OPTIMISM

gum were the principal nations that already had made this move.

Chile will contend, however, it was reported, that nitrates do not belong on the list of war materials, although one of the principal ingredients of high explosives.

Compensation for countries suffering heavy losses through inflation of League penalties in Italy still was the chief subject of discussion here today.

The allotment of quotas on farm products expected by international agreement is one of the steps being considered. This, it was hoped, might be extended to other exports so as at least to equalize losses if they cannot be eliminated.

Reference in importing would be given to countries helping to enforce the penalties. Here, however, there might be difficulties because of the most-favored-nation clause. The League's committee of jurists was studying the matter tonight.

"In short," said an official communique, "it might be possible in several ways to give preference to countries participating in common action—especially those countries for whom the sacrifice is heavier—when the necessary readjustment in international commerce curative effected."

"This would give them an advantage over Italy and also over non-participants," the communique explained.

Patriotic propaganda to persuade importers to buy only from countries backing League sanctions against Italy also was considered.

Small nations today seemed to be drawing together in their fight for enforcement of sanctions imposed, it was said, by the League. The very existence might depend on the effectiveness of League sanctions.

The Little Entente, the Balkan Entente and the Baltic Entente, including among their members Czechoslovakia, Greece, Latvia, Lithuania, Estonia, Rumania, Turkey and Yugoslavia, all are backing League sanctions, it was said by spokesmen.

Work was being rushed on study of the "clearing system" that many delegates believe would be the best solution to the problem of compensation. Rapid progress is being made, more rapid than is apparent to the outside world, one delegate declared.

At the same time, the possibility of parliamentary objections to sanctions cooled discussion in the committee for economic sanctions of Great Britain's idea for a "buy nothing from Italy" boycott.

Though Poland and Switzerland called the attention of the economic sub-committee today to their particularly unfavorable situation if strict sanctions were enforced, it was said authoritatively that the committee had met no serious obstacle in its work for adoption of a program.

The sub-committee today issued the following list of raw materials it proposed to ban from Italy: 1. Chromium, chromium ore, iron ore, scrap iron, iron and manganese ore, iron and manganese alloys, other metals used in steel alloys, tin ore, nickel, zinc, tungsten, vanadium, molybdenum, unspecified metal ores, aluminum, alum and bauxite.

2. Pig iron, steel billets, rolled iron and steel, magnesium and magnesia. 3. Tools, machinery, nitrates, nitric acid, wool and rubber.

A second list is to be drawn up covering coal, oil, cotton, copper and other raw materials.

NAPLES, Oct. 17.—Economic sanctions already have begun in the Suez Canal zone, sources close to the military port here reported tonight. Numerous ships which, before the week closes, will have called with more than 16,000 troops to join of the Italian East African army, were instructed to stock up with fuel and supplies for the round trip.

This, it was said, was necessary because Italian ships already have experienced difficulty in obtaining necessary supplies in the Suez.

Heavy Earthquakes Start New River

(A. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) MOSCOW, Oct. 17.—A new series of earthquake shocks in the district of Tadzhikistan, near the Afghan-Turk border, destroyed several villages and started a new river running from the mountains, said dispatches tonight.

In all, there have been three series of quakes in the region, beginning Oct. 8. The total dead was placed at 107 after the first two series and apparently the death toll was not great in the third disaster.

Liquidation Of Trinity United Church Wheat Carry-over Reported False

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) WINNIPEG, Oct. 17.—Reports the Canadian Wheat Board had embarked on a policy of liquidation of its holdings which led to a three-cent break in prices on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange yesterday, were branded "false" in a statement issued by the board here today.

The statement follows: "The sharp decline in yesterday's market has been attributed in some quarters to heavy selling by the Canadian Wheat Board which would indicate that the board has decided to pursue a policy of liquidation regardless of price and market conditions. The board feels that in the interests of Canadian producers and the trade and public in general that such statements should be branded as false."

"The board has since its inception been a free seller at all times when there has been a demand for Canadian wheat. As a matter of record and fact, the board made only small sales on the price advance at the opening of Wednesday's session, the volume of these sales being such as to have no part in the subsequent action of the market."

"The value of Canadian wheat has been for some weeks the most attractive in the world and is so admitted by foreign buyers. There has been no attempt by the board to keep it otherwise nor has any action been taken by the board at any time to influence the market either up or down."

"The report of resignation of the chairman is absolutely unfounded."

CHANCELLOR

But possibilities of internal complications were seen in many quarters.

