—4600 PELTS were sold last season for shippers by the Maritime Fur Pool Ltd., Moncton, through special private connections. —VISITOR TO MISCOUCHE—Mr. Arthur LeBlanc, noted violinist of Moncton, who has just returned from Europe recently visited Mr. and Mrs. Lambert Gillis of Miscouche. —TO SPEAK AT ST. ANDREW DINNER—Mr. A. E. MacLean, M. P., has been invited to reply to the toast "Our Great Dominion" at the St. Andrews Dinner, which is being held at the Caledonian Club, Charlottetown on Wednesday. The last time Mr. MacLean replied to that toast was at the annual Scottish dinner at the Grosvenor Hotel London, in the heart of the Empire, while over attending the Coronation of King George VI. Mr. MacLean was the guest of Sir Murdock MacDonald, M. P., for Inverness. The Duke of Athol presided.

—BREAK WATER AT TIGNISH SWEPT AWAY—Further reports from the west of the Province bring the news that the north breakwater at Tignish has been swept away during the storm which has been raging since Friday. 150 feet of the breakwater and the beacon light have completely disappeared. The debris has blocked the channel and is a menace to shipping. Mr. A. E. MacLean was notified and wired to Ottawa to see what could be done. People in the vicinity of Tignish say that a good bit of the material could be salvaged if steps were taken at once to retrieve it. This breakwater had considerable repairs done to it last summer. S.

—QUEENS WHARF COMPLETED—The North Shore Contract Company, Quebec, has just completed the repairs to Queens Wharf, Summerside. The last bit of work was done on Thursday last, just before the storm broke, which was a lucky thing for all concerned. The Company's tender was between 11,000 to 12,000 dollars. Local labour was employed which meant money in the pockets of the working man. The Wharf should now be able to stand the storms as both sides and the end have been reinforced with chipsoted planks. It is an excellent job and well worth the money expended on it. This wharf is the oldest wharf in the town and had been allowed to get in very bad repair. Last year the Dominion Government voted quite a sum of money for repairs to the wharf. The wharf is used a good deal by lobster fishermen, and small fishing boats and was the landing place for the Bedeque ferry when she plied between Summerside and Bedeque. S.

Some observers suggested that Mussolini's agreement to the British visit "in principle" meant that the meeting might be postponed if London and Rome failed in the meantime to reach an agreement on belligerent rights.

This is the most important issue on which Britain and Italy at present disagree.

No Fresh Commitments

Britain gave no fresh commitments on defence policy at last week's conference in Paris, Mr. Chamberlain announced to the House of Commons. Britain also gave no fresh assurances about sending an army to the continent in case of war, the Prime Minister said in response to a question by Sir Percy Harris, Liberal.

In a general statement on the visit during which the Prime Minister and Lord Halifax conferred with Premier Daladier and Foreign Minister Bonnet, Mr. Chamberlain said:—

"The Secretary of State for Foreign affairs and I were very glad to accept the cordial invitation of the French Government to visit Paris, and to take advantage of this opportunity of resuming contact with the French ministers. . . .

"At was stated after the meeting views were exchanged on principal questions in which our two countries have common concern, including methods of national defence as well as diplomatic action.

"We found ourselves in complete agreement on the general policy of the two countries which in both cases finds its main objective in the preservation of peace.

"As the purpose of the meeting was to exchange views rather than to take decisions, I am not in a position to make a more detailed statement on the conversations."

Mr. Chamberlain today went to Buckingham Palace to discuss the Paris visit with the King. During the audience it was believed Mr. Chamberlain also gave the King an account of his meeting in Paris with the Duke of Windsor.

56 Dead As Result Of Landslide

CASTRIES, St. Lucia, Nov. 28—(CP Cable)—Official reports tonight announced 56 dead, 13 of them unidentified, and 51 known missing in the Ravine Poisson area after dumpastrous landslides last week dumped tons of earth on that region of this island in the British West Indies Windward group. In addition an unknown number were reported missing in the Grand Riviere area.

Thirteen hundred refugees from the devasted area are being cared for in a camp and 27 others are reported progressing favorably in hospital. Included in the refugees are three orphaned babies.

Observers make daily reports on condition of the slide area on the Castries-Dennery road, main thoroughfare of the Island. Work of clearing the road, blocked in more than 50 places, will start as soon as possible.

All visible dead have been buried but observers said they were certain others were entombed beneath the piles of earth which fell on the road.

Voluntary relief fund for the slide victims today reached $7,680. In addition, the Government received a grant of $74,418 from the British Government.

Citidens' committees have been established to deal with the refugee question and provide clothing.

To Open Railway To Northern Quebec

MONTREAL, Que., Nov. 28—Official opening of the new branch line of the Canadian National Railways will take place on Saturday next, December, 3rd, arrangements having been made for the actual ceremony to be performed in the vicinity of Val Dor Station. Those taking part in the inauguration will include Hon. Maurice Duplessis, Prime Minister of Quebec; Hon. C. D. Howe, Minister of Transport; Hon. T. A. Crerar, Minister of Mines and Natural Resources; Hon. Paul Leduc, Minister of Mines of the Province of Ontario; and S. J. Hungerford, Chairman and President, Canadian National Railways. A number of other prominent federal and provincial officials will also be present as well as representatives of the communities served by the new branch line of the numerous mines and industries affected.

