ring for 3,412 pounds.

50 Dwarfs at Midget's Funeral
 (British United Press.)
 LONDON, July 29.—A remarkable funeral was witnessed at Blackpool recently when 50 men and women dwarfs accompanied by a giant, walked in procession, following the coffin of a midget named Katharine Scherfenberg, aged 36, who was only two feet eight inches tall, or short.

The 50 dwarfs ranged in height from two feet to three feet two inches.

The giant, Ernest Wolfe, was seven feet six inches in height. "That's the dead woman was found unconscious in her bath and was taken to hospital, where she died."

PRINCE EDWARD TODAY AT 3.15, 7 AND 8.45

The New Commandment

Out of a crackling bolt of flame, a winged steel messenger: the NEW commandment.

There in the mud of France the girl who had fled from the wolves of Montmartre, and the boy who had tried to reshape a wealth-warped life, grope their way hand-in-hand toward happiness.

"No Cheating" COMEDY

with Blanche Sweet and Ben Lyon

No Richer Chorus Have Ever Struck on the Harpstrings of Romance and Drama.

UNITED CHURCH PRESBYTERY
 The United Church Presbytery of Prince Edward Island met on July 19th with a membership of thirty-eight members in attendance. Among them were newly inducted, Rev. S. B. Profit, O'Leary, Rev. H. Cook, Bideford, Rev. W. E. Aitken, Richmond Bay, East, Rev. H. Johnson, Tisbury, C. H. T. Rev. A. J. Reynolds, Bedeque, Rev. R. Smart, Murry Harbor, Rev. J. P. C. Fraser, Summerside. The chairman of Presbytery, Rev. E. H. Ramsay, D.D. extended a hearty welcome to the newly inducted brethren. It was reported that Rev. A. D. MacDonald, B. A., was to be inducted into the Souris pastoral charge on July 29th, the service to be held at Bay Fortune.

The chairman also welcomed as visitors Rev. R. W. Ross, D. D., Halifax, Rev. J. W. McConnell, Amherst, Supt. of Missions in Maritime Conference and Rev. A. N. Gillis, Truro.

The Designation of Miss Marion Townsend, Summerside, as Deaconess was reported having taken place on June 15th. A large congregation were present among whom were her grandfather, an elder for nearly half a century, and representatives of four generations of that family.

The records of a number of congregations were examined and attested. Changes in West Cape pastoral charge due to decisions of Court of Equity in church property cases were reported. Milburn church has been moved to Glenwood. The preaching places in that charge now being Bethel, Cape Wolfe and Glenwood.

Dr. McConnell reported that the Missionary Exhibit, which was viewed with such favor at the big conference in Halifax in October, 1926 is available for exhibition in this Province before long. Arrangements were made by Presbytery so that full advantage can be taken of this great mass for Missionary education. The Exhibit will be under the auspices of the Maintenance and Extension Committee.

Application from St. Andrews, Belle River, was favorably considered, as also from Marshfield where a new church is being needed due to church property decision. Progress from these points and also from Albany was reported. A very pleasing feature was a report from Long River of having been offered by the former Methodists of Stanley their church building there.

A request from Orwell-Vernon for visitation of Presbytery was granted. Mr. Kendall Fay was heard in an account of the International World Conference on Christian Brotherhood held last winter at Helsingfors, Finland, which he attended. The breaking down of barriers between nations by the acquaintance of representatives of many nations of these conferences is a hopeful feature of our age. Mr. Fay was a visitor at Boys Camps at Margate and Canoe Cove. His work there is greatly appreciated by the Presbytery.

The Designation of Rev. Clair Wright for the Foreign Field was arranged for, the service to be held on a suitable date at his home church, Bedeque.

The following resolution was unanimously passed. Resolved, that in view of the result of the recent Provincial election this Presbytery desires to express its deep thankfulness, that, though the conflict was severe, the great moral cause of Prohibition of the Liquor Traffic was triumphantly sustained. We would further express our great appreciation of the valuable assistance given the Prohibition Forces of the Island by Rev. Dr. Murdoch MacKinnon, Rev. John Coburn, Rev. Dr. H. R. Grant, Rev. Dr. Thomas and Rev. A. Sutherland, all ministers of the United Church, also to Mrs. Newcombe, Halifax and to Mrs. Gordon Wright to whom we also extend our strong sympathy in her bereavement caused by the death of her husband.

The court adjourned to meet at the call of the chairman, the meeting closing with prayer and Benediction.

Prefer 200,000 Bats to Mosquitoes

(British United Press.)
 VIENNA, July 29.—The Town Council of Klosterneuburg have decided to install 200,000 bats as "guardians of the peace" of a new colony of week-end bathing huts there.

Klosterneuburg is one of the bathing places on the Danube, above Vienna, and the inhabitants of its week-end bungalows complain that their repose by day and night is disturbed by swarms of mosquitoes. The council have decided to call in the services of the bats in consequence of expert advice, and a special bat-tower is to be constructed to house them, as no ruins are available.

TIME SAVER

When hanging clothes on the line, put all of the same kind together—sheets, slips, etc. It will save time sorting later.

SUNBURN

Mix Minard's with sweet oil or cream, and apply. Quick and permanent relief.

MINARD'S "KING OF PAIN" LINIMENT

EYES TESTED AND Glasses fitted by scientific methods.

E. W. TAYLOR AND J. S. TAYLOR
 Registered Optometrists
 142 Richmond Street

ABSOLUTELY FREE

With every order sent in during this month for a suit or top coat made to your measure in any style and fit guaranteed at list price. A set of safety first lightning protectors and suit hanger free.

S. F. TARBUSH