

DANCE TONIGHT

HOLY NAME HALL
Ding Connolly and his orchestra
Cafeteria Service
Admission 35c.
Dancing From 9.30 Till 12.30

QUEEN'S CANADIAN FUND DONATIONS FOR
AIR RAID VICTIMS

Repeated bombing raids on British areas and the industrial Midlands has attracted fresh attention to the plight of the many thousands of civilians in Great Britain who are harried from shelter to shelter and finally from the open country by successive raids. Eventually places are found for them all, places of relative security, but their belongings are destroyed. The task of emergency feeding alone is difficult. The task of seeing them once more with some quantity of clothing and bedding is much more difficult.

out deduction to the Lord Mayor of London for distribution to the homeless and needy.
Contributions from this Province should be forwarded to the Royal Trust for Women, Charlottetown, which reports the following receipts to date:
Received Friday:—
Victoria Women's Institute $5.00
W. H. Ford, Emerald $5.00
Miss Blanche E. Haviland, Charlottetown, $5.00
Miss Mary McDougall, Cane Cove, $1.00
George D. DeBlois, Charlottetown, $5.00
Mrs. W. B. Prove, Charlottetown, $2.00
Miss Gertrude Murray, Summerside, $3.00
Mrs. F. J. Casey, Charlottetown, $1.00
Previously acknowledged:—
$1,240.88
TOTAL—$1,262.88.

ST. DUNSTAN'S UNIVERSITY GRADUATING CLASS
EDMUND J. ROCHE, P. FRANCIS MACDONALD, JOHN J. TRAINOR, J. KENNY MOONEY, PAUL TOURIGNY

Commencement Exercises at S.D.U.

(Continued from page 1)

In the milestone in the history of St. Dunstan's University whereby it is empowered to grant its own diplomas. He also referred to the establishment of the Canadian Officers' Training Corps last autumn at the college by the Department of National Defence. The last part of this report appears below.

Rev. Dr. McMahon delivered the address to the graduates in place of Hon. J. E. Michaud, Canadian Minister of Fisheries, who was unable to be present. Father McMahon's address appears below.
Mr. Eugene Gorman, Andover, Mass. was valedictorian of the graduating class.
The graduates were complimented on their achievements in short speeches by His Honour Lieutenant Governor B. W. LePage; President T. A. Campbell; His Worship, Mayor B. R. V. Holman; Hon. Dr. W. P. McMillan; Hon. Mark R. McGuigan, Minister of Education and Hon. J. P. McIntyre, Minister of Public Works and Highways.

Underlying Principle
This has been the underlying principle of your education here at St. Dunstan's and notwithstanding your classical degree, if you have not learned that lesson you are not really educated.
As college students during the past few years you were "fed" with the Bell Tolls, but for you, it first toll called to morning prayers and Holy Mass, during the day it tolled for class-work and study in a Christian atmosphere, and it tolled for your night prayers and God's pardon implored for the offences of the day and His blessing asked on the night to come.

Address to Graduates
The following is the Address to the Graduates delivered by Rev. Dr. McMahon, B. A., Ph.D., J. C. L., D. D.
This is a strange world just now. Nothing seems to happen according to rule. This over-confident and complacent assertion of the venerable middle aged in temperance and many times curbing the enthusiasm of youth was "excellent teaching." Today in the burning heat and to say the least, unneeded heat of what has happened to the world in the past few years, the venerable are asking themselves just what experience did they and their confident assertions have changed to the nervous "Is it only in the vagaries of this mentality that I can find any explanation of my addressing the graduates of St. Dunstan's today, according to all rules it should not have happened. The one chosen for this important task was a federal cabinet minister. The announcement of it brought joy to the hearts of all who loved this institution. A former graduate who has reached one of the highest places in the power of his country to be worthy of the name of his Alma Mater to do her honor and to give to the young men of this graduating class a word of sound advice before they set sail in their fragile barges upon the troubled sea of this new world. A few days ago word came that he could not come. The duties of his important office made it impossible for him to leave his post and St. Dunstan's lost not only the "prime catch" of the season but the Minister of Fisheries himself. But how did it come here? It was a very modest coming. These are the days of "blizzards" and "Luffwaffel" but I didn't tumble out of a "Messerschmitt" on a Scottish moor like a certain much overpublicized and very suspicious minion nor did I leave my post and my invasion of the airplane, parachute, glider or self-propelled barge, for, to tell you the truth, I made the most unconventional and embarrassing entry that I could make to a distinguished audience; I was just simply pushed in.

