Norway contends that the Danish action prejudices the rights of Norwegians to the whaling, sealing and fishing which they have, until now, carried on unchallenged in Greenland waters.

Ingersoll once came across an old negro scrub woman reading her Bible. "Mars, do you believe all you read there?" inquired he. "Do you believe God made men out of dust?" "Course I does," stoutly declared Mary. "But suppose it happened to rain and there was nothing but mud?" "That's what I believe," replied she. "Why sure," retorted the old mammy, "de good Lawd den knowed well nough 'twas jes de right time to make dem lawyers an' infidels."

Happenings Of The Week (Continued from page four) There were beautiful and impressive services in St. Paul's Anglican Church on Armistice Sunday. The preacher at both services was the Rev. Canon Troop, who at present is holding a mission in that church. All the tablets in memory of our boys who fought and some of whom gave up their lives in the Great War were beautifully decorated with wreaths and crosses of poppies. A large wreath of poppies was placed on the pulpit the gift to the church of Miss Lucy Robinson. Canon Troop's addresses at these services and all The departure of Mr. H. M. Van Buskirk for Halifax in the near future is deeply regretted by a very large circle of friends in both business and social circles, where he is a decided favorite. The Masons on Monday honored Mr. Van Buskirk with one of their emblematic rings as a token of their appreciation and on Thursday the Rotarians honored him with an address and valuable gold mounted fountain pen suitably engraved. An appreciation from the business men took the form of an address and purse presented yesterday afternoon. Mr. VanBuskirk, and Mrs. VanBuskirk who left for Halifax some weeks ago, have the hearty good wishes of all for their future success. The Countess of Cromer, who is a daughter of the Dowager Countess of Minto, is just starting on a journey to British East Africa, to spend the winter with her sister through his mission have been most helpful and inspiring. His wonderful knowledge of the Bible and the impressive and gifted manner of imparting the same have endeared him to all those who have had the privilege of hearing him. Basil King, author of "The Innershrine" and "The Street Called Straight" who will address the Canadian Club of Montreal on Monday, is considered by his fellow authors as one of the most distinguished writers that Canada has so far produced. He is announced as an admirable platform speaker, as he occupied the pulpit for a number of years before adopting authorship as his profession. At one time he was rector of St. Luke's Cathedral, Halifax, and later was rector of Christ's Church, Cambridge, Mass. Mr. King is a native of Charlottetown, P.E.I. and was educated at St. Peter's School, Charlottetown, and King's College, Windsor, N.S. After living for a while in France and Germany, he returned to America, and for the last twenty years has lived in Cambridge, Mass.
