The Financial Record

The MacMillan Government's record of achievement is to the Liberal candidates like a red rag to a bull. There is nothing in all Liberal history to compare with it, and they dare not challenge comparison on this ground.

Every school child in Prince Edward Island knows that no comparison of governmental financing is of any value without taking into account the conditions prevailing at the time.

The first three years of the Saunders-Lea Government, for example, were normal years; their fourth year saw the beginning of the depression so far as this Province was concerned. In that year they piled up a debt increase of over half a million dollars.

But the expenditures every year were steadily mounting. In 1928 the Liberal expenditure was $1,267,354. In 1929 it was $1,361,503, and in 1930 $1,455,670, or a total of $4,034,540 in their three full years. Out of that was paid on interest and sinking funds $540,193, leaving an expenditure of $3,541,347 which they incurred in their three years of plenty.

The task facing the Conservative administration was to help the people by giving as much employment and relief as possible, while at the same time keeping down the debt. How did they succeed? In 1932, the first full Conservative year, they expended $2,014,923; in 1933, $1,686,415, and in 1934 $2,026,359; or a total of $5,727,697, less interest and sinking fund payments of $948,066, leaving an expenditure for the three years mentioned of $4,779,631.

In other words, they paid out to the people of this Province in their three year period $1,238,264 more than the Lea Government paid in the corresponding time.

In doing this, one would expect them to incur a very much larger debt than the Liberals incurred. But what do the Public Accounts reveal? In 1928, the first full Liberal year, the debt increase was $192,645. In 1929 it was $176,540, and in 1930, $234,584, or a total of $603,766 debt increase in the three Liberal "years of plenty."

The Conservatives, with an increased expenditure of $1,238,264, increased the debt by $927,210—a difference of $324,000 which can easily be accounted for by the interest and sinking fund on the debt increase of $1,177,000 which the Lea Government left on going out of office.

But this only accounts for the Liberal financial record in their three "years of plenty" as compared with the three Conservative years of world depression. What does the record show for the fourth Liberal year, when the depression was setting in? In 1931 they expended $1,866,600, less $220,950 in interest and sinking fund, or a total of $1,645,650. The Conservative average expenditure for the three succeeding years of depression was $1,593,650. In other words, Liberal expenditure in 1931 was greater by $52,446 than the average Conservative expenditure for the three years immediately following.

But that is not the whole story. For they increased the debt in 1931 by $548,920, as against the average Conservative increase in the three succeeding years of $309,023.

The Liberal policy now is to starve the public services in an attempt to "balance the Budget" which they could not balance in their years of boasted prosperity.

Lumber Shipments Are Disrupted

(Canadian Press) VANCOUVER, July 17—British Columbia lumber and log exports to Japan will be entirely wiped out should the Japanese government carry out the threat to impose a surtax of 50 per cent on July 20.

This industry is still in the dark as to whether the new tax will include newspaper shipments. "Should the 50 per cent tax be placed against our shipments it will prove to be an embargo sufficiently strong enough to shut out business," an official said. "No business can overcome such a handicap."

Dean of Printing Machinery Passes

(Canadian Press) MONTREAL, July 17—George M. Stewart, 77, for many years known as dean of the printing machinery and supply business in Eastern Canada, died here yesterday after a lengthy illness. He was known to almost every newspaper office in the Dominion.

Mr. Stewart was a former Montreal branch manager of the Toronto Type and Foundry Company, leaving in 1905 to form his own firm. He was a member of Stephenson's battery, Prince of Wales regiment, and helped win the Kolapore cup and other shooting prizes for Canada in the Bisley meet of 1896.

W. C. Stewart, of Lake Megantic, Que., is a brother. Blessed are the poor. They don't spoil their sons and then disinherit them for being spoiled.

HOW THAT LARGE LUNCH AFFECTS YOU PHILADELPHIA, July 17—When that tired and lazy feeling comes after you've had a big noon-day lunch, it's brain anemia, Dr. Donald A. Laird, Coigate University psychologist told the National Office Management Association convention today.