Underlying Principle
This has been the underlying principle of your education here at St. Dunstan's and notwithstanding your classical degree, if you have not learned that lesson you are not really educated.
As college students during the past few years you were "fed" with the Bell Tolls, but for you, it first toll called to morning prayers and Holy Mass, during the day it tolled for class-work and study in a Christian atmosphere, and it tolled for your night prayers and God's pardon implored for the offences of the day and His blessing asked on the night to come.

Underlying Principle
This has been the underlying principle of your education here at St. Dunstan's and notwithstanding your classical degree, if you have not learned that lesson you are not really educated.
As college students during the past few years you were "fed" with the Bell Tolls, but for you, it first toll called to morning prayers and Holy Mass, during the day it tolled for class-work and study in a Christian atmosphere, and it tolled for your night prayers and God's pardon implored for the offences of the day and His blessing asked on the night to come.

Underlying Principle
This has been the underlying principle of your education here at St. Dunstan's and notwithstanding your classical degree, if you have not learned that lesson you are not really educated.
As college students during the past few years you were "fed" with the Bell Tolls, but for you, it first toll called to morning prayers and Holy Mass, during the day it tolled for class-work and study in a Christian atmosphere, and it tolled for your night prayers and God's pardon implored for the offences of the day and His blessing asked on the night to come.

Underlying Principle
This has been the underlying principle of your education here at St. Dunstan's and notwithstanding your classical degree, if you have not learned that lesson you are not really educated.
As college students during the past few years you were "fed" with the Bell Tolls, but for you, it first toll called to morning prayers and Holy Mass, during the day it tolled for class-work and study in a Christian atmosphere, and it tolled for your night prayers and God's pardon implored for the offences of the day and His blessing asked on the night to come.

Underlying Principle
This has been the underlying principle of your education here at St. Dunstan's and notwithstanding your classical degree, if you have not learned that lesson you are not really educated.
As college students during the past few years you were "fed" with the Bell Tolls, but for you, it first toll called to morning prayers and Holy Mass, during the day it tolled for class-work and study in a Christian atmosphere, and it tolled for your night prayers and God's pardon implored for the offences of the day and His blessing asked on the night to come.

Underlying Principle
This has been the underlying principle of your education here at St. Dunstan's and notwithstanding your classical degree, if you have not learned that lesson you are not really educated.
As college students during the past few years you were "fed" with the Bell Tolls, but for you, it first toll called to morning prayers and Holy Mass, during the day it tolled for class-work and study in a Christian atmosphere, and it tolled for your night prayers and God's pardon implored for the offences of the day and His blessing asked on the night to come.

Underlying Principle
This has been the underlying principle of your education here at St. Dunstan's and notwithstanding your classical degree, if you have not learned that lesson you are not really educated.
As college students during the past few years you were "fed" with the Bell Tolls, but for you, it first toll called to morning prayers and Holy Mass, during the day it tolled for class-work and study in a Christian atmosphere, and it tolled for your night prayers and God's pardon implored for the offences of the day and His blessing asked on the night to come.

Underlying Principle
This has been the underlying principle of your education here at St. Dunstan's and notwithstanding your classical degree, if you have not learned that lesson you are not really educated.
As college students during the past few years you were "fed" with the Bell Tolls, but for you, it first toll called to morning prayers and Holy Mass, during the day it tolled for class-work and study in a Christian atmosphere, and it tolled for your night prayers and God's pardon implored for the offences of the day and His blessing asked on the night to come.

