PATHETIC INCIDENTS IN WELSH COAL MINES.

Father Placed Coat Over Son's Mouth to Exclude the Deadly "Damp" After the Explosion.

LONDON, July 30.—Particulars of the worst colliery disaster Wales has experienced for 11 years took place recently at No. 2 pit of the United National Valley Collieries Company, Wattstown, Rhonda Valley. The death roll is placed at 119, and among those killed was the manager Mr. Meredith. He had gone down only a few minutes before the explosion. The men working at No. 1 pit, numbering 800, were brought safely to the surface.

Fragments of machinery were blown from the mouth of the pit like cinders from the crater of a volcano. For a time there was almost a picnic. Even to the boldest it was impossible to ascertain immediately the extent of the disaster, for the pit-head machinery was wrecked. Thick suffocating smoke, too, rolled out in columns to obscure the sunlight of a day which a moment before had been calm and peaceful. The fumes of the after-damp were over-powering about the mountain slopes, for the colliery is environed by steep acclivities.

A rescuing party, led by Mr. D. Hannah, went down the pit to the nine foot seam. There they found three alive but badly burnt. They were sent up and received medical attention at once, but two of them soon succumbed.

The body of the manager, Mr. Meredith, was found not far from where the sinking operations were taking place. The manager of the colliery had evidently gone down to see how the sinking operations were proceeding. A time of terrible anxiety followed for Mrs. Meredith, the manager's wife, who could not be comforted by her daughters with the assurance that her husband could not have had time to reach the pit. It so happened, however, that Mrs. Meredith's fears were only too well founded.

At the pit bottom six bodies were discovered. The exploring party proceeded along the intake, where they found the bodies of two more men, who were evidently in the act of repairing at the time of the accident. Subsequently the rescuers came across 59 more dead men at the base of the shaft. All had evidently been hard at work when the explosion came. The party continued their journey along the intake until the foul air barred further progress.

Distressing scenes were witnessed at the pit mouth. When the terrible nature of the calamity was realized the screams of the women and children who flocked to the spot were heartrending.

A MELANCHOLY STORY.

Mr. Watts Morgan, who is the miners' agent to'd a pitiful story. He was one of a search-party, and came up grimed from his painful toil in one of the workings, where they found a number of bodies. The men had had time to seek shelter. Some of them crawled into cavities for protection ere the after-damp assailed them, and they were discovered where death had come to them, lying peacefully at rest.

"One poor little chap," said Mr. Morgan, "a mere boy, had crept into a cavity, putting his head at the furthest recess and his feet against a prop. When we saw him he was lying just as though he was asleep. His arms were crossed upon his breast, to which he was tightly hugging the water can that every miner carries. It was so painful to look on him that not a man amongst us could keep back the tears."

The saddest part of the disaster is the number of boys who are killed. Out of the 120 who were in the pit 40 were lads, and all perished. Some of the bodies were badly shattered, with fractured limbs and mutilated trunks. Others were scorched, the fire having burnt away hair and beard, and rent the skin into ribands. The features, blackened with coal dust, were indistinguishable, and one man was indentified only by a tobacco box which he carried in his pocket. The identity of another was almost established by the type of his belt buckle, but certainty was not arrived at until on his back were detected the marks of an injury which he had received in a previous explosion.

PATHETIC INCIDENTS.

One of the dead miners had taken off his coat and wrapped it around his son, and held him to his bosom to shield him from the blast. In that position the bodies were found.

One woman who had just given birth to a child had the awful knowledge that her husband and two sons had perished.

The husband, father, brother and son of another woman worked at the colliery. The husband alone is left.

In one household there were five victims, and there is hardly a family for miles around in which the sound of mourning is not heard.

