Sea Cadet Camp Notes

A welcome attraction at the Sea Cadet Camp this week was Don Fraser and His Islanders, Canadian Broadcasting Corporation entertainers, who very kindly volunteered to entertain the boys at the camp on Wednesday evening after the sports programme.

In addition to a variety of orchestral numbers Charlie Chamberlain gave very fine renditions of two well known songs "My Old Canadian Home" and "Riding Down the Canyon."

The master of ceremonies, Ray Simmons, played a clarinet solo entitled "I'm Sorry Now"; versatile Jack Landry gave an excellent imitation of Donald Duck, stepdancer and displayed his vocal ability by singing "I'm Thinking Tonight of My Blue Eyes" and "It Makes No Difference Now"; Jackie Hughes popular piano specialty was "Nobody's Sweetheart now"; Jack Santry and Warren McRae very capably assisted on the bass drum and traps respectively.

The officers and boys of the camp greatly appreciated the fine programme presented by Don and boys, and it was also enjoyed by a large number of the parents of the Sea Cadets and visitors from the surrounding community.

Sent To Supreme Court On Jail Break Charge

Erville Essery, 17, of Mount Pleasant, a prisoner in the Prince County Jail serving ten days on a highway traffic act charge, was sent up to Supreme Court on a charge of jail breaking by Magistrate W.E. Darby, K.C., in Summerside yesterday, at the conclusion of a preliminary hearing.

Another prisoner Clifford Ross McLean will be arraigned on the same charge this morning.

Mr. J. Watson MacNaught, K.C., represented the Crown yesterday and the prisoner was not represented by council. When asked by the Magistrate, at the conclusion of the hearing, if he had anything to say, he replied, "I have nothing to say."

The first witness, yesterday was Gothard Baker, jailor at the Prince County Jail. He identified the prisoner and said he had been committed to jail on July 14th for an infraction of the Highway Traffic Act. The jailer said that on the morning of July 19th there were five prisoners in the jail. And that on that date the last time he saw the prisoner was about twenty minutes past nine at night, when he put him in his cell with another prisoner by the name of McBride. Louis DesRoches, assistant jailor was with the witness at that time. They then locked the other prisoners up in their cells, Clifford Ross McLean being in cell 2 by himself.

The witness then described how on the morning of July 20th about seven o'clock he went down to the jail to get the prisoners their breakfast. On entering he found the main jail door unlocked. He then went to the prisoner's (Essery) cell and found McBride there but Essery was not. After conversation with McBride he searched the jail and found Clifford Ross McLean's cell empty. The other prisoners were in their cells. He then awakened the assistant jailor and together, they made a complete search but couldn't find them.

Witness said he next saw the prisoner on the following Monday, July 24th, in custody of Sgt. Watson, R.C.M.P. Sgt. William Fridgen, R.C.M.P. testified to arresting the prisoner (Essery) and Clifford Ross McLean on the highway about one mile from Seven Mile Bay church about 2.30 o'clock on Monday, July 24th. Witness was accompanied by Const. C. J. Curtin. He arrested them on a warrant charging them with breaking jail.

Const. C.J. Curtin R.C.M.P. corroborated the evidence of the previous witness.

Louis DesRoches, assistant jailor corroborated some of the evidence of the jailer (Gothard Baker). He said further that he had been down in the jail about twelve o'clock on the night of July 19th and he did not notice anything wrong. He then, went to bed.

Sheriff F.J.E. Wright, said that he had general control of Prince County jail. He said that the prisoner did not have a ticket of leave and there was no warrant of judges' order to remove him to any other jail. Sheriff Wright said his knowledge of the prisoner's absence from jail began at 9.30 on the morning of July 20th.—S

COUNCIL VETOES

Coun. A. T. McKinnon took exception to the resolution. He did not think the time was "ripe for such action." He had examined that section of Kent Street and had found the distance between sidewalks to be 42 feet and that between curbs 30 feet. Coun. McKinnon said the curbs could be moved back 12 feet at very little cost and that this widening would go a long way toward solving the problem of congestion.

Coun. Rogers said his reason for submitting resolution was that he had received many complaints from people whose business fronts had been blocked by cars and trucks. All cities in the Maritimes had one way streets and Coun. Rogers thought Charlottetown should be able to institute such a traffic improvement.

Coun. J. T. McKee did not approve Kent street being made a one way street.

Coun. E. Earle MacDonald commended Coun. Rogers on having taken up so much time in studying the Kent Street traffic condition and was sorry he could not support Coun. Rogers' motion. Farmers had told him they would boycott his store if he (Coun. MacDonald) supported the resolution.

The resolution was killed by a standing vote. Couns. Rogers and Gay voted in the affirmative and Couns. MacDonald, McKinnon, LePage, Butler and McKee in the negative.

Coun. McKee called the attention of the Council to what he termed "the disgraceful condition of Rochford Square" and asked the Street Committee to furnish "a couple of men" to clean things up in that vicinity.

