

The Island Condition Powder

A horse often needs a tonic as well as does a man. If his hair is stiff and dirty looking, his movements slow and tired and his eyes dull, he is not in good condition.

The Island Condition Powder

will tone up his digestion and appetite, clear the eye, give gloss to the coat and lightness to his action.

We can safely recommend this powder for your cattle, also—There's none better.

PAINFUL ACCIDENT.—A painful accident occurred at Stanley Bridge on Wednesday last. While Fred Bennett was in the act of stopping his gasoline engine, the thumb of the glove which he wore came in contact with the cog, with the result that the right thumb was drawn in and badly mangled. Dr. Simpson was hastily summoned and by treatment hoped to save the thumb, although it will be some time before Mr. Bennett will be able to do any work.

'T WAS EVER THUS.—To those in the inside circle a rather amusing episode was enacted recently. A prominent young farmer of Hazelbrook, expecting to meet a lady friend from another part of the Province in the City, was annoyed at not finding her at the usual trysting place but was compelled to return in sorrow to his home. However, not to be daunted, a sharp lookout was kept on all trains and at length was rewarded, and the last seen of them was leaving the station "eastward bound" looking as happy as could be and a living proof of the saying that "The course of true love never runs smooth."

WELL PRESENTED PLAY.—The three act play "Blundering Mr. Brown" was staged in Hartney Hall Tuesday night by local talent and although the weather and roads were both bad, they were greeted by a full house. Mr. Chester Acorn, as Mr. Brown dressed in Prince Albert costume looked a typical gentleman and although a hard part to act did it with all the ease and grace of a professional. Miss May Jackson as Mrs. Brown acted the part of "Mother" to perfection. The two Miss Browns in the persons of Misses Katie Currie and Victoria Jenkins looked sweet, especially in the final act, when dressed as brides they looked their part. While everybody expected Miss Jessie Jenkins to do her part well, her personification of "Maggie" the maid, was well acted especially when "Police man Patsy" in the person of Mr. Christy Jenkins came in off his "beat" to make love to her. Mr. Chester Robertson as Jack Armstrong a poor bank clerk succeeded well, especially as he got the girl he wanted in the end. Mr. Fred Robertson as Dr. Horton the "Aristocrat" was right at home with his part and thanks to the "Blundering Mr. Brown" also succeeded in getting the right wife. In fact from first to last the play which lasted one and one half hours was a success not a dull minute in it, while the ludicrous situations kept the faces of the audience wreathed in smiles. Between the acts Mrs. Wm. McEachern and Islet Richards sang that good old plaintive song, "Flow gently Sweet Afton." The sale of home made candy was also appreciated by those with a sweet tooth. The proceeds were given for Red Cross Work and the thanks of that Society are due to all the players but especially to Miss Lot the Jackman who gave liberally of her time and talent training the players and to her ability is due the grand success that it was. John McNeill acted as stage manager and decorator and well he did his part.

S., after a brief illness of pneumonia. His funeral takes place at 9 o'clock this morning.

CURLERS ENTERTAINED.—The Charlottetown Curlers who recently visited Summerside report having had a very enjoyable time while there. Their trip was in the nature of a friendly visit to arouse interest in the game among some of the Summerside brethren, which might, in time lead to the formation of a Curling Club there. Needless to say the gathering proved a most enjoyable one, the westerners proving very adept pupils. Afterwards the visitors were the guests of their Summerside friends at Joe Bun's Restaurant, where a tip-top oyster supper was served and an impromptu toast list was carried out. The spirit of good-fellowship was uppermost at this repast and all were unanimous in feeling that the gathering was one which should help to cement the feeling of friendliness between the two towns.
