Postponed Yesterday Goodwill Race Program Slated To Open Today

Goodwill Races, halted by rain yesterday, will open this afternoon with the same closely matched fields coming to the wire as were slated to take the word yesterday afternoon.

28 horses will parade to the wire in the classes this afternoon and it is going to be a very difficult thing indeed to pick the winners so evenly matched are the fields.

In the Two-Year-Old Futurity there are six starters and the "babies" according to race followers are pretty much on a par. Then there is the Classified Trot with 9 tried and proven trotters. Anything happens in this one and it will not be surprising if the fans do not witness an upset before the winner is decided.

The 2:14 - 2:16 Trot and Pace has Sunnymead, Peter Brooks 2nd, Kavola, Sonata and Major Bows. Only five entries but a regular bunch of bearcats of the racing oval. Kavola will likely be installed the pre-race favorite but just keep your eye on the others, they have plenty of speed.

Winding up the opening day's program will be the 1st Division of the 2:24 Pace with eight starters and like the other three fans can bet just most anything with the race likely going to an extra heat before the winner is decided.

Close to seventy horses are slated at the track now waiting for the 2nd annual. The track promises to be as fast as lightning and with the promise of real racing weather harness horse followers are expected to be on hand in large numbers on both days.

Following are the list of entries for today's races:

Pro Hockey Clubs To Keep Hands Off Players Under 16 Years Of Age

(By The Canadian Press) TORONTO, Sept. 19.—Professional hockey clubs have agreed not to sign any amateur under the age of 18 without the consent of the amateur club and amateur officials, George Dudley, secretary of the International Ice Hockey Association and the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, said today.

Professional clubs can, however, negotiate with any player who has passed his 16th birthday, with a view to obtaining his services when he reaches the age of 18.

The new clause was contained in an agreement between the National League and its minor divisions, the International Association, the C.A.H.A. and the Amateur Hockey Association of the United States. Otherwise, terms were similar to previous agreements between these bodies which have extended over a period of nine years.

Dudley added that position of players on the contingent reserve list of professional clubs had been clarified because of concern expressed by amateur clubs over the large number of amateur players on the lists.

The contingent reserve list will be composed of two categories. The first is made up of professional players who entered the services and therefore remain property of their respective professional club. They cannot be approached by any amateur club unless first released by amateurs.

The second category involves players who have never played professional hockey but have entered into contractual agreements with professional clubs. Such players may be approached by amateur clubs subject, however, to the players fulfilling their try-outs or optional agreements with the professional club and subject also to the possibility of the N. H. L. notifying the I.A.H.A. It is putting into effect the terms of the players' contract and signing him where the contract so warrants.

Professional clubs also have agreed that an arrangement whereby players might be borrowed from amateur clubs by professional clubs for not more than three games a season will be discontinued. It was strictly a wartime arrangement.

Tigers' American League Lead Cut To One Game

(By The Canadian Press) One little Texas League single into right field was the only thing that kept the Tigers from a 2-0 victory over the Cleveland Indians at Cleveland last night. The Tigers didn't get a man on base in the last four innings.

St. Louis lightened its grip on third place by taking a pair of 10-inning ball games from New York Yankees, 6-5, in the opener, and 4-3 in the finale.

Trailing the Browns now by three full games with only eight to finish, the Yankees appear doomed to finish second. They were 1-10 in the 1921 under the late Miller Huggins. Never before in the 11-year span of the Tigers' management have they wound up out of the first three.

The double setback at New York also snuffed out the Yankees' title hopes. The Tigers didn't get a man on base in the last four innings.

After scrambling through a free-hitting game by taking a pair of 10-inning ball games from New York Yankees, 6-5, in the opener, and 4-3 in the finale.

Angott Wins In Technical Kayo Over Williams

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 19.—(AP) Sammy Angott of Washington, Pa., former lightweight champion, scored a technical knockout over N.E.A. champion Williams of Philadelphia in 1:01 of the sixth round of their scheduled 10-round bout tonight at Forbes Field.

It was a no little bout. Williams weighed 136, Angott 140.

Heavyweight champion Joe Louis, sitting at the ringside with Conn. top heavyweight contender, remarked:

"I've never seen Angott so aggressive."