Mayor Blanchard drew the attention of the Council to the fact that a dog which had recently bitten a child in the city had been ordered destroyed if he were not sent to the country. The Mayor stated that he was opposed to dogs which had bitten children in the city being allowed to go to the country where they were free to repeat the performance and he stated that he would look into the present case immediately.

There being no other business, the Council adjourned.

The following resolution, moved by Coun. E. Earle MacDonald and seconded by Coun. W. R. LePage, was passed:

"Resolved that one thousand dollars be contributed to the Charlottetown Fire Department for three months instead of paying the total at the end of the year."

Marshal Gen. Sugiyama, above, former army chief of staff, is the Minister for War in the new Japanese cabinet. He lost his chief of staff job in high command shakeup that followed devastating raid on Truk by U.S. forces last February.

Johnston-MacLeod

The Presbyterian Church beautifully decorated for the occasion with mixed flowers and greeneny was the scene of a pretty wedding on Friday, July 14 at 3 o'clock, when Lillian Ruth, daughter of Mrs. Robert MacLeod and the late Robert MacLeod became the bride of David Stewart, son of Mrs. Johnston and the late Mr. Johnston of Mayfield. The bridesmaid was Miss Mary MacLeod sister of the bride and the groom was supported by his cousin Mr. John Toombs of Mayfield. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Herbert Buntain of New London, assisted by Mr. Donald Nicholson of Brookfield. The ushers were Mr. Dan MacLeod and Mr. Ernest MacLure.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. Peter MacLeod of Breadalbane, the youthful bride was lovely in a long white satin gown with lace yoke and panels and sweetheart neckline. Her finger tip veil was caught up with orange blossoms. She carried an exquisite bouquet of pink and white roses and maiden hair. Her only ornament was a single string of pearls. The bridesmaid's gown was a floor length pale pink taffeta with lace bodice and she carried a bouquet of yellow and pink snapdragon with matching flowers in her hair. The bride's mother wore a crepe of Queen's blue with corsage of red roses. (The groom's mother was regretably absent through illness).

The bride entered to the strains of the Wedding March played by Miss Isabel MacDonald after which the mixed choir and assembled congregation sang "The Voice That Breathed O'er Eden". During the signing of the register Miss Ada MacKay of Springfield, cousin of the bride sang very sweetly, "I'll Walk Beside You."

Following the ceremony a buffet luncheon was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Stewart, where about twenty-five guests were present. The table was lovely centred with a bouquet of lilies and snapdragon, with tall pink tapers and two beautifully decorated wedding cakes. Those assisting in serving were Misses Grace Crozier of Montague, Frances Dagnall and Verna Newman of Hunter River and Mrs. G. B. Foster of Montreal. Suitable music was rendered by Miss Isabel MacDonald and pleasing solos by Miss Ada MacKay and Mr. Donald Nicholson were sung.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnston left shortly afterwards on a short honey moon trip to the western part of the Island. For travelling the bride wore a navy tailored suit with white accessories and small navy hat and carried a corsage of red roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnston will live at Mayfield where the groom is a prosperous farmer. The good wishes of a wide circle of friends is extended to them.

Previous to her marriage Mrs. Johnston was tendered a miscellaneous shower in the Masonic Hall, which was gaily decorated. She received many beautiful and useful gifts of household goods as well as money. The girl friends of the bride-elect staged a mock marriage which caused much amusement.

The gifts were rolled in in a nicely decorated barrel by Miss Margaret Montgomery to the strains of Roll Out the Barrel. The strings were cut by Miss Isabel MacDonald and the verses were read by the "mock" bride Miss Verna Newman, aided by the "mock" minister Miss Frances Bagnall. While the bridesmaid in the farce, Miss Beryl Johnston, assisted by the groom and bestman namely Mrs. J. S. Burns and Mrs. C. L. Wood arranged the gifts on the table. The bride-elect thanked her friends and extended an invitation to them to come to her new home The evening was spent pleasantly in music and dancing. A special number was a lovely solo by Miss Ruth Pratt, which was much appreciated.

Following their return Mr. and Mrs. Johnston were given a welcome by the neighbors at Cavendish and Mayfield and near districts. The reception was held at their home and was largely attended. During the evening a well worded address was read and the newly-weds were presented with a well filled purse.

The evening passed pleasantly with music and social chat. Lunch was served by the ladies and after many expressions of good wishes the friends dispersed.

Do You Know "The Island"

By "FOREIGN BORN"

or the other, and will soon learn that "there's a reason." They are keeping their backs to the wind. Apples do not grow well here—they do not stay on the trees long enough to grow. So potatoes are a safer crop. They will at least stay in the ground—with luck.

