EIGHTY EIGHT LIVES LOST

Naval Tugboat in Danger. Terrible Hurricane Felt in Florida. Villages Almost Destroyed. Reports From Boston Shipping.

Special to The Guardian.

SANTIAGO, Chili, Feb. 14—The Pacific Navigation Company's steamer Lima is ashore on one of the Islands in the Straits of Magellan and is probably a total loss.

The chief pilot and fifty passengers were drowned together with an indefinate number of the crew.

LATER.

The British steamer Hathumet rescued two hundred and five from the steamer Lima but was compelled to leave eighty eight aboard. Possibly all of these have perished.

Special to The Guardian.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14—Somewhere on the Atlantic, between Boston and Norfolk, a little naval tugboat Nina, helpless with broken machinery, is endeavoring to survive the tempestuous seas until reached by one of the eight government vessels now searching for her.

The Nina carries thirty-two men, and has been missing for a full week.

Fears are expressed that she may have foundered during Friday's severe storm.

Special to The Guardian.

BOSTON, February 14—When clear weather returned after the storms of Friday and Saturday it was found that several vessels has been driven ashore along the coast.

No loss of life is yet reported.

Special to The Guardian.

TAMPA, Florida, February 14—News has reached here of a terrible hurricane in the middle of the state.

A small village of Lake Land was almost wrecked. A station was blown from its foundation, telephone and telegraph wires were blown down and crops were damaged.

Twenty-five persons were in the station and a number were painfully injured. Apprehension is felt for the safety of Galloway and Kathleen counties where communication has been cut off.

MEN TRAVEL BY I.C.R.

ST. JOHN, Feb. 11—There will arrive on the Allan liner Tunisian, due tomorrow, seven officers, seven petty officers and 100 men of the British navy for Esquimalt. They will not go ashore at Halifax, but will come to this port. At Sand Point they will board a special train consisting of a sleeper, diner and colonist car and will be brought to the depot and taken over the I. C. R. to Montreal, there to be taken by the C. P. R. to their destinations.

The reason for taking them over the government road is that troops under arms are not allowed to travel over foreign territory and this would be necessary should they be taken from St. John by the C.P.R., as they would pass through the State of Maine.

FIRST SEES LIGHT OF DAY IN PENITENTARY

KINGSTON, Ont., Feb. 12.—It is not often that the Portsmouth penitentiary receives within its bare walls so youthful and innocent an inmate as that which arrived last week when a little baby was born to Mrs. Lajoie who is at present confined in the institute for assault. The woman arrived in the penitentiary on July 7 of last year, scarcely seven months ago, under a sentence of seven years. Mother and child are both doing well In view of the exceptional circumstances, it is said a strong effort will be made to have the woman pardoned or paroled.

A TERRIBLE DISASTER.

PALMA, Island of Majorca, Feb. 12.—Swept helplessly from her course, in one of the wildest storms that has visited the Mediterranean in forty years, the staunch French transatlantic S. S. Co's steamer "General Chansey," dashed at full speed in the dead of night on the treacherous reefs near the Island of Minorca, and all but one of the 157 souls on board perished.

The one survivor is an Algerian custom officer, Marcel Rodel, who was rescued by a fisherman and lies in the hospital at Ciudadela, raving as the result of the tortures through which he passed, and he is unable to give any account of the disaster.

Of the ship's company there were seventy, and eighty-seven passengers.

The ship was in command of Captain Coyol, one of the most careful officers of the line. In his long experience he never before met with an accident. He was soon to have retired from the service.

The passengers were mostly French officers and officials returning to posts in Algeria, accompanied by their wives and children, a few soldiers, some Italians and Turks, and one priest.

The Chansey is a total wreck. Steamers have been dispatched from Spain and the Balearic Islands to the scene of the catastrophe. Among the victims was the celebrated Parisian singer, Francis Dufour, as well as other musical favorites.

WORLD'S RECORD FOR 100 YARDS

Special to The Guardian.

JOHANNESBURG, Feb. 11.—Donaldson, the South African sprinter, broke the world's record (professional) for one hundred yards on Saturday, doing the distance in nine and three-eighths seconds, defeating Postle of Australia and Hotway an American.

