Attendance at Holy Hour on Sunday evening at St. Dunstan's Basilica and an open meeting afterwards at their Council Chambers were the features of the Charlottetown Council's observance of Columbus Day.

Holy Hour was celebrated by Captain Rev. W. J. McCardie, who also delivered a special sermon for the occasion.

At the open meeting, Dr. J. A. MacMillan, the Guest Speaker, took for his subject, Group Hospitalization. All the details of this wonderful plan were explained and it certainly should be given study now so that on its inception subscribers will join its ranks and take advantage of its benefits.

In conjunction with the celebration, the Lecturer, Ray MacDonald was glad to present on behalf of the Council, an address and parting gift to Judge C. St. O. Trainor, who due to his recent appointment must take up residence in Kings County. The address was given by Dr. J. A. MacMillan, Bishop O'Sullivan, Dr. W. J. P. MacMillan, O'Sullivan, Dr. E. Arsenault and Dr. J. D. MacGuigan added their personal remarks as to their delight over Dr. Trainor's appointment, but stressed the loss to Charlottetown Council of Knights of Columbus as well as to The Childrens Aid Society by his departure from Charlottetown.

Completing the evening, lunch was served by the Lecturers committee under Chairmanship of Forest Stoenboe.

THE BAPTIST CHURCH

Participating in the Dominion wide observance of Thanksgiving the Rev. I. Judson Levy, brought to the morning congregation a message of the Spirit of Thanksgiving. In psalm 136:1, are the words "O give thanks unto the Lord for He is good and His mercy endureth forever." We hear the cynic's sneer "what do you mean by the goodness of God in a time like this?" We are more concerned about the hurt and suffering who in wonder raise a similar question. Let us count the mercies of God to us - are there any? It depends on our attitude. If we are only on the receiving end perhaps not. If we are on the giving and helping end we rejoice in the gift of life and the sheer joy of living, rich, abundant, worthy. Thank God for the beauty of the world, the promise of dawn, the glorious noon, green fields, bright flowers, moonlight, the high and silent stars. Thank God for the beauty in your human life where love and greatness still swell the human heart. Thank God for the harvest. God keeps His eternal promise and winter ends in Spring and every year brings its rewarding harvest time. Thank God for the uncomplicated, undisturbed spirit that meets every test with trust.

Mauder's anthem "While the earth remaineth" was finely presented by a large choir.

Dr. Barrett, Secretary of the Maritime Home for Girls brought the eloquent evening message, Handel's "A Prayer" was the evening anthem.

There are still several lists to be published of City subscribers. In the meantime envelopes are being handed in daily at the up town office of A. Pickard & Co. Those who have not yet subscribed may do so by contacting Mr. Whear at the above office or Miss Harris at the Hospital.

ST. JAMES CHURCH

The Festival of Harvest Thanksgiving was observed in the Kirk Sunday morning when the sanctuary was appropriately decorated and special music and sermon were in keeping with the significance of the day. Minister preached and said in part "The harbouring of a grudge, the subtle wish for another's harm, the envy that corrupts the heart, the tendency to belittle the virtues and magnify the vices of another, even if it find no expression in word or deed - such attitudes always prove impassable barriers to spontaneous prayer. When, therefore, anyone encounters the practical difficulty that arises from the sense of God's unreality, he may well search his life for sinister habits of thought, for cherished evils dimly recognized as wrong but ununderstood, for lack of carelessness in conduct or deliberate infidelity to conscience, for sins whose commission he deplores, but whose results he still clings to and desires, and above all for selfishness that hardens the heart and so breaks the connection that binds us to God and one another."

ADDRESS AND PRESENTATION

On Tuesday evening Oct. 9th an event of more than usual interest took place in Argyle Shore Hall when upwards of one hundred members and friends of the Argyle Shore and Canoe Cove section of the Church of Scotland met, to honor their pastor, Rev. Harvey Bishop on the event of his approaching marriage.

The meeting was called to order by the chairman, Mr. Silas Murley, while John MacQuarrie escorted Rev. Bishop and Dorothy MacQuarrie, the bride elect, to chairs placed under an arch autumnally decorated with tulle and leaves and Chinese lanterns. A suitable march was played by Mrs. J. Albert MacDougall.

An appropriate address was read by Neil MacQuarrie and Harry MacNeven made the presentation of a beautiful mantle clock with Westminster chimes, also a young man, Neil MacQuarrie, Mr. Bishop applied in appropriate terms on behalf of himself and fiancée, thanking the friends for their kind thoughtfulness and the honor they paid him by their presence and lovely gift, and wished them every blessing and all good wishes, after which all joined in singing "For They are Jolly Good Fellows". A delectable lunch was served by the ladies and the remainder of the evening spent enjoyably in singing and social intercourse and closed by singing "Blest be the tie that binds" and the National Anthem. The music was furnished by Peter MacDonaid and Abner Campbell.

The following is the address: To Rev. Harvey Bishop: The members and adherents of your congregation, resident in Argyle Shore and Canoe Cove, have met you here this evening to recognize and thank you for the which we believe, and which doubtless you know, to be of the highest importance.

We are unusually pleased to learn that you have for many years meditated upon the scriptural advice, "That it is not good for man to be alone," and that now you are soon to realize in very deed the truth of the injunction.

We would take this opportunity of making reference to the place you fill in our lives, as our Minister for the past two years. Your untiring efforts in the arduous duties of a pastor of churches separated by long distances, is well known to all of us, and needless to say are appreciated by the members of your flock.

We would also note your contribution to the general good and welfare of our province, in your social and fraternal activities.

On the occasion of the happy event in which you are shortly to participate, we wish you and your future wife all of the good things which happy married life may supply: health, wealth and prosperity.

We now ask you to accept this clock, not for its intrinsic value, but as a small token of the regard and esteem in which you are held by your friends in this congregation, and we trust that it may tick out the minutes and