In tests in the university's laboratory Dr. Laird found a direct relation between heavy meals and the familiar, after-lunch mental lethargy. "There is no doubt about it," Dr. Laird said. "After a large lunch the subjects' minds worked with 6 per cent more speed and 25 per cent more accuracy than after the larger meals. The difference in their ability to concentrate was also marked. There were nearly 70 per cent fewer lapses in attention after the light, dairy lunch."

Lightning Caper

TALIHINA, Okla., July 17—Lightning split the seat of Bill Dixon's trousers and used his backbone for a conductor, when it struck a tree under which he and five other persons were seeking protection from an electrical storm.

Dixon, sixty years old, was seated on a box leaning against the tree trunk when the bolt struck. He said he could feel it course down his spine, and when companions picked him up the seat of his trousers was missing.

Dixon was knocked unconscious, as was Mel Armstrong, another of the party. Both are recovering.

Loss of Life From Earthquake

TAIHOKU, Formosa, July 17—(A.P.)—Fifty-three persons were reported either killed or injured today in a severe earthquake in Shunchiku Province by the Rengo (Japanese) news agency.

Sh'nhku is the same Formosan Province which was stricken in April when earth shocks killed almost 3,000 persons.

STRIKERS BURN HOME

VANCOUVER, July 17—(C.P.)—Attacks upon the homes of dock workers, said to arise from the Vancouver longshoremen's strike, were reported to police today.

Most serious was the burning of the home of J. Gregoire, an employee of the Westman's water-front. The house was destroyed. Mrs. Gregoire, alone in her house at the time, was awakened by the crackling flames.

Sheriff's Puts End To Baker Heirs

TORONTO, July 17—Born in the pre-depression period in an era in which few persons escaped the siren song of the get-rich-quick symbol, the Drake-Watson-Springer Association, more widely known as the Baker Heirs, suffered a quiet death last week with only a disconsolate and unpaid secretary to witness the obsequies. Sheriff's officers closed their little King Street office because of unpaid bills.

William Baker, grey-haired president of the associations which planned to place its thousands of subscribers on Easy Street in a manner more appealing than Townsend of California, has resumed farming at Thornhill. It was further learned last night.

Supported by the theory that rich Philadelphia lands and property in chancery in England could be regained by its sponsors because the original owners died intestate and the holdings fell to the state, the movement had one wheezy convulsion before the final summons came. Word percolated amongst the remaining unyielding supporters of the scheme, through the grapevine route, that the arrival of the huge fortune was only a matter of days.

Although funds of the organization had slowly trickled away in the past year because of the Ontario Securities Commission order that no additional units could be sold, many members of the associations, which included lawyers and physicians, clung tenaciously to their units.

Perth Picture Is Believed Reynolds

PERTH, July 17—A large oil painting, believed to be the work of Sir Joshua Reynolds, is in the possession of Mrs. George Anderson, of Perth.

Mrs. Anderson says that her great-grand uncle, Sir Joshua Reynolds' brother, the story handed down in her family, from generation to generation, along with the picture, to the oldest daughter, is that it was a gift from Sir Joshua Reynolds to his brother in 1780.

Inquiries regarding purchase have been made by a well-known London firm of art dealers. Mrs. Anderson will probably take the picture to England for a connoisseur to report on it.

The subject of the picture is a brown-haired, fresh-complexioned young mother with a baby at breast, and two rosy children. The picture has characteristic features of Sir Joshua Reynolds' work in the period when he was under the spell of the great Venetians.

Plan Windjammer Race 'Down Under'

ADELAIDE, July 17—As organizer of the Centenary celebrations Victor H. Ryan states that he has been notified by Captain Gustaf Erikson, of Finland, who owns most of the sailing ships engaged in the Australian wheat trade, that a race between windjammers to South Australia could be arranged for the Centenary.

Ryan said he had written to Captain Erikson pointing out that, as a large number of sailing vessels annually visited South Australia waters, it had been suggested that a race between them would not only be appropriate but would create much interest.

Ryan said that Captain Erikson had replied that a race could be arranged in the same way as the grain races from Australia to Europe.