READY MADE FRUITS

ST JOHN, Feb. 12—What the fancier can do in the way of giving size and variety to native stock was seldom more strikingly shown than in a collection of cabbages shown the other day by some members of a great firm. A convincing walking stick carried by one member of the firm was made out of the stem of a cabbage. What appeared to be a peculiarly graceful palm, with a fountain of leaves falling from a four-foot stem, represented another cabbage. A long-leaved, graceful heart's tongue fern appeared an inspection to be a third variety. One cabbage is in guise of a turnip, and others mimic in their colored and crinkled foliage that division of plants generally used for decorative purposes. The different sorts, wedded together, combine useful as well as decorative purposes; the savoy of the cabbage grows as readily on a stalk thick with sprouts as on any barren or walking stick stem.

The hybridists have already greatly extended our range of table vegetables at certain periods of the year. The recreated plants are hardier, and their seasons begin earlier and end later than formerly. In Convent Garden market at the present time you may purchase new potatoes, green peas, spinach, beans, asparagus, artichokes, endives, lettuces, radishes, and other good things which not many years ago were almost unknown in this country in the month of January. True, these vegetables mainly come from more southerly climes where they are forced; but the hardiest plants are necessary for mid-winter forcing. At the same time, so much and increasing attention is being given now to the science of hybridization that we may look forward to winters when all kinds of home-grown vegetables and many fruits also, which the average man at present associates exclusively with the summer months, will be available. This will have been hardened to endure severer weather, and cultural science will do the rest.

PACERS' HOPPLES.

NEW YORK, Feb. 12.—Beginning with the season 1915, no hopples shall be used on pacing horses and up to that time the device is to be gradually abolished. This decision was adopted in the fifth congress of the National Trotting Association at a meeting in New York today.

BRIBED LEGISLATOR

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 12—The reputations of two senators were the stakes for which two of the foremost cross-examiners in the country hattled today in the state senate. Before them sat Hiram G. Moe, the little gray-haired bank cashier, from Groton, who asserts that he gave Senator Jotham P. Allds $1,000 to suppress a bill hostile to the bridge-building combination. Moe was under cross-examination three hours today, but a steady hail of questions failed to make him retract one of his startling assertions.

All of the afternoon Senator Allds' corps of prominent lawyers tried to undermine Moe's competency and reliability. At the same time, they tried to show that as the giver of a bribe, Allds' accuser might be equally guilty; for the questions indicated that it was Senator Ben Conger, Allds' accuser, and not his dead brother, Frank, the vice-president of the American Bridge Company, who engineered the alleged transaction in the ways and means committee room, in the assembly, upon which the whole case is based. Moe, however, insisted that he took his orders from Frank Conger and that Ben Conger's part began and ended with taking him to the capitol and pointing out the men to whom he delivered the money.

Several times during the examination, the witness or the attorneys seemed upon the brink of fresh revelations involving other names, but the session ended with the identity of the other bribed legislators still unrevealed. That the Senate is anxious to confine the investigation rigidly to the charges already made, becomes more evident as the likelihood of its wider extension increases. Jas. W. Osborne, Conger's chief attorney, declared today that he would admit the existence of a "corruption fund," by the bridge-building combine, in 1903.

Few witnesses, even in a criminal case, have undergone such an arraignment as that which Martin W. Littleton, Allds' attorney, subjected Moe to today.

BONI'S EXPENSES

Anna Gould's debts in 1901, $6,000,000.

Paid at time of second marriage, $3,685,143.50.

Unpaid then, $2,114,856.50.

Her income in 1908, $475,329.38.

Yearly expenditures now, $200,000.

Surplus, $275,329.38.

At this rate almost eight years will be required to pay off the debts piled up against the Gould heiress by her first husband.

New York, Feb. 12—For the first time since the affairs of Anna Gould, her debts and her husband's have become a matter of international interest, the exact state of her finances has become known.

The information was furnished to the United States Circuit Court by George J. Gould, and is now a record of the court.

The figures were sworn to by Mr Gould before Special Master Arthur Berry, who was appointed by Judge Lacombe to examine the accounts of George and Helen Gould as receivers of the estate of their sister, the present Princess De Sagan and former Countess De Castellane.

It was found by the figures that the princess is so deep in debt that she may not get out for eight years. That is, she will not get out unless the income of the Gould estate increases. One of the surprising things about Mr Gould's statement was the revelation that the income of the estate—said last year to amount to $86,000,000—was only $2,851,975.22 in 1908. In 1903 it had been as high as $4,697,529.25 and had never fallen below $3,000,000 till 1908.

