ENJOYED VISIT. The Rev. Father LaVergne and Father Ferron, Albert Lefort of Quebec, arrived at Montague Saturday last. They were the guests of Dr. A. J. LaCourriere. They returned by motor Saturday morning. This was their first visit to the island and they were much pleased with the courtesies of the people. Mrs. Lefort is LaCourriere's sister. Their visit was most enjoyable and they are coming back again when they will be able to stay longer.

AT ALBERTON.—County Court on the 7th had but few registered cases but the prohibition cases occupied much of the time of the day. Mayor Lawson tendered a welcome to His Honor, Judge Ingham, on his first visit to the town in his new position of County Judge. The Judge expressed his appreciation to the Mayor for the welcome and spoke in commendatory terms of the town and its people. One of the prohibition cases were dismissed for want of sufficient evidence, while a third was adjourned to Tuesday, the 14th at Hill Hotel. Strong, Sumner, $5,000 CARGO DISCOVERED.—A hundred cases of rum, valued at $5,000, were seized along with the motorboat "Sea Dog," on which the motorboat was loaded, by a Dominion Government Preventive Service patrol boat about 12 miles off shore in the Strait of Northumberland Friday night, when a shot across the bows of the "Sea Dog" brought her to a halt. The motorboat's cargo was believed to have been transferred from a vessel off Point, P. E. I., to be landed on the Kent county coast and smuggled to Upper Saint John River, districts or through to the State of Maine.—St. John Telegraph Journal.

DELIGHTED WITH ISLAND.—William Raefield of Boston, Mass., who is at present spending his summer holidays at the guest of Messrs. Ellsworth and Edwin Diamond, this city, returned from a two days' trip to Moncton, N. B., where he was called on to inspect engineering construction. This is Mr. Raefield's first visit to this Province, and as he is himself, it won't be the last. He is greatly impressed with the rural scenery of the Province and says that very few places have bathing beaches equal to our famous "north shore." "Bill," as he is familiarly known by his numerous acquaintances has made many friends on the island, who will anxiously look forward to his future visits to the garden of the Gulf.

A HAPPY REUNION A reunion more than ordinary interest took place yesterday at the home of Mrs. Alex. MacLeod, 140 King St. when her sisters, the oldest 74, who had been together for 42 years, assembled to greet each other and talk over happy and fond recollections of their childhood days and the many other interesting topics that only a reunion of this nature calls for. It is needless to mention how joyous the time was spent. The guardian wishes the following friends every happiness and many more events such as is mentioned in Mrs. Alex. MacLeod City; Mrs. Sarah VanDerstine City; Sister E. St. Joseph's Convent, Toronto; Mrs. Sarah Pleaswell, Whitmarsh, Mass.; Mrs. William Pridham, Boston, Mass.; Mrs. Chester Acorn, City; Miss Lily Fairclough.

A dainty breakfast was served at the home of the bride by her immediate friends, including Rev. J. C. McDonald and Rev. Father McLellan, after which the bridal party motored to the city, where they had dinner at the Queen Hotel. In the evening they returned to the home of the groom in St. Teresa's, where a bountiful supper was served to upwards of two hundred guests. The remainder of the evening was spent in music and dancing. The presents received were numerous and costly including linen, cut glass, silver, china and several substantial cheques, testifying to the popularity of the young couple. Their many friends wish Mr. and Mrs. Sanphy a happy journey through life.

Once again the residents of our community have been shocked by the sudden death of Mrs. R. F. Lord on June the 26th. sed. It was clearly shown that every protection will be given our local men who wish to obtain space at the Fair Grounds, and they should leave their names with Secy, Boulter on or before Saturday, if possible. In order to meet the wishes of the City Council who have asked for special low rates for the evenings, the Directors decided to cut the evening admission rate to 15 cents for adults and children over 12 years of age. All those under 12 years of age will be free in the evenings. A small fee of 15 cents will be charged for the grandstand performance, which includes the band concert, Billy Rice Trio, and the Royal Peckins Troupe, one of the most expensive and greatest acts now touring, and one that has continuous booking for two and a half years. Leaving here it goes to the Canadian National Exhibition Toronto.