Non-Stop Flight From Moscow To San Francisco

(Associated Press) MOSCOW, July 17—An attempted non-stop flight from Moscow to San Francisco by way of the North Pole, as soon as weather conditions are favorable, was officially announced tonight.

The single-motored Russian plane which will make the attempt will fly by way of Banks Land, a large island of the Arctic archipelago of North America, Fort Simpson on the MacKenzie River in Canada's North-West Territories and Vancouver.

The noted pilot Sigmund Levaneffsky, co-pilot Sabukoff and Navigator Levchenko will be the crew. The United States already has given official permission for the ship to fly over its territory. Great Britain has been asked for similar permission.

The 6,000 mile hop is successful it would break the present non-stop record of 5,653 miles held by the Frenchmen Paul Codos and Maurice Rossi, who flew from New York to Rayak, Syria, in 1933.

Three Retire From Sask. Commission

(Canadian Press) REGINA, July 17—Withdrawal of three judges from the Saskatchewan Government Commission appointed to inquire into the relief camp strikers riot here has been announced by Hon. T. C. Davis, Saskatchewan Attorney-General.

The move was preceded by lengthy correspondence between Chief Justice J. T. Brown of Saskatchewan, one of the appointees, and Hon. Hugh Guthrie, Federal Minister of Justice, over the legality of the inquiry. The other two who withdrew from the three-man commission were Mr. Justice W. M. Martin and Judge A. E. Doak.

Mr. Davis' announcement came on the eve of the commission's scheduled organization meeting before starting public sessions about Dec. 1. The Government said Mr. Davis, who considering further action regarding an inquiry into the Dominion Day riot during which Detective Charles Millar was killed.

Mr. Davis quoted correspondence between Mr. Guthrie and Chief Justice Brown in which the former suggested consideration be given to the propriety of judges acting upon such a commission when it was well known many prisoners eventually would be tried before provincial courts on charges arising out of the riot.

Chief Justice Brown, in his reply to Mr. Guthrie, pointed out he had served on both D-minion and Provincial commissions before.

He was, however, unable to secure the consent of the Dominion Minister to proceed with the inquiry, and all three members of the commission asked Mr. Davis to relieve them of their responsibility of the commission.

Fashion Favors Dressier Wear For Afternoon

Dress up, says Dame Fashion—the depression is over. Which is good news to hear—even though there are many incredulous folk who will not believe it. Especially those women whose dress allowance is considerably short of what it was a few years ago.

It is a "dress for dress" affair, and all three members of the commission asked Mr. Davis to relieve them of their responsibility of the commission.

I am so tired of having to buy useful clothes—I long sometimes to indulge in something just pretty, if perishable," a young woman was heard to remark.

But fortunate women whose pocketbooks permit them to buy just what they please are "dressing up" more this season than they have for many a day, according to a recent style despatch from Paris and New York.

For afternoon wear, "leisurely looking ensembles quite outmoded the businesslike tailcoats so much in evidence during the depression," and anything too sportswomanlike is out, for town wear, even in the morning.

This does not mean, of course, that the business women and girls of Paris are going to their offices in satins and plumes, any more than they are doing in Toronto. But that women of leisure who have time and money for it are going in for "dress for dress" sake in a big way.

In nothing more than millinery is this trend reflected. Larger, dressier hats for afternoon wear are the vogue. And, as usual, after a record mode for flat hats, a reaction toward more height is setting in for the fall. Already, in Paris and New York, feathers shooting up from low-crowned hats are barometers of loftier style trends in millinery. Numerous little toques, trimmed with long, natural plumes like those worn by little pages of the Umbrian school are making their appearance.

The dressier hats are also bringing about coiffure complications. Naturally a more sophisticated style of dressing, and more hair, at the back, especially, is necessary, as any one who has attempted to wear one of these hats—and who has not yet come to the point of letting the bobbed hair grow—well realizes. Jewelled hair ornaments for afternoon wear are another significant symptom of this "dressing up."

Gloves, always an important detail of dress, are especially interesting. Although usually gloves lead fashion still looks with approval on the fabric gloves. As for matching, the general rule followed by Parisiennes is that they shall match one or other accessory—either the belt, bag or shoes, and sometimes the hat. White pique gloves are smart with hats of plain tulle or pique straw.

