NEWSY NOTES

Professor Tristram says that the English wall-painters worked in a kind of "tempera" on the dry plaster or even on the masonry itself.

At the Reformation the white-washers got busy with a vengeance and put a stop to this kind of painting for ever.

SCHOOL OPENS (5)

This note the last of the series, will deal with school customs of that simpler day before the advent of the Board Schools in 1870.

Consider The Children's Eyes

Please consider the children for a moment from the standpoint of the use and abuse of their eyes. School children are often COMPELLED to strain their eyes.

Timely Notes

all the scholars rose and stood at attention till, at a wave of the master's hand, they again took their seats and resumed their work.

One of the nicest small fox properties in the Province is owned by W. Harry Tidmarsh of Charlottetown and is situated at North River, three miles from Charlottetown.

We are indebted to President George A. Calbeck of the Canadian National Silver Fox Breeders' Association, Summerside for the following information which arrived by cable yesterday from London.

Another Wheat Exporter

The press report that France has left the ranks of wheat exporting countries to join those of exporters of considerable importance to Canada, in that still another competitor is added to the list.

The quantities of Silver Fox pelts which will be marketed by the various auction houses at the forthcoming October 8th and 4th sales are Hudson's Bay 4,000 Lampons, 3,000, Annings & Cobb's 2,000.

The dates for next year's sales are: January 7th, March 18th, May 29th, September 19th. The cable further states the belief that the market will be firm.

TO CAPITALIZE ON PUBLISHING

(Canadian Press) WASHINGTON, Sept. 21—The emergency council is trying to make a book salesman out of Uncle Sam. He is already in the publishing business here, it is pointed out, so why should he not sell his books?

The presses of the government printing office annually turn out many thousands of publications ranging from leaflets to ponderous volumes, and most of them are for sale. Many of them are for the use of men never get to the people who could make use of them.

The National Emergency Council is going to do something about it. An investigation is now being carried on to discover which of the publications sells best, and when the work is completed some formula for increasing the government's revenue from this branch is expected to emerge.

Smith, the other day, while looking at the skeleton of a donkey and admiring and wondering at the structure of that much-despised animal, made a very "mal-a-droit" quotation. "Ah," he said "we are fearfully and wonderfully made."