Starbomberg's influence in internal affairs of the nation was increased tremendously. In a broadcast address tonight, he declared: "I am the sole leader of the new militia. Whosoever does not maintain discipline will be dismissed. I know my duty. I require unqualified loyalty. I am the only leader of the auxiliary armed forces."

Fey, Vienna Heimwehr leader who has a great following in the capital, once was Vice-chancellor and of late has been Minister of the Interior.

In informed quarters it was stated there had been increasing tension between Starbomberg and Fey of late. Tonight's cabinet decision settled that issue, but there was still the question of whether the Vienna Heimwehr would admit it settled.

Starbomberg's accession to leadership of all private armies was approved by Schuschnigg and by the smaller Freiwirtschaft, which although not so important, is in sympathy with Schuschnigg's Catholic storm troops.

Many interpreted the shift as an unfavorable turn of events for the monarchists, who would put the Hapsburg Archduke Otto back on the throne.

Fey was favorably inclined to the monarchist movement; neither was active in the campaign for restoration.

Vienna was filled with rumors. Emergency squadrons of police and detachments of the regular army patrolled the streets. One officer said the reason for the extraordinary precautions was a report that Communists were planning disorders.

Despite Fey's removal, the Heimwehr apparently gained strength in the new government. Fey's successor, Egon Boserup-Barenfeld, was a provincial governor and Heimwehr leader in Lower Austria.

The Heimwehr also captured the important Finance Ministry, which went to Ludwig Draxler, and eliminated an old foe with the dismissal of Rethler.

Schuschnigg, besides remaining as Chancellor, will be Minister of Defence; Egon Berger-Waldenegg stays on as Minister of Foreign Affairs; Prof. Dobretshberger will hold the Ministry of Official Administration; Fritz Stockinger, Commerce; Robert Nintzerstein, Justice; Ludwig Strobl, Agriculture and Karl Buresch, Minister without portfolio.

Commodity Prices At Best Levels Since 1930

(By Rader Winget, Associated Press Financial Writer) (A. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—Commodity prices, influenced strongly by expanding demand, are now in the aggregate around the best levels since late in 1930.

Although restricted supply in many cases has forced higher prices, trade authorities believe a revival of demand is becoming an increasingly important factor in the current rise. In a few lines, such as copper and steel scrap, war preparations have been a factor.

The Associated Press daily index of 20 basic raw commodities stood today at 75.95, well above the year's low of 69.14 touched June 25 and nearly at the peak of 76.54 attained Oct. 9.

Grains have led the upward movement. Since June 1, the average price of grain has risen from 76 per cent of the 1926 average to current levels of 92 per cent. "The rise in grain prices," it is reported by Standard Statistics Company, is traceable largely to prospective improvement in the world wheat situation. The production of wheat in all producing countries this year represents the smallest harvest in 13 years, the result of drought in most countries and black rust damage in North America."

The influence of restricted supplies in that section also has exerted heavy pressure in meat, hogs, for example, were quoted at $5.05 a hundredweight in Chicago June 25. Today the price is at $10.75. Cattle on June 25 were quoted at $10, and today they sell for $13 a hundredweight. Coincident with the rise in meat prices, hides currently are at the best levels of the year which represent a rise of 50 to 65 per cent over the low points of 1935. As an indication of the condition, the United States Department of Agriculture reported that as of Oct. 1 the stocks of meat in cold storage declined to the smallest total on record.

DUCE AND

(Continued from Page 1) until they arrived here, rushed into the tent containing the throne their bearing was so menacing and frenzied that foreigners believed they might even attack the Emperor.

"Let us fight! Let us avenge our women and children, who were killed by the cowardly Italian aviators!" they shouted.

"These tribesmen know nothing of the League of Nations, of diplomacy or colonial policies. They do know how to fight and die in mountain strongholds which since the time of Babel have never been conquered."

An official Ethiopian communique said the Government had been informed there are "grave differences of opinion" between Premier Mussolini and General Emilio De Bono, in command of the northern Italian army, and that De Bono had offered to resign.

"Mussolini is most displeased with the stagnation of military operations around Adduwa," said the communique.

"The King of Italy is reported to have intervened in order to terminate the dispute."

ZELLA, British Somaliland, Oct. 17.—(A.P.)—An unconfirmed report that British soldiers suffered casualties in a fight with advancing Italian troops was brought here today by tribesmen.

They told the district commissioner that the 17th British Camel Corps, which guards the Somaliland frontier, was in an engagement with the Fascists but other details were lacking.

(The report was denied in Rome and in London. (At the British Colonial Office an official said: "Personally, we do not believe it, but we cannot say definitely one way or the other." He said the office was in close touch with Zeila and should have received any authentic report made there.)

