'Helen Of Troy' Is Brilliant Film Star

SCREEN VERSION OF FAMOUS NOVEL IS HUMOROUS DRAMA OF THE LOVES OF THE FIRST FLAPPER QUEEN; MARIA CORDA SHINES IN ROLE OF HELEN.

Don't miss "The Private Life of Helen of Troy."

Get the price of a ticket, and don't fail to see the most unusual picture that Hollywood has turned out in many a day.

"The Private Life of Helen of Troy," which opened its engagement of two days at the Prince Edward Theatre yesterday, stands by itself as a motion picture because there is no production with which it is comparable.

It has comedy in generous quantities, it is satirical, sly, subtle, broad, humorous, whimsical and daring by turns. It is richly costumed and displays sets breath-taking in their magnitude and striking in their originality of design and pictorial effect.

"The Private Life of Helen of Troy," as did John Erskine's novel on which it is based, takes the mythology of ancient Greece as its foundation, with particular attention piad to the abduction of Helen by Paris and the Trojan War, with its famous wooden horse, which followed the elopement.

But it takes these legends, and these heroic figures, and cleaves through the misty mythology and makes them human, comic and whole affair concerning the elopement and the war which followed, is made intensely human and commonplace and quite funny.

"The Private Life of Helen of Troy" shows discernment and brilliance in every stage of its production. Carey Wilson's film version of the myth—for the action of the plot is taken more from the legend than the novel—was surely a masterful, witty bit of writing. Alexander Korda has directed it with a technique and a distinctive touch which makes him as among the foremost of his profession.

Maria Corda, foreign actress imported for the role, leaves nothing to be desired, either in her beauty and grave or her interpretation of the role. Lewis Stone, surpassing even his own fine performances in the past, plays the role of Menelaos with a smoothness and understanding; and a new and infinitely greater Ricardo Cortez appears as Paris.

"The Private Life of Helen of Troy" is an achievement of which those who had a hand in its making may well be proud.

An excellent musical score by the Prince Edward Orchestra, The Fox News Weekly, and Pathe Review in colors, make a very attractive midweek program.

Dr. Houston then delivered the presidential address. In it he dealt with urine, and its importance in clinical diagnosis. He illustrated his remarks with charts showing the high specific gravity and low volume which prevails in albumenuria due to heart conditions as contracted with its low specific gravity and high volume seen in nephritis.

Urine, he said, is an extremely complex agueous solution, made up of various organic and organic substances.

He stressed the importance of securing a 24 hour specimen, and went on to deal with the clinical inferences to be drawn from its physical and chemical characteristics.

Albumen in the urine, for instance, was indicative of a variety of pathological or in some cases physiological conditions.

He went on to describe the boiling test for albumen, and Benedicts test for sugar, proceeding to a discussion of the necessity of a microscopic test to distinguish between a true and a false albumenia, and also to detect the presence of casts, nancy, if albuminesia is present, of a matter of great importance in the considering the question of inducing diagnosis of nephritis. Pimples Itched And Burned Badly Cuticura Healed

"Pimples broke out on my nose and spread all over my face and body. They were hard, large and red, and festered and scaled over. The pimples itched and burned so badly that I scratched, and scratching caused many eruptions. They were so painful that I could not sleep, and used to cry from the pain. The trouble lasted two years.

"I purchased some Cuticura Soap and Ointment and after using them two days I found they were helping me. I continued the treatment and after using four cakes of Cuticura Soap and three boxes of Cuticura Ointment I was healed." (Signed) Miss Lucy Kinakin, Verigin, Sask.
