In Memoriam

JOHN J. HARRIS

We deeply regret to chronicle the death of Mr. John J. Harris who passed away suddenly at the home of his daughter, Mrs. J. Russell St. John, 72 Bayfield Street, Charlottetown, on Saturday morning, January 16th 1943. The late Mr. Harris was in his seventy-fifth year but persons unacquainted with that fact would readily assume he was many years younger on account of his physical and mental alertness.

He was born at Elmira, P. E. I. and in his younger years purchased a farm property at North Lake which he operated in such an intelligent manner, coupled with steady labor and thrift as to enable him to retire about fifteen years ago, building a cottage near his birthplace, to enjoy the companionship of his old neighbors and friends.

Deceased was of a very friendly and hospitable disposition equally at home among young and old. He was truly "a gentleman of the old school" and followed such ethics all through life. His mortal remains were rested at the home of his daughter, at Charlottetown and on Monday evening, January 18th were brought by train to the home of his brother at Elmira where many friends from these and surrounding communities called to pay their respects to the memory of one they had known so well and favorably.

On Tuesday morning his funeral was held at St. Columba Church, Fairfield, where he had for many years worshipped his creator in the hope of eternal reward. Services at the Church and grave were conducted by his pastor Rev. R. J. MacDonald. Pallbearers were U. B. Seaman, W. S. MacIntyre, Russell Dingwell, H. G Morrow, W. F. Pierce and James Holland.

The late Mr. Harris was married to Katherine Mooney of Chepstow who predeceased him some twenty-seven years ago leaving one daughter, Mary, Mrs. J. R. St. John, Charlottetown with whom he spent the past year, in an atmosphere of lovink kindness, with skilled care and attention. Also left to mourn are a brother D. J. and a sister Annie at Elmira and two sisters in North Attleboro, Mass. Miss Elizabeth and Mrs. F. J. McWeeney.

May his soul rest in peace.

In Memoriam

MRS. ELIZABETH BRENNAN

On January 13th a highly esteemed and dearly beloved lady, Mrs. Elizabeth Brennan, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Wilfred Kelly, Summerside. Mrs. Brennan was in her eighty-second year and had lived most of her long and useful life in Mill Valley and Kensington, where a host of friends mourn her passing. She was a daughter of James Johnston and Mary McWade of Kinkora where she received her early education. She attended Prince of Wales College, receiving a teacher's license and devoted several years to the teaching profession. It was while teaching in East Baltic she first met the late Right Rev. Mgr. Gillis who was to be her Pastor and Spiritual Advisor for forty years during his regime as pastor of Indian River.

In the year 1885 she married John A. McDonald of Mill Valley. It was here in her home in Mill Valley that she will be remembered for her outstanding qualities as a home-maker. Hospitality and kindness to friends and strangers was part of her daily life and in those early days travellers depended greatly on the hospitality of their countrymen. She was an expert in the culinery art and her patience in trials, her cheerful disposition and ever readiness to extend the glad hand of welcome were attributes which attracted many visitors to her home. Besides attending to the needs of her family she tenderly cared for her husband's aged parents, with whom she resided and found time to do her part in affairs of church and community. Tea parties at Indian River which were big social events in their day found her always at her post of duty with a well stocked basket She had a pleasing voice and was ever willing to do her part in church choir and community social life. She was more than ordinarily endowed with physical attractions and her busy life on a large farm seemed to enhance rather than mar her natural charm and beauty. One acquaintance told the writer she was a never-to-be-forgotten picture arriving at Indian River for Divine Service, with her husband and children after driving in the family carry-all from her home, a distance of six miles, a feat which would scarcely be undertaken in those days of motor travel. Truly, she was a remarkable woman whose memory will be fondly cherished by her family and friends as long as they live. Of her first marriage six children were born viz. Garfield, who died at the age of twenty-two, Loretta and Herbert, residing in Boston, Mass.; Patricia, Mrs. James Saunders, Kensington; Emmett, Prop. of the Enterprise Bakery, Charlottetown and Mabel, Mrs. Wilfred Kelly, Summerside. After the death of her first husband she married Oscar Brennan who predeceased her by twenty-five years. After his death she resided for a time with her daughter Patricia at Cambridge, Mass. She spent the last four years with her daughter Mabel in Summerside where she peacefully passed away on January 13th after an illness of some months. Besides her immediate family above mentioned she leaves to mourn a brother, Dr. J. A Johnston of Tignish, two half-brothers, John and Stephen Johnston of Kinkora and two half-sisters, Mrs. Louis Smith of Bedeque and Brigid Johnston of Lot 65. Her funeral, to Indian River Church and cemetery, was held from the home of her daughter, Mrs. James Saunders, Kensington on Friday morning, January 15th. High Mass of Requiem was celebrated by Rev. Joseph N. Trainor, who also conducted the service at the grave. The pallbearers were John A. Thompson, Linus Gorman, Leonard Sheehan, Heath Bowness, Wm. Connick and Harold McIvor. R. I. P.

Hollywood Launches New Star — Gabin Sensational In "Moontide"

New Actor Co-Stars With Ida Lupino In Film Version Of Best-Selling Novel

The long-awaited appearance of Jean Gabin in his first American motion picture takes place at the Prince Edward Theatre to-day, when 20th Century-Fox's "Moontide" had its local premiere.

The wait is not in vain. From the first moment Gabin appears on the screen, to the final fade-out, there is no question that here is one of the great screen actors of our time. Coming from French language films to Hollywood, Gabin makes the transition with complete success and turns in a powerful and realistic portrayal of the conscience-tortured Pacific Coast bait fisherman.

Aided by splendid performances by Ida Lupino, Thomas Mitchell, and Claude Rains, Gabin makes the film a memorable addition to the season's roster of fine motion pictures—and one of its best.

Those who were stirred by Gabin's previous portrayals in French pictures will find him at the peak of his talent in "Moontide," while those who meet Gabin for the first time are certain of a great film experience.

The feature has been excellently directed by Archie Mayo, while the production leaves nothing to be desired under the guidance of Mark Hellinger. The screenplay by John O'Hara preserves the dramatic flavor of the Willard Robertson best-selling novel.

A screen event of major importance is in store for moviegoers at the Prince Edward Theatre this week.