Orioles Win Crucial Game From Montreal

(By The Associated Press) BALTIMORE, Sept. 19.—Sherman Lollar, the International League's 1945 batting champion, drove a terrific home run to the left field stands tonight with one on in the 10th inning, to break a 4-4 tie and give Baltimore Orioles a 5-4 victory over Montreal Royals in the crucial fifth game of their play-off series.

The smothered coming with two out broke up a tense game that saw Baltimore take an early 4-0 lead, only to have the batting Royals tie it up with a brace of runs in both the sixth and seventh innings.

Thus, the teams leave for Montreal and the sixth game Friday night, with Baltimore holding a 3 to 2 edge in the series.

Dodgers Defeat Giants 5-4 In National League

The Dodgers strengthened their hold on third place in the National League yesterday by coming from behind to defeat the Giants, 5-4, at Brooklyn.

Going into the seventh the Giants held a one-run lead, but Goody Rosen squared matters with a homer. Augie Galan and Ed Stevens followed with singles bringing Jack Brewer to the rescue of Ace Adams.

Galan was nipped at third as Frenchy Bordagary singled Stevens home with the winning run.

Boston Phillies 4-0 in a chilly game under the arc lights.

Hugh Mulcahy gave three runs and the Braves goose eggs until the ninth when the visitors tallied their fourth marker.

Horseshoe Games Are Rained Out

Last night's games in the Provincial horseshoe championship play were rained out but it was announced that players could play off games tonight. Friday will be the next regular night play.

Following was the draw for last night's games:

Francis vs. McLellan
Doyle vs. Phillips
McCourt vs. Martin
Jeffrey vs. Yorston
Connolly vs. Muller
Richard vs. Whitlock
Robin drew the bye.

Game Is Postponed

SPRINGHILL, N. S., Sept. 19.—(CP) — A downpour of rain washed out today's scheduled encounter between Halifax Shippers and Springhill Fenestubers, the third game of the Nova Scotia senior baseball finals, and it will be played tomorrow instead.

Shippers, trailing 2-0 in the best-in-seven series, are expected to send southpaw Mike Genthon to the mound tomorrow, while Fenestubers will start their ace right-hander, Len Bos.

IN THE CORNER

Race fans in general were keenly disappointed when rain interrupted the start of the Goodwill racing program yesterday but philosophically they looked forward to a final day of racing as would have been provided yesterday. And provided the weatherman is on his good behaviour that will be just the case.

Wrestlers had their second innings of the season at the Sporting Club tonight when two bouts, bouts that should produce fast, rugged action all day will be presented by Promoter Joey McDonald, McKinley and Perry in the main event should give excited hungry fans all the excitement they crave.

Both have been around wrestling rings a long while and they certainly know their way about the ropes. It is reported that each one of them will resort to every means at their disposal to be returned the winner and as a result struggle all the way.

Pete Perno who performed here on the recent card and who drew the admiration of the spectators for his courage in back again to the ring tonight is a newcomer, and one that is reputed to be just as fast, tough and rugged as "grunt and growler" com.

In Perno, however, "Blackie" will be tackling a smooth working customer and like the main event the crowd should also see plenty of action. Wrestling is going over in the main event, and the same could be the case here and should a sufficiently big crowd be present, the bouts will be as exciting as the best of the world.

In fact Joey has already sought to get the boys who are performing in the main event, but arrangements could not be made for this week. Jack Sharkey who is refereeing the bouts was world heavyweight champion would be a drawing card in himself and it is likely that he will continue his efforts to bring the troupe to the Sporting Club at the earliest possible date.

Washington Senators and St. Louis Cardinals hanging on grimly to the lead in the National League and Chicago Cubs both gained a full game Tuesday to make the outcome of the pennant race a little more uncertain. The experts conceding they don't know just which two will meet in the World Series.

St. Dunstan's and Prince of Wales football squads are getting ready to start out on their fall training and the next couple of weeks or so. Nothing doing in the next couple of weeks or so. Nothing doing in the next couple of weeks or so.

Speaking of the Washington Senators and the St. Louis Cardinals, says Doug Vaughtan in the Windsor Star.