That income had to be divided among six heirs, and the sixth, which belonged to Anna Gould, had to be used in the payment of debts of about $6,000,000 which Count Boni De Castellane had contracted or his wife. An arrangement was made by which she should pay off her creditors out of her income, and that agreement is still in effect.

At this time Anna Gould—that is, the Princess Helie De Sagan—receives $200,000 for living expenses. Shortly after she married Count Boni they lived at the rate of $2,000,000 a year

The statement made to the special master by Coudert Brothers, attorneys for the 120 creditors of Anna Gould, scattered all over Europe and the United States, sets forth that during the first four years of her married life with De Castellane she became responsible for debts amounting to nearly $6,000,000.

YOUTH KILLS HIS MOTHER

Special to The Guardian.

NEW YORK, February 14—John Bradley, aged nine, while playing with his father's revolver, discharged it.

The bullet entered his mother's heart after passing through the cheek of the baby she was carrying.

STARVED HERSELF TO DEATH WHILE INSANE

NEW YORK, Feb. 12—Miss Laura Allen, at one time well known in the west as an authoress, and whose father presented Central Park to Decatur, Ills, is dead of starvation in the asylum on Wards Island. She had been in the hospital for a year but of late had persistently refused to eat. She was 67 years of age. Relatives sought recently to have her removed to Decatur but because of her refusal to take nourishment the authorities declined to release her.

CORPORATE PUBLICITY.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 12—Great interstate industries can be brought under permanent federal supervision through a system of regular reports to a federal agency, in a rational, effective way, which will involve no drastic action, but, on the contrary, forestall it.

Such is the conclusion drawn in the annual report of Herbert Knox Smith, commissioner of corporations, to the secretary of commerce and labor, which was made public today.

Coming closely upon the heels of the administration's federal incorporation bill, which has been presented to both houses of congress, Commissioner Smith's recommendations are of unusual interest.

"Publicity will improve the standing of our corporate securities both at home and abroad," Mr. Smith declared, "and will help to give to our business machinery, that foundation of fairness and openness and public confidence which it must have if it is to be a permanent factor in our national advance.

"It will bring together the government and the corporate manager in conference and co-operation, which alone can serve to adjust continuously, the complex and changing relationship between our business forces and the public welfare."

Mr. Smith contends that already, under public condemnation, made possible by facts plainly stated, great corporate abuses have been abandoned. He asserts that a gigantic system of railroad rate discriminations has been wiped away and numerous reforms of commercial oppression diminished. Corporate managers themselves, declares Mr. Smith, are frankly advocating a more open accounting.

"The issue is national," the report continues. "Action by the federal government is imperative under its unquestioned power and duty to regulate interstate commerce. One of the primary motives for the creation of the federal government was for a national control of national business. Those directing the great corporations have deliberately nationalized them in size and scope; they cannot now be heard to object to a centralized control which they themselves have made necessary."

To guard her against a similar experience with De Sagan her lawyers drew up a marriage contract distinctly exempting her income from whatever financial obligations may have been hanging over him when she became his wife.

There is also exhibited in the papers which were filed yesterday the first positive infromation that the four trustees of the Gould estate—George J., Edwin, Howard and Helen—gave their consent to Anna's latest marriage. Without the consent of the majority of the trustees she would have forfeited, under the terms of her father's will, one half of her share, estimated at $20,000,000.

Anna's income has been in liquidation since 1901. In that time $200,000 a year has been allowed her "for support and maintainance." The remainder of her income, or approximately $500,000 a year, has been disbursed by the receivers to her creditors.

It develops that in March, 1909, she threatened to bring suit through Jones & Mowton against her brother and sister for complete accounting of the Gould estates and her share in its income from the time she became of age. She also threatened to test the validity of that clause of her father's will which forbids any heir to marry without first obtaining the consent of the majority of the trustees.

She was dissuaded by the Couderts, who advised her that she could not bring such an action until she should marry. It was after this that the consent of all the trustees in writing was obtained to the marriage.

FLOODS STILL RISING

French Rivers Rising Rapidly-Rain and Snowfalls Continue, The Outlook is Not Promising

Special to The Guardian.

PARIS, February 14—The rivers Doubs, Saone and Rhone are again in floods.

A number of workshops have been abandoned at Chalous. In Allier the snow is six feet deep. Service on the Paris and Lyons Railway is cut off.