But oh the red earth—the rich red earth of this Island. So full of heart, so carefully tended, so continuously reinforced, lest it become a shade less than perfect. It is the aim of every farmer to own more land, and still more land, not because of its money value alone, but because of the sheer love of it. Every farmer is a landowner in his own right, and, as he stands and looks over his broad acres, all green and lush and vibrant with life, he carries within him a heart well content. Every acre yielding, every field in use. No hundred acres in pasture land, and twenty-five under cultivation over here. All under cultivation—the million acre farm—and the cattle graze happily on one meadow after another, year by year, leaving each better than they found it.

You may not know that Island people, from East Point to Tignish, are all related, in many cases very closely so, and in almost all cases to some extent. Thus it behooves you to step carefully as you move among them. As a small stone dropped in a pool will cause widening and ever widening circles, so a small word or action dropped in a group of Islanders, will assume vast proportions either for good or ill. This matter of relationship has its advantages.

By this means is the Island stock kept pure and reliable. It works with cattle, and it works with people. Both are top grade. The best traits of any family may reappear for generations by this intermarriage of relatives. If, for any reason, an Islander sees fit to marry so-called "foreign blood", the party of his choice is well looked over by all concerned, to make sure the general Island stock will not be damaged. You will easily understand how this exclusiveness makes for clannishness, and once you are an Islander, you become a member of a large clan, with all its responsibilities. That is why in any city or town all over Canada, you find the Island groups here and there, and if there be a convention of any kind, from Rotary to the Women's Institute, you will always see an "Island Table" where the meals are served.

If you are able to choose a month to come to the Island, do come in June, because "then, if ever, come perfect days." We do not pretend to brag very much over our winters, nor our autumns, nor even our springs, but oh our June! The magic of it! The fields all green and new with growing life, the air hazy from the smoke of distant forest fires, the wind for once stilled, the birds — millions of them —bursting with song, the lilies of the valley shyly waiting to be found by those who love them, and above all else, the lilacs with their purple veils and haunting fragrance. Cropping is over, and there is a lull over the land, before the intensive race with nature until the harvest. Every year we wait with bated breath for this month of June, so young, and fresh, and lovely. It comes and goes so quickly, as all seasons do over here, but it leaves behind it a memory never forgotten, even through the summer days which follow, when all nature races towards her maturity. Almost everywhere June is beautiful, but here it is heart-breaking with its loveliness.

It would not do to close this letter without telling you about the Island neighbors. Did you know there still were neighbors in this year of our Lord? Or did you think they had passed out with the coming of the radio and the moving picture house? Yes, there are still neighbors in the original meaning of the word, and I shall tell you how I know. Over here it is possible to live in a community for a few years, say four or five, go away, and remain away for twenty, come back again to live, and your old friends will take you up where they left off—neighbors. They just accept you again without question as to the intervening years. It has been said that Island people are curious. Perhaps they are about little things, but never about the deep places of your life. If you get a new dress, they may like to know where you bought it, and how much you paid for it. If you have a visitor, they will appreciate your telling them a little concerning him, but if you have a sore place in your heart, just barely healed, they will not touch it. They are too courteous for that, and their curiosity serves to make them kind. They enquire, and appear to probe only that they may serve, and sometime, when you are in a particularly difficult place, you will feel yourself supported and invisibly strengthened by these good neighbors. As long as you live among them, they will be staunch and true, and if, by chance, you find it necessary to lay your life's work down, they will still be there to do you reverence.

So, I ask you, do you know "the Island"? Of course you know its situation, and size, and something of its general economic pursuits, but do you really know it? Do you know the way to its generous hearth? If you do, you love it, and it will be to you as "the First Canadian," and you will be able to "need naught else."

joying it. And that circumstance, veteran observers here say, may prove to be the weakness that will bring success to Republican candidate Dewey.

Complacency and over-confidence may beat the Democrats where the Republican party alone could not.

Other circumstances may also help the Republicans. Evidence of an imminent breakdown of the Nazi machine and weakening of the Japanese war party, coupled with Allied successes on many fronts, points to a possible early end of hostilities.

It is believed in some quarters here that many voters who would hesitate to remove Roosevelt while there is a war to be won, would not hesitate if the task ahead seemed likely to be diplomatic rather than warlike.

3,000 Shipyard Workers Strike

HALIFAX, July 27—(CP)—The clang of the hammer and the roar of the riveter was absent tonight along the waterfront as the deadlock continued between the management and workers of the Halifax Shipyards, Ltd., and the marine slip and windmill pier at Dartmouth across the harbor.

Although some 60 workers disobeyed the strike order called for today by the action committee, local one, industrial union of Marine and Shipbuilding Workers (CCL), no one went through the picket lines for the night trick. Close to 3,000 workers are affected by the strike.

Hundreds of strikers thronged the outskirts of the yards today but officials said their actions were orderly. Union headquarters said there were a few minor scuffles early tonight when the workers who ignored the strike order made their way home through the picket lines. One striker had a bruised head.