(An Italian official called the report "absurd and absolutely false." Ethiopian officials were incredulous.)

(The camel corps in British Somaliland is made up of local native troops. (Italian troops have been advancing to the northwest close to the border of British Somaliland.)

(A. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) VIENNA, Oct. 17.—Political observers tonight expressed the opinion that the increase of power granted Prince Edist von Starbomberg to edict provincial reorganization probably means closer co-operation between Italy and Austria.

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) ROME, Oct. 17.—(C. P. Havas)—Italian bombers will spare Addis Ababa and Direwada if the Ethiopian Government does not concentrate troops and supplies there, the Italian Government announced officially tonight.

In reply to a plea from foreign firms and individuals with business interests in those cities, the Government made known its terms. The foreigners appealed to Premier Mussolini through the representatives of their Governments.

AYRSHIRE CLUB

men were discussed briefly, among others being the question of the judges for the exhibition.

Mr. W. R. Shaw in his address remarked that for the past few years despite the efforts of the Department of Agriculture the live stock industry in this province, with the exception of poultry and foxes, has gone back rather seriously. Within the past few months, however, the outlook has brightened to some extent. The speaker found, he said, in checking the reports of the bovine tuberculosis test for Kings and Prince County that the farms were only averaging 6 1-2 head of cattle per farm. The number for the central part of the province would be large the speaker said, but there is great room for improvement.

The hog industry also went back but is coming up again under the stimulus of firmer prices and better markets in the old country.

So far the cattle industry is concerned there is an appearance of good prices for dairy cattle. Mr. Shaw went on to say, There are men here from Newfoundland, United States and Upper Canada looking for cattle and willing to pay good prices but there is no stock offering. There is a tremendous demand developing all over Canada and the United States.

The Ayrshire Club has much to be congratulated for this year Mr. Shaw thought. The speaker advocated that the farmer pay attention to feeding this winter in order to have stock in good condition for the trade in the spring. Some say don't sell good stock but Mr. Shaw claimed he did not altogether agree with that. At the end of three years of good demand for cattle the quality was better than at the beginning. Then came a time of poor demand for cattle and now the quality of the stock is poorer than formerly. When a man can sell good stock at a high price he pays more attention to the care and the feeding of the stock left and also to breeding, Mr. Shaw thought.

Speaking on R. O. P. work, the speaker said that the majority of breeders that were paying attention to this work were farm districts where calf work is carried on.

In a voluntary test for Bang's Disease carried out in one section comprising about 60 herds or 600 cattle only four re-tested.

Mr. Shaw announced that it was the intention to call in representatives of the different breed associations to organize an advisory breeders council in the province.

PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS In presenting this 16th annual report of your Club, I wish to express regret that this meeting had to be postponed to this date. Your executive committee endeavored on several occasions to call an annual meeting, but for good and sufficient reasons, frequently beyond our control, it was not possible to get a date clear of other meetings.

As Ayrshire breeders in this province I believe we should feel greatly encouraged by the progress and standing our breed has accomplished in recent years, and with conditions now strongly on the upgrade in business throughout our country, we may look hopefully to the future.

Ayrshire cattle have increased in popularity, and while the demand for breeding has not been what we could wish, there has been an increasing demand and prices have improved.

We wish to congratulate our breeders on their showing at the provincial and other Maritime Class A shows. In this connection our Vice-President is entitled to our generous thanks for the way Ings & Son have upheld the standing of Island Ayrshires in the two sister provinces of the Maritimes. We trust that our breeders may have their full share of success at the Maritime Winter Fair at Amherst and at the Royal Fair at Toronto.

As Ayrshire breeders we wish to commend the governments for the third test of Prince Edward Island cattle for tuberculosis. This will greatly add to the value of our province as a restricted area. We are greatly pleased to know that the test has already been completed for two-thirds of the province, and that the percentage of reactors is less than the previous retest which was so remarkably low.

The Ayrshire Club has always been foremost in advancing the improvement of the health and quality of the cattle of this province. One of the next steps to be taken should be the blood testing of our herds to demonstrate, to all, their freedom from (Bangs disease) contagious abortion. The Experimental Station herd of Ayrshires has had seven complete tests with out any trace of disease and I feel sure that most of the other herds of Ayrshire cattle on the Island would show a similar freedom from disease.

The past season, though later than average for spring seeding, broke several meteorological records. The prolonged dry period during July and August burned out many pastures and greatly reduced the flow of milk. During that period the temperature rose to 98 degrees F., the hottest recorded officially at Charlottetown. This was followed the following week with 3.32 inches of rain in twenty-four hours, the heaviest rainfall recorded here for a like period.

