How Texas City Made Its Comeback Through Insurance

National Board of Fire Underwriters, whose membership comprises 200 capital stock fire insurance companies, put its "Catastrophe Plan" into operation. Under this plan, adjusting and supervisory offices are set up at the scene of disaster to receive the thousands of claims, and process them so that loss payments may be made equitably and as quickly as possible.

Trained men rushed to Texas City to set up the supervisory office. Adjusters were called in from all parts of the country. Offices were opened in a damaged store building. Clerical help was hired locally and the staff went to work. Within two weeks, checks for loss payments began arriving in Texas City. Reconstruction began earlier than this, however, as the National Board staff notified policy holders that the insurance companies were on the spot and recognized their obligations.

During the time the supervisory office was open in Texas City, it processed and cleared 3978 claims. More than 90 per cent of these claims were damaged dwellings, the rest mercantiles, schools and other public buildings.

Ironically, none of these payments were made under fire insurance policies, nor were fire insurance companies liable under ordinary extended coverage endorsement to the fire policy. This EC endorsement pays for damage caused by windstorm, explosion, smoke, falling aircraft, motor vehicles, and civil riot. Because Texas City lies in a hurricane belt, most residents had bought Extended Coverage in addition to fire insurance. Hence they were protected against the concussion damage done by the Texas City explosions.

Stassen May Be Republican Candidate

By JACK BELL

OMAHA, Apr. 14—(AP)—A roaring tide of Nebraska Republican votes carried Harold E. Stassen today into the field of top-notch contenders for the party presidential nomination.

His smashing victory in Tuesday's presidential primary here delivered to the former Minnesota governor 13 of the state's 16 votes on the first nominating ballot at Philadelphia.

In a sweep that promised him a final margin of more than 15,000 over Governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York, Stassen climbed to the top of the popularity standings in this heavily-Republican midwestern area.

Stassen collected about 43 per cent of a party ballot total expected to top 200,000 when all of the state's precincts are counted.

Dewey, apparently in line for support of one convention delegate, got 34 per cent. Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio was a bad third runner with 10 per cent.

The count from 1,868 of the state's 2,625 precincts stood: Stassen 74,925; Dewey 59,135; Taft 19,348; Senator Vandenberg 8,340; Gen. Douglas MacArthur 6,289; Gov. Earl Warren of California 1,675; Joseph Martin, Speaker of the House of Representatives 843.

With this victory wrapped up, Stassen turns tomorrow to campaigning in Ohio. There he is seeking to take away from Taft some of that state's delegates in a May 4 primary.

At Minneapolis he promised to carry on the work of "developing a vigorous, forward-looking and humanitarian Republican party." He thanked Dewey and Taft for their "clean, constructive" campaign in Nebraska.

Dewey, absorbing his second political beating from the Minnesota in a week, indicated at Albany he will continue the fight in a head-on battle with Stassen in the May 21 Oregon Republican primary.

The New York Governor ran out of the money when Stassen captured 19 and MacArthur got 3 of Wisconsin's 27 delegates in the April 6 primary there.

Taft said in Washington that he was "disappointed" with the Nebraska results but predicted a different outcome in Ohio.

Memorial Service For Titanic Victims

By WYN RHYDWEN

HALIFAX, April 14—(CP)—A small group of Halifax citizens paused in their daily chores today to visit three cemeteries here. There they held memorial services for the 1,595 victims of the world's greatest marine tragedy.

At sea, 500 miles southeast of Halifax, a United States Coast Guard cutter stilled her engines and dipped her flag to half mast. The ship's commander dropped a wreath on the approximate spot where 36 years ago the world's then-greatest liner sank after striking an iceberg. The cutter was carrying out a 35-year-old tradition.

It was a quiet Sunday morning in this old port city when news of the sinking of the Titanic on her maiden voyage—on April 14, 1912—was flashed to the world.

Ironically enough, the catastrophe provided the first great test for wireless telegraphy, discovered only five years previously. When an S O S crackled from the Titanic a dozen other vessels in the vicinity sped to the scene—but they were able to rescue fewer than 500 persons.

Sixteen days after the sinking the cable ship Mackay Bennett, chartered by the Titanic's owners and dispatched to the scene from Halifax, returned to port with 306 bodies recovered from the sea. Only 86 could be identified and sent to relatives. The rest were buried in the three Halifax cemeteries.

The tragedy was cause of searching inquiries in the United States and England. Out of them came the first efforts to standardize and regulate wireless traffic and the establishment of an international ice patrol.

Today, the first Canadian ship to be part of that patrol, the weather ship St. Stephen, passed

Storm Causes Damage On Toronto Island

TORONTO, April 14 — (CP)—Homes of more than 100 families on Toronto Island were lashed today by huge waves that turned the summer resort into rushing rivers and miniature lakes.

Cause of the floods was due to the failure of a breakwater which collapsed under the terrific pounding of the high running waters of Lake Ontario. Veteran cottagers described the flood as the "worst in 30 years."

Many cottages along the lake front were shaken as water pounded foundations. The raging waters carried sand 200 yards inland.

None of the homes surrounded by water were believed in danger although members of the Toronto lifesavers squad are standing by in case of emergency.

BRITISH CHILDREN APPEAR WELL

NEW TB TREATMENT

CANBERRA — (CP) — Combining a new drug, streptomycin, and new rest therapy, eight young doctors here report "staggering" successes in treatment of TB. In the last year about 85 per cent of patients treated (mostly veterans), were cured.

New hope for traffic-harried pedestrians is seen in the portable horn carried by Barbara March, of Los Angeles. Invented by a local auto dealer, the device consists of a tank of compressed air which operates the two-toned horns. When pedestrian is about to cross the street, a touch on the trigger produces a blast that makes motorists jump on the brakes.