The line about to be opened is known as the Senneterre-Rouyn Branch. It begins at Senneterre and runs generally southwesterly and westerly to Rouyn, a distance of 100.61 miles. During 1937, 89 miles of grading was completed and track laid to the extent of 52 miles and the line was placed in operation from Senneterre to Valdor, a distance of 36 miles. During this year, 1938 the balance of grading, 11.6 miles, was completed and the balance of track laid, 48.8 miles, thus completing the line. Railway building has contributed greatly to the development of this vast section known as the Abitibi Region, first, through the construction of the Transcontinental Line, now part of the Canadian National System; then by the construction of a branch from Taschereau to Rouyn-Noranda, and now by the completion of the second branch from Senneterre to Rouyn. These lines bring within reach of the business and commercial centres valuable mining properties and are also assisting lumbering, agriculture and the colonization of the area. A district which was wilderness a few years ago now gives employment to a population of 70,000. Within that district capital has been invested to an amount of $300,000,000 and in 1938 mineral production alone, it estimated will be valued at $42,000,000.

WELLINGTON, N. Z.—Overseas trade figures for September show exports were £3,184,000 ($12,-131,040) compared with £3,902,000 ($14,366,620) for the corresponding month of 1937.

"In Old Chicago" At Capitol Theatre

Never before has such a master piece in motion pictures been attempted as that of "In Old Chicago." This superb picture which played to packed houses yesterday at a matinee performance and evening performances beggars laudatory description.

The story itself is a thrilling tale of adventure, hardship and pluck and opens with the head of the O'Leary family passing out and being buried on the prairies, just in sight of Chicago, a right of which the family had travelled very miles in a covered wagon to see.

The struggles of the family and their indomitable courage ccupled with the most spectacular scenes make this a premier picture.

Stirring scenes of the fire which wiped out Old Chicago on October 9th, 1871, which have been reproduced with infinite care and are authentic in scenic detail, are high lights of the picture.

Cast "Terrific"

But dramatic laurels most certainly are due Alice Faye, Tyrone Power, Don Ameche, Alice Brady, Brian Donlevy and Andy Devine.

Miss Faye, is revealed in "In Old Chicago" as a surprisingly talented acress. Her role as the soubrette in a gaudy, glittering saloon of 1871, is its tempestuous sweetheart of the saloon's owner.

Tyrone Power, that comet among the Hollywood stars, literally takes the role of Dion O'Leary in his teeth and runs away with it.

PREMIER THANE A. CAMPBELL
Who Officially Opened Demonstration

Interesting Address By Mr. George Mayers

Those who attended the meeting of the fox educational demonstration last night, heard an interesting and informative address by Mr. George, Mayers of New York, on the present state of the fox industry.

The Curling Rink was filled in spite of the inclement weather and the fox men were well repaid for their attendance. Mr. Mayers first spoke on the changing markets and it was interesting to note that he blamed the dyers more than the style changes, for the change from black to medium and full silvers. Dyers today employ the very best chemists and can successfully dye the red fox to black. A pale fox from Russia also takes a perfect dye and is used extensively and although the dyers now have to state what fur their dyed article really is, even at that the dyers success has done much to change the style in skins. It is very essential to have a blue black under fur. This again is looking at the situation from the dyers standpoint. He can take a poor skin and make it into something but it looks dark and dry and so does a poor skin therefore the problem the rancher has to face is not to produce skins that the dyer can imitate. The dyer cannot imitate the medium and half silvers and therefore these are the foxes the rancher should endeavor to maintain.

Mr. Mayers next spoke of the quantity of pelts sold and why the silver fox is still the popular fur. The silver fox pelt has always found a market and is becoming more popular all the time. The main factor that has brought this about is really because it is an economical fur to dress and prepare for the wearer.

It is economical to handle under present labour conditions and short working hours. It can be cut up quickly when wanted for trimmings and the cost of dressing either for trimmings or for neckpieces is extremely low. The quickness that it can be turned out the cheapness of production make it a favorite with the fur buyers, because it can put on a garment at a very reasonable cost. It is not a luxury fur any more but a staple article and has been the bread and butter of the industry for some time and there is a great future ahead if ranchers learn to produce what is required by the trade. Mr. Mayers also spoke of the value of the marketing organizations.

These firms have created orderly marketing which with world conditions as they are today has become an absolute necessity.

Mr. W. H. Dennis

Hon. W. H. Dennis, Minister of Agriculture addressed the meeting, and stated that the Department is endeavoring to raise the standard of foxes so that the rancher can ranch foxes with a profit. He said that the department had done more for the fox industry in the past year than for any other branch of agriculture.

Mr. J. D. Forbes also spoke on raising the standard of foxes. Dr. G. Ennis Smith, Manager of the Fox Experimental Station, stressed the fact that an industry must progress if it is to exist. The main thing in the fox business is to produce quality.

Today's program will be fox demonstrations by Mr. Mayers and Mr. Burke, sufficient foxes having come in to enable this to proceed.