Underlying Principle
This has been the underlying principle of your education here at St. Dunstan's and notwithstanding your classical degree, if you have not learned that lesson you are not really educated.
As college students during the past few years you were "fed" with the Bell Tolls, but for you, it first toll called to morning prayers and Holy Mass, during the day it tolled for class-work and study in a Christian atmosphere, and it tolled for your night prayers and God's pardon implored for the offences of the day and His blessing asked on the night to come.

Underlying Principle
This has been the underlying principle of your education here at St. Dunstan's and notwithstanding your classical degree, if you have not learned that lesson you are not really educated.
As college students during the past few years you were "fed" with the Bell Tolls, but for you, it first toll called to morning prayers and Holy Mass, during the day it tolled for class-work and study in a Christian atmosphere, and it tolled for your night prayers and God's pardon implored for the offences of the day and His blessing asked on the night to come.

Underlying Principle
This has been the underlying principle of your education here at St. Dunstan's and notwithstanding your classical degree, if you have not learned that lesson you are not really educated.
As college students during the past few years you were "fed" with the Bell Tolls, but for you, it first toll called to morning prayers and Holy Mass, during the day it tolled for class-work and study in a Christian atmosphere, and it tolled for your night prayers and God's pardon implored for the offences of the day and His blessing asked on the night to come.

Underlying Principle
This has been the underlying principle of your education here at St. Dunstan's and notwithstanding your classical degree, if you have not learned that lesson you are not really educated.
As college students during the past few years you were "fed" with the Bell Tolls, but for you, it first toll called to morning prayers and Holy Mass, during the day it tolled for class-work and study in a Christian atmosphere, and it tolled for your night prayers and God's pardon implored for the offences of the day and His blessing asked on the night to come.

Underlying Principle
This has been the underlying principle of your education here at St. Dunstan's and notwithstanding your classical degree, if you have not learned that lesson you are not really educated.
As college students during the past few years you were "fed" with the Bell Tolls, but for you, it first toll called to morning prayers and Holy Mass, during the day it tolled for class-work and study in a Christian atmosphere, and it tolled for your night prayers and God's pardon implored for the offences of the day and His blessing asked on the night to come.

Underlying Principle
This has been the underlying principle of your education here at St. Dunstan's and notwithstanding your classical degree, if you have not learned that lesson you are not really educated.
As college students during the past few years you were "fed" with the Bell Tolls, but for you, it first toll called to morning prayers and Holy Mass, during the day it tolled for class-work and study in a Christian atmosphere, and it tolled for your night prayers and God's pardon implored for the offences of the day and His blessing asked on the night to come.

Red Cross Crippled Children's Clinics
Conducted by Dr. Acker
Town Hall, Summerside
Tuesday, May 27th
Red Cross Office, 62 Prince St
Charlottetown
on Friday, May 30th
L-233-5-21-51.

The Central Guardian

This column is reserved for news of local interest, but advertising of a newsy nature may be inserted at 5 cents a word, strictly payable in advance.
CRASWELL for photographs.
CONFEDERATION LIFE INSURANCE. L-9788
HELP THE WINGS OF BRITAIN
FUND buy roses today. L-523-5-27-1
MEDICAL EXAMINING BOARD will meet at the Charlottetown Armouries every Tuesday and Friday to examine recruits for the Canadian Active Army. L-457-5-26-31.
RECRUITS WANTED AT ONCE
for all branches of the Canadian Active Army. Apply in person or by letter to the Recruiting Officer Charlottetown Armouries. L-457-5-26-31.
RECEIVES DEGREE — Among those to receive the degree of Bachelor of Arts at the McGill Convocation on May 29th is Frank P. T. MacKinnon of Charlottetown, who has graduated with honors in economics and political science.

Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Doyle announce the engagement of their daughter, Frances Grace to Sergeant William T. Crockett, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Crockett. Marriage will take place early in June. L-537.

Train Delayed

The Borden train was delayed 50 minutes reaching Charlottetown yesterday evening due to mainline connections. It was 33 minutes late arriving at Cape Breton because of heavy traffic. The train was due here at 6:40 standard time but did not arrive until 7:30.

Study Group

The Teachers Study Club met at Cornwall on Friday, May 16th, with teachers from surrounding districts in attendance. Owing to the absence of Miss Marie Macdonald, the president, Mrs. Eric Bagnall was elected to act in her place. The minutes of the November meeting were read and approved. The assignments were taken up and commentaries were made upon them. There was an interesting discussion, talk and reading on "The Teaching of Oral Reading." Several difficulties were brought forth and threshed out. All teachers present took part in the lively discussion which was held. The next meeting is to be held in Cornwall School on June 6th.

Archer-MacNeill

A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized at the Central Christian Church Parsonage on Saturday evening, May 10, with Rev. Roscoe W. Nice officiating, when Miss Irene Archer of Cornwall was united in marriage to Mr. Holland Llewellyn Archer of the R.C.A. stationed at Petawawa. The bride looked very charming in a dress of dusty rose rayon crepe with hat and accessories of navy was attended by her cousin Miss Brenda MacNeill who wore a powder blue dress of rayon crepe with matching accessories while the bridesmaid was the bride's brother, Claire. After the ceremony a wedding supper was served at the bride's home at Prince Street to the immediate relatives of both parties. Assisting in serving were Mrs. A. E. MacNeill, Misses Margaret Gillis, Elva Paynter, and Merlene MacNeill. Prior to her marriage the bride was the guest of honor at several showers and received many beautiful gifts. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Carrie MacNeill and the late Brenton MacNeill of Bath, Maine and the groom is the son of Capt. and Mrs. C. P. Archer of Charlottetown. Out of town guests included Miss Flora Gillis, Mr. Roy MacCoughlin and Mr. Preston Gillis of Melville and Mrs. Oliver Paynter and her sons Brenton and Jack of Long River.

Our Most Important Department

The preparations of medicines and the compounding of prescriptions has always had our special attention. Our experience and training along scientific lines has been such as to make this a matter of special interest to us.
The result is that we provide the people of this vicinity with every item of equipment and with the system and methods that the most modern service requires.
You cannot over-estimate the value of such service when you require medicines prepared, and the security afforded costs you nothing extra.

JAMIESON'S DRUG STORE

C. O. T. C. Established

I made reference a few months ago to the Canadian Officers' Training Corps (C.O.T.C.) established here last autumn by the Department of National Defence. It comprised three groups: the first group was made up of our senior students and university graduates residing in or near the city, many of whom are prominent professional and business men; the second included Miss Flora Gillis, Mr. Roy MacCoughlin and Mr. Preston Gillis of Melville and Mrs. Oliver Paynter and her sons Brenton and Jack of Long River.

The forty representatives of the mainland colleges and universities. In addition to this Conference there were military activities carried over almost the whole year which occupied a great deal of the students' time—that was formerly devoted to academic work. I commend the graduates upon the excellent spirit with which they faced this new task which world conditions made necessary.

We regret that this war-torn world has not a better prospect to offer you at the present time. From my knowledge of you, however, I am confident that you are willing to face conditions as you find them. Though the future may look uncertain, though the dark clouds of war may overshadow the goal you had in mind and threaten your way of life and even your lives, you will, I know, go on undaunted, making your own offering in your own way towards the rebuilding of a better world for the generations that come after you. Yours is the formidable task, but nevertheless the glorious one, of re-establishing God in the hearts of men that have banished Him. In the performance of this task I know you will not flinch, for only the brave hearted would shrink from the performance of so noble a duty. St. Dunstan's therefore, in extending to you her heartfelt congratulations on this, your day, knows that you will not falter, that being faithful to her Christian teachings you will be her joy and the just pride of your good parents who are rightly sharing your happiness today.