Liberal Apology Runs Counter To Previous Liberal Claims Alibi

Highly significant to the electors in the present campaign was the statement of Mr. A. E. MacLean, M.P., at the Kinkora meeting Monday night, that this Province would not receive its new subsidy increase "until a Liberal government is in power."

The statement is significant because it exactly reflects Liberal incredulity with regard to the whole question of our subsidy claims. Mr. MacLean, from his long association with Liberal governments here and at Ottawa, assumed that the Conservatives, like the Liberals, WERE MERELY USING THE ISSUE AS A POLITICAL FOOTBALL.

A few minutes afterwards, on the same platform, Premier MacMillan was able to inform the Liberal parliamentary representative THAT A CHECK FOR $75,000, REPRESENTING ONE-HALF THE INCREASE WHICH THE PROVINCE WILL OBTAIN THIS YEAR, HAS ALREADY BEEN RECEIVED.

LIBERAL CLAIM ANALYZED Now let us examine the Liberal attitude as reflected in the letter in Monday's Patriot attributed to Mr. W. M. Lea. The claim is there repeated that failure of the other Maritime Provinces to co-operate with this Province before the Audit Board in May, 1930, resulted in this Province not receiving a subsidy increase, there and then, of $438,000.

How does this tally with Premier Saunders' statement in the Patriot on January 25, 1930, that the Audit Board had been appointed specially "TO MAKE FINAL ADJUSTMENT OF PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND SUBSIDY CLAIMS"? This Province, according to Mr. Saunders' statement, was to be the "white-haired boy"; it was to take precedence over the other Provinces which were under Tory Government, and have its claims adjusted first. WHY THEN BLAME FAILURE TO OBTAIN SETTLEMENT ON THE OTHER MARITIME PROVINCES?

The shoe, of course, is on the other foot. IT WAS THROUGH THE POLITICAL MANOEUVRING OF LIBERAL GOVERNMENTS IN THIS PROVINCE AND AT OTTAWA THAT OUR CLAIMS WERE NOT SETTLED IN 1929. Figured on a basis of the increase obtained by the MacMillan Government last year, this represents a loss in subsidy payment of $750,000. Figured on the basis of Mr. Lea's brief before the Audit Board, it represents a loss of $2,190,000. Figured on the basis of the brief Mr. Lea published in the Liberal press on Jan. 21, 1930, IT REPRESENTS A LOSS OF $16,860,825 PLUS $200,000 "CASH SUBSIDY" WHICH THE PRESENT LIBERAL LEADER INCLUDED IN HIS GARGANTUAN REQUEST.

contributing factor." "Millions of dollars," he said, have been drained from New England cotton mills to finance this vast program."

(Canadian Press) OTTAWA, July 17—The appointment of Jacques Cartier, Montreal, to be in charge of affairs in the Province of Quebec for the new reconstruction party was announced tonight by Hon. H. H. Stevens. Mr. Cartier earlier today resigned his position as vice-chairman of the Radio Broadcasting Commission, to which position he was named last November.

(Canadian Press) BOSTON, July 17—The processing tax and floor taxes of the Agricultural Adjustment Act, under which the United States Government has collected approximately $900,000,000, were declared unconstitutional today by the United States circuit court.

The court's ruling was based upon a test case brought by the Hoosac Mills Corporation, which sought to escape payment of $81,694.

The processing tax and the floor tax, the latter a levy upon finished goods on hand when the tax became effective, were considered the backbone of the AAA. With funds thus derived the Secretary of Agriculture compensated farmers and growers for curtailing crops and livestock production.

The circuit court's ruling was closely followed by announcement at Washington that the government would take prompt appeal to the Supreme Court.

Approval of the circuit court's opinion was found in the New England textile industry. The National Association of Cotton Manufacturers issued a statement in which Dexter Stevens, chairman of the Northern Cotton Mills policy committee, said he hoped the court's decision would "go a long way toward halting the wave of liquidation among New England cotton mills, to which the government tax was a contributing factor."