The Seine continues to rise in accordance with the hydrometrical forecast. Fine weather is broken and there is much rain in the area drained by the river while the prospect is for still more.

The outlook is not promising. Marne is greatly flooded. There has been a rise of thirty inches in the Seine since the river began to rise.

SPECTACULAR FIRE ON NEW YORK PIER

NEW YORK, Feb. 12.—A spectacular fire which broke out early today on a Southern Pacific steamship pier on the North River was flooded out after an hour's hard work by firemen working from both the land and the water. From the street the new high pressure apparatus threw thousands of gallons of water a minute over the merchandise stored on the pier and this flood was augmented by streams six inches thick hurled broadside from the nozzles of the city's fire boats. Tugs crept in under the streams of water and pulled away the steamer Protous, which lay alongside the pier with a valuable cargo, much of it highly inflamable, on board. On account of the effective work of the firemen the damage will be less than $150,000.

GOLDEN WEDDING OBSERVED RECENTLY.

The following is taken from a Pajaronian paper published in Watsonville, Cal.

The residence of Mr and Mrs Chesley Stow at 135 Second Street is the scene today of a memorable gathering the occasion being the informal but never-to-be-forgotten celebration of Mr and Mrs W. H. Head of this city, of their golden wedding, the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage. For fifty years Mr Head and his good wife have gone through married life together, sharing alike its trials and tribulations, enjoying the many blessings and suffering together the adversities that befall us all, until today they stand on the threshold of a half-century of married bliss, happy, contented and prosperous, with their love just as strong as it was fifty years ago, when they plighted their troth at the altar. Mr and Mrs Head were married in 1860 on Prince Edward Island in the Dominion of Canada, the ceremony being performed by the Rev Mr Crawford, who also is still living and enjoying life at the ripe old age of 89 years. Twenty-six years ago, Mr and Mrs Head came to California and ten years ago they settled in Watsonville, where they have resided ever since.

Six children, all living at present, came to bless the happy union. Four of these, Robert Head of Gilroy, Herbert Head of Pacific Grove, Mrs Ella Betts of Crescent City and Mrs Chesley Stow of Watsonville are present today to join with their parents in the festivities. The other two, Dr C. H. Head of Helena, Montana, and Hiram Head of Spokane, Washington, are the only absent children around the festal board. To further add to the jollity of the occasion, nine of the living eleven grandchildren are present today. Mrs Richard Weeks of this city, formerly Miss Margaret Bagnall, is also present at the merry occasion, Mrs Weeks being Mrs Head's bridesmaid at the wedding fifty years ago. Today Mr and Mrs Head, aged 76 and 74 years, respectively, are undoubtedly the happiest couple in town. The feature of the golden wedding celebration today will be a fine dinner to be observed early this evening and as the happy couple gather around the festal board with their four children and nine grandchildren, due thanks will be given unto the Father in Heaven, who in His infinite wisdom and grace has seen fit to make today's occasion possible. The "Pajaronian" joins with the many friends in this city in wishing Mr and Mrs Head many hearty congratulations and may they live to enjoy many other happy occasions in this world of ours.

(Mr Head referred to formerly belonged to Georgetown and Mrs Head, was Jane Stevenson, daughter of the late Chas and Mrs Stevenson, New Glasgow, P. E. I. Out of a family of nine, there remains Mrs Head and two brothers, Charlie and Henry who reside in Mass., one sister, Martha, who arried T. S. McLeod and lived for years in Hunter River, P. E. I., now survives him and lives with her daughter, Mrs. R. D. Bell, Amherst, N. S. Rev Mr Crawford lives still in New Glasgow.

JEALOUSY OF NAVAL OFFICERS

Special to The Guardian.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14—The rejection of the bill introduced for the purpose of retiring Commander Peary with a Rear Admiral's rank is ascribed to jealousy on the part of Naval Officers.

WOMAN FARMER MADE $40,000 IN SIX YEARS.

NEW YORK, Feb. 12—Starting with a cash capital of twenty-five dollars six years ago, today Mrs Marion McRae, of Hood River, Ore., who is at the Astor Hotel on a sight-seeing trip to New York is worth $10,000, all of which she made in fruit farming.

"Farming has office, factory or store work beaten all to pieces as a means of livelihood for an ambitious woman," declared Mrs McRae, in a breezy Western style, in an interview with a reporter.

"The girl that gets six dollars a week standing up all day behind a counter in a department store has mighty little future ahead of her, except, possibly a chance to get married," she continued. "I say to such, back to the farm, where you can be independent of mere men.

