Annual Meeting Bedeque W. I.

The annual meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of Bedeque United Church, was held at the home of Mrs. James Henderson on Wednesday afternoon, Dec. 8th. A very beautiful and impressive Christmas program and candle light service, conducted by Miss Mildred Calbeck and Mrs. Orville Johnson opening the meeting with a Christmas Hymn, and scripture readings by several members.

Solo by Mrs. Thomas Moyses "O Little Town of Bethlehem" followed by Christmas Carol; Solo by Mrs. Edna Jenkins "O Little One Lowly" then prayers of thanksgiving for the ending of the war and of dedication to the cause of a lasting peace; Benediction bringing the devotional period to a close.

The President, Miss Louise Calbeck then took charge of the meeting; eighteen members answered the roll call each stating some facts about Africa; and two visitors were welcomed.

The Treasurer reported that the allocation of $228.00 had been received, and a balance on hand of $42. collection of the meeting amounted to $22.95. Six hospital calls, and fourteen house calls were made during the month; cards and fruit and flowers were sent to the sick in the hospital.

Mrs. Edna Jenkins and Mrs. Ernest Weeks were appointed delegates to the Presbytery to be held in Kensington in January.

The following resolution was unanimously adopted by the meeting: Whereas the present date of Presbytery is most inconvenient for the country societies; and whereas we feel that a great number do not derive the benefit they might from attendance.

Resolved that we request Presbytery to change to a later date preferably the latter part of June.

The election of officers resulted as follows: President, Miss Louise Calbeck, 1st Vice Pres. Mrs. Ernest Weeks and Vice Pres. Mrs. Orville Johnson Correspondent Sec'y, Mrs. Thos. Moyses, Treas. Miss Mildred Calbeck Community Friendship, Mrs. Walter Gould and Mrs. W. J. Reid, Christian Stewardship Sec'y, Mrs. Arrie Schurman, Temperance Sec'y, Mrs. Melville Johnson, Missionary Monthly Secretary, Mrs. Flossie Lowther, Program Committee for next meeting, Mrs. Arrie Schurman and Mrs. Thos. Moyses.

At the close of the meeting a social hour was spent; the hostess served a delicious lunch.

The meeting will be held on January 8, 1946. Meeting closed with the National Anthem after which a dainty lunch was served by the hostess.

CUT DOWN ON TAKING LAXATIVES THIS WAY

See How Regular You Can Be Every Morning

Try taking Carter's Pills this way: Start with 3 and get a definite time every morning. When you get appearing in the morning cut down to 2. After a few days, try 1.

Then try taking Carter's every other day. You may even find you can keep regular without any laxative.

You see, Carter's are so tiny you can cut down the dose—from 8 to 1—to fit the needs of your individual system.

Widespread disappointment.

Carter's help clean out your intestinal tract not half way, but thoroughly. They are doubly effective because made with two vegetable herbs compounded properly for thorough, easy action.

Thousands can cut down on laxative doing this Carter way. Ask for Carter's Pills by name to get the genuine at any drug store.—Carter's are so tiny you can use dose method tonight, and jump out of bed tomorrow wain't to go.

1945 Busy Year For 70-Year-Old MacKenzie King

BY FRANK FLAHERTY

Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, Dec. 11.—(CP)—For Prime Minister MacKenzie King his 71st year was one of the busiest of his long career.

The ending of the war, the San Francisco conference, a national victory and a personal defeat in a general election, a by-election, two sessions of parliament, cabinet reorganization, a Dominion-provincial conference and an overseas trip all combined to keep Mr. King on the move.

As the year ended, however, he was in the same state of physical and mental vigor he has enjoyed during the last 10 years of his office.

Mr. King will be 71 Dec. 17 and is serving what he has indicated is his last term as prime minister. Sometime before the present parliament runs its five-year course he is expected to move towards retirement but so far he shows no indication of when the move may come.

Along with heavy responsibilities he has had his full share of political troubles during the year. As 1945 opened his government had just survived the conscription crisis which arose out of a shortage of infantry reinforcements for the army in Europe.

A decision was made to apply overseas conscription to the home defence troops, who came to be known as the "Zombies" at about the close of the year some thousands of these troops responded by going absent without leave.

Called Election

In that atmosphere Mr. King's new minister of national defence Gen. McNaughton had to seek election to the house in the Grey North by-election. He was defeated but a short session of parliament was held to pass estimates and chief appearing in a general election with the defence minister carrying on from outside parliament.

The United Nations conference on a world security organization at San Francisco opened in April. Mr. King headed a multi-party Canadian delegation in person but left before the finish to conduct the general election campaign.

He travelled across the country from the Pacific to the Atlantic, addressing some 10 public meetings and spending three days in his own constituency of Prince Albert. The country gave him majority of the seats in the new House of Commons although much smaller than his pre-election majority.

The voters of Prince Albert whom he had represented from 1926 turned against him and he found himself without a seat. He found one in Glengarry in Ontario but had to fight a by-election to get it. He won the contest without making a speech or appearing in the constituency during the campaign but after the election made several visits to get acquainted with the people.

San Francisco was just the start of a round of international discussions for Mr. King. There he led the Canadian group in taking a stand for moderation as between the big powers who wanted control over the international organization vested in their hands and the smaller states who fought for equality. The Canadian position was that the organization was necessary and that no organization which did not have the full support of the major powers could work.

Visited Britain

After the election Mr. King returned to San Francisco to sign the United Nations charter on behalf of Canada. There he met President Truman for the first time. During the winter he had travelled to Washington and Hyde Park to attend the funeral of his close personal friend and co-worker the late President Roosevelt.

October found him travelling to Washington again for a meeting with President Truman, one of the same sort of conference he had been accustomed to hold with Mr. Roosevelt. He was then on his way to England and what he intended to be a visit to western Europe.

From that he returned to join with President Truman and Prime Minister Attlee of Britain in establishing Canadian-American relations.

THIS is frankly a patriotic appeal to all who have living quarters for rent—in apartment blocks, rooming houses and hotels. You are asked to give returning veterans and their families, not only an equal chance but a preference, when they enquire about accommodations . . . BECAUSE THEY DESERVE IT! They've done plenty for all of us at home, in protecting our country and our homes. Now it's our turn. These typical young Canadians had homes when they went away.

There have been great movements of population during the war. Many members of the forces have married since enlisting and face the problem of home-making under new and difficult conditions. Their ambition is to settle down, get to work and establish their homes. GIVE THEM A BREAK! You are not asked to give this accommodation, just to rent it, at rates approved by the Wartime Prices and Trade Board.

MRS. HOUSEHOLDER!
You, too, may help by renting unoccupied space in your home. One, two or three rooms made available to a veteran and his wife, will assist greatly in the veteran's rehabilitation and re-establishment in civilian life.

IT DIDN'T HAPPEN HERE!
This might have been your home, but for our gallant service men. Now that they're returning, let's show them and their families every consideration. Rent a part of your home. Give veterans priority!

If you have space which you can make available, list it with the Citizens' Rehabilitation Committee, or the local branch of the Canadian Legion; advertise it in the newspapers or list it with a real estate agent. Inquire at the nearest Rentals Office of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board.