The last nine days of August gave a record rainfall of 7.5 inches. September was wet with over six inches of rain. This short period of about six weeks had a rainfall that was 78% of the average rainfall during the six growing months of the last thirty-four years. This greatly improved pastures and the hay meadows generally so that we not only have had good pastures for our cattle this autumn, but the prospect for pasture and hay next year is very promising at the present time.

We believe that most important work that our Club can now undertake is a survey of all the Ayrshire herds in the province by someone who can give suggestions to beginners and others of feeds, feeding and breeding of Ayrshire cattle.

Pasture improvement work has been started on many farms and should be extended. An application of from six to eight hundred pounds of superphosphates per acre to a field suitable for permanent pasture will not only increase the amount of Wild White Clover, with a bottom of white clover the pasture will not only withstand drought during the summer but will also come through severe winters in much better shape. In connection with pasture management, close grazing and the spreading of the droppings are two of the most important factors.

Marconi Seeks African Service

(A. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) GENOVA, Italy, Oct. 17.—Guglielmo Marconi, distinguished Italian inventor, and his micro-wave, which he believes will be a new and extremely useful weapon of war, will soon be on the African continent.

The inventor of wireless arrived today from Brazil and announced he would confer with Premier Mussolini immediately about a military assignment in Ethiopia. He is reported to have carried on experiments with the short wave radio beams designed to stop the engines of enemy airplanes in flight.

These experiments have been surrounded by deepest secrecy because of their military significance. But as long ago as the summer of 1933, Marconi let the world know the micro-wave could be made into a valuable implement of warfare.

IN MEMORIAM

MRS. JOSEPH WISE On Monday, September 30th, Mrs. Joseph Wise, fell asleep, bidding farewell to this mortal life, thus bringing to a close a life which as far as man counts time was 92 years long. The deceased lady was born at Milton, P.E.I., passing away at Highfield, thus living the whole of her life near the place of her birth. During these late years Mrs. Wise made her home with her daughter, Mrs. George Carson, who tenderly cared for her in her declining years.

The deceased was always glad to welcome anyone who called to see her, and they were not in her presence long before they were led to realize by her conversation, that there was one whose life was a simple trust in the Lord Jesus Christ, the only Saviour of mankind. She loved to talk about the things which are spiritual and eternal. The deceased was very appreciative of what one might do for her. Love's labor was certainly not in vain with her.

Mrs. Wise was twice married, her first husband, Albert McKinnon, died 56 years ago. Her second husband was Joseph Wise, who represented the 2nd District of Queens, in the local house, in the Liberal interest. Mr. Wise died in 1908. The deceased leaves to mourn her passing, one brother, James Essery, of Kensington, P.E.I., and two daughters by her first marriage, Mrs. George Carson, Highfield, P. E. I., and Mrs. F. M. Darke, of Regina, Sask., besides a large number of nephews and nieces, Mrs. W. G. Darke, New Willshire, P.E.I.; Mrs. Arthur Wheatley, West Royalty; Mrs. Chas. Beers, Charlottetown; Mrs. Anderson, Halifax, N.S.; Mary Essery, Bridgewater, N.S.; Mrs. T. S. Temple, Kensington, and Mrs. Lockhart of Kensington, P.E.I. Mr. Jack Essery, Charlottetown; Gordon Essery, Charlottetown; Alfred Essery, all of Summerside, P. E. I., as well as a number of grand-children and great-grandchildren.

The funeral was held at her late home on Wednesday, October 2nd, when a large gathering of neighbors and friends testified to the esteem and respect of the deceased. The service was conducted by the Rev. Thos. Palethorpe of Winaloe. Cremation was made in the cemetery at Highfield. The undertakings arrangements were in the capable hands of the McLean Undertaking Parlors, of Charlottetown. The pall bearers were: Robert Weeks, Alphonse MacDonald, Neil MacDonald, Neil Stewart, Wm. Stewart and James Stockman.

Amherst Invited To Join League

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) AMHERST, N. S., Oct. 17.—George Blanche, manager of Amherst, has invited his team to join the Central Hockey League this winter with Moncton, Sussex and Sackville. Amherst was one of the "charter members" of the loop.

MONCTON'S LEAVES

MONCTON, N. B., Oct. 17.—Sammy McManus, former forward star of the famous Moncton Hawks, senior amateur hockey team which won the Allan Cup for two consecutive seasons and who last year joined the Montreal Maroons, left here this afternoon on the Ocean Limited of the Canadian National Railways, for Winnipeg where he will rejoin his team mates of the Montreal squad. The Montreal Maroons are training in Winnipeg.