These low rates of admission should surely please all citizens and bring immense throngs to the Grounds in the evenings. The afternoon admission fee will be 25 cents, the lowest on the continent, and a further 75 cents sees the whole show from the Grandstand on Race Days.

The death occurred at his home in this city about nine o'clock yesterday morning of Mr. Edward Davy a life long resident and highly esteemed citizen. The late Mr. Davy was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Davy, was born in this city in 1844 and lived the greater part of his life in the locality where he passed away. An early age he learned the trade of blacksmith and worked for a number of years in the employ of Peake Bros., who at that time carried on an extensive shipping business. After that he carried on business for himself to a marked degree of success until his appointment under the Dominion Government as District Inspector of Weights and Measures in 1896, retiring from the service on his 80th birthday. The late Mr. Davy was a life long Liberal and a staunch member of the Charlottetown Methodist Church, (now the United Church of Canada).

All the Davy family were possessed of particularly fine voices, and the late Mr. Davy being no exception, was from boyhood a member of the old choir—first in the old wooden church on the corner where the Hertz Memorial Hall now stands and later in the brick church until he retired some fifteen years ago. For ten years the late Mr. Davy represented Ward III in the City Council, and afterwards was for a number of years one of the city assessors, until he received his government appointment. In the olden days when the city had Fire Wardens, two in each Ward, the late Mr. Davy held the position of one in his Ward. The late Mr. Davy was a gentleman of the finest type—industrious, honest, a true friend of temperance, always taking an active part in every movement that was for the good and improvement of his native city. He leaves to mourn the passing of a kind and loving father the following sons and daughters: Wesley, Mrs. J. D. Penn, Edith L. and Walter L., Boston; Mrs. Harold S. Dodsworth, Hedy B. and Arthur, Halifax, N. S.; Ernest E. and Miss Mabel at home, also two sisters, Mrs. W. O. Fyfe, City, and Mrs. Will Taylor, New York, and one brother, J. D. Davy, Boston.

All the family with the exception of Wesley were at the bedside when their father passed away. Mrs. Davy predeceased her husband fifteen years ago. On the afternoon of Sunday, July 1st, 1928, the death of Mrs. Roderick Grant occurred at her home in Bangor, P. E. I. She was in her 59th year and less than two years ago she appeared to be in the best of health and spirits, but even then disease with its blighting influence had begun its deadly work on an otherwise fine form and physique. Mrs. Grant was the youngest daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Grant of Bangor, and had a granddaughter of the late Stephen Rose, one of the pioneer settlers of North Lake. She leaves to mourn a devoted husband who, with the help of doctors and nurses, did all that was humanly possible to prolong her life and alleviate her sufferings, which she bore with splendid Christian fortitude—qualities imbued in her nature to a very marked extent. She was a member of the Church of Scotland and a woman of Christian character, always courteous and obliging, ready and willing to assist the sick or the needy at any time, and a true friend. In short, to know her was to love her. The following brothers and sisters also survive: Darius, Charlottetown; John, postmaster, Souris; Joshua, Forest Hill; Mrs. John MacDougal, Bangor, and Mrs. Clarke, Boston, Mass., who with hosts of friends mourn the loss of a loving wife, sister.

Her funeral, which was largely attended, took place at 2:30 p. m. on Tuesday at Bangor cemetery and was conducted by her pastor, Rev. Ewen MacDougall, assisted by Rev. J. W. MacLeod, of St. Peter's, who both spoke very appropriately and feelingly.

During the afternoon Mrs. Rhyenberg of the United States, a sister of Mrs. Rose, one of the Eastern Kings delegates, recited one of Robert Service's poems very acceptably. At the conclusion of the reception glowing words of appreciation were heard on all sides, which went to make a very happy ending to the convention. His Honor and Mrs. Hertz said they are always pleased to entertain out of town people, but finds it a rather difficult matter when they do not call at Government House as this is really the only opportunity afforded. Notwithstanding the humidity of the weather yesterday the large gathering enjoyed the pleasant surroundings and were refreshed with the cooling breezes from beautiful Hillsborough Bay.

A meeting of the Directors of the Exhibition Association was held yesterday morning and a large amount of business transacted. The complaint that local men would not be granted concessions on the grounds similar to those they had on the Square was discussed.