"What I did in six short years, beginning with only twenty-five dollars to my name, any young woman of grit and energy can duplicate. It all depends upon the woman, of course as in all other walks of life. If she has initiative and can use her head as well as her hands, she needn't stay poor and work for a mere pittance all her days.

And she doesn't have to be driven into matrimony, either, to escape drudgery, if she will only take courage and look beyond her nose for opportunities. As for me, the fruit farm I consider an ideal occupation for a woman, especially one who loves nature and the health an out-of-door life brings."

CHICAGO COUNTESS AGAIN IN SCANDAL.

VIENNA, Feb. 12—The Neues Wiener Tageblatt publishes a long story of the matrimonial troubles of Count and Countess Gizycki. The Countess was formerly Miss Eleanor Patterson of Chicago, daughter of R. W. Patterson.

The only new feature of the story relates to the alleged intervention of the Emperor of Russia, who, according to the original reports, compelled the count to hand over to the mother her daughter, whom he had concealed for a long time.

Recently, the paper says, the count discovered that the Emperor knew nothing about the case, and that he was extremely indignant at the misuse of his name and authority. The Emperor has ordered a strict investigation of all the circumstances.

The child was crushed to death under the wheels.

SEVEN PERSONS BEING DEPORTED

Four men and a woman are being deported by the Canadian authorities and a man and a woman by the Americans. Of the latter the woman is insane and she and the man are from Duluth, Minn. Those from Canada are from the west, and the woman is being accompanied by her sister. All are being returned on account of ill-health. They will sail on the S. S. Empress of Britain, sailing tomorrow.

A BIG INCREASE IN GREAT WEST LIFE

Six million dollars was the increase of business of the Great West Life in 1909. The excellent financial statement of the Company appeared in the "Guardian" of Saturday, the 12th inst.

The managing director at the annual meeting held in Winnipeg on the 31st January, pointed out that the Great-West Life had the lowest rate of expenditure of any Canadian Company, in addition to writing the largest Canadian business for three successive years.

In 1909 the Income of the Company was $2,000,000, while in 1906 it was $1,000,000. This will give some idea as to the popularity its policies are meeting with. Applications were received during the year in Canada for [illegible],000 new Insurance.

The Company paid out to Policyholders in 1909 for claims, matured endowments, annuities, etc., over $365,677.58, and have placed to the credit of Policy-holders $892,989.00 to cover addition to reserve, and $271,058.50 increase in divisible surplus.

The opportunities for investment during the year were so favorable the Company was enabled to arrange for prompt investment of their funds, on ample security, at even a better rate of interest than heretofore. The average rate was again over 7per cent, and the surplus fund held for accumulating policies will be improved at this rate.

The new Head Office Building now in course of construction in the best centre of the business district of Winnipeg is expected to be ready for occupation towards the end of 1910. The Company will be eighteen years of age in August, and its present aims is to have $50,000,000 of insurance in force at that time.

Although a Western institution, the business of the Company is growing fast in the East, and increased over 32 per cent in the Maritime Provinces during 1909. The Prince Edward Island Branch is under the management of Hyndman & Co., Limited., S. M. Hicks is the local Agent at Summerside, and Agents are to be found at other points throughout the Island.

Short Sage Selections

The following very beautiful poem was sent us this week. We are glad so many appreciate the daily read ings in this space.—S. S. S.

GROWING OLD.

A little more tired at close of day;
A little less anxious to have our way;
A little less ready to scold and blame,
A little more care for a Brother's name;
And so we are nearing the journey's end
Where time and eternity meet and blend.

A little less care for bonds and gold,
A little more rest in the days of old,
A broader view and a saner mind,
And a little more love for all mankind;
And so we are faring a-down the way
That leads to the gates of a better day.

A little more for the friends of youth,
A little more zeal for established truth,
A little more charity in our views;
A little less thirst for the daily news;
And so we are folding our tents away
And passing in silence at close of day.

A little more leisure to sit and dream,
A little more real the things unseen,
A little nearer to those ahead,
With visions of those long loved and dead;
And so we are going where all must go,
To the place the living may never know.

A little more laughter, a few more tears;
And we shall have told our increasing years;
The book is closed, and the prayers are said,
And we are part of the countless dead,
Thrice, happy, then, if some soul can say—
"I live because He has passed my way."