"WEEKLY" CHANGED TO "TRI-WEEKLY"

The "Weekly Edition" of "The Charlottetown Guardian" was changed on July 1st to a "Tri-Weekly Edition." This was done because it is considered that the "Weekly" is too slow for a province with so many daily and tri-weekly mails as that of Prince Edward Island. In the past, four or eight pages have been printed on Friday, eight on Saturday or Monday and these twelve or sixteen pages have been held until the following Wednesday when eight more have been printed and then the entire twenty or twenty-four pages have been mailed as one paper to all subscribers. Thus the news of about two thirds of the issue is so old as to be of very little value when it reaches its destination the week following its actual publication. Now each section is mailed on Monday, Wednesday and Friday as soon as off the press. All the news is thus fresh, and each section of ads. and reading matter much more likely to be read thoroughly than if the entire twenty to twenty-four pages arrived but once a week, and all at one time. All advertisements will appear in but one section of each entire week's issue as in the past, unless it is desired that they appear more frequently, in which case arrangements can be made with the management. Regular advertisers in the past have been required to have "changes" in not later than Saturday, and by the time the paper reached subscribers the following week it was often desirable that other goods arriving in the meantime be advertised. Under the three-a-week issue "changes" received up to either Tuesday, Thursday, or Saturday at ten a. m. will be printed in either the Wednesday, Friday or Monday issue respectively, and thus reach readers when new and fresh. Transient advertisements can appear either once, twice or thrice a week as arranged for. It is believed that all readers will appreciate the change, as they will in future receive a paper issued each Monday, Wednesday and Friday of every week instead of twenty to twenty-four pages issued but Wednesday of each week. Advertisers very much prefer that their ads appear but once a week in a tri-weekly rather than in a Weekly of two or three times the size, as they are much more likely to be read carefully.

Tiredness Means Danger!

Indicates Faulty Blood and Worn-Out Nerves—Build Up, or Total Collapse will Surely Follow.

When you're tired all day, bothered by trifles exhausted with nervousness, be sure there is something wrong.

You need bracing up, need more nourishment in the blood, need a powerful medicine to vitalize the nerves and distribute force and staying power to all over-worked organs.

The most marvellous success is Ferrozone, a nourishing tonic so scientific as to be the admiration of every physician. Ferrozone performs wonders for people in poor health; it acts directly on the blood, enriching it with strength and new life that is at once dispatched to all parts of the body. Ferrozone feeds the nerves and vital energies, supplies force, determination and joyous, buoyant spirits.

A case where there was lassitude and lack of strength is told by Mr. David Brown, of post-office box No. 30, Beeton, Ont.: "About a year ago my health commenced to fail. My hands and feet seemed always cold. I felt worn-out and exhausted, weak as a little child. My face twitched. My limbs and arms commenced to lose their sense of feeling and finally my left side was perfectly numb. All my color left. My appetite ran down. Ferrozone was the first to give me any help. I improved with it very quickly. It toned up the blood and started circulation, so that the numbness gradually disappeared. My condition was perfectly cured by Ferrozone, and I have been well ever since. (Signed) "David Brown."

SPECIAL NOTICE.—To get satisfactory results be sure you get Ferrozone only. Fifty cents per box or six boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont., and Hartford, Conn., U. S. A.

TRADE PARALYZED.

MINNEAPOLIS, July 29.—Hit by the Rockefeller corner in flaxseed, the Minneapolis linseed oil industry is in a state of temporary paralysis. Of the eight mills in Minneapolis only the western mills of the American Linseed Company and the Daniels, an independent mill, are still being operated. Two of the largest mills in the world, the Minnesota and the Midland, both independent, are idle. About 600 men, directly employed in the local industry, are out of work.

A Warning to Mothers.

Too much care cannot be used with small children during the hot weather of the summer months to guard against bowel troubles. As a rule it is only necessary to give the child a dose of castor oil to correct any disorder of the bowels. Do not use any substitute, but give the old-fashioned castor oil, and see that it is fresh, as rancid oil nauseates and has a tendency to gripe. If this does not check the bowels give Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and then a dose of castor oil, and the disease may be checked in its incipiency and all danger avoided. The castor oil and this remedy should be procured at once and kept ready for instant use as soon as the first indication of any bowel trouble appears. This is the most successful treatment known and may be relied upon with implicit confidence even in cases of cholera infantum. For sale by all druggists.

CAMPERS APPRECIATE

Clark's Lunch Tongue—juicy and deliciously cool. Spread between two pieces of thin bread well buttered—it makes a tasty morsel.

Nothing on the Market Equal to Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera-and Diarrhoea Remedy.

This fact is well known to druggists everywhere, and nine out of ten will give their customers this preparation when the best is asked for. Mr Obe Witmer, a prominent druggist of Joplin, Mo., in a circular to his customers, says: "There is nothing on the market in the way of patent medicine which equals Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for bowel complaints. We sell and recommend this preparation." For sale by all druggists.