C. O. T. C. Established

I made reference a few months ago to the Canadian Officers' Training Corps (C.O.T.C.) established here last autumn by the Department of National Defence. It comprised three groups: the first group was made up of our senior students and university graduates residing in or near the city, many of whom are prominent professional and business men; the second included Miss Flora Gillis, Mr. Roy MacCoughlin and Mr. Preston Gillis of Melville and Mrs. Oliver Paynter and her sons Brenton and Jack of Long River.

The forty representatives of the mainland colleges and universities. In addition to this Conference there were military activities carried over almost the whole year which occupied a great deal of the students' time—that was formerly devoted to academic work. I commend the graduates upon the excellent spirit with which they faced this new task which world conditions made necessary.

We regret that this war-torn world has not a better prospect to offer you at the present time. From my knowledge of you, however, I am confident that you are willing to face conditions as you find them. Though the future may look uncertain, though the dark clouds of war may overshadow the goal you had in mind and threaten your way of life and even your lives, you will, I know, go on undaunted, making your own offering in your own way towards the rebuilding of a better world for the generations that come after you. Yours is the formidable task, but nevertheless the glorious one, of re-establishing God in the hearts of men that have banished Him. In the performance of this task I know you will not flinch, for only the brave hearted would shrink from the performance of so noble a duty. St. Dunstan's therefore, in extending to you her heartfelt congratulations on this, your day, knows that you will not falter, that being faithful to her Christian teachings you will be her joy and the just pride of your good parents who are rightly sharing your happiness today.

C. O. T. C. Established

I made reference a few months ago to the Canadian Officers' Training Corps (C.O.T.C.) established here last autumn by the Department of National Defence. It comprised three groups: the first group was made up of our senior students and university graduates residing in or near the city, many of whom are prominent professional and business men; the second included Miss Flora Gillis, Mr. Roy MacCoughlin and Mr. Preston Gillis of Melville and Mrs. Oliver Paynter and her sons Brenton and Jack of Long River.

The forty representatives of the mainland colleges and universities. In addition to this Conference there were military activities carried over almost the whole year which occupied a great deal of the students' time—that was formerly devoted to academic work. I commend the graduates upon the excellent spirit with which they faced this new task which world conditions made necessary.

We regret that this war-torn world has not a better prospect to offer you at the present time. From my knowledge of you, however, I am confident that you are willing to face conditions as you find them. Though the future may look uncertain, though the dark clouds of war may overshadow the goal you had in mind and threaten your way of life and even your lives, you will, I know, go on undaunted, making your own offering in your own way towards the rebuilding of a better world for the generations that come after you. Yours is the formidable task, but nevertheless the glorious one, of re-establishing God in the hearts of men that have banished Him. In the performance of this task I know you will not flinch, for only the brave hearted would shrink from the performance of so noble a duty. St. Dunstan's therefore, in extending to you her heartfelt congratulations on this, your day, knows that you will not falter, that being faithful to her Christian teachings you will be her joy and the just pride of your good parents who are rightly sharing your happiness today.

C. O. T. C. Established

I made reference a few months ago to the Canadian Officers' Training Corps (C.O.T.C.) established here last autumn by the Department of National Defence. It comprised three groups: the first group was made up of our senior students and university graduates residing in or near the city, many of whom are prominent professional and business men; the second included Miss Flora Gillis, Mr. Roy MacCoughlin and Mr. Preston Gillis of Melville and Mrs. Oliver Paynter and her sons Brenton and Jack of Long River.

The forty representatives of the mainland colleges and universities. In addition to this Conference there were military activities carried over almost the whole year which occupied a great deal of the students' time—that was formerly devoted to academic work. I commend the graduates upon the excellent spirit with which they faced this new task which world conditions made necessary.

(Continued on page 8, Col 2)