The combats in that historic rumput were Leon (Goose) Goslin, Tiger on the mound, and the chaser. The Detroit club was taking batting practice prior to the game when the Sox's Goin came storming up out of the dugout wanting to know who was the blabbering person who had stolen his favorite bat. He just got out on the field in time to see Doljack coming out of the batting practice cage carrying his jughead—in two pieces.

Goslin was furious. He called Doljack a lot of harsh names and the latter retaliated with some pungent language of his own. Back in the dressing room he took the combined efforts of several of the Tigers, including Manager Mickey Cochrane, to keep the two apart.

P.S.—Doljack was not with the club the next season.

The other day when Eddie Stanley drew his 120th base on balls and made a total of 130 runs and scored having collected more passes in a single season than any other member of the Brooklyn Dodgers in the history of the club, it caused a National League observer to rekindle memories of the record-shattering year the colorful Babe Herman had as a member of the Flatbush team.

Babe's sixth year as a hitter was 1920. He had an agreement with the club which called for a salary of $19,000, and when the campaign closed nobody could say that he hadn't earned every penny.

His batting exploits had carried him a height never before attained by a Brooklyn player, and his achievements still remain as the best on record by Dodger.

The colorful Babe that year hit for the standard of 391. He made a total of 241 hits, 35 of which were homers. He batted .343 in 143 times himself.

And, of course, from time to time he made himself a more exciting figure by injecting some surprising base-running antics into his play.

Players Like Big Parks For World Series Finals

By WHITNEY MARTIN NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—(AP) — We have an idea, the Chicago Cubs don't care who wins the American League pennant as long as it is theirs. They would rather win the Detroit Tigers, as the National flag as long as it is the Cubs.

It isn't because the two teams have organized a mutual admiration society. It's simply because they have developed a whole-hearted admiration for the dollar.

Anyway, it's perfectly natural for the players to look at the world series from a mercenary angle, and it doesn't take two mathematicians to figure that the size of the ball parks can have a lot to do with the size of the players' share of the pie.

Some of the men also probably have a hazy recollection that the last time the two teams met in a series the winners took $6,144 a man which still stands as the record high.

The Detroit park is listed as having a capacity of 18,000; the Chicago park has 28,398. The National League park in Griffith Stadium can get the most out of the game without using shoehorns, and the Cards' park can accommodate 34,000 before starting to bulge.

As the first three games this year will be played in American League parks, and the players' share will be only in the receipts of the first four games, the prospect of a Detroit victory would be particularly appealing to the Cubs, or any other National League club. Naturally they would prefer the Bankers' Stadium with its 58,000 seats to Griffith Stadium with its 32,000.

Say, you don't suppose the National League clubs were doing a little scouting for the Yankees all these years the team was on top just to be sure the series would be played in the Stadium, do you?

Newark Wins International Semi-Final Series

(By The Associated Press) NEWARK, Sept. 19.—In one of the most exciting finishes ever seen in the International League play-off, stocky Mike Fortner cracked a three-run homer with two out in the 10th inning here tonight before 7,065 fans to wipe out the top half two-run burst in Toronto's late game and give Newark Bears a 6-5 victory which carried them into the final play-off round against the Baltimore-Montreal survivor.

NOTHING BUT TROUBLE IS MERRY NEW FUNFEST STARRING LAUREL-HARDY

The Laugh Parade is in town these days and Stan Laurel and Oliver Hardy are its drum majors. That means there's a mile of laughs.

Tossed out of job after job as a butler's team, the comedians finally find themselves in demand because of the manpower shortage and are hired by socially ambitious Mrs. Hawley, played by Mary Boland.

Their first assignment is to serve a dinner to the guardian of a young king-in-exile - and there by hangs a tale of na of the tuns and the tuns.

Oliver meet the young ruler without being aware of his identity and being aware of his identity without being aware of his identity. The lad, tired of being guarded and preferring the freedom of the average American lad, doesn't dislusion them. Eventually the trio learns that the guardian Prince Saul is plotting to do away with the king and become the ruler himself.

The film takes them all through a hilarious series of events which see them set things to right only after the kind of rib-tickling misunderstanding Stan and O
