Fortune For St. George's Chapel

(By Dominion News Service)

LONDON, July 23.—Addressing the Windsor and Eton Choral Society, the Dean of Windsor (Dr Baillie referred to St. George's chapel, Windsor Castle, and the repair fund now being raised.

He said he had raised £40,000 without a single penny being spent on collection and without making a public appeal. He had no doubt it would be possible to obtain all the money required and restore the historic and artistic building so that it would remain one of England's gems for centuries to come.

Woman Who Thinks In Millions

(By Dominion News Service)

LONDON, July 23.—A woman sued for arrears of rent at Southwark County Court caused some astonishment by announcing that there were three and a half millions of money in her name in Chancery and that she had property half in mortgage realising 15 millions yearly.

Judge Sir Thomas Granger: "Where is all this fabulous wealth?"

The woman replied that she could get at it.

His Honour: "If you are entitled to £15,000,000 yearly you can pay the arrears of rent."

An order for payment by instalments was made.

MR. ALEX STUART, PROSPEROUS BEADLE, SASK., FARMER PASSES

(From the Kindersley Clarior)

On Saturday morning, June 23rd one of the early pioneers of the district in the person of Alex. Stuart of Beadle, Sask., passed away in the Kindersely Hospital.

The deceased has been more or less ailing for a considerable time with stomach trouble, but was only stricken with the fatal attack about two weeks ago, and was at once removed to the hospital, where with characteristic tenacity he waged stubborn warfare against the grim reaper, but the ravages of his malady had so weakened his naturally rugged constitution that in spite of all that human aid could do or willpower resist, he passed away in his sleep on Saturday morning about 8 o'clock.

Alexander Stuart was born at Springton, P. E. I., on October 1, 1854. He was the son of Angus and Mary Stuart and was one of a family of 19 children. He was the father of 14 children, 10 of whom are still living. He leaves to mourn his loss: a sorrowing wife and family as follows: Effie, Freddie and Roy of Beadle; Frances P., of Boston Mass, U. S. A.; Charlie and Alexander, of Milton, Mass; J. Weston, of Quincey, Mass.; Angus and Malcolm, of Big Creek Cal., U. S. A., and Harvey, of Millet, Alberta. He also left five sisters and four brothers as follows: Mrs. Mary Ann Spencer, of Wollaston, Mass.; Mrs Effie Hurd, of Rockford, Wash.; Mrs. Maggie MacDonald, of Newlington Mass.; Mrs. Lizzie Livingstone Clyde River P. E. I.; Neil Sturt, of Vancouver, B. C. and Kerrobert, Sask.; Donald, of Arlington, Mass.; Malcolm, of Breadalbane, P. E. I.; and John, of Bedeque P. E. I.

The deceased came to Beadle, Sask, in February, 1912, from Milton Mass., where he had lived for twenty-eight years after emigrating from Prince Edward Island, and has resided and farmed here successfully until his death.

Being of a somewhat taciturn and retiring disposition he was not given to ostentation or show but in his characteristic unassuming way he was always ready to lend a helping hand to any in need. He was a good neighbor, an affectionate and devoted husband and father and a kind friend.

The world is indeed the poorer for the loss of Alexander Stuart, whose example in integrity industry and moral rectitude is a legacy truly worthy of emulation.

The funeral which was well attended was held on Sunday afternoon from Kennemann's Undertaking parlors to the Kindersley Cemetery an appropriate Service being conducted in the Church by the Rev. J. Bright. The many floral offerings attested to the high esteem in which the deceased was held by his relatives, neighbors and friends.

The pall bearers were J. Hunter, Ernie Morgan, Jess Ruff, Jack Garham, John Atkinson and Claude Williams.

The bereaved ones have the heartfelt sympathy of their many friends in this their lonely and darkest hour.

VALUABLE DIRECTIONS FOR CANNING

One cause for failure canning is the desire to get as much food as possible into a jar. If a can is packed tight with food there is little room for water, and the result is a thick, dense, compact product through which heat travels slowly and with difficulty. In such a case the chances are that in the entire cooking process the food in the center of the can is never heated even to the boiling-point. The little organisms which happen to have this advantageous position come through the cooking process unscathed. It won't take them long to spoil such a jar of food. Better to follow the directions faithfully: "Pack the vegetables loosely in the jar. Shake gently, but do not press down the contents. Leave a space of one-half inch at the top of the jars. Add one teaspoon of salt to each jar and fill with boiling water."—

WASH WELL BEFORE YOU CAN

The truth is that every woman could wash away half her canning troubles. Of course it is difficult to get a vegetable entirely clean of all organisms, and even so it might spoil from other causes. However, it is a fact that a thoroughtly clean vegetable stands a much better chance of seeing the Winter through behind the glass of a tidy jar than a carelessly washed one does. The dirt that clings to vegetables is naturally full of micro-organisms, and those that resistant kind: they are used to hard times, and at the first sign of adversity they go into a shell, like the turtle, which in their case is called a "spore form." In this state they may be boiled for hours, only to "come to" when they find themselves comfortably housed in a jar of food. As soon as their activities begin, your food begins to spoil. Here are a few pointers about washing vegetables: Wash peas string-beans before you begin to prepare them, and wash them well; otherwise you carry the dirt from the outside of the bean into the cut portion, and the chances are you can't get it out again. Wosh peas in the pod thoroughly before you begin to shell them.

Greens—spinach especially—are the hardest of all foods to rid of soil. Success lies in washing these in worm water insead of cold. Use water as warm as the hand and wash in many waters—so many that no trace of sediment is seen in the last water. And wash in this case means scrub, rubbing the greens between the hand as clothes are rubber, using a brush for the first attack on the roots and stems and a knife for trimming away the root-stocks and dead or dying leaves. When the washing is finshed, plunge the greens into cold cold water to crisp again.—

BE CAREFUL, MADAM

You who use Palmolive Soap have a serious purpose.

You quit common soaps because you wanted fine complexions, youthful skin. Now common soaps are made to imitate Palmolive, so that buyers will think that they get it.

Be careful. If you want Palmolive, look out for deceptions. Palmolive has become, by its clear results, the leading toilet soap of the world.

One user told another—the others told others. Thus millions of beauty lovers came to adopt this soap.

Not merely because of olive oil or palm oil. But because our experts gave those oils efficiency they never had before.

Now very cheap soaps are colored green and made in Palmolive shape. They are given like-sounding names.

Thus, careless people think they get Palmolive when they don't. Then complexions suffer. The desired results are lacking. And folks blame Palmolive for it.

Palmolive is based on an ideal blend of palm and olive oils. It has been perfected by many years of scientific study. The skin effects are unique. They have never been attained from any oils before.

It is a quality soap—a 25-cent quality. But enormous production enables a 10-cent price.

If you want those virtues—and you do—the only way to get them is in real Palmolive Soap.

The way to get it is to watch the name and wrapper. Otherwise, you may get a soap which brings no like results.