The management say that more entries were received this year and with the arrangements now under way for transportation the balance of the foxes will arrive today.

Speakers for this afternoon will be Dr. Jack, Dr. Hancock from Nova Scotia and Mr. Tinney. There will also be inspection of foxes and demonstrations Mr. Forbes will speak on Wednesday in the Capitol Theatre. Everyone feels assured the week will be successful in spite of the weather man.

Nova Scotia Appeal Under Consideration

NEW GLASGOW, N. S. Nov. 28—(CP)—New Glasgow unemployed were informed today replies had been received from the office of the Nova Scotia Lieutenant-Governor, the Governor-General and the Secretary of State advising their communication of Oct. 28 asking an imperial investigation of Nova Scotia industries was being considered.

Prominent Speakers Are Heard In Fine Addresses At Opening Of Show

The severe snow storm which tied up transportation all over the Island did not daunt the committee in charge of the fox demonstration week which opened yesterday in the curling rink and everything went along according to schedule. Cooperation was the keynote of the addresses delivered.

Hon. Thane A. Campbell, Premier of the Province, opened the show in the afternoon and in a brief speech complimented the fox men on the spirit they had shown by carrying on in spite of the sudden change in weather conditions. He remarked that the Government must have used up its appropriation of good weather for agricultural exhibitions for this year at least. The unexpected turn of the weather would make things difficult but he was pleased to see such a spirit of cooperation among the fox men that could not fail to stimulate and develop the silver fox industry in the Province.

Mayor John E. Campbell welcomed the visitors and commended the foxmen of Prince County in their initiative in coming out in the open with regard to the fox industry instead of keeping their knowledge to themselves as the pioneers of the industry had done.

Mr. J. D. J. Forbes, Fur Trade Commissioner for Canada, spoke briefly and stated that he was pleased to see the fox men getting together to discuss the problems which confront them in the difficult times and felt quite sure that with cooperation a happy solution would be found. It was his intention to visit every Province in Canada and to discuss with the ranchers every aspect of the industry and on his return to Europe would do his best to convince the buyers that the Canadian product is the only worth while fur to buy. He could remember when the wild skins on the London fur market outnumbered the ranch bred ones and he had been brought up to believe that Canada was the place where the best furs were produced and he still thought the same way.

Mayor Burke of Alberton voiced the sentiments of the foxmen as a whole when he said that this demonstration week had as its objective co-operation and advertising and he was sure these two things could not help but bring success to the industry.

Mr. A. E. MacLean, speaking for the Dominion Government assured the foxmen of every cooperation. He congratulated the Prince County fox men and stock men in bringing home the laurels to the county from the major fairs. This he said was the greatest advertising that the Province had ever had. Hon. L. R. Allen speaking briefly assured the fox men the government was doing all it could to open the roads, gangs of men were working east and west and the snowplow was working from Charlottetown. Mr. Allen also said that special trains to bring the people in are being arranged for. Mr. George Mayers of New York who will judge the foxes put up for demonstration expressed great satisfaction at the demonstration and field days that have been inaugurated on the Island and they have been started at the right time and will do more than anything else to produce better quality pelts. He was most emphatic in stressing the fact that the fox industry is not done. The industry is only just beginning and with the object lessons to be learned from these field days and demonstrations the quality will become better and herds will be produced that Islanders will be proud of. Quality is the main feature in the fox business today. Mr. W. J Lidstone, chairman of the committee, in charge of the demonstrations and his assistants are to be congratulated on the arrangements they have made for the program and a full week of an educational value is assured. The committee have made arrangements for special trains east and west to accommodate the people.

The Summerside Citizens Band enlivened the opening ceremonies with selections.

SOVIET JAP CONFLICT HELD INEVITABLE

Vice War Minister Warns Of Necessity For Arms Speed-up.

TOKYO, Nov. 28—Japan's vice minister of war warned arms manufacturers today that a "Soviet-Japanese conflict apparently is inevitable."

"It is absolutely necessary," Lieut.-General Eiki Tojo said, "that Japan expand her munitions output. Therefore, the army is demanding that the Government enforce, article by article, the National Mobilization Law. The real war is still to come. . . ."

(The National Mobilization Law, passed March 26, gave the Government unlimited power to draft Japan's manpower and economic resources in an emergency. The Government on May 5 invoked 11 of the 30 articles of the law and subsequently emergency economic measures controlling all branches of industry, trade and banking were enforced.)

Both General Tojo and Lieut-General Seishiro Itagaki, war minister, addressed arms manufacturers summoned to Tokyo for the meeting in the Officers' Club in the shadow of the Yasukuni shrine, Japan's pantheon.

General Tojo declared the United States' attitude toward the Chinese-Japanese conflict was neutral, but said "I must call attention to the fact that the United States Government is sticking to old treaties and is unwilling to recognize the changed situation in the Far East."

He alleged Great Britain was concealing enmity toward Japan with "occasional gestures of friendship" but said "they mean nothing."

He underlined Soviet Russia as the real danger, in his call for increased arms production, declaring "there is every possibility that Russia and China may band together as soon as the Soviet completes preperations."
