TALES TOLD BY MEN IN THE FIGHTING LINES ON LAND AND SEA

NURSE'S TRYING TIME

A nurse attached to the 18th Stationary Hospital, Mediterranean Expeditionary Force, writing to a friend in Scotland, describes the trying conditions under which the nurses are living in the place where she is stationed. "There are no shops or anything. Just a desert sort of place," she says. "We live in tents and nurse all patients in tents, and running from tent to tent is no joke. We came equipped for a hot climate, and here we get such sudden changes. Just now it is bitterly cold, and in torrents and we go about in macks, sou-westers and top boots. The mud is really awful."

"Everyone here seems to get ill. We have all had a touch of dysentery. We have not had any letters for such a long time. We only get a mail once a week, and this week the weather is too rough for the ships, I believe. "I often wonder if I shall ever land back home again. Two sisters and a matron in a camp next to us have died and one went mad, I believe. We have not been so unfortunate, but we are all so weary. We have no warm clothes here, you see. If you knew anyone who could send us old papers or magazines or anything like that I should be so glad. The boys go mad for something to read."

ANCIENT-LIKE WEAPONS USED

The special correspondent of the Vossische Zeitung on the Western front, in the course of a description of the fighting says: "Some horrible methods are being adopted all along the line. Victory is gained in hand-to-hand fighting. The oldest forms of weapon are used, in combination with the most modern engine of science devised for killing and destruction. The iron arrows and fire arrows of the aviators recall ancient days. The slings used for pitching trench mines hardly differ in principle from some of the Roman weapons. Liquid fire is also an echo of far-off days. Steel helmets and shields have once again been introduced by the French and the Russians. The dreadful favorite instrument of today—the hand grenade, played an important role in the seventeenth century. After practically disappearing for 150 years, it has now again acquired tremendous importance. Even the old visor has once again come to the surface, but now used as a protection against sword cuts, but against the vapours of poisonous gases, that are propelled towards the enemy. The present day masks make their wearers resemble those ghostly figures associated with sootery and incantation, and it is not only men but horses also who have to wear this protection when crossing the poison zone.

Gone are the days of those semi-peaceful conditions which developed at sundry points during "position warfare." When Italy declared war on Austria, the French amused our men by all sorts of fantastic demonstrations and we used to retaliate by throwing them pictures from German prison camps or lists of our prisoners. But the jokes have become more pointed. The missives exchanged are of an unpleasant, hateful character. Thus the bitterness grows, the mutual scorn deepens, until some day, when the enemy has accumulated a sufficient stock of munitions, he will attempt another assault. Till then, however, the bloody, murderous warfare from trench to trench will continue with its sacrifice upon sacrifice. One stands in potent and mournful before the blind fury of fate.

Cure Children's Colds By External Treatment

IMPORTANT

Relatives of soldiers returning from the front are asked to communicate with the Secretary of the Provincial Committee of Wounded Soldiers' Commission, Miss Nellie Gillespie, Charlottetown, intimating the date of expected arrival, cause of return and any other particulars, in order that preparation may be made for a fitting reception.

SONG OF JANUARY.

"Snowflakes falling lightly Sparrows calling brightly Through the empty stretches, Satin-white and clear Makes the heart beat loudly, Vibrant, glad and proudly— Lo! now comes grey winter— Joy-time of the year.

Winds are filled with rapture, Music fine they capture From the elm-boughs stately, Playing violins: Children sing their gladness, Gone's the old year's sadness, Father Time's forgiven All are crying sins.

Face the future brightly, Long day in and brightly, Wealth of strong hope bring! God above to guide you, Fight whatever befalls you, Till the heart's grey winter Wakes eternal Spring!" —DR. W. J. FISCHER.

MOTHERS WILL FIND NOTHING SO SPEEDILY AND RELIABLE AS OLD-TIME "NERVILLE."

It's really a shame to upset a young child's stomach by internal dosing, when external treatment will so promptly break up a cold.

When your boy comes in after play with his feet soaking wet, his throat hoarse and sore, his little chest tight and congested, just apply Nerville. Give him a vigorous rubbing over his throat, and put lots of Nerville on his chest and rub it right in. To make Nerville penetrate more quickly cover his chest and throat with a hot flannel bandage. This treatment WON'T fail. Your boy will be feeling better in half an hour, and you will have the satisfaction of knowing you have ward off perhaps a cold, or gripe, or illness that might have laid him up.

Nerville is mighty good for preventing colds and for breaking up a bad one, too. For general family use it cures all sorts of external aches and pains—you simply can't beat it. Try it for earache, toothache, neuralgia, sciatica, lame back rheumatism or lumbago. Whatever there is congestion, inflammation or pain in the joints or muscles, Nerville will cure it mighty quick. The large 50c family size bottle is so economical, so useful it should be in every home. There is also a small 25c size. Dealers anywhere sell Nerville.

"We want you to come in and see the largest and best range of Overcoats in the City and we want you to see how much cheaper we can sell you a good Overcoat than you can buy anywhere else. Paton & Co. 6378.
