INVITATION FROM SACKVILLE.—The official board of Sackville has decided to invite the N. B. and P. E. J. conference to meet there in 1918.

FORMER ISLANDER.—Rev. E.H. Ramsay of St. Stephen's church, Amherst (N. S.), has accepted a call to First church, New Glasgow. His ministry in his present congregation terminates after the second Sabbath of May.

ESTIMATED LOSS.—It is estimated that the loss sustained by Malcolm Nicholson, Victoria Cross, in the fire referred to yesterday is between $3,000 and $4,000, with practically no insurance. Mr. Nicholson had thoroughly up-to-date and well-equipped buildings, and his loss is a very severe one at this season.

SCHOOL WORK.—Standing Cornwall School for March. Grade VII.—1. Sadie Mallett; 2. Gordon Heaney. Grade V.—1. Tessie Frizzell; 2. Katie Stone. Grade IV.—1. Harold Heaney 2. Cora McEachern. Grade III.—1. Harrison Horne; 2. Leola Frizzell. Grade I.—1. Addison Horne; 2. Harrison Frizzell. Perfect attendance.—Harold Heaney, Harrison Horne, Addison Horne, Gordon Heaney. M. Macdonald, Teacher.

AN EXCITING TIME.—Some excitement was recently felt in Victoria while several men were engaged in the removal of the grand stand from the race track, which had been neglected until the ice had become somewhat thin and unsafe. Among the number engaged in the work was Mr. F. C. Holland who had the misfortune of breaking through the ice but owing to the timely assistance of Messrs. Alfred Sherwin and Harry Clark, Mr. Holland escaped with nothing more serious than a "ducking."

OF LOCAL INTEREST.—The many friends of the Rev. R. H. A. Haslam, of Kafirra, India, a native of Springfield, P. E. I., will rejoice to learn that he has been allotted to this diocese for deputation work from May 27 to June 6, and will probably hold meetings in St. John and the Diocese of Kingston. His itinerary will be drawn up as soon as possible. Mr. Haslam was at one time curate at St. John (Stone) Church. He also attended one of the W. A. diocese annuals, after taking up his work in India, and addressed several of the gatherings as well as the general missionary meeting held at the time. —St. John Telegraph.

105TH COMFORTS CIRCLE.—It is gratifying to note that the mothers, sisters, and friends of the boys of the 105th are taking such a keen interest in the 105th Comforts Circle. In the few days since the circle was started 86 pairs of socks have been sent in to Miss Stanway, Secretary, 70 Prince street, together with numerous letters expressing the fullest sympathy with the undertaking, and promise of all possible help. The remainder of the 105th is probably now in France and the boys will need all the comforts that can be sent to them. A letter was received a few days ago from Mr. J. McNuff acknowledging receipt of 40 pairs of socks which he was pleased to say had arrived just in time to be issued to a draft then leaving for France. Needless to say they were fully appreciated. Socks, magazines, tobacco, eats, etc., and anything that can contribute to the comfort of the boys will be gratefully accepted and promptly forwarded.

NOT USED TO BIG PAY.—The New Glasgow News says: There is a little story going the rounds which runs something like this: A certain individual came over from the Island and got a job at the steel works. After working two weeks he somehow or other got the idea fastened into his mind that he should have some money, so he made a bee line for the city office. Upon arrival there he was told that the first pay was always retained as back time. He returned to his work and soon pay day came a round again. He lined up with the others to receive his little envelope. On the way home he peeked into the envelope and was surprised to find that it contained about $100. Thinking a mistake had been made and not wanting to be separated from the "long green" he hiked it back home leaving his back time behind him. Had he taken the time to make enquiries he would have discovered that he was justly entitled to every cent the envelope contained. But then what's the use of talking now?

VICTORY OVER WOUNDS

The Disabled Soldiers' Resurrection.

Canada should be as proud of her wounded soldiers' victory over their wounds as she is of the glorious fights in which they fell. Their struggle up from the depths of disablement is often as hard, and even as heroic, as their desperate defence of Ypres or their dashing capture of the Vimy Ridge.

We hear little, altogether too little, of these hard-won victories won by disabled men, because they are fought out in the seclusion of a hospital, not in the theatre of war with the whole world looking on. But such victories equally deserve public recognition. They show the same spirit, the same pluck, and still more indomitable perseverance.

A preacher on Easter morning was thanked for the inspiring sermon he had just preached, on the resurrection. He said: "I had my text sitting in front of me—a man in khaki, with an empty sleeve. He has had two operations already. He was buried by a shell explosion, and was dug out only just in time to save his life. That was the first. He spent months in hospital, fighting his way back to health. That was the second. "Doctoring and nursing of course did much for him; so did the exercise and occupations that they provide nowadays—perhaps the best part of the treatment. But the man himself was working out his own resurrection, by resolutely putting his own will-power into the task. Now he is almost ready to go out into the world, a better and abler man, he says, than he was before, in spite of his lost arm."

"While the rest of us are thinking of a resurrection beyond the grave, he has won a resurrection this side of it, to a new life of activity and independence among his fellow-countrymen."

Authentic cases resembling that are not rare in the records of the Military Hospitals Commission. Here are a few that have just been communicated to us:

A mechanic who enlisted in the Princess Patricia's Regiment was wounded, returned to Canada, spent three months in a convalescent hospital, and now earns double his former pay, having taken full advantage of the mechanical drawing and arithmetic classes carried on there. Writing to the hospital instructor, he says:

"When I enlisted, I was earning $3 a day at my trade. At present, and since my discharge from military service, I am, technically, a better man all around; I am able now to man all around; I am able now to hold a job as foreman in a machine shop, with more than twice the salary I was getting before. This benefit to me is greatly due to your practical information, and my only regret is that I was unable, after my discharge, to continue instruction with you as you had advised."

Another letter received is from an ex-privat in the 13th Battalion. Before enlistment, he was getting $12 a week as driver on a city milk round. "I always had a liking for drawing," he says, "and felt that if ever I had the chance I would take up a course in mechanical drawing." This opportunity came to him at one of the Commission's convalescent hospitals. After six weeks' application to the work there, he was able to secure an appointment with a salary beginning at $75 a month, with good prospects of advancement.

A locomotive fireman enlisted, was severely wounded, and had to have his left arm amputated. Under the Commission's scheme of re-education, which is offered to all men incapacitated for their former work by service, he received special training in telegraphy and railway routine. As a result, he secured an appointment as station agent and despatcher, at $110 a month.

GILLETT'S LYE

HAS NO EQUAL

Still another patient, formerly a mechanic, passed the Civil Service qualifying examination after instruction in hospital, and has got a Custom House position at $900 a year, rising to $1,500.

A man who had been a guide and trapper, and had never handled tools, returned from the front with one eye destroyed by a wound and the sight of the other eye impaired. In spite of all these old and new disabilities, by putting his mind to it he became a first-class carpenter after three months in the hospital workshop.

Equally remarkable is the case of a Polish labourer. He came to Canada six years ago, and worked in a coal mine till he enlisted. At the front, he was both gassed and buried. Though he knew absolutely nothing about carpentry to begin with, after two months of instruction in hospital he was able to hold his own with any ordinary carpenter.

Not every man, of course, can "double his pay." But one of the most cheering facts proved by experience during the war has been this—that almost all the disabled men, including the very seriously wounded, can be equipped once more with power to earn a good living.

And often, as Lord Shaughnessy said the other day, the occupations and training provided by the Military Hospital system "reveal astonishing talents which even the man himself did not know he possessed."
